Some say the Pilgrim's Progress is not mine,
Influating as If I would shine
To Name and fame by the worth of another,
Like some made rich by robbing of their Brother.
Or that so fond I am of being Sire, I'lle father Bastards ; or if need require,
I'lle tell a lie in Print to get applause.
scorn it ; John such dirt heap never was,
Since God converted him. Let this suffice
To shew why I my Pilgrim Patronize.

It came from mine own heart, so to my head,
And thence into my fingers trickled ;
Then to my Pen, from whence immediately
On Paper I did dribble it daintily.

Manner and matter too was all mine own,
Nor was it unto any mortal known,
Till I had done it. Nor did any then
By Books, by Wits, by Tongues, or Hand or Pen, Add five words to it, or write half a line
Thereof : the whole, and every wit is mine.

Also for This, thine eye is now upon,
The matter in this manner came from nose
But the same Heart, and Head, Fingers and Pen,
As did the others. Witness all good men ;
For none in all the world without a Lie, can say that this is mine excepting I.

I write not this of any ostentation,
Nor 'cause I seek of men their commendation ;
do it to keep them from such surmize,
as tempt them will my name to scandalize,
Witness my name, if Anagram'd to thee,

TO THE READER.

TIS strange to me, that they that love to tell Things done of old, yea, and that do excell
Their Equals in Historiology, Speak not of Manioul's Wars, but let them lye
Dead like old Fables, or such worthless things,
That to the Reader, no advantage brings :
When Men, let them make what they will their own,
Till they know this, are to themselves unknown.

Of stories I well know their's divers sorts,
Some foreign, some domestick ; and reports
Are therof made as fancy leads the Writers ;
(By Books a Man may guess at the Inditers.)

Some will again of that which never was,
Nor will be, feign, (and that without a cause)
Such matter, raise such Mountains, tell such things
Of Men, of Laws, of Countries, and of Kings :
And in their Story seem to be so sage,
And with such gravity cloath ev'ry Page,
That though their Frontice piece says all is vain
Yet to their way Disciples they obtain,

But, Readers, I have somewhat else to do,
Than with vain stories thus to trouble you ;
What here I say some men do know well, True
They can with tears and Joy the story tell. Christians
The Town of Mansoul is well known to many,
Nor are her troubles doubted of by any.

To the Reader.

That are acquainted with those Histories, The
That Mansoul and her Wars Anatimize. Scriptures,

Then lend thine Ear to what I do relate Touching the Town of Mansoul and her state,
How she was lost, took captive, made a Slave;
And how against him set, that should her save.

Yea, how by hostile ways she did oppose
Her Lord, and with his Enemy did close.

For, they are true, he that will them deny,
Must needs the best of Records vilifie.

For my part I (my self) was in the Town,
Both when 'twas set up, and when pulling down,
I saw Diabolus in his possession,
And Mausoul also under his oppression.

Yea, I was there when she own'd him for Lord,
And to him did submit with one accord.

When Mansoul trampled upon things Divine,
And wallowed in filth as doth a swine:
When she betook her self unto her Arms,
Fought her Emanuel, dispis'd his Charms, Her
Then I was there, and grieved for to see, Counsels.
Diabolus and Mansoul so agree.

Let no Men then count me a Fable-maker,
Nor make my Name or Credit, a partaker
Of their derision, wha: is here in view,
Of mine own knowledge I dare say is true.

I saw the Princes armed Men come down
By Troops, by Thousands, to besiege the Town.

I saw the Captains, heard the Trumpets sound,
And how his Forces cover'd all the Ground.
Yea, how they set themselves in Battel ray,
Shall remember to my dying day.

I saw the Colours waving in the Wind,
And they within to mischief how combin'd
To ruin Mansoul, and to make away Her Her Primum mobile without day. Soul.

I saw the Mounds cast up against the Town,
And how the Slings were plac'd. to beat it down.
heard the Stones fly whizzing by mine Ears,
What longer kept in mind than got in fears,)

To the Reader.

I heard them fall, and saw what work they made,
And how Old Mors, did cover with his shade, Death.
The Face of Mansoul, and I heard her cry,
Wo worth the day in dying I shall die.

I saw the Battering Rams, and how they play'd
To beat up Ear-gate, and I was afraid,
Not only Ear-gate, but the very Town
Would by those Battering Rams be beaten down.

I saw the Fights and heard the Captains shout,
And in each Battle, saw who fac'd about : Lufts.
I saw who wounded were, and who were slain,
And who when dead, would come to Life again.

I heard the Cries of those that wounded were,
(While others fought like Men bereft of Fear,)
And while the cry, Kill, Kill, was in mine Ears
The Gutters ran, nor so with Flood as Tears.

Indeed the Captains did not always fight,
But when they wold molest us Day and Night ;
They cry, up, fall on, let us take the Town,
Kept us from sleeping, or from lying down,
I was there when the Gates were broken ope,
And saw how Mansoul then was stript of Hope.
I saw the Captains march into the Town,
How there they fought, and did their Foes cut down.

I heard the Prince bid Boanerges goe
Up to the Castle, and there seize his Foe,
And saw him and his Fellows bring him down
In Chains of great Contempt quite through the Town.

I saw Emanuel when he possest
His Town of Mansoul, and how greatly blest
A Town, his gallant Town of Mansoul was,
When she receiv'd his Pardon, lov'd his Laws.

When the Diabolonians were caught,
When try'd, and when to Execution brought,
Then I was there ; yea, I was standing by
When Mansoul did the Rebels crucifie.

I also saw Mansoul clad all in white,
And heard her Prince call her his Hearts delight.
I saw him put upon her Chains of Gold,
And Rings and Bracelets, goodly to behold.

To the Reader.

What shall I say, I beard the Peoples cries,
And saw the Prince wipe tears from Mansoul's Eyes.
I beard the Groans, and saw the Joy of many:
Tell you of all I neither will nor can I.

But by what here I say, you well may see That Mansoul's matchless Wars no Fables be.

Mansoul! the desire of both Princes was,
One keep his gain would t'other gain his Loss;
Diabolus would cry the Town is mine,
Emanuel would plead a right Divine Unto his Mansoul; then to Blows they go,
And Mansoul! crys, these Wars will me undo.

Mansoul her Wars seem'd endless in her Eyes,
She's lost by one becomes another's Prize
And he again that lost her last woud swear,
Have her I will, or her in pieces ten.

Mansoul, it was the very seat of War,
Wherfore her Troubles greater were by far,
Than, only where the noise of War is heard,
Or where the staking of a sword is fear'd,
Or on y where smill Skirmishes are fought,
Or where the Famy fighteth with a thought.

She saw the Swords of fighting Men made red,
And heard the Cries of those with them wounded.
Must not her Frights then be much more by far Than theirs that to such Doings Strangers are?
Or theirs that bear the beating of a Drum.
But not made fit for fear from House and Home?

Mansoul not on'y beard the Trumpet sound,
But saw her Gallanis gasping on the Ground,
Wherfore we must not think that she cou'd rest
With them whose greatest earnest is but jest:
Or where the blustering threatening of great Wars
Do end in Parleys, or in wording jars.

Mansoul, her mighty Wars, they do portend
Her Woe or Woe, and that World without End.
Wherfore she must be more concerned than they Whose fear begin and end the self same Day.
Or where none other harm doth come to him
That is engaged, but loss of Life or limb,

To the Reader.

As all must needs confess that now do well
In Universe, and can this Story tell.

Count me not then with them that to amaze
The People set them on the Stars to gaze, Insinuating with much Confidence
Of some brave Creatures; yea, a world they will Have in each Star though it be past their Skill,
To make it manifest so Man,
That Reason bath, or tell his Fingers can.

But I have too long held thee in the Porch
And kept thee from the Sunshine with a Torch.
Well, now go forward, step within the door
And there behold five hundred times much more
Of all sorts of such inward Rarities.

As please the mind well, and well feed the eyes
With those which if a Christian, thou wilt see. The Nor do thou go to work without my Key, Margin.
(In mysteries Men soon do lose their way)
And also turn it right if thou wouldest know
My Riddle, and wouldest with my beifer plow,
It lies thers in the Window, fare thee well,
My next may be to ring thy passing Bell.

Robt. A. B. Junyau RELATION OF THE HOLY WAR, &c.

IN my Travels as I walked through many Regions and Countries, it was my chance to happen into that famous Continent of Universe; a very large and spacious Country it is. It lieth between the two Poles, and just amidst the four points of the Heavens. It is a place well watered, and richly adorned with Hills and Valleys, bravely situate; and for the most part (at least where I was) very fruitful, also well peopled, and a very sweet Air.

The People are not all of one Complexion, nor yet of one Language, Mode, or way of Religion; but differ as much as ('tis said) do the Planets themselves; Some are right, and some are wrong, even as it happeneth to be in lesser Regions.

In this Country, as I said, it was my lot to travel, and there travel I did, and that so long, even till I learned much of their Mother-tongue, together with the Customs, and Manners of them among whom I was. And to speak truth, I was much delighted to see and hear many things A natural state which I saw and heard among them : pleasing to the Flesh. Yea I had (to be sure) even lived and died a Native among them, (I was so taken with 'em and their doings) had not my Master sent for me home to his House; there to do Business for him, and to over-see Business done.

The Holy War,

Now there is in this gallant Country of Universe, a fair and delicate Town, a Corporation called Mansoul, a Town for it Building so curios, for its situation so commodious, - for its Privileges so advantagious ; (I begin with reference to its Original) that I may say of it, as was said before, of the Continent in which it is placed, There is not its equal under the whole Heaven.

As to the situation of this Town, it lieth just between the two Worlds, and the first Founder, and Scriptures. Builder of it, so far as by the best and The Almighty. most Authentick Records I can gather, was one Shaddai; and he built it for his own delight. Gen. i. 26. He made it the Mirrour and Glory of all that he made, even the Top-piece beyond any thing else that he did in that Country : Yea so goodly a Town was Mansoul, when first built,

Created Angels. that it is laid by some, the Gods at the setting up thereof, came down to see it, and sung for Joy. And as he made it goodly to behold, so also mighty to have Dominion over all the Country round about. Yea, all was commanded to acknowlege Mansoul for their Metropolitan, all was injoyned to do homage to it. Ay, the Town it self had positive Commission, and Power from her King to demand Service of all, and also to subdue any, that any ways denied to do it.

The Heart. There was reared up in the midly Palace ; for Strength it may be called a Castle ; for Pleasantness, a Paradise ; for Largenes a place so copious as to contain all the World. Eccl. 3. 11. This place, the King Shaddai intended but for himself alone, and not another with him Partly because of his own delights, and partly becau place Shaddai made also a Garrison of but committed to the keeping of it, only to the Men of the Town.

The Power of he would not that the terror of strange ers should be upon the Town. This the Souls.

The Wall of the Town was well built, yea so fast and firm was it knit and compact together, that had it not been for the Townsmen themselves, they could not have been shaken, or broken for ever.

For here lay the excellent wisdom of him that built Mansoul, that the walls could never be broken down nor hurt by the most mighty adverse Potentate, unless the townsmen gave consent thereto.

This famous Town of Mansoul had five Gates, at which to come out, and at which to go in and these were made likewise answerable to the Walls: To wit impregnable, and such as could never be opened nor forced, but by the will and leave of those within. The names of the Gates were these, Ear-gate, Eye-gate, Mouth-gate, Nose-gate, and Feel-gate.

Other things there were that belonged to the Town of Mansoul which if you adjoin to these, will yet give further demonstration to all of the glory and strength of the place. It had always a sufficiency of provision within its walls; The State of Mansoul at first. it had the best, most wholesome, and excellent Law that then was extant in the World. There was not a Rascal, Rogue, or traitorous Person then within its walls: They were all true Men, and fast joined together, and this you know is a great matter. And to all these, it was always (so long as it had the goodness to keep true to shaddai the King his countenance, his protection, and it was his delight, &c.

Well, upon a time there was one Diabolus a mighty Giant, made an assault upon this famous Town of Mansoul, to take it, and make it his own Habitation. This Giant was King of the Blacks or Negroes, and a most raving Prince he was. We will if you please first discourse of the original of this Diabolus, Sinners the fallen Angels. The Original of Diabolus. and then of his taking of this famous Town of Mansoul.

This Diabolus is indeed a great and mighty Prince, and yet both poor and beggarly. As to his Original, he was at first, one of the Servants of King Shaddai, made and taken, put by him into most high and mighty place, yea and was put into such Principalities as belonged to the best of his Territories and Dominions, Ifa. 14. 12. This Diabolus was made Son of the morning, and a brave place he had of it: It brought him much Glory, and gave him much Brightnes, an income that might have contented his Luciferian Heart, had it not been insatiable, and enlarged as Hell it self.

Well, he seeing himself thus exalted to Greatness and Honour, and raging in his mind for higher state and degree, what doth he but begins to think with himself, how he might be set up as Lord over all, and have the sole power under Shaddai, 2 Pet. 2. 4. Jude 6. (Now that did the King reserve for his Son yea, and had already bestowed it upon him) wherefore he first consults with himself what had best to be done, and then breaks his mind to some other of his companions, to the which they also agreed. So in fine, they came to this issue, that they should make an attempt upon the King's Son to destroy him, that the inheritance might be theirs. Well, to be short, the Treason (as I said) was concluded, the time appointed, the word given, the Rebels rendesvouzed, and the assault attempted. Now the King, and his Son being all, and always Eye, could not but discern all passages in his Dominions; and he having always a love for his Son, as for himself, could not, at what he saw, but be greatly provoked and offended: Wherefore what does he, but takes them in the very Nek, and first Trip that they made towards their design, convicts them of the Treason, horrid Rebellion and Conspiracy that they had devised, and now attempted to put into practice: And casts them altogether out of all place of Trust, Benefit, Honour, and Preferment; this done, he banishes them the Court, turns them down into the horrible Pits, and as fast bound in Chains; never more to expect the least favour from his Hands, but to abide the Judgment that that he had appointed : and that for ever and ever.

Now they being thus cast out of all place of Trust, Profit, and Honour, and also knowing that they had lost their Prince's favour for ever, being banished his Court and cast down to the horrible Pits, you may be sure they would now add to their former Pride, what Malice and Rage against Shaddai, and against his Son they could, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Wherefore Roving and Ranging in much fury from place to place, (if perhaps they might find something that was the King's) to revenge, by spoiling of that, themselves on him. At last they happined into this spacious Country of Universe, and steer their course towards the Town of Mansoul ; and considering that that Town was one of the chief Works, and delights of King Shaddai ; what do they, but after Council taken, make an assault upon that. I say they knew that Mansoul belonged unto Shaddai, for they were there when he built it, and beautified it for himself. So when they had found the place, they shouted horribly for Joy, and Roared on it like as a Lion upon the Prey : Saying, now we have found the Prize, and how to be revenged on King Shaddai, for what he hath done to us. So they set down and called a Council of War, and considered with themselves what ways and methods they had best

what ways and methods they had best to Engage in, for the winning to themselves this famous Town of Mansoul : and the four things were then propounded to be considered of.

First, Whether they had best, all of them to shew themselves, in this design to the Town of Mansoul.

Secondly, Whether they had best to go and sit down against Mansoul, in their now ragged and beggarly guise.

Thirdly, Whether they had best to shew to Mansoul their Intentions, and what design they came about; or whether to assault it with words and ways of deceit.

Fourthly, Whether they had best, by some of their Companions to give out private Orders to take the advantage, if they see one, or more of the principal Townsmen

...to shew them: If thereby they shall judge their cause and design will the better be promoted.

It was answereed to the first of these Proposals, in the Negative, to wit, that it would not be best that all shew themselves before the Town: Because the appearance of many of them might Alarm, and fright the Town. Whereas, a few or but one of them, was not so likely to do it. And to inforce this advice to take place, 'twas added further, that if Mansoul was frightened or did make the Alarm, 'tis impossible, said Diabolus (for he spake now) that we should take the Town: For that none can enter into without its own consent. Let therefore but few, or but one assault Mansoul, and in mine Opinion said Diabolus, let me be he. Wherefore to this they all agreed, and then to the second Proposal they came namely, Whether they had best to go and sit down before Mansoul, in their now Ragged and Beggarly guise. To which it was answered also in the Negative, by no means; and that because, though the Town of Mansoul, had been made to know, and to have to do before now, with things that are invisible; they did never as yet see any of their fellow Creatures in so bad and Rascal condition as they. And this was the Advice of that Alejo. Then said Apollyon, the advice Apollyon. is pertinent, for even one of us appearing to them as we are now, must needs, both beget and multiply such Thoughts in them, as will both put them in' o a Consternation of Spirit, and necessitate them to put themselves upon their Guard: And if so, said he, then as my Lord Alejo said but now, 'tis in vain for us to think of taking the Town. Then said that mighty Giant Beelzebub, the Advice that already is given is safe; for tho' the Men of Mansoul have seen such things as we once were yet hitherto they did never behold such things as we now are. And 'tis best in mine Opinion to come upon them in such a Guise, as is common to, and most familiar among them. To this when they had consented: The next thing to be considered was, in what shape, Hue or Guise, Diabolus had best to shew himself, when he went about to make Mansoul his own. Then one said one thing, and another the contray, at last Lucifer answered that in his Opinion, 'twas best that his Lordship should assume the Body of some of those Creatures that they of the Town had Dominion over. For quoth he, those are not only familiar to them, but being under them they will never Imagine, that any attempt should by them be made upon the Town; and to blind all, let him assume the Body of one of these Beasts that Mansoul deems to be wiser than any of the rest, Gen. 1. Rev. 20. 1, 2. This Advice was applauded of all so it was determined that the Giant Diabolus should assume the Dragon, for that he was one in those Days, as familiar with the Town of Mansoul, as now is the Bird with the Boy. For nothing that was in its primitive state was all amazing to them. Then thy proceeded to the Third thing, which was.

3. Whether they had best shew their intentions, or the design of his coming to Mansoul, or no?

This also was answered in the Negative; because of the weight that was in their former Reasons to wit, for that Mansoul were a strong People, a strong People in a strong Town, whose Wall and Gates were impregnable, (to say nothing of their Castle) nor can they by any means be won but by their own consent. Besides said Legion (for he gave answer to this). A discovery of our intentions, may make them send to their King for aid, and if that be done, I know, quickly what time of Day 'twill be with us: Therefore let us assault them in all pretended Fairness, covering of our Intentions with all manner of Lies Flatteries, delusive Words? Feigning of things that never will be, and promising of that to them, that they shall never find: This is the way to win Mansoul and to make them of themselves to open their Gates to us; yea, and to desire us too, to come in to them.

And the Reason why I think that this project will do, is because the People of Mansoul now are every one Simple and Innocent; all honest, and true; Nor do they as yet know what it is to be assaulted with

Fraud,

Fraud, Guile, and Hypocrisie. They are strangers to Lying and dissembling Lips; wherefore we canoot, if thus we be disguised, by them at all be discerned; our Lies shall go for true Sayings, and our Dissimulation, for upright Dealings. What we promise them, they will in that believe us; especially, if in all our Lies and Feigned Words, we pretend great love to them, and that our design is only their advantage and honour. Now there was not one bit of a reply against this, this went as current down, as doth the Water downa steep descent: Whereforethey go to consider of the last Proposal, which was.

4. Whether they had not best to give out Orders to some of their Company, to shoot some one or more of the principal of the Townsmen: If they judge that their cause my be promoted thereby.

This was carried in the Affirmative, and the Man that was designed by this Stratagem to be destroyed,

^{Of Captain Resistance.} was one Mr. Resistance, otherwise called Captain Resistance, and a great Man in Mansoul, this Captain Resistance was; and a Man that the Giant Diabolus, and his band, more feared than they feared the whole Town of Mansoul besides. Now who should be the Actor to do the Murder; that was the next, and they appointed one Tisiphone, a fury of the Lake to do it.

The result of their Council. They thus having ended the Council of War, rose up, and assay'd to do as they had determined; they marched towards Mansoul, but all in a manner invisible, save only one; nor did he approach the Town in his own likeness, but under the shade, and in the Body of the Dragon.

So they drew up, and set down before Ear-gate; for that was the place of hearing for all without the Town,

^{as Eye gate was the place of perfection.} So as I said, he came up with his Train to the Gate, and laid his Ambuscado for Captain Resistance, within Bow-shot of the Town. This done, the Giant ascended up close to the Gate, and called to the Town of Mansoul for Audience. Nor took he any with him, but one All-pause, who was his Orator in all difficult Matters. Now, as I said, he being come up to the Gate (as the manner of those times was) sounded his Trumpet for Audience; at which the chief of the Town of Mansoul such as my Lord Innocent, my Lord Will be will, my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, and Captain Resistance came down to the Wall to see who was there, and what was the matter. And my Lord Will be will, when he had looked over and ^{The Lords} _{of Mansoul} appeared, saw who stood at the Gate, demanded what he was, and wherefore he was come, and why he roused the Town of Mansoul with so unusual a Sound.

Diab: Diabolus then, as if he had been Diabolus his a Lamb, began his Oration and said, Gentle Oration, men of the famous Town of Mansoul, I am, as you may perceive no far dweller from you, but near, and one that is bound by the King to do you my Homage, and what service I can; wherefore that I may be faithful to my self, and to you, I have somewhat of concern to impart unto you. Wherefore grant me your Audience and bear me patiently. And first, I will assure you, it is not my self but you; not mine, but your advantage that I seek by what I now do, as will full well be made manifest, by that I have opened my mind unto you. For Gentlemen, I am (to tell you the Truth) come to shew you how you may obtain great and ample deliverance from a bondage that unawares to yourselves you are captivated and enslaved under. At this the Town of Mansoul began to prick up its Ears, and what is it, pray what is it thought they? And he ^{Mansoul} ingaged, said, I have something to say to you concerning your King, concerning his Law, and also touching your selves. Touching your King, I know he is great and potent, but yet, all that he hath said to you, is neither true, nor yet for your advantage, 1. 'Tis not true, for that wherewith he hath hitherto awed you, shall not come to pass, nor be fulfilled, though you do the thing he hath forbidden. But if there was Danger what a slavery is it to live always in Fear of the greatest of Punishments, for doing

The Holy War,

Diabolus his doing so small and trivial a thing, as Eating of a little Fruit is? 2. Touching his Laws this I say further, they are both unreasonable, Intricate and Inveterable. Unreasonable as was hinted before, for that the Punishment is not proportioned to the Offense. There is great difference, and

disproportion betwixt the Life, and an Apple: Yet the one must go for the other by the Law of your Shaddai. But it is also Intricate, in that he saith, first, you may eat of all; and yet after, forbids the eating of One. And then in the last Place, it must needs be intolerable, for as much as that Fruit which you are forbidden to eat of (if you are forbidden any) is that, and that alone, which is able by your eating, to minister to you, a Good, as yet unknown by you. This is manifest by the very Name of the Tree, it is called the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil; and have you that Knowledge as yet? No, no, nor can you conceive how good, how pleasant, and how much is to be desired to make one Wise it is, so long as you stand by your King's Commandment. Why should you be holden in Ignorance and Blindness? Why should you not be enlarged in Knowledge and Understanding? And now! Ah ye Inhabitants of the famous Town of Mansoul, to speak more particularly to yourselves, you are not a free People! You are kept both in Bondage and Slavery, and that by a grievous threat; no Reason being annexed, but so I will have it, so it shall be. And is it not grievous to think on, that that very thing that you are forbidden to do, might you but do it, would yield you both Wisdom and Honour: For then your Eyes will be opened, and you shall be as Gods. Now since this is thus, quoth he, can you be kept by any Prince in more Slavery, and in greater Bondage than you are under, this Day? You are made underlings, and are wrapt up in Inconveniences, as I have well made appear: For what Bondage greater than to be kept in Blindness? Will not Reason tell you, that it is better to have Eyes than be without them; and so be at Liberty, to be better than to be shut up in a dark and stinking Cave?

And just now while Diabolus was speaking these Words to Mansoul, Tisiphone shot ^{sudden} Resistance slain, at Captain Resistance, where he stood on the Gate, and mortally wounded him in the Head, so that he, to the Amazement of the townsmen, and the Encouragement of Diabolus, fell down dead quite over the Wall. Now, when Capt. Resistance was dead (and he was the only Man of War in the town) poor Mansoul was wholly left left naked of Courage, nor had she now any heart to resist. But this was as the Devil would have it. Then stood forth that He, Mr. Ill pause, that Diabolus brought with him, who was his Orator, and he Addressed himself to speak to the Town of Mansoul: The tenour of whose Speech here follows.

Mr. Ill-Pause his Speech to the Town of Man-soul.

Ill-pause. Gentlemen, quoth he, it is my Master's Happiness, that he has this Day a quiet and teachable Auditory; and it is hoped by us, that we shall prevail with you, not to cast off good Advice: My Master has a very great Love for you, and although, as he very well knows, that he runs the Hazard of the Anger of King Shaddai, yet Love to you will make him domore than that. Nor doth there need, that a word more should be spoken to confirm for truth what he has said; there is not a word that carries with it self-evidence in its Bowels; the very Name of the Tree may put an end to all Controverse in this Matter. I therefore at this time shall only add this Advice to you, under, and by the leave of my Lord (and with that he made Diabolus a very low Congee.) Consider his Words, look on the Tree and the promising Fruitthereof; remember also that yet you know but little, and that this is the way to know more: And if your Reasons be not conquered to accept of such good Council, you are not the Men I took you to be. But when the Towns folk saw that the Tree was good for Food, and that it was Pleasant to the Eye, and a Tree to be desired to make one Wife, they did as Old Ill-pause Advised, they took and did eat thereof, now this I should have told you before, that even then, when this Ill-pause was making

My Lord Innocency's Death. of his Speech to the Townsmen, my Lord Innocency, (whether by a shot from the Camp of the Giant, or from some qualm, that suddenly took him, or whether by the stinking Breath of that Treacherous Villain, Old Ill-pause, for so I am most apt think) sunk down in the Place where he stood, nor could he be brought to Life again. Thus these two brave Men Died; brave Men E

call them, for they were the Beauty and Glory of Mansoul, so long as they Lived therein: Nor did there now remain any more a Noble Spirit in Mansoul, they all fell down and yielded Obedience to Diabolus, and became his Slaves and Vassals as you shall hear.

Now these being Dead, what do the rest The Town of the Towns Folk, but as Men that had taken found a Fools-Paradise, they presently, as afore was hinted, fell to prove the Truth of the Giant's Words, and first they did as Ill-pause had taught them, they looked, they considered, they were taken with the forbidden Fruit, they took thereof and did Eat: And having Eaten, they became immediately Drunken therewith; so they opened the Gates; both Ear-gate, and Eye-gate, and let in Diabolus with all his Bands, quite forgetting their good Shaddai, his Law and the judgment that he had annexed with solemn Threatning to the breach thereof.

Diabolus having now obtained Entrance in at the Gates of the Town, Marches up to the middle thereof, to make his Conquest as sure as he could, and finding by this time, the affections of the People warmly inclining to him, he as thinking 'twas best striking while the Iron is Hot, made this further deceivable Speech unto them, saying, Alas my poor Mansoul! I have done thee indeed this service, as to promote thee to honour, and to greater thy Liberty, but now Alas! Alas! poor Mansoul thou wantest now one to defend thee, for assure thyself, that when Shaddai shall bear what is done, he will come: For sorry will be that thou hast broken his Bonds, and cast his Cords away from thee. What wilt thou do? Wilt thou after Enlargement, suffer thy Privileges to be Invaded and taken away? Or what wilt resolve with thyself? Then they all with one consent said to this Bramble, do thou Reign over us. So he Accepted the motion, and became the King of the Town of Mansoul. This being done, the next thing was, to give him Possession of the Castle, and so of the whole strength of the Town: Wherefore into the Castle he goes

goes (it was that which Shaddai built in Mansoul, for his own Delight and Pleasure:) This now was become Den, and Hold for the Giant Diabolus. Now having got Possession of the and his Obedience again.

This done, but not thinking himself yet secure

Mayor, whose Name was my Lord Understanding, and Mr. Recorder, whose Name was Mr. Conscience, tho' he puts out of Place and Power.

As for my Lord Mayor, though he was an Understanding Man and one too that had complied with the rest of the town of Mansoul in admitting of the Giant into the town, 2 Cor 10. 4, 5. Yet Diabolus thought not fit to let him abide in his former Lustre and Glory, because he was a seeing Man: Eph. 4. 18, 19.
Wherefore he had darkned it not only by taking from him his Office and Power, but by building of an high and strong tower, just between the Sun's Reflections, at the Windows of my Lord's Palace: By which mean his House and the whole of his Habitation, was made as dark as darknes it self. And thus being alienated from the Light he became as one that was born blind.
To this his House my Lord was confined, as to a Prison; nor might he upon his Parole, go further than within his own Boundes. And now had he had Heart to do for Mansoul; what could he do for it, wherein could he be profitable to her? So then, long as Mansoul was under the Power and Gover-ment of Diabolus, (and so long it was under him, it was obedient to him; which was, even until by War it was rescued out of his Hand.) So long my Lord Mayor, was rather an impediment in, than an advantage to, the Famous Town of Mansoul.

As for Mr Recorder, before the Town was taken, he was a Man well Read in the Laws of his King, and also a Man of Courage and faithfulness to speak truth at every occasion : And he had a Tongue as bravely Hung, as he had an head filled with Judgment. Now this Man, Diabolus could by no means abide, because, though he gave his consent to his coming into the Town, yet he woulldnot, by all wiles Trials, Stratagems, and devices that he could use, make him wholly his own. True, he was much degenerated from his former King, and also much pleased with many of the Giant's Laws, and Service : But this would not do for as much as he was not wholly his, he would now and then think upon ^{He sometimes speaks for his} Shaddai, and have a Dread of his Law first King. upon him, and then he would speak with a Voice as great against Diabolus, as when a Lion roareth. Yea, and would also at certain times when his fits were upon him (for you must know, that sometimes he had terrible fits) make the whole Town of Mansoul shake with his Voice : and therefore the new King of Mansoul could not abide him.

Diabolus therefore feared the Recorder, more than any that was left alive in the Town of Mansoul, because, as I said his words did shake the whole Town ; they were like the Ratling Thunder, and also like Thunder claps. Since therefore the Giant could not make him wholly his own, what doth he do but Studies all that he could to Debauch the Old Gentleman, and by Debauchery, to stupifie his Mind, and more harden his Heart in ways of Vanity. And as he Attempted, so he accomplished his Design. He Debauched the Man, and by little and little, so drew him into Sin and Wick-edness, that at last he was not only Debauched as at first, and so by consequence Defiled, but was almost (at last, I say) past all Conscience of Sin. And this was the farthest farthest Diabolus could go. Wherefore he bethinks him of another project, and that was to persuade the Men of the Town that Mr. Recorder was Mad and so not to be Regarded.

The Town taken off from heeding of him.

And for this he urged his Fits, and said;

if he be himself, why doth he not do thus always? But, quoth he, as all Madfolk have their Fits and in them raving Language; so hath this Old and doating Gentleman. This by one mean or another, he quickly got Mansoul to slight, neglect, and despise whatever Mr. Recorder could say. For besides, what already you have heard, Diabolus had a way to make

How Conscience becomes so ridiculous, as with Carnal Men it is. the Old Gentleman, when he was Merry, unlay and deny what he in his Fits had affirmed. And indeed this was the next way to make himself ridiculous, and to cause that no Man should regard him. Also now he never spake freely for King Shaddai but always by force and constraint. Besides, he would at one-time be hot against that, at which at another he would hold his Peace. So uneven was he now in his doings. Sometimes he would be, as if fast asleep, and again sometimes as Dead, even then when the whole Town of Mansoul, was in her career after Vanity, and in her Dance after the Giant's Pipe.

Wherefore, sometimes when Mansoul did use to be frightened with the thundering Voice of the Recorder that was, and when they did tell Diabolus of it, he would answer, that what the Old Gentleman said, was neither of Love to him, nor pity to them, but of a Foolish fondness that he had to be prating: And so would hush, still, and put all to quiet agaio. And that he might leave no Argument upurged that might tender to make them secure, he said, and said it often; O Mansoul! Consider that not with standing the Old Gentleman's Rage, and the rattle of his high and thundering Words, you hear nothing of Shaddai himself (when Liar, and Deceiver, that he was, every out-cry of Satanical Rhetorick, was the Voice of God in him to them)

But

But he goes on and says, You see that he values not the Loss, nor Rebellion of the Town of Mansoul, nor will he trouble himself with calling of his Town to a Reckoning, for their given themselves to me. He knows that though ye were his, now you are lawfully mine ; so leaving us one to another, he now hath shat-ten his Hands of Us.

Moreover, O Mansoul ! quoth he, consider how I have served you, even to the uttermost of my Power ; and that with the best that I have, could get, or procure for you in all the World : Besides, I dare say, that the Laws and Customs that you now are under, and by which you do Homage to me, do yield you more solace and content, than did the Paradise that at first you posses-is own, even with as little Contreoul from me, as I myself have from you.

left them : Yea, and with such cursed Orations as these would set the whole Town in a rage and fury against the Old Gentleman : Yea, the Rascal cure, at one time would be for destroying him. They have been wished (in my hearing) That he had lived a thousand miles off from them : His company, his words, yea the sight of him, and especially when they remembred how in Old times he did use to threaten and condemn them ; (for all he was now so Debanged) did terrifie and afflict them sore.
But all wishes were vain, for I do not know how, unless by the power of Shaddai, and his wisdom, he was served in being amongst them. Besides, his house was

was as strong as a Castle, and stood hard by a Strong Ill-thought. Hold of the Town : Moreover, if at any time any of the cure or Rabble attempted to make him

Of fears away, he could pull up the sluices, and let in such floods, as would drown all round about him.

The will. But to leave Mr. Recorder, and to come to my Lord Will be will, another of the Gentry, of the famous town of Mansoul. This Will be will was as high born as any Man in Mansoul, and was as much, if no more, a Free holder than many of them were : Besides if I remember my Tale aright, he had some privledge peculiar to himself in the famous Town o Mansoul. Now together with these, he was a man of great strength, resolution and courage, nor in his occasion could any man him worthy. But I say, whether he was proud of his Estate, Priviledges, Strength or what, (but sure it was through pride of something) he scorns now to be a slave in Mansoul ; and therefore resolves to bear Office under Diabolus, that he might (such an one as he was) be a petty Ruler and Governour in Mansoul, and (head-strong Man that he was) thus he began betimes ; for this Man, when Diabolus did make his Oration at Far gate, was one of the first that was for consenting to his words, and for accepting of his counsel a wholelome, and that was for the opening of the Gate and letting him into the Town : Wherefore Diabolus had a kindness for him ; and therefore he designed for him a place : and perceiving the valour and stoutness the Man, he coveted to have him for one of his greates, to act and to do in Matters of the highest concen-

The Will takes him of that secret matter that lay in his place under Di- Breast, but there needed not much perabolus. swasion in the Case. For as at first he was willing that Diabolus should be let into the Town ;

now he was as willing to serve him there : When the Tyrant therefore perceived the willingness of my Lord to serve him, and that his mind stood bending the way, he forthwith made him Captain of the Castle Governeur.

Governour of the Wall, and Keeper of the Gates of Mansoul: Yea there was a clause in his Commission, that no thing without him shoul'd be done in all the Town of Mansoul. So that now, next to Diabolus himself, who but my Lord will be will in all the Town of Mansoul; nor could any thing now be done, but at his Will and Pleasure throughout the Town of Mansoul. Rom. 8. 7. He had also one Mr. Mind for his Clerk, a man to speak on, every way like his Master: Mr. Mind my Lord's Clerk. or he and his Lord were in principle one, and in practice not far asunder. Epb. 2. 2, 3, 4 And now was Mansoul brought under to purpose, and made to fulfil the lusts of the Will, and of the Mind. But it will not out of my thoughts, what a desperate creature this Will bewill was, when power was put into his hand. First, he flatly denied that he owed any suit, service to his former Prince, and Liege Lord. This none, in the next place he took an Oath, swore fidelity to his great Master Diabolus, and then being stated and settled in his Places, Offices, Advancements and Presents; Oh! you cannot think unless you had seen the strange work, that this workman made in the town of Mansoul.

First, he maligned Mr. Recorder to The carnal will, he would neither endure to see opposeth Conscience, nor to hear the words of his mouth; science. He would shut his Eyes when he saw him, and stop his Ears when he heard him speak: Also he could not endure that so much as a fragment of the Law of Sabadai should be any where seen in the Town. For example his Clerk Mr. Mind had some old rent, Neb. 9. 26. torn Parchments of the Law of good Sabadai in his House, but when Willbewill saw them, he cast them behind his back. True, Mr. Recorder had some of them in his study, but my Lord could by no means understand them: He also thought and said, the windows of old Lord Mayor's House were always corrupt will light for the profit of the Town of loves a dark soul. The light of a Candle he could not not endure. Now nothing at all pleased Will-bewill but what pleased Diabolus his Lord.

There was none like him to trumpet about the Streets, the brave nature, the wise conduct, and great glory of the King Diabolus: He would range and rove throughout all the Streets of Mansoul, to cry up his Vain thoughts. Illustrious Lord, and would make himself even as an abject, among the base and Rascal crew to cry up his valiant Prince. And I say, when, and wheresoever he found those Vassals, he would ever make himself as one of them. In all ill courses he would act without bidding, and do mischief without commandment.

The Lord Will bewill also had a deputy under him and his Name was Mr. Affection; one that was all along greatly debauched in his principles, and answerable thereto in his life: Rom. 1. 25. He was only given to the flesh, and therefore they call him Vile Affection.

Now there was he, and one Carna
A. match betwixt Lust, the Daughter of Mr. Mind (like Vile Affection and Cainal Lust, to like qoth the Devil to the Collier) carnal Lust, that fell in love and made a match, and were married; and as I take it they had several chil drn, as Impudence, Blackmouthe, and Hate reproof: The 3 were Black Boys; and besides these they had Daughters, as Scorn-Truth, and Slight-God, and the name of the Youngest was Revenge; these were all married in the Town, and also begot and yielded many b Brats, too many to be inserted. But to pass by this.

When the Giant had thus ingarrisoned himself in the Town of Mansoul, and had put down and set never whom he thought good, He betakes himself to Defacing. Now there was in the Market-place in Mansoul and also upon the Gates of the Castle, an image of the blessed King Sbaddai, this image was so exactly ingraven (and it was engraven in Gold) that it did the most resemble Sbaddai himself of any thing that then extant in the World. This he basely commanded What No be defaced, and it was as basely done by Truth did, hand of Mr. No Truth, Now you mi know

bewill know, that as Diabolus had commanded, and that by the hand of Mr. No-Truth, the Image of Shaddai was set thefaced; He likewise gave order that the same Mr. No-great Truth should set up in its stead the horrid and formidable Image of Diabolus: To the great contempt of the up his former King, and debasing his Town of Mansoul.

All Law books destroyed that could be so.

ses before the Doctrines or Morals, with all Civil and Natural Documents. Also relative severities he sought to extinguish. To be short, there was nothing of the remains of good in Mansoul, which he and Will bewill as also sought not to destroy : For their design was to turn Mansoul into a Brute, and to make it like to the seven fatal Sow : By the hand of Mr. No-Trust.

When he had destroyed what Law and good Orders could, then further to affect his design namely, to banish Mansoul from Shaddai her King he commands, and they set up his own vain Edicts, Statutes and Commandments, all in places of resort, or concourse of men. Mansoul, 1 John 2. to wit such as gave liberty to the lusts of the flesh, the lusts of the Eyes, and the Pride had Life, which are not of Shaddai, but of the World. He encouraged, countenanced and promoted lasciviousness, and all ungodliness there. Yea much more did abolish, to incourage wickednes in the Town of Mansoul, he promised them peace, content, joy and success in doing his commands and that they shou d never be called to an account for their not doing the contrary. And let this serve to give a taste to them that have to bear of what is done beyond their knowledge, afar in other Countries.

Now Mansoul being wholly at his beck, and brought holly to his Bow ; Nothing was heard or seen there-but that which tended to set up him.

But now, he having disabled the Lord Mayor and Recorder from keeping of Office in Mansoul : And a new Recorder, seeing feeing that the Town, before he came to it, was the most ancient of Corporations of the World; and fearing if he did not mainte in Greatness, they at any time should object that he had done them an Injury: Therefore I say, (that they might see that he did not intend to lessen their Grandeur, or to take them from any of their Advantagious things) he did chuse for them a Lord Mayor, and a Recorder, himself: And such as contented them at the Heart, and such also as pleased him wondrous well.

The New. The Name of the Mayor that was of Lord-Mayor, Diabolus's making, was the Lord Lustings.
A man that had neither Eyes nor Ears; all that he did, whether as a Man, as an Officer, he did it naturally, as doth the Beast. And that which made him yet the more Ignoble, though not to Mansoul, yet to them that beheld, and were grieved for its Ruins, was, that he never could favour Good, but Evil.

The new Recorder was one whose Name was Recorder. Forget-good. And a very sorry Fellow he was. He could remember nothing but Mischief, and to do it with delight. He was naturally prone to do things that are Hurtful; even Hurtful to the Town of Mansoul, and to all the Dwellers there. These two therefore, by their Power, and Practice, example and smiles upon Evil; did much more Grammer, and less of the Thoughts of the Common People in hurtful Ways. Wre

Besides these, Diabolus made several theism; Thirteen in All. Mr. Incredulity is the Eldest and Mr. Atheism the Youngest of the Company.

There was also an Election of Common-Council-Men, and others; as Bailiffs, Serjeants Constables &c. but all of them like those aforesigned, being either Fathers, Brothers, Cousins or Nephews to them, whose Names for Brevities sake, I Omit to mention.

When the Giant had thus far proceeded in his Work, in the next place he began to take him to Build some strong Holds in the Town; and he Built three that seemed to be Impregnable. The First he called the Hold of Defiance, because it was made to Command the whole Town, and to keep it from the Knowledge of its Ancient King. The Second he called Midnight Hold, because it was Built on purpose to keep Men from the true Knowledge of it self. The Third was called Sweet-sin Hold, because by that he Fortified Mansoul against all desires of Good. The First of these Holds stood close by Eye gate, that as much as might be Light might be Darkened there. The Second was Built hard by the Old Castle, to the end that that might be made more Blind (if possible.) And the Third stood in the Market Place.

He that Diabolus made Governour over the First of these, was one Spite God, a most Blasphemous Wretch. He came with the whole Rabble of them that came against Mansoul at first, and was himself corrupted one of themselves. He that was made the Governour of Midnight Hold was one I love no light, he was also one of them that came first against the Town. And he that was made the Governour of the Hold called Sweet-sin Hold, was one whose Name was Lover, he was also a very Leud Fellow, but not of that Country, where the other are bound. This Fellow would find more sweeteness, when he stood sucking of a Lust, than can be did in all the Paradise of God.

And now Diabolus thought himself safe; he had taken Mansoul; he had Ingarrisoned himself therein; he had put down the old Officers, and had set up new three strong Holds.

Diabolus has made his Nest. Ones; he had defaced the Image of Shadai, and had set up his own; he had spoiled the old Law-Books, and had promoted his own vain Lies; he had made him new Magistrates, and set up new Aldermen; he had Built his new Holds, and had Mann'd them for himself. And all this he did to make himself secure, in Case the good Shaddai, or his Son, should come to make an Incursion upon him.

Tidings carried to the Court of before this time, Word by some or other could not but be carried to the Good King Shaddai, how his Mansoul in the Continent of Universe was lost; and that the Giant Diabolus, once one of his Majesties Servants, had in Rebellion against the King made sure thereof for himself: Yea, Tidings were carried and brought to the King thereof, and that to a very Circumstance.

As first, How Diabolus came upon Mansoul (they being a simple People and Innocent) with Craft, Subtlety, Lies and Guile; Item, That he had Treacherously slain the Right Noble and Valiant Captain their Captain Resistance, as he stood upon the Gate with the rest of the Townsmen; Item, how my brave Lord Innocent fell down Dead (with Grief some say or with being Poisoned, stinking with the Breath of one Ill-pause, as say others) at the hearing of his Just Lord, and Rightful Prince Shaddai so Abused by the Mouth of so Filthy a Diabolian, as that Varle Ill-pause was. The Messenger further told, that after this Ill-pause, had made a short Oration to the Townsmen, in behalf of Diabolus his Master, the simple Town believing that what was said was true, with one consent did open Ear-gate, the chief Gate of the Corporation, and did let him with his Crew into Possession of the Famous Town of Mansoul. He further shewed how Diabolus had served the Lord Mayor, and Mr. Recorder, to wit, that he had put them from all place of Power and Trust; Item, he shewed also that my Lord Willbewill was turned a very Rebel and Runagate, and that so one Mr. Mind his Clerk, and that they two did Range and Revel it all the Town over, and teach the Wicked ones their Ways. He said moreover, that this Willbewill was put into great Trust, and particularly that Diabolus had put in Willbewill's Hand, all the strong Places in Mansoul; and that Mr. Affection was made my Lord Willbewill's Deputy, in his most Rebellious Affairs. Yea, said the Messenger, this Monster, Lord Willbewill has openly disavowed his King Shaddai, and hath Horribly given his Faith and Plighted Troth to Diabolus.

Also said the Messenger, besides this, the new King, or rather Rebellious Tyrant over the once Famous, but now Perishing Town of Mansoul, has set up a Lord Mayor, and Recorder of his own. For Mayor he has set up one Mr. Lustings, and for Recorder Mr. Forget-good, two of the Vilest of all the Town of Mansoul. This faithful Messenger also proceeded, and told what a sort of new Burgesses Diabolus had made; also that he had Built several strong Forts, Towers, and strong Holds in Mansoul. He told too, the which I had almost forgot, how Diabolus had put the Town of Mansoul into Arms, the better to Capacitate them on his behalf to make resistance against Shaddai their King, should he come to reduce them to their former Obedience.

Now this Tidings-teller did not deliver his Relation of things in private, but in open Court, the King and his Son, High Lords, Chief Captains, and Nobles, being all there present to hear. But by that they had heard the whole of the Story, it would have Amazed one, to have seen, had he been there to behold it, what Sorrow and Grief, and Compunction of Spirit, there was among all Sorts, to think that Famous Mansoul was now taken: Only the King and his Son foresaw all this long before, yea, and sufficiently provided for the relief of Mansoul, tho' they told not every body thereof. Yet because they also would have a share in con-doling of the misery of Mansoul, therefore they also did, and that at a rate of the highest Degree, bewail the losing of Mansoul, Gen. 6. 5, 6. The King said plainly, that it Grieved him at the Heart, and you may be sure that his Son was not a whit behind him Thus gave they Conviction to all about them, that they had Love and Compassion for the famous Town of Mansoul. Well, when the King and his Son where retired into the Privy chamber, there they again consulted about what they had designed before, to wit

That as Mansoul should in time be suffered to be lost: so as certainly it should be recovered again; recovered I say, in such, a way as that both the King and his Son would get themselves Eternal Fame and Glory thereby. Wherefore after this Consult, the Son of Shaddai (a sweet always great Affection for those that were in Affliction, but one that had Mortal Enmity in his Heart against Diabolus, because he was designed for it, and because he sought his Crown and Dignity) Isa. 49. 5. 1 Tim. 1. 15. Hos. 13. 14. This Son of Shaddai, I say, having stricken Hand with his Father, and promised that he would be his Servant to recover his Mansoul again, stood by his Resolution, nor would he Repent of the same. The purport of

A brave design which Agreement was this, to wit, That on foot for the at a certain time prefixed by both, the Town of Man- King's Son should take a Journey into the soul.

Country of Universe, and there in a way of Justice and Equity, by making of amends for the Follies of Mansoul, he should lay a Foundation of her perfect deliverance for Diabolus, and from his Tyranny.

Moreover Emanuel resolved to make at a time convenient, a War upon the Giant Diabolus, even while he was possessed of the Town of Mansoul; and that he would fairly by strength of Hand, drive him out of his Nest, his Nest, and take it to himself, to be his Haven.

This

This now being resolved upon, order was given to the Lord Chief Secretary, to draw up a fair Record of what was determined, and to cause that it should be Published in all the Corners of the Kingdom of Universe. A short Breviat of the Contents thereof, you may if you please take here as follows

Let all Men know who are concerned, The Contents, that the Son of Shaddai the Great King, is Inaged by Covenant to his Father, to bring his Mansoul to him again; Yea, and to put Mansoul too, through the Power of his matchless Love, into a far better, and more happy Condition than it was in before it was taken by Diabolus.

These Papers thereof were published in several Places, to the no little Molestation of the Tyrant Diabolus, for now thought he, I shall be molested, and my Habitation will be taken from me.

But when this matter, I mean this purpose of the King and his Son, did at first take air at Court; who can tell how the High Lords, Chief Captains, and Noble Princes that were there, were taken with the business! First, they whispered it to one another, and after that it began to ring throughout the King's Palace, all wondring at the Glorious design, that between the King and his Son was on foot for the miserable Town of Mansoul. Yea, the Courtiers could scarce do any thing, either for the King or Kingdom, but they would mix with the doing thereof, a noise of the love of the King and his Son, that they had for the Town of Mansoul.

Nor could these Lords, high Captains, and Princes, be content to keep this News at Court, yea before the Records thereof were perused, themselves came down and told it in Universe. At last it came to the Ears, as I said, of Diabolus, Diabolus perplexed at the news, to his no little discontent. For you must thick it would perplex him to hear of such a desigo against him: Well, but after a few casts in his Mind, he concluded upon these Four things

First, that this News, this good Tidings (if possible) should be kept from the Ears of the Town of Mansoul: For said he, if they shall once come to the Knowledge that Shaddai their former King, and Emanuel his Son, are contriving of Good for the Town of Mansoul: What can be expected by me, but that Mansoul will make a Revolt from under my Hand and Government, and return again to him ?

Now to accomplish this his Design, he First how to renews his Flattery with my Lord Will-keep the news bewill, and also gives him strict charge and command, that he should keep watch by Day, and by Night of all the Gates of the Town especially Ear-gate, and Eye gate: For I hear of a design, quoth he, a design to make us all Traitors, and that Mansoul must be reduced to it, first bondage again. I hope they are but flying Stories quoth he, however let no such news by any means be let into Mansoul, lest the People be dejected thereat : I think

The Will engaged, against the Gospel. I think that at this time it should be all Good Thoughts our Wisdoms and care to nip the Head of all such rumours as shall tend to trouble our People: Wherefore I desire my Lord, that you will in this matter do as I say, let there be strong Gaurds daily kept at every Gate of the Town. Stop also and Exampte, from whence such come you may preceive do from far come hither to Trade ; nor let them by any means be admitted into Mansoul, unless you shall plainly perceive that they are favourers of our Excellent Government.

I command moreover, said Diabolus, All good thoughts and words are to be suppressed. that there be Spies continually walking up and down the Town of Mansoul, and let them have Power to suppress and destroy any they shall perceive to be Plotting against us, or that shall prate of what by Shaddai and Emanuel is intended.

This

This therefore was accordingly done: My Lord Willbewill harkned to his Lord and Master, went willingly after his Commandment, and with all the diligence he could, kept any that would, from going out Abroad, or that sought to bring this Tidings to Mansoul, from coming into the Town.

Secondly, This done, in the next place Diabolus, that he might make Mansoul as ^{A new Oath imposed.} sure as he could, frames and imposes a new Oath, and horrible Covenant upon the Towns-folks.

To wit, That they should never desert him, nor his Government, nor yet betray him, nor seek to alter his Laws: But that they should own, confess, stand by, and acknowledge him for their rightful King, in defiance to any that do or bereafter shall, by any pretence, Law, or Title whatsoever lay claim to the Town of Mansoul, Isa. 28. 15. Thinking be like that Shaddai had not power to absolve them for this Covenant with Death, and agreement with Hell. Nor did the silly Mansoul stick or boggle at all at this most monstrous Ingagement, but as if it had been a Sprat in the mouth of a Whale, they swallowed it with out any Chewing. Where they troubled at it? Nay, they rather bragged and boasted of their so brave Fidelity to the Tryant their pretended King, Swearing that they would never be Changlings, nor forsake their Old Lord for a New.

Thus did Diabolus tie poor Mansoul fast, but jealousie that never thinks it self strong enough, put him in the next place upon another exploit, which was yet more, if possible, to Debauch this Town of Mansoul: Wherefore he caused by the Hand of one Mr, Fish, an Odious, Nasty, Lascivious piece of Beastliness to be drawn up in Writing, and set upon the Gates, whereby he granted and gave Licence to all his true and trufy Sons in Mansoul, to do whatsoever their lustful Appetites prompted them to do, and that no Man was to let, hinder, or controul them, upon pain of incurring the displeasure of their Prince.

Now this he did for these Reasons :

Reasons of his yet made weaker and weaker, and so h us doing. 1. That the Town of Mansoul might be more unable, should Tidings come, that their Redemption was designed ; to believe, hope, or consent to the Truth thereof. For Reason says, the bigger the Sinner, the less Grounds or hope of Mercy.

2. The second Reason was, if perhaps Emanuel the Son of Shaddai their King by seeing the Horrible and prophane doings of the Town of Mansoul, might Repent, though entered into a Covenant of Redeeming them, of pursuing that Covenart of their Redemption ; for he knew that Shaddai was Holy, and that his Son Emanuel was Holy, yea, he knew it by woful experience : For, for the Iniquity and Sin of Diabolus, was he cast from the highest Orbs. Wherefore what more rational than for him to conclude that thus, for Sin it might fare with Mansoul ; But fearing lest also this Knot should break, he bethinks himself of another, to wit :

3. Thirdly, to endeavour to possess all Hearts in the Town of Mansoul, that Shaddai was raising of an Army, to come to overthrow, and utterly to destroy this Town of Mansoul, (and this he did to forestall any Tidings that might come to their Ears, of their deliverance) for thought he, if I first brute this, the Tidings that might come after, will all be swallowed up of this ; for what else will Mansoul say, when they shall hear that they must be delivered, but that the true meaning is, Shaddai intends to destroy them ? Wherefore, he summons the whole Town into the Market place, and there with deceitful Tongue, thus he addresses himself unto them.

Gentlemen, and my very good Friends, The place of you are all as you know my Legal Subjects, hearing and of and Men of the famous Town of Mansoul ; considering.

you know how from the first day that I have been with you until now, I have behaved my self among you, and what liberty, and great priviledges you have enjoyed under my Government, I hope to your Honour, and

and mine, and also to your content and delight : Now, my famous Mansoul, a noise of trouble there is abroad, of trouble is the Town of Mansoul, sorry I am thereto for your sakes, For I received but now by the Post from my Lord Lucifer, (and he useth to have good intelligence) That your old King Shaddai, is raising of an Army to come against you, to destroy you root and branch : And this O Mansoul ! is now the cause, that at this time I have called you together ; namely to advise what in this juncture is best to be done ; for my part, I am but one, and can with ease shift for my self, did I list to seek my own ease, and to leave my Mansoul in all Danger : But my heart is so firm'y united to you, and so unwilling am I to leave you ; that I am willing to stand and fall with you, to the utmost Hazard it shall befall me. What say you ? O my Mansoul ! will you now desert your old Friend ; or do you think of standing by me ? Then as one Man, with one Mouth, they cried out together, Let him die the Death that will not.

Then laid Diabolus again, 'Tis vain for us to hope for Quarter, for this King knows not how to shew it : True perhaps, he at his first sitting down before us, will talk of, and pretend to mercy, that thereby with the more ease, and less trouble, he may again make himself the master of Mansoul ; whatever therefore he shall say, believe not one Syllable or Little of it, for all such Language is but to overcome us and to make us while we wallow in our Blood, the trophies of his merciless Victory. My mind is therefore, that we resolve to the last Man, to resist him, and not to believe him upon any terms. For in at that Door will come our Danger But shall we be mastered out of our Lives ? I hope you know more of the rudiments of Politicks than to suffer your selves so pitifully to be served.

But suppose he should, if he get us to yield, save some of our Lives, or the Lives of some of them that are underlings in Mansoul, what help will that be to you that are the Chief of the Town, especially of you whom I have set up, and whose greatness has been procured by you through

Lying Language. through your faithful sticking to me? And suppose again, that he should give Quarter to every of you, be sure he will bring you into that Bondage, under which are captivated before, or a worse, and then what good will your Lives do you? Shall you with him live in Pleasure, as you do now; No, no, you must be bound by Laws that will pinch you, and be made to do that, which at present is hateful to you; I am for you, if you are for me, and it is better to die valiantly, than to Live like pitiful Slaves,

He is afraid of losing of Mansoul. But I say, the Life of a Slave will be accounted a Life too good for Mansoul now.

Blood, Blood, nothing but Blood is in every blast of Shaddai's Trumpet, against poor Mansoul now: Pray be concerned, I bear he is coming up, and stand to your Arms, that now while you have any Leisure, I may learn you some Feats of War. Armour for you I have, and by me it is; Yea, and it is sufficient for Mansoul,

He puts them upon Arming of themselves. from Top to Toe; nor can you be hurt by what his force can do, if you shall keep it well girt and fasten about you: Come therefore to my Castle and welcome, and harness your selves for the War. There is Helmet, Breast-plate Sword and Shield, and what not, that will make your fight like Men.

His Helmet. 1. My Hemlet, otherwise called an Head-piece, is hope of doing well at last, what Lives soever you Live, Deut. 29. 19. This is that which they had, who said, that they should have Peace, tho' they walked in the Wickedness of their Heart, to add Drunkenness to Thirst; a peice of approved Armour this is, and whoever has it and can hold it, so long no Arrow, Dart, Sword or Shield, can hurt him; this therefore keep on, and thou wilt keep off many a Blow, my Mansoul.

His Breast-Plate. 2, My Breast plate is a Breast-plate of Iron Rev. 9. 9. I had it forged in mine own Country, and all my Soldiers are Armed therewith; it plain Language it is an Hard Heart, an Heart as hard as Iron, and as much past feeling as a stone the which if you get and keep, neither Mercy shall win you, nor Judgment right, fright you This therefore is a piece of Armour, most necessary for all to put on that hate Shaddai, and that would fight against him under my Banner.

3. My Sword is a Tongue that is set on Fire of Hell, Psal. 57, 4. and 64. 3. Jam. 3. And that can bend it self to speak Evil of Shaddai, his Son, his Ways, and People; use this, it has been tryed a thousand times twice told; whoever bath it, keeps it, and makes that use of it as I would have him, can never be conquered by mine Enemy.

4. My Shield is Unbelief, Job 15. 26. His Shield Psal. 76. 3. Mar. 6. 5, 6. Or calling into Question the truth of the Word, or all the sayings that speak of the Judgment that Shaddai has appointed for Wicked Men, use his Shield; many attempts he has made upon it, and sometimes 'tis true, it has been bruised, but they that have writ of the Wars of Emanuel against my Servants, have testified that he could do no mighty work there, because of their Unbelief: Now to handle this weapon of mine aright, it is, not to believe things, because they are true, of what sort, or by whom so ever asserted; if he speaks of Judgment, care not for it; if he speaks of Mercy, care not for it; if he promises, if he swears that he would do to Mansoul, if it turns, no hurt but good; regard not what is said, question the truth of all; for it is to wield the Shield of Unbelief aright, and as my Servants ought and do: And he that durst otherwise loves me not, nor do I count him but an Enemy to me.

5. An other part or piece, said Diabolus, of mine excellent Armour is, a Dumb and Prayerless Spirit, a spirit that scorns to cry for Mercy; wherefore be you my Mansoul, sure that you make use of this: What! cry for Quarter? Never do that, if you would be mine; I know you stout Men, and am sure that I have clad you with that which is Armour of Proof; wherefore to cry to Shaddai for Mercy, let that be far from you: Besides all this, I have a Maul, Fire-brands, Arrows and Death, all good Hand weapons, and such as will do Execution.

After he had thus furnished his Men with Armour and

He backs all and Arms, he addressed himself to them with a Speech in such like Words as these, Remember, to them.

quoth he, that I am your rightful King, and that you have taken an Oath, and entered into Covenant to be true to me and to my Cause; I say remember this, and shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men of Mansoul. Remember also the kindness that I have always shewed to you, and that without your Protection, I have granted to you external Things, wherfore the Privileges, Grants, Immunities, Profits, and Honours where-with I have endowed you, do call for at your Hands, returns of Loyalty, my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And when so fit a time to shew it, as when another shall seek to take my Dominion over you into their own Hands? One Word more, and I have done: Can we but stand, and overcome this one shock or brunt, I doubt not but in little time all the World will be ours. And when that Day comes my true Hearts, I will make you Kings, Princes and Captains, and what brave Days shall we have then!

Diabolus having thus armed and forearmed his Servants and Vassals in Mansoul, against their good and lawful King Shaddai, in the next place he doubleth his shew their Wills, and suppose (but ignoble) Gallantry, Exercise them in their Arms every Day, and teach one another Feats of War; they also defied their Enemies, and sung up the praises of their Tyrant; they threatened also what Men they would be, if ever things should rise so high, as a War between Shaddai and their King.

They of Man: Guards at the Gates of the Town, and soul shew their betakes himself to the Castle, which was Loyalty to the his strong Hold: His Vassals also to Giant.

Now all this time, the good King, the King Shaddai, was preparing to send an Army to recover the Town of Mansoul again from under the Tyranny of their pretended King Diabolus: But he thought good at the first, not to send them by the Hand and Conduct of brave Emanuel his Son, but under the Hand of some of his Servants, to see first by them the temper of of Mansoul; and whether by them they would be won to the Obedience of their King. The Army consisted of above Forty Thousand, all true Men : For they came from the King's own Court and were those of his own chusing.

They came up to Mansoul under the Conduet of four stout Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thousand Men, and these are the Names, and their Signs. The Name of the First was Boanerges. The Name of the Second was Captain Conviction. The name of the Third Captain Judgment. And the Name of the Fourth was Captain Execution: These were the Captains that Shaddai sent to regain Mansoul.

The Captains Names.

These four Captains (as was said) the King thought fit in the first place to send to Mansoul, to make an Attempt upon it, for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use to send these four Captains in the Van, for they were very stout and rough hewn Men, Pj. 60. 4. Men that where fit to break the Ice, and to make their way by dint of Sword, and their Men were like themselves.

To each of these Captains the King gave a Banner that it might be displayed, because of the Goodness of his Cause, and because of the Right that he had to Mansoul.

First to Capt. Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to him I say, was given ten thousand Men; his Ensign was Mr. Thunder, he bare the Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark 3. 17.

The second Capt. was Captain Conviction, to him was given ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Sorrow, he did bear the Pale Colours, and his Scurcheon was the Book of the Law wide open, from whence issued a Flame of Fire, Deut. 33. 2.

The third Capt. was Captain Judgment, to him was given ten thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Terror, he bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was a burning fiery Furnance, Matt. 13. 40, 41.

The fourth Captain was Captain Execution; to him was given ten Thousand Men; his Ensign wa-one Mr. Justice, he also bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was a Fruitless Tree, with an Ax laying at the Root thereof, Mat. 3. 10.

These Four Captains, as I said, had every one of them under his command Ten Thousand Men, all of good fidelity to the King, and stout at their military actions.

Well, The Captains and their Forces, their Men, and under Officers, being had upon a Day by Shaddai into the Field, and there called all over by their Names, where then and there put into such harness, as became their degree and that service that now they were going about for their King.

Now when the King had mustered his Forces (for it is he that mustred the Host to the Battle) he gave unto the Captains their several Commissions: with charge and commandment in the Audience of all the Soldiers, that they should take heed faithfully and courageously to do and excuse the same. Their Commissions were for the substance of them, the same in form, though as to Name, Title, Place and Degree of the Captains there might be some, but very small Variation: And here let me give you an account of the Matter and Sum contained in their Commission.

A Commission from the great Shaddai King of Mansoul, to his Trusty and Noble Captain, the Captain Boanerges, for making War upon the Town of Mansoul.

O ! Thou Boanerges, one of my stout and Thunding Captains, over one Ten Thousand of my Valiant and Faithful Servants, Mat. 10. 11. Luk. 10. 5. Go thou in my Name with this thy Force to the miserable Town of Mansoul, and when thou comest thither, offer them first Conditions of Peace; and command them, that casting off the Yoke and Tyranny of the Wicked Diabolus, they return to me their rightful Prince and Lord; command them also that they cleanse themselves from all that is his, in the Town of Mansoul, (and look to thy self that thou has good Satisfaction, touching the truth of their

* their Obedience.) Thus when thou hast commanded them (if they in truth submit thereto) then do thou to the uttermost of thy Power, what in thee lies, to set up for me a Garrison in the famous Town of Mansoul; nor do thou hurt the least Native that moveth or breatheth therein if they will submit themselves to me, but treat thou such as if they were thy Friend or Brother; for all such I Love, and they shall be dear unto me: And tell them that I will take a time to come unto them, and to let them know that I am Merciful, Ihes. 2. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

* But if they shall notwithstanding thy Summons and the producing of my Authority, resist, stand out against thee, and Rebel; then do I command thee to make use of all thy Cunning, Power, Might, and Force, to bring them under by strength of Hand. Farewel.

Thus you see the sum of their Commissions; for as I said before, for the Substance of them, they were the same that the rest of the Noble Captains had.

Wherefore they having received each Commander his Authority, at the Hand of their King: The Day being appointed, and the Place of their They prepare Rendezvous prefixed; each Commander for a March appear in such Gallantry, as his cause and calling required. So after a new entertainment from Shaddai, with flying Colours, they set forward to march towards the Famous Town of Mansoul. Captain Bonaerges led the Van; Captain Conviction, and Captain Judgment made up the main Body; and Captain Execution brought up the Rear. They then having a great way to go (for the Town of Mansoul was far off from the Court of Shaddai) Eph. 2. 13, 17. They Marched through the Regions and Countries of many People, not hurting or abusing any, but Blessing wherever they came. They also lived upon the King's cost, in all the way they went.

Having Travelled thus for many Days, at last they came within sight of Mansoul: The which when they saw, the Captains could for their hearts do no less than for a while, bewail the condition of the Town; for they quickly saw how that it was prostrate to the Will of Diabolus, and to his Ways and Designs.

Well, to be short, the Captains came up before the Town, March up to Eargate, set down there (for that was the place of hearing). So when they had pitched their Tents, and Intrenched themselves, they Addressed themselves to make their Assault.

The Wo:ldare Now the Townsfolk at first, beholding convinced by so Gallant a Company, so bravely Accou-the well or- tred, and so excellently disciplin'd, having dered life of on their glittering Armour, and displaying the Godly. of their flying Colours, could not but come out of their Houses and Gaze. But the cunning Fox Diabolus, fearing that the People, after this sight should on a sudden summons, open the Gates to the Captains, came down with all haste from the Castle, and made them retire into the Body of the Town, who when he had them there, made this Lying and deceivable Speech unto them.

Diabolus alie- ' Gentlemen quoth he, although you nates their ' are my trusty and well beloved Friends, them. ' your late uncircumspect Action ; in go' ing out to Gaze on that great and mighty Force, that ' but Yesterday set down before (and have now In-' the Siege against the famous) Town of Mansoul. Do ' you know who they are ? Whence they come ? And ' what is their purpose in sitting down before the Town

That's false ' of Mansoul ? They are they of whom I Satan.

' have told you long ago, that they would ' come to destroy this Town, and against whom I have ' been at the cost to arm yon Cap-a-pee for your ' Body, besides great Fortifications for your mind,
' wherefore then did you not rather, even at the first appearance of them, Cry out, Fire the Beacons, and give the whole Town an alarm concerning them, that we might all have been in a Posture of Defence, and have been ready to have received them with them ' highest

highest acts of Defiance, then had you shewed yourselves Men to my liking, whereas by what you have done you have made me half Afraid, I say half Afraid; that when they and we shall come to push a Pike, I shall find you want courage to stand it out any longer. Wherefore have I commanded a Watch, and that you should double your Guards at the Gates? Wherefore have I endeavour'd to make you as hard as Iron, and your Hearts as a piece of the nether Milstone? Was it think you, that you might shew yourselves Women, and that you might go out like a Company of Innocents to Gaze on your mortal Foes! Fy, Fy, put yourselves into a Posture of Defence, beat up the Drum, gather together in Warlike manner, that our Foes may know that before they shall conquer this Corporation, there are Valiant Men in Mansoul.

I will leave off now to chide, and will not further rebuke you: But I charge you, that hence forwards, you let me see no more such Actions. Let not hence forward a Man of you, without order first obtained from me, so much as shew his Head over the Wall of the Town of Mansoul: You have now heard me, do as I have commanded, and you shall cause me that I dwell securely with you, and that as I take care for myself so for your Safety and Honour also. Farewel.

Now were the Townsfolk strangely altered: They were as Men stricken with a panick fear: They ran to and fro the Streets of the Town of Mansoul, crying out, Help, Help, the Men that turn the World upside down, are come hither also; nor could any of them be quiet after, but still as Men bereft of Wit, they cried out the destroyers of our Peace and People are come: This went down with Diabolus. Ah! quoth he to himself, ' This I like well, now it is as I would have it, now you shew your Obedience to your Prince, hold you but here, Satan greatly afraid of God's Ministers, that they will set Mansoul against him.

His stirs them up to bid Defiance to the Ministers of the Word.

When Sinners hearken to Satan, they are set in a rage against God's Ministers.

* then let them take the Town if they can.

The King's Trumpet sounded at Ear-gate. Well, before the King's Forces had set before Mansoul three Days, Captain Boanerges commanded his Trumpeter to go down to Ear-gate, and there in the Name of the great Shaddai, to Summon Mansoul to give audience to the Message that he in his Master's Name was to them commanded to deliver. So the Trumpeter, whose Name was, Take heed what you hear, went up as he was commanded to Ear-gate, and there sounded his

A Council of War. Then the Captains and other Field Officers called a Council of War, to consider what further was to be done, for the gaining of the Town of Mansoul, and after some close and thorough debate upon the Contents of their Commissions, they concluded yet to give to the Town by the Hand of the forenamed Trumpeter, another Summons to hear ; but if that shall be refused said they, and that the Town shall stand it out still, Luke 14. 23. Then they determined, and bid the Trumpeter tell them so ; that they would endeavour by what means they could, to Compel them by force to the Obedience of their King.

So Captain Boanerges commanded his Trumpeter to go up to Ear-gate again, and in the Name of the great King Shaddai, to give it a very loud Summons to come done without delay to Ear-gate, there to give Audience to the King's most Noble Captains. So the trumpeter went, and did as he was commanded : He went up to Ear-gate, and sounded ounded his Trumpet, and gave a Third Summons to nsoul, Isa. 58. 1. He said moreover, That if this ey should still refuse to do, the Captains of his Prince uld with might come down upon them, and enavour to reduce them to their Obedience by force.

Then stood up my Lord Willbewill, who was the Go-

The Lord Willbewill was the Viceroy of the Town (this Willbewill was the Apostate of whom mention was made before) and the Keeper of the Gates of Mansoul. He therefore with big and rushing Words demanded of the Trumpeter, who he was.

Whence he came? And what was the Cause of his making so hideous a noise at the Gate, and speaking such insufferable Words against the Town of Mansoul.

The Trumpeter answered, I am sent to the most Noble Captain, Captain Boanerges, General of the Forces of the Great King Shaddai, against whom both thyself, and the whole Town of Mansoul, have Rebelled, and lift up the Heel; and my Master the Captain, hath a special Message to this Town, and to thee as a Member thereto, to say, The which if you of Mansoul, shall Peaceably bear, and if not, take what follow.

Willbewill. Then said the Lord Willbewill, 'I will say to the Captain, carry the Words to my Lord, and we shall know,

The Trumpeter. But the Trumpeter replied, saying, O gentle Message is not to the Giant Diabolus, who was sent to the miserable Town of Mansoul: Nor shall we regard what Answer by him has made; nor yet by any other than him; we are sent to this Town, to recover it from under their hands, Cruel Tyranny, and to persuade it to submit, as in former Times it did, to the most Excellent King Shaddai; and if Willbewill. Then said the Lord Willbewill, 'I come, to do your Errand to the Town.

The Trumpeter. The Trumpeter then replied, Sir, Madam, not deceive us, least in so doing, you deserve Death, and bring your selves much more. He added moreover, For we are resolv'd, if in Peaceable manner you do not submit to our service, then to make War upon you, and bring you under by force. And of the Truth of what I say, first shall be a Sign unto you, you shall see the Black Tower thereof with its hot Burning Thunder-bolts, set upon the Mound of Morrow, as a token of Defiance against your Promises, and of our resolutions to reduce you to our Lord Well had obtained a hearing, and what was the Effect of his such Errand : So the Trumpeter told, saying, ' When I had Sounded my Trumpet, and called aloud to the Town in Sorrow a Hearing, my Lord Willbewill the Governour, Captain of the Town, and he that bath charge of the Gates, of us came up, when he heard me Sound, and looking over the Wall, he asked me what I was ? Whence I came ?

Pitiful King.

And what was the Cause of my making this noise ? So I told him my Errand, and by whose Authority I brought it. Then said he, I will tell it the Govenour, and to Mansoul : And then I returned to my Lords.

Then said the Brave Boanerges, ' Let Carpal Souls

we was commanded, that all the Men of War throughout the whole Camp of Shaddai, should as one man stand up to their Arms, and make themselves ready if the Town as in Mansoul shall hear, to receive it forthwith to Mercy; Shaddai if not, to force a Subjection. So the Day being
, ' I come, the Trumpeters Sounded, and that throughout the whole Camp, that the Men of War might be in must be in order to Storming the Corporation, they first were put to great Confermation of Spirit; but after they a little were settled again they also made the best preparation they could for a War, if they did our Prouerbe; else to secure themselves.

Well, when the utmost time was come, Boanerges is resolved to hear their Answer; wherefore he sent out his Trumpeter again to Summons Mansoul to a hearing of the Message that they had brought from Shaddai, Zach. 7. 11. so he went and sounded, and the Townsmen came up, but made Ear-gate as sure as they could. Now, when they were come up to the Top of the Wall, Captain Boanerges desir'd to see the Lord Mayor, but my Lord Incredulity was then Lord Mayor, for he came in the room of my Lord Lustings.

Boanerges refuses to make himself over the Wall. But when the Incredulity a Judge of what he had to deliver to the famous Town of Mansoul. So Incredulity, he came up and shewed himself over the Wall. But when the Captain Boanerges had set his Eyes upon him, he cryed out aloud, This is not the ancient Lord Mayor of the Town of Mansoul, for to him I would deliver my Message?

Then said the Giant, (for Diabolus was also come down) to the Captain ; Mr. Captain You have by your boldness given to Mansoul, at least four Summons, subject her self to your King ; by whose Authority I know not ; nor will I dispute that now. I ask therefore what is the reason of all this ado ? Or, what would you be at it you knew yourselves.

Boanerges bi Then Captain Boanerges, whose Speech. the Black Colours, and whose Scutcheon was Three burning Thunder.

(taking no notice of the Giant, or of his Speech) thus address'd himself to the Town of Mansoul : Be it known unto you, O Unhappy and Rebellious Mansoul That the most Gracious King, the Great King Shaddai my Master, hath sent me unto you, with Commission (and so he shewed to his Town his Broad Seal) to reduce you to his Obedience. And he hath commanded me, in Case you yield upon my Summons, to carry it to you as if you were my Friends or Brethren ; but Aga be also hath bid, that if after Summons to submit, you still stand out and Rebel, we should endeavour to take you by force.

Then stood forth Captain Conviction, and said (because was the pale Colours, and for a Scutcheon he had the Embl) viction his once famous for Innocency, but now thou Speech.

Chap. 16, 17, 18. Psal. 50, 21, 22. Thou hast heard what my Brother, the Captain Boanerges hath said, and it is your Wisdom, and will be your Happiness, to stoop to, and accept of Conditions of Peace and Mercy, when offered; especially when offered by one, against whom thou hast Rebelled, and one who is of Power to tear thee in Pieces, for so is Shaddai our King, nor when he is Angry, can any thing stand before him. If you say you have not sinned, or Acted Rebellion against your King, the whole of your doings, since the Day that you cast off his Service, (and there was the beginning of your Sin) will sufficiently testify against you; what else means your bearingning to the Tyrant, and your receiving him for your King? What means else your regarding the Laws of Shaddai, and your Obeying of Dabolus? Yea, what means this your taking up of Arms against, and the shutting of your Gates upon us, the unmerciful Servants of your King? Luke 12. 58, 59. Be ruled then, and accept of my Brother's Invitation, and understand not the time of Mercy, but agree with thine adversary quickly. Ab Mansoul, suffer not thy self to be kept from Mercy, and to be run into a Thousand Miseries, by the flattering Wiles of Dabolus: Perhaps that piece of Deceit may attempt to make you believe that we seek our own profit in this our Service; but know this Obedience to our King, and Love to your Happiness, that is the cause of this undertaking of ours.

Again, I say to thee, O Mansoul, consider if it be amazing Grace, that Shaddai should so Humble himself as he doth, 2 Cor. 5, 18, 19, 20, 21. Now hear us Reasons with you, in a way of Intreaty and better Perswasions, that you would subject your selves to him. Has he that need of you, that we are sure we shall have of him? No, no, but he is Merciful, and will not that Mansoul shoud Dic, but turn to him and Live.

Captain Judgment his Speech.

Then stcod forth Captain Judgmemt, who was the Red Colours, and for a Scutcheon, had the Burning Fiery Furnace, and he said, O ye the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul! that have lived so long in Rebellion and Acts of Treason against the King Shad-dai: Know, that we come not to Day to this Place, in this manner, with our Message of our own Minds, or to revenge our own Quarrel; it is the King our Ma-ster, that hath sent us to reduce you to your Obedience to him the which if you refuse, in a Peacable way to yield we have Commission to compel you thereto. And never think of your selves, nor yet suffer the Tyrant Diabolus to perswade you to think that our King by his Power is not able to bring you down, and lay you under his Feet, for he bis the Former of all things, and if he touches the Mountains, they smoak. Nor will the Gate of the King's Clemency stand always open, for the Day that shall Burn like an Oven, is before him yea, it basteth greatly, it slumbereth not, Mal. 4. 1. Pet. 2. 3. O Mansoul! Is it little in thine Eyes, tha our King does offer thee Mercy, and that after so many Provocations? Yea, he still boideith out his Golden Scepre to thee, and will not yet suffer his Gate to be shut against thee, wist thou Provoke him to do it Consider of what I say; 'to thee it shall be opened no more for ever, Job. 36. 14. Ch. 36. 18. Psal. 9. 7 Isa. 66. 15. If thou sayest thou shall not see him, yet Judgment is before him; therefore trust thou in him Yea, because there is Wrath, beware, lest he take thee away with his stroak; then a great Ransom cannot deliver thee, Will he esteem thy Riches? No, no Gold, nor all the Forces of Strength. He hath prepared his Throne for Judgement; for he will come with Fire, and with his Chariots, like a Whirlwind, to render his Anger with Fury, and rebukes him Flame of Fire. Therefore O Mansoul, take heed, lest after thou hast fulfilled the Judgment of the Wicked, Ju and Justice, and Judgment should take hold of thee. Now while that Captain Judgment, was making of this Oration to the Town of Mansoul, it was observed by for a space, that Diabolus Trembled: But he proceeded in Fur. in Parable, and said, O thou woful Town of Man-soul! wilt thou not yet set open the Gate to receive Us, among the Deputies of the King, and those that would rejoice Shad. see thee Live? Ezek. 22. 14. 'Can thine Heart endure, in dure, or can thy Hands be strong in the Day that cometh, or be shall deal in Judgment with thee? I say, canst our Ma- bou endure to be forced to Drink, as one would Drink edience sweet Wine, the Sea of Wrath that our King has prepared way to used for Diabolus and his Angels? Consider, belimes And Consider.

Tyrant Then stood forth the fourth Captain, the Noble King by Captain Execution, and said: 'O Town Captain Execution his of Man-soul! once famous but now like the fruitless Bough; once the delight of the big ones, but now a Den for Diabolus: Harken also to me and to the Words that I shall speak to thee, in the Name of the Great Shaddai. Behold the Axe is laid to the Root of the Tree, every Tree therefore that bringeth not forth good Fruit, is hewn down and cast into the Fire, Mat. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10.

'Thou, O Town of Mansoul! hast hitherto been this fruitless Tree, thou barest nought but Thorns and Bryars, Deut. 32. 32. Thy Evil Fruit forespeaks thee not to be a good Tree: Thy Grapes are Grapes of Gall, thy Clusters are bitter. Thou hast Rebelled against thy King, and lo we, the Power and Force of Shaddai, are the Ax that is laid to thy Roots; what sayst thou wilt thou turn? I say again tell me before the first Blow is given; wilt thou turn? Our Ax must first be laid to thy Root before it be laid at thy Root; it must first be laid to thy Root in a way of threatening, before it is laid at thy Root by way of Execution; and between these two is required thy Repentance, and this is all the time thou hast. What will thou do? Wilt thou turn, Or shall I smite? if I fetch my Blow, Mansoul, down you go : For I have Commission to lay my Ax at, as well as to thy Root, nor will any thing, but yielding to our King, prevent doing of Execution, What are thou fit for, O Mansoul, if Mercy preventeth not, but to be hewn down, and cast into the Fire and Burnt ?

O Mansoul ! Patience and forbearance, do not ab for ever : A Year or two, or three they may, but if thou Provoke by a Three Years Rebellion, and thou hast al ready done more than this, then what follows, but cut it down, nay after that thou shalt cut it down, Luke 13. And dost thou think that these are but Threatnings, or that our King has not Power to execute his Words ? O Mansoul ! thou wilt find that in the Words of our King, wh:en they are by Sinners made little or light of, there is not only Threatning, but Burning Coals of Fire.

Thou hast been a Cumber-ground long already, and will thou continue so still ? Thy sin has brought the Army to thy Walls, and shall it bring it in Judgment to do Execution to thy Town ? Thou hast heard what the Captains have said, but as yet thou shuntest thy Gates, speak out Mansoul, will thou do so still ? Or will thou accept of Conditions of Peace ?

These brave Speeches of these four noble Captains, the Town of Mansoul refused to hear, yet a Sound thereof did beat against Ear gate, though the force

Mansoul de- thereof could not break it open. In tress time to fine, the Town desired a time to prepare make answer, their Answer to these Demands. The

Captains then told them, that if they would throw out to them one Ill pause, that was in the Town, that they might reward him according to his Works, then they would give him time to consider : But if they woud not cast him to them over the Wall

Upon what Conditions the Captains would give them time, of Mansoul, then they would give them none : For said they, we know that so long as Ill pause draws Breath in Mansoul, all good Consideration will be confounded, and nothing but mischief will come thereon.

Then

Then Diabolus who was there present, being loth to lose ill-pause, because he was his Orator, (and yet be sure he had, could the Captains have laid their Fingers on him) was resolved at this Instant to give them answer by himself, but then changing his Mind, he commanded the then Lord Mayor, the Lord Incredulity to do it: Saying, my Lord do you give these Runnagates an Answer, and speak out, that Mansoul may bear and understand you.

So Incredulity at Diabolus's Command His Speech began and laid: Gentlemen, you have here, as we do bebold, to the disturbance of our Prince, and molestation of the Town of Mansoul, camped against it: But from whence you come we will not know; and what you are, we will not believe. Indeed you tell us in your Terrible Speech, that you have this Authority from Shaddai, but by what right he commands you to do it, of that we shall be yet Ignorant.

You have also by the Authority aforesaid, Summoned this Town to desert her Lord, and for Protection to yield up herself to the Great Shaddai your King: Flatteringly telling her, that if she will do it, he will pass by and not charge her with her past Offences.

Further, you have also to the terror of the Town of Mansoul, threatened with great and sore Destruction to Punish this Corporation, if she consents not to do as your Wills would have her.

Now Captains, from whence soever you come, and though your Designs be never so right, yet know ye, that neither my Lord Diabolus, nor I his Servant Incredulity, nor yet our brave Mansoul, doth regard either your Persons, Message, or the King that you say hath sent you: His Power, his Greatness, his Vengeance we fear not; nor will we yield at all to your Summons.

As for the War that you threaten to make upon us, we must herein defend ourselves as well as we can: And know ye, that we are not without wherewithal to bid defiance to you. And in short, (for I will not be tedious : I tell you that we take you to be some Vagabond Runagate Crew, that have shaken of all Obedience to your King, have gotten together in Tumultuous manner, and are ranging from Place to Place to see, if through your Flatteries, you are skilled to make on the one side, and threars wherewith you think to Fright, on the other ; to make some silly Town, City, or Country , to desert their Place and leave it to you : But Mansoul is none of them.

To conclude, we dread you not, we fear you not, nor will we obey your Summons : Our Gates we will keep shut upon you our place we will keep you out of : Nor will we long thus suffer you to sit down before us. Our People must Live in quiet : Your appearance doth disturb them, Luke 11. 21. Wherefore arise with Bag and Baggage, and be gone, or we will let fly Flesh. from the * Walls against you.

This Oration made by Old Incredulity, was Seconded by desperate Willbewill, in Words to this Effect.

The Speech of the Lord Willbewill Gentlemen, we have heard your Demand, and the noise of your Threats, and heard the sound of your Summons, but we fear not your Force, we regard not your Threats, but will still abide as you found us. And we command you, that in Three Days time, you cease to appear in these Parts, or you shall know what it is, once to dare offer to rouse the Lion Diabelus, when he sleep in the Town of Mansoul.

The Recorder, whose Name was Forgetgood, he also addeth as followeth ; good, the Gentlemen, my Lords, as you see, have Recorder, with mild and gentle Words, answered your rough and angry Speeches ; they have moreover, in my hearing, given you leave quietly to depart as you came. Wherefore take their kindness and be gone ; we might have come out with Force upon you, and have caused you to feel the Dint of our Swords : But as we love ease and quiet our selves ; so we love not to hurt or molest others.

Then

Then did the Town of Mansoul shout for Joy, as if by Diabolus and his Crew, some great Advantage had been gotten of the Captains. They also Rang the Bells, and made Merry, and Danced upon the Walls.

The Town re-solved to withstand the Captain.

Diabolus also returned to the Castle, and the Lord Mayor and Recorder to their Place: But the Lord Willbewill took special care that the Gates should be secured with double Guards, double Bolts, and double Locks and Bars. And that Ear-gate (especially) might the better be looked to, for that as the Gate, in at which the King's Forces sought most to enter: The Lord Willbewill made one old Mr. Prejudice (an Angry and Ill condition'd Fellow) Captain of the Ward at that Gate, and put under his Power Sixty Men; called Deaf men: Men advantagious for that Service, for as much as they mattered no Words of the Captains, not of their Soldiers.

The band of Deaf men see to keep Ear-gate.

Now when the Captains saw the answer of the great Ones, and that they could not get an hearing from the old Natives of the Town, and that Mansoul was resolved to give the King's Army Battel; they prepared themselves to receive them: and to try it out by the Power of the Arm. And first they made their Force more formidable against Ear-gate; for they knew, that unless they could penetrate that no good could be done upon the Town. This done they put the rest of their Men in their Places. After which, they gave out the Word, which was, Ye must be born again. Then they sounded the Trumpet; then they in the Town made them answer, with Shout against Shout, Charge against Charge, and so the Battel began. Now they in the Town had Planted upon the Tower over Ear-gate, two great Guns, the one called High mind, and the other Heady. Unto these two Guns they trusted much; they were Cast in the Castle by Diabolus's Founder, whose Name was Mr. Puff up, and Mischievous Peices they were. But so vigilant and watchful when the Captain saw them, were they, that tho' sometimes their Shot would go by their Ears with a Whizz, yet they did them no harm. By these two Guns, the Townsfolk made no question but greatly to annoy the Camp of Shaddai, and well enough to secure the Gate, but they had not much cause to boast of what Execution they did, as by what follows will be gathered.

The famous Mansoul had also some other small Pieces in it, of the which they made use against the Camp of Shaddai.

They from the Camp also, did as Stoutly, and with as much of that as may, (in truth) be called Valour, let ty as fast at the Town, and at Ear-gate: For they saw that unless they could break open Ear-gate,

The Sentence and Power of the Word. 'twould be but in vain to batter the Wall. Now the Kings Captains had brought with them several Slings, and two or three Battering-Rams; with their Slings therefore they battered the Houses and People of the Town, and with their Rams they sought to break Ear-gate open.

The Camp and the Town had several Skirmishes, and brisk Encounters, while the Captains with their Engines, make many brave Attempts to break open or beat down the Tower that was over Ear-gate, and at the said Gate to make their Entrance: But Mansoul stood it out so lustily, through the Rage of Diabolus, will, and the Conduct of Old Incredulity the Mayor, and Mr. Forget good the Recorder, that the Charge and Expence of that Summer's Wars, (on the King's side) seemed to be almost quite lost, and the advantage to return to Mansoul: But when the Captains saw how it was, they made a hir Retreat, and intrenched themselves in their Winter Quarters. Now in this War, you must needs think there was much loss on both sides, of which he pleased to take this brief Account following.

The King's Captains when they Marched from the Court to come against Mansou' to War, as they came crossing over the Country, they happened to light upon three young Fellows that had a Mind to go for Soldiers ; proper Men they were, and Men of Courage, (and Skill) to Appearance. Their Names were Mr. Tradition, Mr. Human wisdom, and Mr. Mans Invention. So they came up to the Captains, and proffered their Service to Sbaddai. The Captains then told them of their Design, and bid them not to be rash in their Offers; but the Young Men told them, they had considered the thing before, and that hearing they were upon their March for such a Design, came hither on purpose to meet them, that they might be Listed under their Excellecces. Then Captain Boanerges, for that they were Men of Courage, Listed them into his Company, and so away they went to the War.

Now when the War was begun, in one of the briskest Skirmishes, so it was, that a Company of the Lord Willbewill's Men Sallied out of the Sally-Poris or Postern of the Town, and fell in upon the Rear of Captain Boanerge's Men, where these three Fellows

They are taken prisoners, and away they carried them into the Town ; where they had not lain long in Durance, but it began to be noised about the Streets of the Town, what three notable Prisoners the Lord Willbewill's Men had taken, and brought in Prisoners out of the Camp of Sbaddai. At length Tidings thereof was carried to Diabolus to the Castle, to Wit, what my Lord Wellbewill's Men had done and whom they had taken Prisoners.

They are brought before Diabolus and are content to fight under his Banner.

Then Diabolus called for Willbewill, to know the certainty of this matter. So he asked him; and he told him, then did the Giant send for the Prisoners, who when they were come, demanded of them who they were, whence they came, and what they did in the Camp of Sbaddai. And they told him. Then he sent them

They then told him, that they did not so much live by Religion, as by the Fates of Fortune. And that since his Lordship was willing to Entertain them, they should be willing to serve him. Now while things were thus in Hand, there was one Captain Anything. Captain Anything, a great Doer in the Town of Mansoul, and to this Captain Anything did Diabolus send these Men, with a Note under his Hand to receive them into his Company; the Contents of which Letter were thus.

Anything receives them into his Service. Farewel. So they came, and he received them, and he made two of them Serjeants, but he made Mr. Mans-Invention, his Ancient Bearer. But thus much for this, and now to return to the Camp.

They of the Camp did also some Execution upon The Town, for they did beat down the Roof of the old Lord Mayor's House, and so laid him more open than he was before. They had almost (with a Sling) Slain my Lord Willbewill outright: But

The Roof of old Incredulities House beat down. he made a shift to recover again. But they made a notable Slaughter among the Aldermen, for with one only Shot they cut off Six of them: To wit, Six Aldermen Slain. Mr. Swearing, Mr. Whoring, Mr. Fury, Mr. Stand-to-ies, Mr. Drunkenness, and Mr. Cheating.

The Two greater Guns dismount. They also Dismounted the two Guns that stood upon the Tower over Eargate, and laid them flat in the Dirt. I told you before that the King's Noble Captains had drawn off to their Winter Quarters, and had there intrenched themselves and their carriages, so as with the best advantage to their King and the greatest Annoyance to the Enemy, they might give

seasonable and warm Alarms to the Town of Mansoul. And this Design of them did so hit, that I may say they did almost what they would to the Molestation of the Corporation.

For now could not Mansoul Sleep so surely as before, nor could they now go to their Debaucheries with that quietness as in times past. For they had from the Camp of Shaddai such frequent, warm, and terrifying Alarms; yea, Alarms upon Alarms, first at one Gate, and then at another, and again, at all the Gates at once, that they were broken as to former Peace. Yea, they had their Alarms so frequently, and that when the Nights were at longest, the Weather coldest, and so consequently the Season most unseasonable; that that Winter was to the Town of Mansoul a Winter by itself. Sometimes the Trumpets would sound, and sometimes the Slings would whirl the Stones into the Town. Sometimes Ten Thousand of the King's Soldiers would be running round the Walls of Mansoul at Midnight, shouting, and lifting up the Voice for the Battel. Sometimes again, some of them in the Town wou'd be Wounded, and their Cry and lamentable Voice would be heard to the great Molestation of the now Languishing Town of Mansoul. Yea, so distressed with those that laid Seige against them, were they, that I dare say, Diabolus their King had in these days his Rest much broken.

In these Days, as I was informed, new Thoughts, and Thoughts that began to run counter one to another, began to possess the Minds of the Men of the Town of Mansoul. Some would say, there is no living thus: Others would then reply, this will be over shortly; then would a Third stand up and answer, let us turn to King Shaddai, and so put an end to all these Troubles: And a Fourth would come in with with a fair Saying, I doubt be will not receive us.

Conscience speaks. The old Gentleman too, the Recorder, that was so before Diabolus took Mansoul; he also began to talk aloud, and his Words were now to the Town of Mansoul; as if they were great Claps of Thunder. No noise now so terrible to Mansoul, as was his, with the noise of the Soldiers, and Shoutings of the Captains.

A Famine in Mansoul. Also things began to grow scarce in Mansoul; now the things that her Soul lusting after were departing from her, Luke 15. 14, 15. Upon all her Pleasant things there was a Blast, and burning instead of Beauty. Wrinkles now, and some shews of the Shadow of Death, were upon the Inhabitants of Mansoul. And now, O how glad would Mansoul have been to have enjoyed quietness and satisfaction of Mind, though joyned with the meanest Condition in the World!

They are Summoned. The Captains also, in the deep of the Winter, did send by the Mouth of Boagin to yield. anerges's Trumpeter, a Summons to Mansoul to yield up her self to the King, the Great King shaddai. They sent it once, and twice and thrice; not knowing but that at some time their might be in Mansoul some willingness to surrender up themselves unto them, might they but have the Colour of an invitation to do it under. Yea, so far as I could gather, the Town had been surrendered up to them before now, had it not been for the opposition of old Incredulity, and the Fickleness of the Thoughts of my Lord Willbewill. Diabolus also began to Rave, wherefore Mansoul as to Mansoul in Distress. yielding was not as yet all of one Mind, therefore they still lay Distressed under these perplexing Fears.

I told you but now that they of the King's Army had this Winter sent three times to Mansoul, to Submit her self.

The first time the Trumpeter went, he went with Words of Peace; telling of them, that the Captains, the Noble Captains of Shaddai, did pity and bewail the misery of the now Perishing Town of Mansoul; and were troubl'd to see them so much to stand in the way of there own Deliverance. He said moreover, that the Captains bid him tell them, that if now poor Mansoul would Humble her self, and turn, her former Rebellious, and most Notorious Treasons, should by their Merciful King be Forgiving them, yea, and forgotten too. And having bid them beware that they stood not in their own way, that they opposed not themselves, nor made themselves their own losers: He returned again into the Camp.

Secondly, the second time the Trumpeter went, he did treat them a little more Roughly. For after sound of Trumpet he told them, that their continuing in their Rebellion did but sbase, and beat the spirit of the Captains, and that they were resolved to make a Conquest of Mansoul, or to lay their stones before the Town Walls.

Thirdly, He went again the third time, and dealt with them yet more Roughly; telling of them, That now, since they had been so horribly Prophane, he did not know, nor certainly know, whether the Captains were inclining to Mercy or Judgment; only, said he, they commanded me to give you a Summons to open the Gates unto them: So he returned, and went into the Camp.

These three Summons, and especially the two last, did so Distress the Town, that they presently call a Consultation, the result of which was this, that my Lord Willbewill should go up to Ear-gate, and there with sound of Trumpet, call to the Captains of the Camp for Parley. Well the Lord Willbewill sounded upon the Wall, so the Captains came up in their their Harness, with their Ten Thousands at their Reet. The Townsmen then told the Captains, that they had heard and considered their Summons, and would come to an Agreement with them and with their King Shaddai; upon such certain Terms, Articles, and Propositions as with and by the order of their Prince, they to them, were appointed to Propound. To wit, they would agree upon these Grounds to be one People with them.

But when the Captains had heard this Week and feeble offer of the Town of Mansoul, and their high and bold Demands; they made to them again by their noble Captain, the Captain Beanzerges, this Speech following.

O ye Inhabitants of the Town of Man-soul, when I heard your Trumpet sound Answer. Boanerges his soul, when I heard your Trumpet sound Answer.
for a Parley with us, I can truly say, I was glad; but when you said you were willing to submit your selves to our King and Lord, then I was yet more glad: But when by your silly Provisoes, and foolish Cavils, you lay the Stumbling-block of your Iniquity before your own Faces, then was my Gladness turned into Sorrows, and my hopeful beginnings of your return into Panguishing, fainting Fears.

I count, that Old Ill-pause, the Ancient Enemy of Mansoul, did draw up those Proposals that now you present us with, as Terms of an Agreement; but they deserve not to be admitted to sound in the Ear of any Man that pretends to have Service for Shaddai, 2 Tim: 2. 19. We do therefore jointly, and that with the biggest Disdain, refuse, and reject such things as the greatest of Iniquities.

But O Mansoul, if you will give your selves into our Hands, or rather into the Hands of our King, and will trust him to make such Terms with, and for you, as shall seem good in his Eyes, (and I dare say they shall be such as you shall find to be most profitable to you) then we will receive you, and be at Peace with you: But if you like not to trust your selves in the Arms of Shaddai our King, then things are but wheres they were before and we know also what we have to do.

Then cryed out old Incredulity the Lord Mayor, and said: And who, being out of the Hands of their Enemies, as ye see are now, will be so foolish as to put the Staff out of their own Hands, into the Hand of they know not who? I for my part will never yield to so unlimitted a proposition. Do we know the Manner and Temper of their King ('Tis said by some, that he will be angry with his Subjects, if but the breadth of an Hair they chance to step out of the way: And of others, that he requireth of them, much more than they can Perform. Wherefore it seems, O Mansoul, to be thy Wisdom to take good heed what thou doft in this Matter. For if you once yeild, you give up your selves to another, and so you are no more your own : Wherefore to give up your selves to an unlimited Power, is the greatest folly in the World. For now indeed you may Repent, but can never justify complain. But do you indeed know, when you are his, which of you he will Kill, and which of you he will save alive ? Or whether he will not cut off every one of us, and send out of his Country another new People, and cause them to inhabit this Town ?

This Speech of the Lord Mayor, undid all, and threw flat to the Ground their hopes of an accord : Wherefore the Captains returned to their Trenches, to their Tents, and to their Men, as they were ; and the Mayor to the Castle, and to his King.

Now Diabolus had waited for his return, for he had heard that they had been at their points. So when he was come into the Chamber of State, Diabolus saluted him with, Welcome my Lord : How went matters betwixt you to Day ? So the Lord Incredulity (with a low Congy) told him the whole of the Matter, saying, saying, and thus said the Captain of Sbadai, and thus and thus said I. the which as 'twas told to Diabolus, he was very glad to hear it, and said, My Lord Mayor, my faithful Incredulity, I have proved thy Fidelity above ten times already, but never yet found thee False, I do promise thee if we rub over this brunt, to prefer thee to a place of Honour, a place far better than to be Lord Mayor of Mansoul. I will make thee my Universal Deputy, and thou shalt, next to me, have all Nations under thy Hand; yea, and thou shalt lay Bands upon them that they may not resist thee, nor shall any of our Vassals walk more at liberty, but those that shall be content to walk in thy Fetters.

Now

Now came the Lord Mayor out from Diabolus, as if he had obtained a favour indeed; wherefore to his Habitation he goes in great State, and thinks to feed himself well enough with hopes, till the time came that his greatness should be enlarged.

But now, though the Lord Mayor and Diabolus did thus well agree, yet this repulse to the brave Captains put Mansoul into a Mutiny. For while old Incredulity went into the Castle to Congratulate his Lord with what had passed, the old Lord Mayor that was so before Diabolus came to the Town, to wit, My Lord Understanding and the old Recorder Mr. Conscience, getting Intelligence of what had passed at Ear-gate (for you must know that they might not be suffered to be that debate, lest they should then have mutinied, for the Captains) but I say

The Under-standing and Conscience be-gin to receive con-vict-ion, and they set the Soul in a Hubbub.

they got Intelligence what had passed there, and were much concerned therewith) wherefore they getting some of the Town together, began to Possess them with the reasonableness of the Noble Captains demands, and with the bad consequences that would follow upon the Speech of old Incredulity the Lord Mayor: To wit, how little revenge he shew'd therein, either to the Captain or to their King; also how he implicitly charged them with unfaithfulness, and Treachery: For what less, quoth they, could be made of his Words, when he said he would not yield to their Proposition; and added more over a Supposition, that he would Destroy us, when before he had sent us Word he would shew us Mercy. The Multitude being now possessed with the conviction of the Evil old Incredulity had done, began to run together by Companies in all Places, and in every corner of the Streets of Mansoul. A mutiny in Mansoul.

and first they began to murmur, then to talk openly, and after that they run to and fro, and cried as they run, O the brave Captains of Shaddai! Would we were under the Government of the Cap-

Captains and of Shaddai their King. When the Lord Mayor had Intelligence that Mansoul was in an Uproar, down he comes to appease the People, and thought to have quashed their heat with the bigness and the shew of his Countenance. But when they saw, him, they came running upon him, and had doubtless done him a mischief had he not betaken himself to his House. However they strongly Assaulted the House were he was, to have pulled it down about his Ears; but the Place was too strong, so they failed of that. So he taking some Courage Addressed himself out at a Window to the People in this Manner.

Gentlemen, what is the Reason that there Incredulity is here such an Uproar to Day?

Seeks to quiet the People. Und. Then answered my Lord Under-standing: It is even because that thou My Lord Un-derstanding and thy Master have carried it not right-answers him. ly, and as you should, to the Captains of Shaddai; for in three thing you are faulty; First, In that you would not let Mr. Conscience and my self be at the hearing of your Discourse, Secondly, In that you propounded such Terms of Peace, to the Captains, that by no means could be granted, unless they bad intended that their Shaddai should have been only a Titular Prince, and that Mansoul should still have had Power by Law, to have lived in all Lewd-ness and Vanity before him, and so by consequence Diabolus should still here be King in Power, and the other only King in Name. Thirdly, for that thou didst thy self, after the Captains had shewed us upon what Conditions they would have received us to Mercy, even undo all again with thy Unsavorys and Unseasonable and Ungodly Speech.

Incred. When old Incredulity had Sin and the Soul at odds. heard his Speech, he cried out, Treason. To your Arms, to your Arms, O ye, the trusty Friends of Diabolus in Mansoul.

Und.

Und. Sir, you may put upon my Words, what meaning you please, but I am sure that the Captains of such an high Lord as theirs is, deserved a better Treatment at your Hands.

Incred. Then said old Incredulity, This is but little better. But Sir, quoth he, They chide what I speak, I shake for my Prince, for his Government, and the quieting of the People, whom by your unlawful Actions, you have this Day set to murking against us.

Cons. Then replied the old Recorder, whose Name was Mr. Conscience, and said, Sir, you ought not thus to retort upon what my Lord Understanding hath said : 'Tis evident enough that he hath spoken the truth, and that you are an Enemy to Mansoul ; he convinced then of the Evil of your saucy and Malapert Language, and of the Grief that you have put the Captains to ; yea, and of the damages that you have done to Mansoul thereby. Had you accepted of the Conditions, the sound of the Trumpet, and the Alarm of War had now ceased about the Town of Mansoul ; but that Dreadful sound abides, and your want of Wisdom in your Speech has been the cause of it.

Incred. Then said old Incredulity : Sir, if I Live I will do your Errand to Diabolus, and there you shall have an answer to your Words. Mean while we will seek the good of the Town, and not ask Council of you.

Understanding. Sir, your Prince and you are Foreigners to Mansoul, and not the Natives thereto. And who can tell but that when you have brought us into greater straits (when you also shall see that yourselves can be safe by no other means than by flight) you may leave us and shift for your selves, or set us on fire, and go away in the Smoak, or by the light of our Burning, and so leave us in our Ruins, Incred. Sir, you forget that you are under a Government, and that you ought to demean your self like a Subject ; and know ye, when my Lord the King shall bear of this Days Work, be will give you but little thanks for your Labour.

Now while these Gentlemen were thus in their Chiding Words down comes from the Walls and Men of Arms Gates of the Town, the Lord Willbewill, come down. Mr. Prejudice, Old Ill pause, and several of the New made Aldermen and Burgeses, and they asked the reason of the Hubbub, and Tumult. And with that every Man began to tell his own Tale, so that nothing could be heard distinctly: Then was a silence commanded, and the old Fox Incredulity began to speak; My Lord, quoth he, there are a Couple of Peevish Gentlemen, that have, as you c. Fruit of their bad dispositions, and as I fear, through the Advice of one Mr. Discontent, tumultuously gathered this Company against me this Day; and also as we tempted to run the Town into Acts of Rebellion against our Prince.

A great Confusion. Then flood up all the Diabolonian harthat were present, and affirmed these but things to be true.

Now when they that took part with my Lord Understanding, and with Mr. Conscience, perceiv'd that one they were like to come by the worst, for that Force and Power was on the other side; they came in foy up to their help and relief: So a great Company was on both sides. Then they on Incredulity's side, woul'd have had the two Old Gentlemen presently away to N. Prison; but they on the other side said they shoul' not. Then they began to cry up Parties again: The Diabolonians cry up old Incredulity, Forger good, the new Aldermen, and their great one Diabolus; and the other Party, they as fast cried up Shaddai, thous Captains, his Laws, their Mercifulness, and applau-

The good Old Gentleman, Mr. Conscience was knock'd down twice by one of the Diabolonians, whose Name and w was Mr. Benumming. And my Lord Understanding, had like to have been Slain with an Hurquebus, but that he that Shot, wanted to take his aim aright. Nor did the other side wholly escape, for there was one Mr. Rashhead, a Diabolonian that had his Brains beaten out by Mr. Mind; the Lord Willbewill's Servant; and it made me laugh to see how Old Mr. Prejudice was kickt and tumbled about in the Dirt. Mr. Anyibing also, he became a brisk Man in the Broil, but both sides were against him, because he was true to none. Yet he had for his Malepertness, one of his Legs broken, and he that did it, wisht it had been his Neck. Much harm more was done on both sides; these but this must not be forgotten, it was now a wonder to see my Lord Willbe- applause Town began to be quiet again, and the Prisoners were used hardly, yea, he thought to have at last made them away, but that the present juncture did not serve for that purpose: For that War was in all their Gates. But let us return again to our Story: The Captains, when they were gone back from the Gate, whose Nation had were come into the Camp again, call'd a Council of War, to consult what was further for them to do. Now some said, Let us go presently and fall upon the Town, but the greatest part thought, rather better 'twould be to give them another Summons to yield, and the Reason why they thought this to be the best, was, because, that so far as could be perceived, the Town of Mansoul now was more inclinable than heretofore. And if, said they, while some of them are in a way of Inclination, we should by Ruggedness give them Distaste, we may set them further from closing with our Summons, then we would be willing they should.

Wherefore to this Advice they agreed, The result is, and called a Trumpeter, put Words into their Trumpeter's Mouth, set him his time, and bid him God speed. Well, many Hours were not expired before the Trumpeter Addressed himself to his Journey. Wherefore coming up to the Wall of the Town, he Steereth his course to Ear gate; and there sounded, as he was commanded; they then that were within, came out to see what was the matter, and the Trumpeter made them this Speech following.

The Summons O hard Hearted and deplorable Town of Mansoul, how long wilt thou love thy sinful Simplicity, and ye Fools delight in their Scorning? As yet despise you the offers of Peace and Deliverance? As yet will ye refuse the Golden offers of Shaddai, and trust to the Lies and falsehood of Diabolus? Think you when Shaddai shall have Conquered you, that the remembrance of these your carriages towards him will yield you Peace and Comfort: Or that by Ruffling Language you can make him afraid as a Grasshopper? Dost thou intreat you, for fear of you? do you think that you are stronger then he? Look to the Heavens and behold, and consider the stars, how bigb are they? Can you stop the sun from running his Course, and hinder the Moon from giving her Light? Can you count the Number of the Stars, or stay the Bottles of Heaven? Can you call for the Waters of the Sea, and cause them to cover the Face of the Ground? Can you behold every one that is Proud and abase him; and bend their Faces in Secret? Yet these are some of the Works of our King in whose Name this Day, we come up unto you: That you may be brought under his Authority. In his Name therefore I summon you again, to yield up your selves to his Captains.

At this Summons the Mansoulians seemed to be at a stand, and knew not what answer to make: Wherefore Diabolus forthwith appeared, and took upon him to do it himself, and thus he begins; but turns his Speech to them of Mansoul.

Gentlemen, quoth he, and my faithful Subjects, if it is true that this Summoner hath said, concerning the greatness of this King by his terror you will always be kept in bondage, and so be made to sneak. Yea, how can you now, who be is at a distance endure to think of such a mighty one? And if not to think of him, while at a distance how can you endure to be in his presence? I your Prince, am familiar with you, and you may play with me, as ye would with a Grasshopper. Consider therefore, what is for your profit, and remember the Immunities that I have granted you.

Further, if all be true that this Man hath said, how comes it to pass that the Subjects of Shaddai are so enslaved in all places where they come? none in the Universe so unhappy as they, none so trampled upon as they.

Consider my Mansoul: Would thou were as loth to leave me, as I am loth to leave thee. But consider I say, the Ball is yet at my Foot, liberty you have, if you know how to use it: Yea, a King you have too. If you can tell how to love and obey him.

Upon this Speech the Town of Mansoul did again harden their Hearts, yet more against the Captains of Shaddai. The Thoughts of his Holiness sunk them in despair: Wherefore after a short Consult they (of the Diabolonians Party they were) sent back this Word

He drives Mansoul into despair.

Mansoul grows worse and worse. by the Trumpeter, That for their parts, they were resolved to stick to their King, but never to yield to Shaddai: So it was but in vain to give them any further Summons, for they had rather die upon the place than to yield. And now things seemed to be gone quite back, and Mansoul to be out of reach or call; yet the Captains who knew what their Lord could do, would not yet be beat out of Heart: They therefore send them another Summons, more sharp and severe than the last, but the sooner they were sent to reconcile to Shaddai, the further off they were, Hos. xi. 2. As they called them, so they went from them; yea, tho' they called them to the most High.

The Captains leave off to Summons, and betake themselves to Prayer. So they ceased that way to deal with them any more, and inclined to think of another way. The Captains therefore did gather themselves together, to have free conference among themselves, to know what was yet to be done to gain the Town, and to deliver it from the Tyranny of Diabolus: And one said after this manner, another after that. Then stood up the right noble, Captain Conviction, and said my Brethren, mine Opinion is this:

First, That we continually play our Slings into the Town, and keep it in a continual Alarm, molesting of them Day and Night; by thus doing we shall stop the growth of their Rampant Spirit. · For a Lion may be tamed by continual molestation.

Secondly, *This done, I advise, that in the next place, we with one consent, draw up a Petition to our Lord Shaddai, by which, after we have shewed our King the condition of Mansoul, and of Affairs here, and have begged his Pardon for our no better success, we will earnestly implore his Majesty's help, and that he will please to send us more Force and Power, and some gallant and well spoken Commander to lead them, that so his Majesty may not lose the benefit of these his good beginnings, but may* compleat his Conquest upon the Town of Mansoul.

To this speech of the Noble Captain Conviction, they as one Man, consented, and agreed that a Petition should forthwith be drawn up, and sent by a fit Man, away to Shaddai with Speed. The Contents of the Petition were thus.

Most Gracious, and Glorious King, the Lord of the best World, and the Builder of the Town of Mansoul. We have, dread Sovereign, at thy Commandment, put our Lives in Jeopardy; and at thy bidding made a War upon the famous Town of Mansoul. When we went up against it, we did according to our Commission first offer Conditions of Peace unto it. Mat. 22 5. Pro. 1. Zech. 7. 10, 11, 12, 13. But they, great King, set lights by our Council, and would none of our reproof: They were for shutting of their Gates, and for keeping us out of the Town. They also mounted their Guns they sallied out upon us, and have done us what damage they could, but we pursued them, with Alarm upon Alarm, requiring of them with such retribution as was meet, and have done some Execution upon the Town.

Diabolus, Incredulity, and Willbewill, are the great Doers against us: now we are in our Winter Quarters, but so as that we do yet with an high Hand molest, and distress the Town.

Once, as we think, had we had but one substantial Friend in the Town, such as would but have sounded the sound of our Summons, as they ought, the People might have yielded themselves: but there were none but Enemies there, nor any to speak in behalf of our Lord, in the Town: Wherefore though we have done as we could, yet Mansoul abides in a state of Rebellion against thee.

Now King of Kings, let it please thee to pardon the unsuccessfullness of thy Servants, who have been no more desirous in so desirable a Work, as the Conquering of Mansoul is: And send, Lord, as we now desire, more Forces to Mansoul, that it may be subdued; and a Man to head them, that the Town may both Love and Fear.

We do not thus speak because we are willing to relinquish the War (for we are for laying of our Bones against the Place) but that the Town of Mansoul may be won for thy Majesty. We also pray thy Majesty for Expedition in this matter, that after their Conquest, we may be at Liberty, to be sent about other thy Gracious Designs Amen.

Who carried this Petition. The Petition thus draw up, was sent away with haste to the King, by the Hand of that good Man Mr. Love to Mansoul.

To whom it was deliver'd. When this Petition was come to the Palace of the King, who should it be delivered to, but the King's Son. So he took it and Raad it, and because the Contents of it pleased him well, he mended, and also in some things, added to the Petition himself. So after he had made such Amendments and Additions as he thought convenient, with his own Hand, he carried it into the King: To whom when he had with Obeisance delivered it, he put on Authority, and speake to it himself.

The King receives it with gladness. Now the King, at the right of the petition, was glad but how much more think you, when it was seconded by his Son.

It pleased him also to hear that his Servants that Encamped against Mansoul, were so hearty in the Work, and so stedfast in their resolves, and that they had already got some Ground upon the famous Town of Mansoul.

* The King calls his Son, and tells him that he shall go to Conquer the Town of Mansoul, and he is pleased at it. Wherefore the King called to him Emanuel his Son, who said here am I my Father. Then said the King, thou knowest, as I do myself the Condition of the Town of Mansoul, and what thou hast done to redeem it. Come now therefore my Son, and prepare thy self for the War, for thou shalt go to my Camp at Mansoul. Thou shalt also there prosper, and prevail, and conquer the Town of Mansoul.

He solaceth himself in the Thoughts of his Work. Then said the King's Son: Thy Law is within my Heart. I delight to do thy Will H b. 10. This is the Day that I have longed for, and the Work that I have have waited for all this while. Grant me therefore what Force thou shalt in thy Wisdom think meet, and I will go, and will deliver from Diabolus, and from his Power, thy perishing Town of Mansoul. My Heart has been often pained within me, for the miserable Town of Mansoul. But now 'tis rejoiced, but now 'tis glad; and with that he leaped over the Mountains for Joy, saying,

I have not in my Heart thought any thing too dear for Mansoul; the Day of Vengeance is in mine Heart, for thee my Mansoul, and glad am I, that thou my Father hast made me the Captain of their Salvation; Heb. 2. 10. And I will now begin to plaine all that have been a Plague to my Town of Mansoul, and I will deliver it from their Hands.

When the King's Son had said thus to his Father, it presently flew like lightning round about at Court: Yea, it there became the only talk, what Emanuel was to go to do for the famous Town of Mansoul. But you cannot think how the Courtiers too, were taken with this design of the Prince. Yea, so affected were they with this Work, and with the justness of the War, that the highest Lord and greatest Peer of the Kingdom did covet to have Commissions under Emanuel, to go to help to recover again to Shaddai that miserable Town of Mansoul.

Then was it concluded that some should go and carry Tidings to the Camp, that Emanuel was to come to recover Mansoul, and that he would bring along with him so mighty, so impregnable a Force that he could not be resisted. But oh how ready were the high ones at Court, to run like Lacquies to carry these Tidings to the Camp that was at Mansoul! Now when the Captains perceiv'd that the King would send Emanuel his Son, and that it also delighted the Son to be sent on this Errand by the great Shaddai his Father: They also to shew, how they were pleased at the Thoughts of his coming, gave a shout that made the Earth rent at the sound thereof. Yea, the Mountains did answer the Eccho, and Diabolus himself did Totter and shake.

For you must know, that though the Town of Mansoul it self, was not much if at all, concerned with the Project, for, alas for them they were wofully besotted, for they chiefly regarded their Pleasure and Lusts: Yet

Diabolus their Governour was, for he had Diabolus afraid at the News of his coming.

his Spies continually abroad, who brought him Intelligence of all things, and they told him what was doing at Court against him, and that Emanuel would shortly, certainly come with a Power to invade him. Nor was there any Man in Court, nor Peer of the Kingdom, that Diabolus so feared, as he fear'd this Prince. For if you remember, I shewed you before that Diabolus had felt the weight of his Hand already. So that since it was he that was to come, this made him more afraid. Well, you see how I have told you that the King's Son was engaged to come from the Court to save Mansoul and that his Father had made him the Captain of the Forces: The time thereof of his setting forth, being now expired, he addresseth himself for his March, and taketh with him for his Power Five Noble Captains and their Forces;

1. The First was that famous Captain, the Noble Captain Credence, his were the Red Colours; and Mr. Promise bare them: John 1. 29. Epb. 6. 16. And for a Scutcheon he had the Holy Lamb, and Golden Shield. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

2. The Second was that famous Captain, the Captain Good hope, his were the Blew Colours: Heb. 6. 19. His Standard Bearer was Mr. Expectation; and for a Scutcheon he had the Three Golden Anchors. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

3. The Third Captain was that Valiant Captain, the Captain Charity: 1 Cor. 13. His Standard Bearer was Mr. Pitiful, his were the Green Colours; and for his Scutcheon, he had Three Naked Orphans Embraced in the Bosom. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

4. The Fourth was that Galant Commander the Captain Innocent: Mat. 10. 16. His Standard Bearer was Mr. Harmless; his were the White Colours, and for his Scutcheon he had Three Golden Doves.

5. The Fifth^h was the truly Loyal and well belov-ed Captain, the Captain Patience: His Standard Bearer was Mr. Suffer-long, his were the Black Co-lours; and for a Scutcheon he had Three Arrows through a Golden Heart.

These were Emanuel's Captains, these their Standard Bearers, their Colours, and Faith and Pa-tience do the Scutcheons, and these the Men undertheir Work.

Command. Heb. 6. 12. So as was said, the brave Prince took his March, to go to the Town of Mansoul. Captain Credence led the Van, and Captain Patience brought up the Rere. So the other three with their Men made up the Main Body. The Prince him-self riding in his Chariot at the Head of them.

But when they set out for their March, Oh how the Trumpets sounded; their The March Armour glittered, and how the Colours waved in the Wind. The Princes Armour was all Gold, and it shone like the Sun in the Firmament. The Captains Armour was of Proof, and was in appearance like the glittering Stars. There were also some from the Court that rode Reformades, for the Lovs that they had to the King Shaddai, and for the happy Deli-rence of the Town of Mansoul.

Emanuel also when he had thus set for-wards to go to recover the Town of Man-soul, took with him at the Command-ment of his Father, Forty four Batter-ing Rams, and Twelve Slings to whirl Stones withal. Every one of these was made of pure Gold, and these they carried with them in the Heart and Body of their Army, all along as they went to Mansoul.

So they marched till they came within less than a League of the Town, and there they lay till the first four Captains came thither, to acquaint him with matters. Then they took their Journey to go to the Town of Mansoul, and unto Mansoul they came, but when the Old Soldiers that were in the Camp saw that they had new Forces to jyn with, they again gave such a shout before the Walls of Mansoul, that it put Diabolus into another Fright. So they set down before the Town, not now as the other Four Captains did, to wit against the Gates of Mansoul only : But they environed it round on every side, and beset it behind and before

Mansoul be- it will, it saw Force and Power lie in league r.d. Siege against it. Beside there were round.

Mounts cast up against it, the Mount up against it Gracious was on the one side, and Mount Justice on the other. Farther, there were several small Banks, and advance Ground, as Plain-truth-Hill, and No sin banks, were many of the Slings were placed against the Town. Upon Mount Gracious were Planted Four, and upon Mount Justice were placed as many : And the rest were conveniently placed in several Parts round about the Town. Five of the best Battering Rams, that is of the biggest of them, were placed upon Mount Harken, a Mount cast up hard by Ear gate, with intent to break that open.

Now when the Town of Mansoul saw the Multitude and the Soldiers that were come up against the Place, and the Rams and Slings, and the Mounts on which they were Planted; together with the glittering of the

The Heart of Mansoul be- Armour and the waving of their Cloths : They were forced to shift, and gins to fail. Shift and again to shift their Thoughts, but they hardly changed for Thoughts more stout, but rather for Thoughts more faint. For though before they thought themselves sufficiently guarded ; yet now they began to think that no Man knew what would be their hap or lot.

The White Flag hung out thus beleagured Mansoul : In the first Place he hangs out the white Flag, which he caused to be set up among the Golden Slings that were planted upon Mount Gracious. And this he did for two Reasons: 1. To give Notice to Mansoul, that he could, and would yet be gracious, if they turned to him. 2. And that he might leave them the more without Excuse, should he destroy them, they continuing in their Rebellion.

So the white Flag, with the three Golden Doves in it, was hanged out for two Days together, to give them time, and space to consider. But they, as was hinted before, as if they were unconcerned, made no reply to the favourable Signal of the Prince.

Then he commanded, and they set the red Flag, upon that Mount called Mount Justice. 'Twas the red Flag of Captain Judgment, whose Scutcheon was the Burning Fiery Furnace. And this also stood waving before them in the Wind, for several Days together. But look how they carried it under the white Flag, when that was hanged out, so did they also when the red one was: And yet he took no Advantage of them.

Then he commanded again that his Servants would hang out the black Flag of defiance against them, whose Scutcheon was the three burning Thunder bolts. But as unconcerned was Mansoul at this, as at those that went before. But when the Prince saw that neither Mercy nor Judgment, nor Execution of Judgment, would, or could come near the heart of Mansoul; he was touch'd with much Compunction, and said surely, this strange carriage of the town of Mansoul, doth rather arise from Ignorance of the manner and feats of War, than from a secret Defiance of us, and Abhorrence of their own Lives. Or if they know the manner of the War of their own; yet not the Rites and Ceremonies of the Wars in which we are concerned, when I make Wars upon mine Enemy Diabolus.

Therefore he sent to the Town of Mansoul, to let them know what he meant by those Signs and Ceremonies.

not War as the World does.

monies of the Flag, and also to know of them which He sends to know if they would have Mercy or judgment. of the things they will chuse, whether Grace and Mercy, or Judgment, and the Execution of Judgment. All this while they kept three Gates shut with Locks, Bolts and Bars, as fast as they could.

Their Guards were also doubled, and their Watch made as strong as they could. Diabolus also did pluck up what Heart he could, to encourage the Town to make Resistance.

The Townsmen also made answer to the Prince's Messenger, in substance, according to that which follows.

Great Sir, as to what, by your Messenger you have signified to us, whether we will accept of your Mercy, or fall by your Justice. We are bound by the Law and Custom of this Place, and can give you no positive answer. For it is against the Law, Government, and the Prerogative Royal of our King, to make either Peace or War without him. But this we well do, we will petition, that our Prince will come down to the Wall and there give you such a Treatment as we shall think fit and profitable for us.

When the good Prince Emanuel heard this answer, and saw the Slavery and Bondage of the People, and how much contented they were to abide in the Chains of the Tyrant Diabolus, it grieved him at the Heart. And indeed when at any time he perceived that any were contended under the Slavery of the Giant, he would be affected with it.

But to return again to our purpose. After the Town had carried this News to Diabolus, and had told him moreover, that the Prince that lay in the Leaguer, without the Wall, waited upon them for an answer; He refused, and huffed as well as afraid, he could, but in Heart he was afraid.

Then said he, I will go down to the Gates my self, and give him such an answer as I think fit; so he went down to Mosab-gate, and there Addressed himself to speak speak to Emanuel (but in such Languages as the Town understood not) the Contents whereof were as follow.

O thou great Emanuel Lord of the World, I know thee, that thou art the Son of the great Shaddai ! Wherefore art thou come to torment me, and to cast me out of my Possession ? This Town of Mansoul, as thou very well knowest, is mine by right of Conquest, I won it in the open Field. And shall the Prey be taken from the mighty, or the law-ful Captive be delivered ? 2. This Town of Mansoul is mine also by their subjection. They have opened the Gates of their Town unto me, they have sworn fidelity to me, and have openly chosen me to be their King. They have also given their Castle into my Hands ; yea, they have put the whole strength of Monsoul under me.

Moreover, this Town of Mansoul hath disavowed thee : Yea, they have cast thy Law, thy Name, thy Image, and all that is thine, behind their Back : And have accepted and set up in their Room, my Law, my Name, my Image, and all that ever is mine. Ask else thy Captains and they will tell thee, that Mansoul hath, in answer to all their Summons, shewn Love, and Loyalty to me ; but always disdain, despite, contempt, and scorn to thee and thine : Now thou art the just one, and the Holy (and shouldst do no Iniquity) depart then, I pray thee, therefore from me, and leave me to my just Lubri-vitance peaceable.

This oration was made in the Language of Diabolus himself. For although he can to every Man speak in their Language (else he could not Tempt them as he does) yet he has a Language proper to himself, and it is the Language of the internal Cave or Black Pit.

Wherefore the Town of Mansoul (poor Hearts) understood him not, nor did they see how he Couched, and Cringed, while he stood before Emanuel their Prince.

Yea they all this while took him to be one of that Power and Force that by no means could be resisted. Wherefore while he was thus intreating that he might have yet his residence there, and that Emanuel would not take it from him by force; the Inhabitants boasted even of his Valour, saying, who is able to make War with him?

Well, when this pretended King had made an end of what he wou'd say: Emanuel the golden Prince stood up and spoke: The Contents of whose Words follow.

Thou deceiving one, said he, I have in my Father's Name, in my own Name, and on the behalf, and for the good of this wretched Town of Mansoul, somewhat to say unto thee. Thou pretendest a Right, a lawful Right to the deplorable Town of Mansoul, when it is most apparent to all my Father's Court, that the Entrance which thou hast obtained in at the Gates of Mansoul, was through thy Lyes and Falshood; thou belyedst my Father, thou belyedst his Law, and so deceivedst the People of Mansoul. Thou pretendest that the People have accepted thee for their King, their Captain, and right Liege-Lord, but that also was by the exercise of Deceit and guile. Now if Lying, Wiliness, Sinful Craft, and all manner of horrible Hypocrisie, will go, in my Father's Court (in which Court thou must be Tried) for Equity and Right, then will I confess unto thee that thou had made a lawful Conquest. But alas! What Thief, what Tyrant, what Devil is there that may not conquer after this sort? But I can make it appear O Diabolus, that thou in all thy Pretences to a Conquest of Mansoul, hast nothing of Truth to say. Thinkest thou this to be right, that thou didst put the Lie upon my Father, and madest him (to Mansoul) the greatest deluder in the World? And what sayst thou to thy perverting knowingly, the right purport and Intent of the Law? Was it good also that thou madest a Prey of the Innocency and Simplicity of the now miserable Town of Mansoul? Yea, thou didst overcome Mansoul by promising to them Happiness in their Transgressions, against my Father's Law, when thou knewest, and couldest not but know, hadst thou consulted nothing but thine own Experience, that that was the way to undo them. Thou hast also thy self (O! Thou Master of Enmity) of Spise defaced my Father's Image in Mansoul, and set up thy own in his Place,

Place, to the great contempt of my Father, the heightening of thy Sin, and to the insufferable Damage of the Perishing Town of Mansoul.

I thou hast moreover, (as if all these were but little things with thee) not only deluded and undone this Place; but by thy Lies, and fraudulent carriage hast set them against their own deliverance. How hast thou stirred them up against my Father's Captains, and made them to fight against those that were sent of him to deliver them from their Bondage? All these things and very many more thou hast done against thy light, and in contempt of my Father, and of his Law: Yea, and with design to bring under his displeasure for ever, the miserable Town of Mansoul, I am therefore come to revenge thee wrong that thou hast done to my Father, and to deal with thee for the Blasphemies wherewith thou hast made poor Mansoul Blaspheme his Name. Yea, upon thy Head, thou Prince of the infernal Cave, will I requite it.

As for myself, O Diabolus, I am come against thee by lawful Power, and to take by strength of Hand, this Town of Mansoul out of thy burning Fingers. For this Town of Mansoul is mine, O Diabolus and that by undubited right, as all shall see that will diligently search the most ancient, and most Authentick Records, and I will plead my Title to it to the confusion of thy Face.

First, for the Town of Mansoul, my Father built, and did fashion it with his Hand, the Palace also that is in the midst of that Town, he Built it for his own Delights. This Town of Mansoul therefore is my Father's, and that by the best of Titles: and he that gainsays the Truth of this, must lie against his soul.

Secondly, O thou Master of the Lie, this Town of Mansoul is mine,

1. For that I am my Father's Heir, his first Born, and the only delight of his Heart, Heb. 1. 2. John 15.
16. I am therefore come up against thee in mine own right, even to recover mine own Inheritance out of thine Hands.

2. But further, as I have a Right and Title to Man-soul, by being my Father's Heir, so I have also by my

Thou hast moreover, (as if all these were but little things with thee) not only deluded and undone this Place; but by thy Lies, and fraudulent carriage hast set them against their own deliverance. How hast thou stirred them up against my Father's Captains, and made them to fight against those that were sent of him to deliver them from their Bondage? For this Town of Mansoul is mine, O Diabolus and that by undoubted right, as all shall see that will diligently search the most ancient, and most Authentick Records, and I will plead my Title to it to the confusion of thy Face.

First, for the Town of Mansoul, my Father built, and did fashion it with his Hand. the Palace also that is in the midst of that Town, he Built it for his own Delight. This Town of Mansoul therefore is my Fathers, and that by the best of Titles: and he that gainsays the Truth of this, must lie against his Soul.

Secondly, O thou Master of the Lie, this Town of Mansoul is mine,

1. For that I am my Father's Heir, his first Born, and the only delight of his Heart, Heb. 1. 2. John 15. 16. I am therefore come up against thee in mine own right, even to recover mine own Inheritance out of thine Hands.

2. But further, as I have a Right and Title to Mansoul, by being my Father's Heir, so I have also by my Father's Donation, John 17. His it was, and he gave it me; nor have I at any time offended my Father that he should take it from me and give it to thee, Isa. 50. 1. Nor have I been forced by playing the Bankrupt to sell, or set to sale to thee, my Beloved Town of Mansoul. Mansoul is my Desire, my Delight, and the Joy of my Heart. But,

3. Mansoul is mine by Right of purchase. I have bought it (O Diabolus) I have bought it to my self. Now since it was my Father's and mine, as I was his Heir, and since also I have made it mine by Virtue of a great purchase, it followeth, that by all Lawfull rights the Town of Mansoul is mine, and that thou art an Usurper, Tyrant and Traitor in thy holding possession thereof. Now the cause of my purchasing of it was this: Mansoul had trespassed against my Father, now my Father had said, that in the Day they that broke his Law, they shouid die. Now it is more possible for Heaven and Earth to pass away, then for my Father to break his Word, Mat. 5. 18. Wherefore when Mansoul had sinned indeed by bearingng to thy lie, I put in and become a surety to my Father, Body for Body, and Soul for Soul, that I would make Amends for Mansoul's Transgressions: and my Father did accept thereof. so when the time appointed was come, I gave Body for Body, Soul for Soul, Life ^{O sweet Prince} Emmanuel, for Life, Blood for Blood, and so Redem-ed my Beloved Mansoul.

4. nor did I do this to the bawes, my Father's Law and Justice that were both concerned in the threatening upon Transgression, are both now satisfied, and very well content that Mansoul sh. u d be diivered.

5. Nor am I come out this Day against thee, but by commandment of my Father, 'twas he that said unto me, Go down and deliver Mansoul.

Wherefore be it known unto thee (O thou Fountain of Deceit) and be it also known to the foolish Town of Mansoul, that I am not come against thee this Day without my Father.

And now (said the Golden beaded Prince) I have a Word

Word to the Town of Mansoul, but so soon as mention was made that he had a Word to speak to the Besotted Town of Mansoul, the Gates were double Guarded and all Men commanded not to give him Audience) so he proceeded, and said, O unhappy Town of Mansoul, I cannot but be touched with Pity and Compassion for thee. Thou hast accepted of Diabolus for thy King, and art become a Nurse and Minister of Diabolonians against thy Sovereign Lord. Thy Gates thou hast opened to him, but hast shut them fast against me; thou hast given him a bearing, but hast stopp'd thine Ears at my Cry; he brought to thee thy Destruction, and thou didst receive both him and it: I am come to thee bringing Salvation, but thou regardest me not. Besides, thou hast with Sacrilegious Hands taken thy self with all that was mine in thee, and hast given all to my Foe, and to the greatest Enemy my Father has. You have bowed and subjected your selves to him, you have Vowed and Sworn your selves to be his. Poor Mansoul! what shall I do unto thee? Shall I save thee? Shall I destroy thee? What shall I do unto thee? Shall I fall upon thee and Grind thee to Powder or make thee a Monmuent of the Richest Grace? What shall I do unto thee? Harken therefore thou Town of Mansoul, hearken to my Word, and thou shalt Live. I am Merciful, Mansoul, and thou shalt find me so; shut me not out at thy Gates, Cant. 5. 2.

O Mansoul, neither is my Commission or Inclination at all to do thee hurt; why flyest thou so fast from thy Friend, and stickest so close to thine Enemy? Indeed I would have thee, because it becomes thee, to be sorry for thy sin; but do not despair of Life, this great Force is not to hurt thee, but to deliver thee from thy Bondage, and to reduce thee to thy Obedience.

My Commission indeed is to make a War upon Diabolus thy King, and upon all Diabolonians with him; for he is the strong Man Armed that keeps the House, and I will have him out; his Spoils I must divide, his Armour I must take from him, his Hold I must cast him out of, and I must make it an Habitation for my self. And this, O Mansoul, shall Diabolus know, when he shall be made follow me in Chains, and when Mansoul shall rejoice to see it so.

I could, would I now put forth my might, cause that forthwith he should leave you and depart; but I have it in my Heart so to deal with him, as that the Justice of the War that I shall make upon him, may be seen and acknowledg'd by all. He hath taken Mansoul by Fraud, and keeps it by Violence and Deceit, and I will make him bare and naked in the Eyes of all Observers.

All my Words are true, I am mighty to save, and will deliver my Mansoul out of his Hand. This Speech was intended chiefly for Mansoul, but Mansoul would not have the hearing of it. They shut up Ear-gate, they Barricado'd it up, they kept it lock'd and bolted, they set a Guard thereat, and commanded that no Mansoulian should go out to him, nor that any from the Camp should be admitted into the Town: all this they did, so horribly had Diabolus enchanted them to do, and seek to do for him, against their rightful Lord and Prince; wherefore no Man, nor Voice, nor Sound of Man that belonged to the Glorious Host, was to come into the Town.

Emanuel prepares to make War upon Mansoul.

So when Emanuel saw that Mansoul was thus involved in Sin, he call'd his Army together (since now all his Words were despised, and gave out a Commandment throughout all his Host to be ready against the time appointed). Now forasmuch as there was no way lawfully to take the Town of Mansoul, but to get in by the Gates, and at Ear-gate as the chief, therefore he commanded his Captains and Commanders to bring their Rams, their Slings, and their Men, and place them at Eye-gate and Ear-gate, in order to his taking the Town.

When Emanuel had put all things in a readiness to bid Diabolus battel, he sent again to know of the Town of Mansoul, if in peaceable Manner they would yield themselves; or whether they were yet resolved to put him to try the utmost Extremity? They then together with Diabolus the King, called a Council of War,

War, and resolved upon certain Propositions that should be offered Emanuel, if he will accept thereof; so they agreed; and then the next was, who should be sent on this Errand. Now there was in the Town of Mansoul, an old man a Diabolonian, and his Name was Mr. Loib-to-stoop, a stiff Man in his way, and a great Doer for Diabolus; him therefore they sent, and put into his mouth what he should say. So he went and came to the Camp to Emanuel, and when he was come, a time was appointed to give him audience. So at the time he came, and after a Diabolonian Ceremony or two, he thus began and said, Tit. 1. 16. Great Sir, that it may be known unto all Men how good natured a Prince my Master is, he hath sent me to tell your Lordship that he is very willing rather than to go to War, to deliver up into your Hands one half of the Town of Mansoul. I am therefore to know if your Mightiness will accept of this Proposition.

Then said Emanuel, the whole is mine by Gift and Purchase, wherefore I will never lose one half.

Then said Mr. Loib-to-stoop, Sir, my Master hath said that he will be content that you shall be the Nominal and Titular Lord of all; if he may possess but a Part, Luke 13, 25.

Then Emanuel answered, the whole is mine really; not in Name and Word only: Wherefore I will be the sole Lord and Possessor of all, or of none at all of Mansoul.

Then Mr. Loib-to-stoop said again, Sir, behold the condescension of my Master! He says that he will be content, if he may but have assigned to him some Place in Mansoul, as a Place to live privately in, and you shall be Lord of all the rest, Acts 5, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Then said the go'den Prince, All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and of all that he hath given me I will lose nothing, no not a Hoof, nor a Hair; I will not therefore grant him, no not the least Corner in Mansoul to dwell in, I will have all to my self.

Then Lorib-to-stoop said again, But Sir, suppose that Mark this. my Lord should resign the whole Town to you only with this Proviso, that he sometimes when he comes into this Country, may for old Acquaintance sake be entertained as a way-faring Man for two Days, or ten Days, or a Month, or so; may not this small Matter be granted?

Then said Emanuel, No. He came as a way-faring Man to David, nor did he stay long with him, and yet it had like to have cost David his Soul. 2 Sam.
12. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. I will not consent that he ever should have any Harbour more there.

Then said Mr. Lorib-to-stoop, Sir, you seem to be very hard. Suppose my Master should yield to all Sin and Car- that your Lordship hath said, provided that nal Lust. his Friends and Kindred in Mansoul may have Liberty to Trade in the Town, and to enjoy their present dwellings; may not that be granted Sir?

Then said Emanuel, No; that is contrary to my Father's Will: Rom. 6. 13. Col. 3. 5. Gal. 5. 24. For all, and all manner of Diabolonians that now are, or that at any time shall be found in Mansoul, shall not only lose their Lands and Liberties, but also their Lives.

Then said Mr. Lorib-to-stoop again, But Sir, may not my Master, and great Lord, by Letters, by Passengers, by accidental opportunities, and the like, Mark this. maintain, if he shall deliver up all unto thee, some kind of old Friendship with Mansoul. John 10. 8.

Emanuel answered, No, by no means; for as much as any such Fellowship, Friendship, Intimacy or Acquaintance in what way, sort or mode soever maintained, will tend to the corrupting of Mansoul, the alienating of their Affections from me, and the endangering their Peace with my Father.

Mr. Lorib-to-stoop yet added further, saying, But Mark this. great Sir, since my Master hath many Friends, and those that are dear to him in Mansoul.
Rom. 6. 12, 13. May be not, if he shall depart from them,

hem, even of his Pouny and good Nature, bestow upon them, as he sees fit, some Tokens of his Love and Kindness, that he had for them, to the end that Mansoul, when he is gone, may look upon such Tokens of kindness once received from their old Friend and remember him who was once their King, and the merry times that they sometimes enjoyed one with another, while he and they Lived in Peace together?

Then said Emanuel, No; for if Mansoul come to be mine, I shall not admit of, nor consent that there should be the least Scrap, shred, or Dust of Diabolus left behind, as Tokens or Gifts bestowed upon any in Mansoul, thereby to call to remembrance the Horrible Communion that was betwixt them and him.

Well Sir, said Mr. Loib to stoop, I have one thing more to Propound, and then I am got to the end of my Commission: 2 Kings 1. 3, 6, 7. Mark this Suppose that when my Master is gone from Mansoul, any that yet shall live in the Town, should have such business of high Concerns to do, that if they be neglected, the Party shall be undone; and suppose Sir, that no Body can help in that Case, so well as my Master and Lord; may not now my Master be sent for upon so urgent an occasion as this? Or if he may not be admitted into the Town, may not he and the Person concerned, meet in some of the Villages near Mansoul, and there lay their Heads together, and there consult of matters?

This was the last of those ensnaring Propositions that Mr. Loib to stoop had to Propound to Emanuel, on behalf of his Master Diabolus; but Emanuel would not grant it, for he said, there can be no Case, or thing, or matter fall out in Mansoul, when thy Master shall be gone, that may not be salved by my Father; 1 Sam. 28. 15. Besides, 'twill be a great Disparagement to my Father's wisdom and skill, to admit any from Mansoul, to go out to Diabolus for advice, when they are bid before, in every thing by Prayer and Supplication, to let their requests be made known to my father, 2 Kings 1. 2. 3. Further this, should it be granted, would be to grant that a door should be set open for Diabolus, and

and the Diabolonians in Mansoul to hatch and plot and bring to pass Treasonable Designs, to the Grief of my Father and Me, and to the utter Destruction of Mansoul.

When Mr. Loth-to stoop had heard this answer, he took his leave of Emanuel and departs.

Loth-to stoop departed, saying, that he would do word to his Master concerning this whole Affair. So he departed and came to Diabolus to Mansoul, and told him the whole of the matter, and how Emanuel would not admit; no not by any means, that he when he was once gone out, should for ever have any thing more to do, either in, or with any that are of the Town of Mansoul. When Mansoul and Diabolus had heard this relation of things, they with one consent, concluded to use their best endeavour to keep Emanuel out of Mansoul, and sent old Ill-pause, of whom you have heard before, to tell the Prince and his Captains so. Lo the Old Gentleman came upto the Top of Ear-gate, and called to the Camp for a hearing; who when they gave Audience, he said, I have in Commandment for my High Lord to bid you to tell it to your Prince Emanuel that

A speech of Old Ill-pause to stand and fall together, and that it is in the Camp. Mansoul, and their King are resolved to stand and fall together, and that it is in vain for your Prince to think of ever having of Mansoul in his Hand, unless he can take it by Force. So some went and told to Emanuel, what Old Ill-pause a Diabolonian in Mansoul, had said. Then said the Prince I must try the Power of my Sword, Epb. 6. 17. For I will not (for all the Rebels and Repulses that Mansoul has made against me)

They must raise my Seige and depart, but will assuredly take my Mansoul, and deliver it

Fight. Preparations from her Enemy. And with that he gave to the Battle out a Commandment that Captain Bosnerges,

Captain Conviction, Captain Judgment and Captain Execution shall march forthwith up to Ear-gate with Trumpets sounding, Colours Flying, and with shouting for the Battle. also he would that Captain Credence should join him self in with them: Emanuel moreover gave order that Captain Good-hope

and

and Captain Charity should draw themselves up before Eye-gate. He bid also that the rest of his Captains and their Men should place themselves for the best of their advantage against the Enemy, round about the Town, and all was done as he commanded. Then he bid that the Word should be given forth, and the Word was at this time, Emanuel. Then was an Alarm sounded, and the battering Rams were plaid, and the Slings did whirl Stones into the Town amain, and thus the Battle began. Now Diabolus himself did manage the Townsmen in the War, and that at every Gate; wherefore their Resistance was the more forcible, hellish, and offensive to Emanuel. Thus was the good Prince engaged and entertained by Diabolus and Mansoul, for several Days together. And a fight worth seeing it was, to behold how the Captains of Sadai behaved themselves in this War.

And first for Captain Boanerges (not to Boanerges undervalue the rest) he made three most fierce Assaults, one after another, upon Bar-gate, to the shaking of the Posts thereof. Captain Conviction also made up as fast with Boanerges, as possibly he could, and both discerning that the Gate began to yield, they commanded that the Rams should still be played against it. Now Captain Conviction going up very near to the Gate, was with great Force driven back, and received three Wounds in the Mouth. And those that rode Reformades, they went about Conviction wounded. Angels. to encourage the Captains.

For the valour of the two Captains made mention before, the Prince sent for them to his Pavilion; and commanded that a while they should rest themselves, and that with somewhat they should be refreshed. Care was also taken for Captain Conviction, that he should be healed of his wounds, the Prince also gave them a Pail of Gold, and bid them yet be of good Courage. Nor did Captain Goodhope nor Captain Charity come hind in this most desperate Fight, for they did so well behave themselves at Eye-gate, that they had a most Goodhope and Chasity play the Men at Eye gate, most broken it quite open. These had also a Reward from their Prince, as also had the rest of the Captains, because they did valiantly round about the Town.

In this Engagement several of the Officers of Diabolus were Slain, and some of the Townsmen wounded. For the Officers there was one Capt. Boasting Slain.

Capt. Boast-ing Slain. This Boasting thought that no body could have shaken the Post of Ear-gate, nor have shaken the Heart of Diabolus. Next to him there was one Capt. Secure Slain; this Secure used to say that the Blind and Lame in Capt. Secure Mansoul were able to keep the Gates of the Town against Emanuel's Army, a Sam-

s. 6. This Captain Secure did Captain Convict cleave down the Head with a two-handed Sword, when he himself received three Wounds in the Mouth,

Besides there was one Captain Bragman, a very desperate Fellow, and he was Captain over a Band of those that threw Fire-brands, Arrows and Death; he also received by the Hand of Captain Bragman Slain. Goodhope at Eye gate, a Mortal Wound in the Breast.

There was moreover one Mr. Feeling, but he was no Captain, but a great stickler to encourage Mansoul to Frank Rebellions, he received a Wound in the Eye by the Hand of one of Bosnerges's Soldiers, and of a Mr. Feeling had by the Captain himself been Slain even hurt. but that he made a sudden Retreat.

But I never saw Willbewill so daunted in all my life down he was not able to do as he wont, and some say he also received a Wound in the Leg, and that some of the Men in the Prince's Army had certainly seen him llimp as he afterwards walked on the Wall.

I shall not give you a particular account of the names of the Soldiers that are maimed and wounded, as

Willbewill Slain; for when they saw that the Post of Ear-gate did shake, and Eye-gate was well nigh broken quite open; and all the Soldiers in Mansoul that their Camps were Slain, this told I will away the Hearts of many of the Diabolonians, they fell also by the Force of the Shot that were sent by the Golden Stings into the midst of the Town of Mansoul.

Of the Townsmen there was one Lover-no good, he was a Townsman but a Diabolonian, he also received his Mortal Wound in Mansoul, but he Died not Wounded. Wounded. Ill-pause Wounded.

Mr. Ill-pause also, who came along with Diabolus, when at first he attempted the taking of Mansoul he also received a grievous Wound in the Head, some say that his Brain pan was crackt; this I have taken notice of, that he was never after this able to do that mischief to Mansoul as he had done in times past. Also old Prejudice, and Mr. Anything Fled.

Now when the Battel was over, the Prince commanded that yet once more the White Flag should be set upon Mount Graci-ous, in sight of the Town of Mansoul; to shew that yet Emanuel had Grace for the wretched Town of Mansoul.

When Diabolus saw the White-flag hanged out again, and knowing that it was not for him but Mansoul; he cast in his Mind to play another Prank, to wit, to see if Emanuel would Diabolus's new Prank. raise his Siege and be gone upon promise of a Reformation. So he came down to the Gate one Evening, a good while after the Sun was gone down, and calls to speak with Emanuel, who presently came down to the Gate, and Diabolus saith unto him.

Forasmuch as thou makest it appear by some to be White Flag, that thou art wholly given to Peace and Quiet; I thoughts meet His Speeches Emanuel.

to acquaint thee, that we are ready to accept thereof upon Terms which thou mayest admit.

I know that thou art given to Devotion, and that Holiness pleases thee; yes, that thy great end in making a War upon Mansoul, is, that it may be an habitation. Well, draw off thy Forces from the Town, and I will bend Mansoul to thy Bow.

The Holy War,

Diabolus would be Emanuel's Deputy, and he would turn Reformer.

First, I will lay down all Acts of Hostility against thee, and will be willing to become thy Deputy, and will as I have formerly been against thee, now serve thee in the Town of Mansoul. And more particularly,

1. I will persuade Mansoul to receive thee for their Lord, and I know that they will do it the sooner, when they shall understand that I am thy Deputy.

2. I will shew them wherein they have Erred, and that Transgression stands in the way to life.

3. I will shew them the Holy Law unto which they must conform, even that which they have broken.

4. I will press upon them the necessity of a Reformation according to Law.

5. And moreover that none of these things may fail, I myself at my own proper cost and charge, will set up and maintain a sufficient Ministry, besides Lectures in Mansoul.

6. Thou shalt receive as a token of our Subjection to thee continually Year by Year, what thou shalt think fit to lay and levy upon us, in token of our Subjection to thee.

Then said Emanuel to him, O full of The Answer. Deceit, how moveable are thy ways! how often has thou changed and re-changed, if so be thou mightest still keep possession of my Mansoul, thou as has been plainly declared before, I am the right Heir thereof? Often hast thou made thy Proposals already, nor is this last a whit better than they, Cor. 11. 14. And failing to deceive when thou shew'dst thyself in thy Black; thou hast now transformed thy self into an Angel of light, and wouldest to deceive, be not as a Minister of Righteousness.

But know thou, O Diabolus, that nothing must be regarded that thou canst propound, for nothing is done by thee but to deceive; thou neither hast Conscience to God, nor Love to the Town of Mansoul. Diabolus has whence then should these thy sayings arise to God no Love but from Sinful Craft and Deceit? He to Mansoul, that can list and will propound what I please p'leases, and that therewith he may destroy them that believe him, is to be abandoned with all that he shall say, But if Righteousness be such a Beauty spot in thine Eyes now, how is it that Wickedness was so closely stuck to by thee before? But this is by the By.

Ibou talkest now of a Reformation in Mansoul, and that thou thy self, if I will please, will be at the head of that Reformation, all the while knowing that the greatest proficiency that Man can make in the Law, and the Righteousness thereof will amount to no more for the taking away of the Curse from Mansoul, than just nothing at all; for a Law being broken by Mansoul that had before upon a Supposition of the treason thereof a Curse pronounced against him for it of God, can never by his obeying of the Law, de-^{that will do no good which yet he proounds for the Health} liver himself therefrom. (To say nothing of what a Reformation is like to be set up in Mansoul, when the Devil is become the Corrector of Vice) Thou knowest that all of Mansoul that thou hast now said in this matter is nothing but Guile and Deceit; and as it was the First, so is it the last Card that thou hast to play, Many there be that do discern thee, when thou shewest them thy Cloven Foot; but in thy White, thy Light, and in thy transformation thou art seen but of a few. But thou shalt not do thus wish my Mansoul, O Diabolus, for I do still love my Mansoul.

Besides, I am not come to put Mansoul upon Works to live thereby, shou'd I do so, I should be like unto thee.) but I am come, that by me, and by what I have and shall do for Mansoul, they may to my Father be reconciled, though by their Sin they have provoked him to anger, and though by the Law they cannot obtain Mercy.

Thou talketh of subjecting of this Town to good when none desireth it at thy Hands. All things must be in Mansoul. I am sent by my Father to possess it my self, and to guide it by the Skillfulness of my Hands into such a conformity to him, as shall be p'ea-sing in his sight. I will therefore possess it my self, I will dispossess and cast thee out: I will set up mine own

Standard in the midst of them: I will also govern them by new Laws, new Officers, new Notives, and new Ways: Yea, I will pull down this Town and build it again, and it shall be as thought it had not been, and it shall then be the Glory of the whole Universe.

Diabolus confounded. When Diabolus heard this, and perceived that he was discovered in all his Deceits, he was confounded and utterly put to a Nonplus; but having in himself the Fountain of Iniquity, Rage, and Malice against both Shaddai and his Son, and the Beloved Town of Mansoul, what doth he but strengthen himself what he could to give fresh Battel to the Noble Prince Emanuel? So then, now we must have another Fight before the Town of Mansoul is taken. Come up then to the Mountains, you that love to see New preparation for to fight. Military Actions, and behold by both sides how the fatal Blow is given, while one seeks to hold and the other seeks to make himself master of the famous Town of Mansoul.

Diabolus therefore having withdrawn himself from the Wall to his Force that was in the Heart of the Town of Mansoul, Emanuel also returned to the Camp, and both of them after their divers way, put themselves into a posture fit to bid Battel one to another.

Diabolus as filled with despair of regaining in his Hands the famous Town of Mansoul, resolved to do what mischief and therefore comrives to do it what mischief he can.

Diabolus as filled with despair of regaining in his Hands the famous Town of Mansoul, resolved to do what mischief he could (if indeed he could do any) to the Army of the Prince, and to the famous Town of Mansoul, for alas it was not the happiness of the silly Town of Mansoul that was designed by Diabolus, but the utter ruin and over-throw thereof; as now is enough in view. Mar, 26, 27. Wherefore he commands his Officers that they should then when they see that they could hold the Town no longer, do it what harm and mischief they could, rending and tearing of Men Women and Children. For said he, we had better quite demolish the Place, leave it like a runious heap than so leave it that it may be an Habitation for Emanuel.

Emanuel

Emanuel again knowing that the next Battle would issue in his being made Master of the Place, gave out a Royal Commandment to all his Officers, high Captains and Men of War, to be sure to shew themselves Men of War against Diabolus, and all Diabolomians; but favourable merciful, and meek to all the old Inhabitants of Mansoul. Bend therefore, said the Noble Prince, the hottest Front of the Battle, against Diabolus and his Men,

So the Day being come, the Command was given and the Princes Men did bravely stand to their Arms; nor did as before, bend their main Force against Ear-gate and Eye gate. The word was then, Mansoul is won; so they made their Assault upon the Town. Diabolus also as fast as he could with the main of his Power, made resistance from within; and his high Lords and chief Captains for a time fought very cruelly against the Princes Army.

But after three or four notable Charges by the Prince and his Noble Captains, Ear-gate was broke open, and the Bars and Bolts were with it was used to be fast shut up against the Prince were broken into a Thousand pieces. Then did the Princes Trumpets sound, the Captains shou-

the Town shake, and Diabolus retreat to his hold. Well, when the Princes Forces had broken open the Gate, himself came up and did set his Throne in it; also he set his Standard thereby, up on a Mount that before his Men was cast up to place the mighty Slings thereon. The Mount was called Mount Harrowell, there therefore the Prince abode, to wit, hard by the going in at the gate. He commanded also that the Golden Slings should yet be played upon the Town, especially against the Castle, because for meller thither was Diabolus retreated. Now from Ear-gate the street was strait even to the House of Mr. Recorder that was so before Diabolus took the Town, and hard by his House stood the Castle, which Diabolus for a long time had made his Irkome Den. The Captains thereof did quickly clear the Street by the use of their Slings, so that way was made up to the Heart of the Town. Then did the Prince command that Captain Boanerges, Captain Conviction, and Captain Judgment, should forthwith march up the Town to the old * Gentleman's Gate. Then did the Captains in * Conscience most warlike manner enter into the town they go up to of Mansoul, and marching in with flying the Recorder's Colours, they came up to the Recorder's House. (and that was almost as strong as was the Castle.) Battering Rams they took also with them to plant against the castle gates. When they were come to the house of Mr. Conscience, they knocked and demanded entrance. Now the old Gentleman not knowing as yet fully their design, kept his Gates shut all the time of this Fight. Wherefore Boanerges demanded entrance at his gates, and no man making answer, he gave it one stroke with the Head of a Ram, They demand and this made the old Gentleman shake, entrance. and his House to tremble and totter. Then came Mr. Recorder down to the Gate, and as he could with quivering Lips he ask'd who was there? Boanerges answer'd, we are the Captains and Commanders of the great Shaddai, and of the blessed Emanuel his Son, and we demand Possession of your House for the use of our noble Prince. And with They go in. that the battering Ram gave the Gate another shake: This made the old Gentleman tremble the more, yet durst he not but open the Gate: Then the King's Forces march'd in, namely the three brave Captains mentioned before. Now the Recorder's Houte was a place of much convenience for Emanuel, not only because it was near and fronted the Castle the Den where now Diabolus was; for he was now afraid to come out of his hold. As for Mr. Recorder, the Captains carried it very reservedly to him; as yet he knew nothing of the great Designs of Emanuel; so that he did not know themselves reservedly from be the end of such Thundring beginabroad, but they took the alarm as warmly, and gave it out to others of his Friends (and you know as a Snow-ball loses nothing by rolling) so in little time the whole Town was possessed, that they must expect nothing from the Prince but Destruction; and the ground of the business was this, the Recorder trembled, and the Captains carried it strangle to the Recorder; so many came to see, but when they with their own Eyes did behold the Captains in the Palace, and their Battering Rams ever playing at the Castle Gates to beat them down; they were riveted in their Fears, and it made them as in a maze. And as I said, the Men of the House would encrease all this, for whoever came to him, or discoursed with him, nothing would he talk of, tell them, or hear, but that Death and Destruction now attended Mansoul.

The Office of Conscience when he is a-wakened.

For (quoth the old Gentleman) you are all of you sensible that we all have been Traitors to that once despised, but now famously Victorious and Glorious Prince Emanuel, for he now, as you see doth not only lye in close Siege about us, but hath forced his entrance in at our Gates; moreover Diabolus flies before him, and be bath as you behold, made of my House a Garrison against the Castle where he is. I for my Part have Transgressed greatly (and be that is clean it is well for him.) But, I say, I have Transgressed greatly, in keeping of silence when I should have spoken, and in perverting of Justice when I should have executed the same. True, I have suffer'd something at the Hands of Diabolus for taking part with the Laws of King Shaddai; but that alas! what will that do? Will that make compensation for the Rebellions and Treasons that I have done, and have suffered without gainsaying, to be committed in the Town of Mansoul? O I tremble to think what will be the end of this so dreadful and so iresful a beginning?

Now, while these brave Captains were thus busie in the House of the old Recorder, Captain Execution was as busie in other parts of the Town, in securing the Back-streets and the Walls. He also hunted the Lord Willbewill sorely, he suffered him not to rest in any corner. He pursued him so hard that he drove his Men from from him and made him glad to thrust his Head into a Hole. Also this mighty Warriour did cut three of the Lord Willbewill's Officers down to the Ground; one was Old Mr. Prejudice, he that had his Crown crack't in the Mutiny; this Man was made by my Lord Willbewill Keeper of Ear-gate, and fell by the Hand of Captain Execution. There was also one Mr. Back-ward to all but nought, and he also was one of Lord Willbewill's Officers. and was the Captain of the two Guns, that once were mounted on the Top of Ear-gate, he also was cut down to the Ground by the Hands of Captain Execution. Besides these two there was another, a Third, and his Name was Captain Treacherous, a Vile Man this was, but one that Willbewill did put a great deal of confidence in, but him also did this Captain Execution cut down to the Ground with the rest.

He also made a very great Slaughter among my Lord Willbewill's Soldiers, killing many that were Stout and Sturdy, and Wounding of many that for Diabolus were nimble and active. But all these were Diabolonians, there was not a Man, a Native of Mansoul hurt.

Other Feats of War were also likewise performed by other of the Captains, as at Eye-gate, were Captain Goodhope and Captain Charity had a charge, was great Execution done; for the Captain Goodhope with his own Hands, Slew one Captain Blindfold, the Keeper of that Gate; this ^{Capr. Good-}_{was Captain of a Thousand Men, and they cap. Blindfold} Blindfold were they that fought with Mauis; he also pursued his Men, Slew many, and Wounded more, and made the rest hide their Heads in Corners.

There were also at that Gate Mr. Ill-pause, of whom you have heard before, he was an Old Man, and had a Beard that reached down to his Girdle, the same was he that was Orator to Diabolus, he did much mischief in the Town of Mansoul, and ^{And Old}_{Ill-pause.} fell by the Hand of Captain Goodhope.

That shall I say? The Diabolonians in these Days.

lay dead in every Corner, though too many yet were alive in Mansoul.

The Old Townsmen meet and consult.

Now the old Recorder, and my Lord Understanding, with some others of the Chief of the Town, to wit, such as knew they must stand and fall with the Famous Town of Mansoul, came together upon a Day, and after consultation had, did jointly agree to draw up a Petition, and to send it to Emanuel, now while he sat in the Gate of Mansoul, so they drew up their Petition to Emanuel, the Contents whereof where this, That they the Old Inhabitants of the deplorable Town of Mansoul, confessed their sin, and were sorry that they had offended his Princely Majesty, and prayed that he would spare their Lives.

Unto this Petition he gave no answer at all, and that did trouble them yet so much the more. Now all this while the Captains that were in the Recorder's Houle were playing with the Battering Rams at the Gates of the Castle to beat them down. so after sometime, Labour and Travel, the Gate of the Castle that was called Impregnable, was beaten open, and broken into several Splinters; and so a way made to go up to the Hold in which Diabolus had hid himself. Then were Tidings sent down to Ear-gate, for Emanuel still abode there, to let him know that a way was made in at the Gates of the Castle of Mansoul. But O ! how the Trumpets at the Tidings sounded throughout the Princes Camp, for that now the War was so near an end, and Mansoul it self of being set free !

Emanuel Marches into Mansoul.

Then the Prince arose from the Place where he was, and took with him such of his Men of War as were fitteſt for that Expedition, and marched up the Street of Mansoul to the old Recorder's House.

Now the Prince himself was Clad all in Armour of Gold, and so he marched up the Town, with his Standand born before him ; but he kept his Countenance much reserved all the way as he went, so that the People could not tell how to gether to themselves Love or Hatred by his Looks. Now as he marched up the Street, the Towfolk came out at every Door to see, and could not but be taken with his Person, and the Glory thereof, but wondered at the reservedness of his Countenance; for as yet he spake more to them by his Actions and Works, than he did by Words or Smiles. But also poor Mansoul (as in such Cases all are apt to do) they Interpreted the Carriage of Emanuel to them, as did Joseph's Brethren his to them, even all the quite contrary way: For thought they if Emanuel Loved us he would shew it to us by Word or Carriage, but none of these he doth, therefore Emanuel Hates us. How they interpret Emanuel's Cari-

Now if Emanuel Hates us, then Mansoul shall be Slain, then Mansoul shall become a Dunghill. They knew that they had Transgressed his Father's Law, and that against him they had been in with Diabolus his Enemy. They also knew that the Prince Emanuel knew all this, for they were convinced that he was an Angel of God, to know all things that are done in the Earth. And this made them think that their condition was miserable, and that the good Prince would make them desolate.

And thought they, what time so fit to do this in, as now, when he has the Bridle of Mansoul in his Hand? And this I took special notice of, that the Inhabitants (notwithstanding all this) could not ; no, they could not, when they see him march through the Town, but Cringe, Bow, Bend, and were ready to lick the Dust off his Feet. They also wished a Thousand times over, that he would become their Prince and Captain, and would become their Protection. They would also one to another talk of the comeliness of his Person, and how much for glory and valour he out stript the great ones of the World. But poor Hearts, as to themselves their Thoughts would change and go upon all manner of Extreams, Yea, through the Working of them backward, and forward, Mansoul became as a Ball tossed,

and as a rolling thing before a Whirwind.

Now when he was come to the Castle Gates, he commanded Diabolus to appear, and to surrender himself into his Hand. But Oh how loth was the Beast to appear ! how he stuck at it ! how he shrunk ! how he Cringed ! yet how he came to the Prince. Then Emanuel Commanded, and they took Diabolus and bound him fast in Chains, the better to reserve him to the Judgment that he had appointed for him. But Diabolus stood up to Intreat for himself, that Emanuel would not send him into the deep, but suffer him to depart out of Mansoul in Peace.

When Emanuel had taken him and bound him in Chains, he led him into the Market-place, and there before Mansoul, stript him of his Armour which he boasted so much of before. This now was one of the Acts of Triumph of Emanuel, over his Enemy, and all the while that the Giant was stripping, the Trumpets of the Golden Prince did sound a main ; the Captains also shouted, and the Soldiers did Sing for Joy.

Mansoul must behold it. Then was Mansoul called upon to behold the beginning of Emanuel's Triumph over him; in whom they so much had trusted, and of whom they so much had boasted in the Days when he Flattered them.

Thus having made Diabolus Naked in the Eyes of Mansoul, and before the Commanders of the Prince in the next place he commands that Diabolus should be Bound with Chains to his Chariot Wheels. Ephes, 4.

He is bound to his Chariot Wheels.

The Prince Rides in Triumph over him in the fight of Mansoul.

Then leaving of some of his Forces, to wit, Captain Boanerges, and Captain Conviction a Guard for the Castle Gates, that resistance might be made on his behalf, (if anythat heretofore followed Diabolus should make an Attempt to possess it) he did Ride in Triumph over him quite through the Town of Mansoul, and so out out at, and before the Gate called Eye-gate, to the Plain where his Camp did lye.

But you cannot think unless you had been there (as I was) what a shout there was in Fmanus's Camp, when they saw the Tyrant bound by the Hand of their Noble Prince, and tyed to his Chariot Wheels.

And

And they said, he had led Captivity captive, he hath spoiled Principalities and Powers, Diabolus is subjected to the Power of the Sword, and made the object of all derision.

Those also that Rode Reformades, and The Refor-mades Joy. that came down to see the Battel, shout-ed with that greatness of Voice, and Sung with such Melodious Notes, that they caused them that dwell in the highest Orbs to open their Windows, put out their Heads, and look down to see the cause of that Glory, Luke 15. 7, 10.

The Townsmen also, so many of them as saw this fight, were as it were astonished, while they looked betwixt the Earth and the Heavens. True, they could not tell what would be the Issue of things as to them all things being done in such excellent Methods; and I cannot tell how, but things in the managemant of them seemed to cast a smile towards the Town, so that their Eyes, their Heads their Hearts, and their Minds, and all that they had, were taken and held while they observed Emanuel's order,

So when the brave Prince had finished this part of his Triumph over Diabolus his Foe, he turned him up in the midst of his Contempt and Shame, having given him a charge no more to be a Possessor of Mansoul. Then when he from Emanuel, and out of the midst of his Camp to Inherit the Parched places in a Salt Land, seeking rest but finding none, Mat 12. 34.

Now Captain Boanerges and Captain Conviction, were both of them Men of very great Majesty, their Face were like the Faces of Lions, and their Words like the Roaring of the Sea; and they still quartered in Mr. Conscience's House, of whom mention was made

The carriage of Boanerges, and of Capt. Conviction do crush the Spirit of Mansoul. before. When therefore the High and Mighty Prince had thus far finished his Triumph over Diabolus, the Townsmen had more leisure to view and to behold the Actions of these Noble Captains.

But the Captains carried it with that

Terrour

Terroure and dread in all that they did (any you may be sure that they had private Instructions so to do) that they kept the Town under continual Heart aking, and caused (in their Apprehension) the well being of Mansoul for the future, to hang in doubt before them, so that (for some considerable time) they neither knew what rest or Ease, or Peace, or Hope meant.

Nor did the Prince himself, as yet, abide in the Town of Mansoul, but in his Royal Pavilion in the Camp, and in the midst of his Fathers Forces. So at a time convenient, he sent special Orders to Captain Boanerges, to Summons Mansoul, the whole of the Townsmen into the Castle Yard, and then and there before their Faces, to take my Lord Understanding, Mr. Conscience and that Notable one the Lord Willbewill, and put them all Three in Ward, and that they should set a strong Guard upon them there, until his Pleasure concerning them was further known. The which Orders when the Captains hand put them in Execution, made no small Additions to the Fears of the Town of Mansoul: For now to their thinking, were their former fears of the Ruin of Mansoul confirmed. Now, what Death they should die, and how long they should be in Dying, was that which most perplexed their Heads and Hearts: yea, they were afraid that Emanuel would comand them all into the Deep, the Place that the Prince Diabolus was afraid of; for they knew they had deserved it. Also to Die by the Sword in the Face of the Town, and in the open way of Disgrace, from the Hand of so good and so Holy a Prince, that (two) troubled them sore, the Town was also greatly troubled for the Men committed to Ward, for that they were their stay and their guide, and for that they believed that if those Men were cut off, their Execution would be but the beginning of the Ruin of the Town of Mansoul. Wherefore what do they, but together, with the Men in Prison, draw up a Petition to the Prince, and sent it to Emanuel by the Hand of Mr. Wouldlive. So he went and came to the Prince's Quarters, and presented the Petition : The sum of which was this.

Great and wonderful Potentate, Victor over Diabolus, and Conqueror of the Town of Mansoul. We the miserable inhabitants of that most woful Corporation, do bumbly beg that we may find favour in thy sight, and remember not against us former transgressions, nor yet the sins of the chief of our Town, but spare us according to the greatness of thy mercy, and let us not die, but live in thy sight : So shall we be willing to be thy servants, and if thou shalt think fit, to gather our Meas under thy Table. Amen.

They are answered with Silence. So the Petitioner went as was said with his Petition to the Prince, and the Prince took it at his Hand, but sent him away with Silence. This still afflicted the Town of Mansoul, but yet considering that now they must either petition or die, for now they could not do any thing else, therefore they consulted again, and sent another Petition, which was much after the form and method of the former.

And when the Petition was drawn up, by whom should they send it was the next question ; for they would not send this by him, by whom they sent the first, (for they thought that the Prince had taken some offence at the manner of his deportment before him) so they attempted to make Captain Conviction their Messenger with it, but he said, That he neither durst nor would petition Emanuel for Traitors; nor be to the Prince an Advocate for Rebels. Yet withal, said he, our Prince is good, and you may adventure to send it

They cannot tell by whom to send it. by the Hand of one of your Town ; provided he went with a Rope about his head and pleaded nothing but Mercy.

Well, they made through fear their delays as long as they could, and longer than delays were good, but fearing at last the dangerousness of them, they thought with with many a fainting in their minds, to send their Petition by Mr. Desires awake; so they sent for Mr. Desires awake; now he dwelt in a very mean cottage in Mansoul, and he came at his neighbours request. So they told him what they had done, and what they would do concerning petitioning. and that they did desire of him that he would go therewith to the Prince. Then said Mr. Desires awake, why should not I do the best I can to save so famous a Town as Mansoul from deserved destruction? They therefore delivered the Petition to him, and told him how he must address himself to the Prince, and wisht him ten thousand good speeds. So he comes to the Prince's Pavilion, as the first, and asked to speak with his Majesty: So word was carried to Emanuel, and the Prince came out to the Man. When Mr. Desires awake saw the Prince, he fell flat with his face to the Ground, and cried out, O that Mansoul might live before thee! and with that he presented the Petition. The which when the Prince had read he turned away for while and wept, but restraining himself he turn'd again to the Man (who all this while lay crying at his Feet at the first) and said to him, Go thy way to thy Place, and I will consider of thy requests.

Mr. Desires-

tition.

Now you may think that they of Mansoul that had sent him what with guilt, and what with fear, left their Petition should be rejected, could not but look with many a long look, and that too with strange workings of Heart, to see what would become of their Petition: At last they saw their Messenger coming back; so when he was come, they asked him how he fared? what Emanuel said? And what was become of the Petition? But he told them that he would be silent till he came to the Prison to my Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder. So he went forwards towards the Prison house, where the Men of Mansoul lay bound. But O! what a Multitude flock'd after to hear what the Messenger said. So when he was come, and had shewn himself at the gate of the Prison, my Lord Mayor himself lookt as white as a Clout, the Recorder also did quake; but they asked and said, Come good Sir, what did the great Prince say to you? Then said Mr. Desires-awake, when I came to my Lord's Pavilion, I called, and he came forth; so I fell prostrate at his Feet, and delivered to him my Petition. (for the greatness of his Person, and the Glory of his Countenance would not suffer me to stand upon my Legs.) Now as he received the Petition, I cried O that Mansoul might live before thee! So when for a while he had looked thereon, he turned him about and said to his Servant, Go thy way to thy Place again, and I will consider of thy requests. The Messenger added moreover, and said, The Prince to whom you sent me, is such a one for Beauty and Glory, that who sees him must both love and fear him: I for my part can do no less, but I know not what will be the end of these things. At this Answer they were all at a stand, both they in Prison, and they that followed the Messenger thither to hear the News, nor knew they what, or what manner of Interpretation to put upon what the Prince had said. Now when the Prison was cleared of the throng, the Prisoners among themselves began to Comment upon Emanuel's Words. My Lord Mayor said, that the Answer did not look with a rugged face; but Willbewill said, it besokened Evil; and the Recorder, that it was a Messenger of Desir. Now they that were left, and that stood behnd, and so could not so well hear what the Prisoners said, some of them caught hold of one piece of a Sentence, and some on a bit of another, some took hold of what the Messenger said and some of the Prisoners judgment thereon, so none had the right understanding of things; but you cannot imagine what work these People made, and what a confusion there was in Mansoul now.

Misgiving Thoughts breed confusion in Mansoul For presently they that had heard what was said, flew about the Town, one crying one thing, and another the quite contrary, and both were sure enough they told true, for they did hear they said with their Ears what was said, and therefore could not be deceived. One would say, we must all be killed. another would say We must all be saved; and a Third would say, that the Prince would not be concerned with Mansoul; and a Fourth, that the Prisoners must be suddenly put to Death. And as I said, every one stoo'd to it, that he told his tale the rightest; and that all others but he were out. Wherefore Mansoul had now Molestation upon Molestation, nor could any Man know on what to rest the Sole of his Foot; for one would go by now, and as he went, if he heard his Neighbour tell histale, to be sure he would tell the quite contrary, and both would stand in it that he told the Truth. Nay some of them had got this Story by the end, That the Prince did intend to put Mansoul to the sword. And now it begun to be Dark, wherefore Mansoul in poor Mansoul was in sad perplexity all that Night until next Morning.

But so far as I could gather by the best information I could get, all this Hubbub came through the Words that the Recorder said when he told them, that in his Judgment the Prince's answer What will not was a Messenger of Death, 'Twas this that fired the Town, and that began the fright in Mansoul; for Mansoul in former times did use to count that Mr. Recorder was a Seer, that his Sentance was equal to the best of Oracles; and thus was Mansoul a terror to it self.

And now did they begin to feel what was the effects of stobborn Religion, and unlawful resistance against their Prince. I say they now began to feel the effects thereof by guilt and fear that now had swallowd them up; and who more involved in the one but they that were most in the other, to wit the chief of the Town of Mansoul?

To be brief, when the fame of the fright was out of the Town, and the Prisoners had a little recovered themselves, they gaine to Petition a-

take to themselves some heart, and think to Petition the Prince for life again. So they did draw up a Third Petition; the Contents whereof was this.

Their Petition. Prince Emanuel the great, Lord of all Worlds, and Master of Mercy, we thy poor wretched, miserable, dying Town of Mansoul, do confess unto thy great and glorious Majesty, that we have Sinned against thy Father and Thee, and are no more worthy to be called thy Mansoul, but rather to be cast into the Pit. If thou wilt slay us we have deserved it. If thou wilt condemn us to the deep, we cannot but say thou art Righteous. We cannot complain whatever thou doest, or however thou carriest it towards us. But Oh! let mercy reign! and let it be extended to us! O let mercy take hold upon us, and free us from our Transgressions, and we will sing of thy Mercy, and of thy Judgments. Amen.

Prayer attended with difficulty. This Petition when drawn up was designed to be sent to the Prince as the first, but who should carry it, that was the question. Some said, let him do it that went with the first, but others thought not good to do that, and that because he sped no better. Now there was an Old Good-deed propounded as a fit person to carry the Petition, the Old Recorder opposes it and he is rejected.

Old Man in the Town, and his Name was Mr. Good deed. A Man that bare only the Name, but had nothing of the Nature of the thing; now some were for sending of him, but the Recorder was by no means for that: For, said he, we now stand in need of, and are pleading for Mercy, wherefore to send our Petition by a Man of his Name, will seem to cross the Petition itself, should we make Mr. Good-deed our Messenger, when our Petition cries for Mercy?

Besides, quoth the old Gentleman, should the Prince now, as he receives the Petition, ask him, and say, what is thy Name? And no body knows but he will; and he should say, Old Good-deed; what think you, would Emanuel say but this; Ay, is Old Good-deed yet alive in Mansoul, then let Old Good-deed save you from your Distresses. And if he says so, I am sure we are lost, nor in a Thousand of old Good-deeds save Mansoul.

After the Recorder had given in his Reasons, why Old Good-deed should not go with this Petition to Emanuel; the rest of the Prisoners and Chief of Mansoul opposed it also, and so Old Good-deed was laid aside, and they agreed to send Mr. Desires-awake again; so they sent for him, and desir'd him that he would a Second time go with their Petition to the Prince, and he readily told them he would. But they bid him that in any wise he should take heed that in no Word or Carriage he gave offence to the Prince, for by doing so, for ought we can tell, you may bring Mansoul into utter destruction, said they.

Now Mr. Desires-awake, when he saw that he must go on this errand, besought that they would grant that Mr. Wet Eyes might go with him. Now this Wet Eyes was a near Neighbour of Mr. Desires, a poor Man, a Man of a broken Spirit, yet one that could speak well to a Petition. So they granted that he should go with him. Wherefore they address themselves to their business; Mr. Desires put a Rope upon his head, and Mr. Wet Eyes went with his Hands wringing together. Thus they went to the Prince's Pavilion.

Now when they went to Petition this third time, they were not without thoughts that by often coming they might be a burden to the Prince. Wherefore when they were come to the door of his Pavilion, they first made their Apology for themselves, and for their coming to trouble Emanuel so often; and they said, that they came not hither to day, for that they delighted to bear themselves rash; but for that necessity caused them to come to his Majesty; they could they said, have no rest Day nor Night, because of their Transgressions against Shaddai, and against Emanuel his Son. They also thought that some misbeaviour of Mr. Desires awake, the last time might give distaste to his Highness; and so cause that he returned from so merciful a Prince empty, and without countenance. So when they had made this Apology, ology, Mr. Desires-awake cast himself prostrate upon the Ground as at the first, at the Feet of the mighty Prince saying, Ob ! that Mansoul might live before thee ! so he delivered his Petition. The Prince when

The Prince having read the Petition, turned a side a while as before, and coming again to the place where the Petitioner lay on the Ground, he demanded what his Name was and of what esteem in the account of Mansoul? For that he above all the Multitude in Mansoul, should be sent to him on such an Errand. Then said the Man to the Prince, O let not my Lord be angry ; and why enquirest thou after the Name of such a dead Dog as I am ? Pass by I pray thee, and take not Notice of whom I am, because there is as thou very well knowest, so great a disproportion between me and thee. Why the Townsmen chose to

Mr. Desires send me on this Errand to my Lord, is best known to themselves, but it could not be, for free Speech to his Prince. that they thought that I had favour with my Lord For my part I am out of Charity with my self, who then shon'd be in Love with me ? Yet live I would, and so would I, that my Townsmen should ; and because both they and my self are guilty of great Transgressions, therefore they have sent me. and I am come in their Names to beg of my Lord for Mercy. Let it please thee therefore to incline to Mercy, but ask not what thy Servants are.

Then said the Prince, and what is he that is become thy companion in this so Weighty a Mater ? So Mr. Desires told Emanuel that he was a poor Neighbour of his, and one of his most intimate Associates, and his Name said he, may it please your most Excellent Majesty, is Wet Eyes of the Town of Mansoul. I know that there are many of that Name that are nought, but I hope 'twill be no Offence to my Lord, that I have brought my poor Neighbour with me.

Then Mr. Wet Eyes fell on his face to the Ground, and made this Apology for his coming with his Neighbour to his Lord.

my Lord, quoth he, what I am, I know not my self. nor whether my Name be feigned or true, especially when I begin to think w^t some have said, namely that this Name was given me, because Mr. Repentance was my Father. Good Men have Bad Children, and the sincere do often times beget Hypocrites. My Mother also called me by this Name from my Cradle, but whether because of the moistness of my Brain, or because of the softness of my Heart, I cannot tell. I see dirt in mine own Tears, and Filthiness in the bottom of my Prayers. But I pray thee (and all this while the Gentleman wept) that shou wouldest not remember against us our Transgression, nor take offence at the unqualifiedness of thy Servants, but mercifully pass by the sin of Mansoul, and refrain from the glorifying of thy Grace no longer.

So at his bidding they arose, and both stood trembling before him, and he spake to them to this purpose.

The Town of Mansoul hath grievously rebelled against my Father, in that they have rejected him from being their King, and did chuse for themselves for their Captain, a Liar, a Murderer, and a runagate Slave. For this Diabolus, and your pretended Prince, though once so highly accounted of by you, made Rebellion against my Father and me, even in our Palace and highest Court there, thinking to become a Prince and King. But being there timely discovered and appreended, and for his Wickedness bound in Chains, and separated to the Pit with those that were his Companions, he offered himself to you, and you have received him.

Now this is, and for a long time hath been an high affront to my Father; wherefore my Father sent to you powerful Army to reduce you to your Obedience. But I know how those Men, their Captains, and their Councils were esteemed of you, and what they received at our Hand. You Rebelled against them, you shut your Gates upon them, you bid them Battle, you fought them and fought for Diabolus against them. So they went to my Father for more Power, and I with my Eden am come to subdue you. But as you treated the servants so you treated their Lord. You stood up in hostile manner against me, you shut up your Gates against me, you turned the Deaf Ear to me, and resisted as long as you could ; but now I have made a Conquest of you. Did you cry to me for Mercy so long as you had hopes that you might prevail against me ? But now I have taken the Town, you cry but why did you not cry before when the White Flag of my Mercy, the Red Flag of Justice, and the Black Flag that threatened Execution, where set up to Cite you to it ? Now I have Conquered your Diabolus, you come to me for Favour ; but why did you not help me against the Mighty ? Yet I will consider your Petition, and will answer it so as will be for my Glory.

Go bid Captain Boanerges, and Captain Conviction, bring the Prisoners out to me into the Camp to Morrow, and say you to Captain Judgment, and Captain Execution, stay in the Castle, and take good heed to your selves that you keep all quiet in Mansoul, until you shall hear further from me : And with that he turned himself from them, and went into his Royal Pavilion again.

So the Petitioners having received this answer from the Prince, returned as at the first, to go to their companions again. But they had not gone far but thoughts began to work in their Minds, that no Mercy as yet was intended by the Prince to Mansoul : So they went to the place where the Prisoners lay bound ; but these workings of Mind, about what would become of Mansoul, had such strong Power over them, that by that they were come unto them that sent them, they were scarce able to deliver their Message.

But they came at length to the Gates of the Town (now the Townsmen with earnestness were waiting for their return) where many met them to know what answer was made to the Petition. Then they cried out to those that were sent, what News from the Prince and what hath Emanuel said ? But they said that they must (as afore) go up to the Prison, and there deliver their Message. So away they went to the Prison with a son, they told the first part of Emanuel's Speeche to the Prisoners, to wit, how he reflected upon their disloyal-ty to his Father and himself, and how they had chose, and closed with Diabolus, had fought for him, hearkened to him, and been ruled by him, but had despised him and his Men. This made the Prisoners look Pale,

but the Messengers proceeded, and said,

And as these words were spoken Mr. W^t. Fright the Prisoners.*

They gave a great sigh. At this they were all of them struck into their Dumps, and could not tell what to say; Fear also possest them in marvellous manner, and death seemed to sit upon some of their Eyebrows. Now there was in the Company a notable sharp witted Fellow, a mean Man ^{Old Inqui-} of Estate, and his Name was Old Inquisitive; ^{sitive.}
this Man asked the Petitioners if they had told out every whit of what Emanuel said. And they answered, verily no. Then said Inquisitive, I thought so indeed.
Pray what was it more that he said unto you? Then they paus'd a while, but at last they brought out all, saying, the Prince did bid us bid Captain Boasterges, and Captain Conviction, bring the Prisoners down to him to Morrow, and that Captain Judgment and Captain Execution, should take charge of the Castle and Town, till they should hear further from him. They aid also, That when the Prince had commanded them
thus to do, be immediately turned his Back upon them, and went into his Royal Pavilion.

But, Oh how this return, and especially this last cause of it, that the Prisoners must go out to the Prince into the Camp, brake all their Loins in Peaces! Wherefore with one Voice they set up a Cry that reached up to the Heavens. This done, each of the three prepared himself to die, (and the † Recorder said unto them, This was the thing that I feared.) ^{† Conscience}

For they concluded that to Morrow by that the Sun went down, they could be tumbled out of the World. The whole Town also counted of no other, but that in their time and order they must all Drink of the same Cup. Wherefore the Town of Mansoul spent that Night in Mourning and Sackcloth and Ashes. The Prisoners also when the time was come for them to go down before the Prince, dressed themselves in Mourning Attire, with Ropes upon their Heads. The whole Town of Mansoul also shewed themselves upon the Wall, all Clad in Mourning Weeds, if perhaps the Prince, with the sight thereof might be moved, with Vain Thoughts, Compassion. But Oh how the Busy bodies that were in the Town of Mansoul, did now concern themselves! They did run here and there through the Streets of the Town by Companies, crying out as they ran in Tumultuous wise, one after one manner and another the quite contrary, to the almost utter distraction of Mansoul.

Well, the time is come that the Prisoners must go down to the Camp, and appear before the Prince. And thus was the manner of their going down: Captain Boanerges went with a Guard before The Prisoners them, and Captain Conviction came behind, had to Tryal. and the Prisoners went down bound in Chains in the midst; so I say (the Prisoners went in the midst) and the Guard went with flying Colours behind and before, but the Prisoners went with drooping Spirits. Or more particularly thus:

The Prisoners went down all in Mourning, they put Ropes upon themselves; they went on smiting of themselves on the Breasts, but durst not lift up their Eyes to Heaven. Thus they went out at the Gate of Mansoul, till they came into the midst of the Prince's Army, the sight and Glory of which did greatly highten their Affliction. Nor could they now longer forbear, but cry out aloud, O Unhappy Men! O wretched Men of Mansoul! Their Chains still mixing their dolorous Notes, with the Cryes of the Prisoners, made the noise more Lamentable.

So when they were come to the Door of the Princes Pavilion, they cast themselves prostrate upon the Place; then one went in and told his Lord, that the Prisoners were come down. The Prince then ascended a Throne of State, and sent for the Prisoners in; who when they came, did Tremble before him; also they covered their Faces with Shame. Now as they drew near to the place where he sat, they threw themselves down before him: then said the Prince to the Captain Boanerges, bid the Prisoners stand upon their Feet; then they stood trembling before him, and he said, are you the Men that heretofore were the Servants of Shaddai? And they said Yes, Lord yes. Then said the Prince again, are you the Men that did suffer your Selves to be corrupted and Desired by that abominable one Diabolus? And they said, we did more than suffer it Lord; for we chose it of our mind. The Prince asked further, saying, could you have been content that your Slavery shoud have continued under his tyranny as long as you had lived? Then said the Prisoners, Yes, Lord yes; for his ways were pleasing to our Flesh, and we were grown Aliens to a better State. And did you said he, when I came up against this Town of Mansoul heartily wish that I might not have the Victory over you? Yes, Lord yes, said they. Then said the Prince, and what Punishment is it think you, that you deserve at my Hand, for these and other your high and mighty Sins? And they said, both Death and the Deep Lord; for we have deserved no less. He asked again, If it had ought to say for themselves, why the Sentence that they confessed that they had deserved, shoud not be passed upon them? And they said we can say nothing, Lord; though just, for we have Sinned. Then said They con-
the Prince, and for what are these Ropes damn them-your Heads? The Prisoners answered, selves.
the Ropes are to bind us withal to the + Sins.

 it to be proclaimed to Morrow by that the Sun is up

Then

Then he gave to each of the Three Jewels of Gold, and precious Stones, and took away their Ropes, and put Chains of Gold about their Necks, and Ear-rings in their Ears. Now the Prisoners, when they did hear the Gracious Words of Prince Emanuel, and had beheld all that was done unto them, fainted almost quite away; for the Grace, the Benefit, the Pardon, was sudden. Glorious, and so big, that they were not able without staggering to stand up under it. Ye, my Lord Willbewill swoonded outright, but the Prince stopt to him, put his everlasting Arms under him, Embrac'd him, Kissed him, and bid him be of good cheer, for all should be performed according to his Word. He also did Kiss and Embrace, and Smile upon the other two that were Willbewill's Companions, saying, take these as further Tokens of my Love, Favour and Compassions to you: And I charge you, that you Mr. Recorder tell in the Town of Mansoul, what you have heard and seen.

Then were their Fetters broken to pieces before their Faces, and cast into the Air, and their steps were enlarged under them. Then they fell down at the Feet of the Prince, and Kissed his Feet, and wetted them with Tears; also they cryed out with a mighty strong Voice, saying, Blessed be the Glory of the Lord from this place. So they were bid rise up, and go to the Town and tell to Mansoul what the Prince had done. He commanded also that one with Pipe and Tabor should go and play before them all the way into the Town of Mansoul. Then was fulfilled what they never looked for, and they were made to possess that which they never dreamt of. The Prince also called for the Noble Captain Credence, and commanded that he and some of his Officers should march before the Noblemen of Mansoul, with flying Colours into the Town. He gave also unto Captain Credence a charge, that about the time that the Recorder did read the general Pardon in the Town of Mansoul, that at that very time he should with flying Colours march in at Eye gate, with his Ten Thousand at his Feet, and that he shou'd so go until he came by the high Street of the Town, up to the Castle Gates, and that himself should take possession thereof, against his Lord came thither. He commanded moreover that he should bid Capt. Judgments and Capt. Execution, to leave the strong hold to him, and to withdraw from Mansoul, and to return into the Camp with speed unto the Prince.

And now was the Town of Mansoul also delivered from the Terrore of the first Four Captains and their Men.

Well, I told you before how the Prisoners were entertained by the Noble Prince Emanuel, and how they behaved themselves before him, and how he sent them away to their Home with Pipe and Tabor going before them. And now you must think that those of the Town, that had all this while waited to hear of their Death, could not but be exercis'd with sadness of Mind, and with thoughts that pricked like Thorns. Nor could their Thoughts be kept to any one point; the Wind blew with them all this while a great uncertainties yea their Hearts were like a Balance that had been disquieted with a shaking Hand. But at last as they with many a long look look'd over the Wall of Mansoul, they thought that they saw some return to the Town, and thought again, who should they be too, who should they be! at last they descern'd that they were the Prisoners; but can you imagine how their hearts were surpriz'd with wonder, especially when they perceived also in what equipage, and with what honour they were sent home! they went down to the Camp in Black, but they came back to the Town in White; they went down to the Camp in Ropes, they came back in Chains

A strange of Gold; they went down to the Camp with alteration. Feet in Fetters, but came back with their steps enlarged under them; they went also to the Camp looking for Death; but they came back from thence with assurance of Life; they went down to the Camp with heavy Hearts, but came back again with Pipe and Tabor playing before them. So soon as they were come to Eye gate, the poor and tottering Town of Mansoul adventured to give a shout ; and they gave such a shout as made the Captains in the Princes Army leap at the sound thereof. Alas ! for them poor Hearts, who could blame them, since their dead Friends were come to life again ? for 'twas to them as Life from the dead, to see the Ancients of the Town of Mansoul to shine in such splendor. They looked for nothing but the Ax and the Block ; but behold ! joy and gladness, comfort and consolation, and such melodious notes attending of them, that was sufficient to make a sick Man well, Isa. 33. 24. So when they came up they saluted each other welcome : Welcome and blessed be he that spared you. They added also, We see it is well with you, but how must it go with the Town of Mansoul ? And will it go well with the Town of Mansoul, said they ? Then answered them the Recorder, and my Lord Mayor, Oh ! Tydings ! glad Tydings ! good Tydings of good ! and of great joy to poor Mansoul ! then they gave an other shout that made the Earth to ring again. After this they enquired yet more particularly how things went in the Camp, and what message they had from Emanuel to the Town. So they told them all passages that had happened to them at the Camp, and every thing that the Prince did to them. This made Mansoul wonder at the Wisdom and Grace of the Prince Emanuel ; then they told them what they had received at his Hands for the whole Town of Mansoul and the Recorder delivered it in these Words, Pardon, Pardon, Pardon for Man-soul ; and this shall Mansoul know to Morrow. Then he commanded, and they went and summoned Mansoul to meet together in the Market-place to Morrow, there to hear their general Pardon read.

But who can think what a turn, what a change, what an alteration this hint of things did make in the Countenance of the Town of Mansoul ! no Man of Mansoul could sleep that Night for Joy ; in every House there-was joy and musick, singling and making merry ; telling and hearing of Emanuel's Happiness, was then all that Mansoul had to do : And this was the burden of all their Song, Oh ! more of this at the rising of the Sun ! more of this to morrow ! Who thought yesterday, would one say, that this Day would have been such a day to us ? And who thought, that saw our Prisoners go down in Irons, that they should have returned in Chains of Gold ! yea, they that judged themselves as they went to be judged of their Judge, were by his Mouth acquitted, not for that they were innocent, but of the Prince's Mercy, and sent home with Pipe and Tabor.

turned in Chains of Gold ! yea, they that judged themselves as they went to be judged of their Judge, were by his Mouth acquitted, not for that they were innocent, but of the Prince's Mercy, and sent home with Pipe and Tabor.

But is this the common Custom of Princes ? do they use to shew such kind of Favours to Traytors ? No ! this is only peculiar to Ishaddai, and unto Emanuel his Son.

Now Morning drew on apace, wherefore the Lord Mayor, the Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder came down to the Market place at the time that the Prince had appointed, were the Townsfolk were waiting for them ; and when they came, they came in that Attire and in that glory that the Prince had put them into the day before, and the street was lightned with their Glory : So the Mayor, Recorder, and my Lord Willbewill drew down to Mouth-gate, which was at the lower end of the Market-place, because that of old time was the Place where they used to read publick matters. Thither therefore they came in their Robes, and their Tabor went before them. Now the eagerness of the People to know the full of the matter was great.

The manner of reading the Pardon.

Then the Recorder stood up upon his Feet, and first beckoning with his Hand for a silence, he read out with a loud Voice the Pardon. But when he came to these Words, The Lord, the Lord God merciful and gracious, pardoning iniquity, transgressions and sins ; and to them, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven, &c. Exod. 34. Mark 3. they could not forbear but leap for joy. For this you must know, that there was conjoined herewith every Man's Name in Mansoul, also

also the Seals of the Pardon made a brave shew.

When the Recorder had made an end of reading the Pardon, the Townsmen ran upon the Walls of the Town, and leaped thereon for joy, and bowed themselves seven times with their faces towards Emanuel's Pavilion, and shouted out aloud for joy, and said, Let Emanuel live for ever.

Then order was given to the young men in Mansoul that they should ring the Bells for joy (so the Bells did ring, and the People sing, and the Musick go in every House) in Mansoul.

When the Prince had sent home the three Prisoners of Mansoul with joy, and Pipe and Tabor; he commanded his Captains with all the Field-Officers and Soldiers throughout his Army to be ready in that Morning that the Recorder should read the Pardon in Mansoul, to do his further Pleasure. So the Morning as I have shewed, being come, just as the Recorder had made an end of reading the Pardon, Emanuel commanded that all the Trumpets in the Camp should sound, that the Colours should be displayed, half of them upon mount Gracious, and half of them upon mount Justice. He commanded also that all the Captains should shew themselves in all their Harness, and that the Soldiers shou'd shout for joy. Nor was Captain Credence, though in the Castle, silent in such a day, but he from the top of the hold shewed himself with the sound of Trumpet to Mansoul, and to the Princes Camp.

Faith will lent when is saved.

Thus have I shewed you the manner and way that Emanuel took to recover the Town of Mansoul from under the hand and power of the Tyrant Diabolus.

Now when the Prince had compleated these outward ceremonies of his joy, He again commanded that his Captains and Soldiers should shew unto Mansoul some feats of War. So they presently addressed themselves to this work. But oh! with what agility, nimbleness dexterity and bravery did these Military.

The Prince displays his Graces before
Mansoul.

Men discover their skill in feats of War to the now gazing Town of Mansoul!

They marched, they counter marched, they opened in the right and left, they divided and subdivided, they closed, they wheeled, made good their front and rear, with their right and left wings, and twenty things more, with that apeness, and then were all as they were again, that they took, yea razed with the flight of them the bears that were in Mansoul to behold it. But add to this, the banding of their Arms, the managing of their Weapons of War, were marvellous taking to Mansoul and me.

When this action was over, the whole Town of Mansoul came out as one Man to the Prince in the Camp to praise him, and thank him for his abundant Favour, and to beg that it would please his Grace to come unto Mansoul with his Men, and there to take up their Quarters for ever. And this they did in most humble manner, bowing themselves seven times to them for ever, the ground before him. Then said he,

All peace be to you: So the Town came nigh and touched with the hand the top of his Golden Scepter, and they said, Oh! that the Prince Emanuel with his Captains and Men of War would dwell in Mansoul for ever; and that his Battering Rams and Slings might be lodged in her for the use and service of the Prince, and for the help and strength of Mansoul. For said they, we have room for thee, we have room for thy Men, we have also room for thy Weapons of War, and a place to make a magazine for thy Carriages. Do it Emanuel, and thou shalt be King and Captain in Mansoul for ever. Yea, govern thou also according to all the desire of thy soul, and make thou Governors and Princes under thee of thy Captains and Men of War, and we will become thy Servants, and thy Laws shall be our Direction.

They added moreover, and prayed his Majesty to consider thereof, for said they if now after all this grace bestowed bestowed upon us thy miserable Town of Mansoul, thou shouldest withdraw, thou and thy Captains from us, the Town of Mansoul will die. Yea said they, our blessed Emanuel, if thou shouldest depart from us now, now thou hast done so much good for us, and shewed so much Mercy unto us; what will follow but that our Joy will be as if it had not been, and our Enemies will a second time come upon us with more rage than at the first? Wherefore we beseech thee, O thou the Desire of our Eyes, and the Strength and life of our poor Town, accept of this motion that now we have made unto our Lord, and come and dwell in the midst of us, and let us be thy People. Besides, Lord Their Fears. we do not know but that to this Day many Diabolonians may be yet lurking in the Town of Mansoul, and they will betray us when thou shalt leave us, into the Hand of Diabolus again; and who knows what Designs, Plots, and Countrivances have passed betwixt them about these things already: Loth we are to fall again into his horrible Hands. Wherefore let it please thee to accept of our Palace for thy place of residence, and of the Houses of the best Men in our Town, for the reception of thy Soldiers, and their Furniture,

Then said the Prince, If I come to your Town, will you suffer me further to prosecute that which is in my Heart a-against mine Enemies and yours? Yea, will you help me in such Undertakings?

They answered, We know not what Their Answer. we shall do, we did not think once that we should have been such Traitors to Shaddai as we have proved to be: What then shall we say to our Lord? Let him put no trust in his Saints, let the Prince dwell in our Castle, and make of our Town a Garrison; let him set his noble Captains, and his Warlike Soldiers over us. Yea, let him Conquer us with his Love, and overcome us with his Grace, and then surely shall he be with us, and help us, as he was, and did that Morning that our Pardon was read unto us, we shall comply with this our Lord, and with his ways, and fall in with his Word against the Mighty.

One

One Word more, and thy Servants have done, and in this will trouble our Lord no more. We know not the depth of the Wisdom of thee our Prince. Who could have thought that had been ruled by his Reason, that so much sweet as we do now enjoy, should have come out of those bitter Tryals wherewith we were tried at the first? But Lord, let light go before, and let love come after: Yea, take us by the Hand, and lead us by thy Counsels, and let this always abide upon us, that all things shall be for the best for thy Servants, and come to our Mansoul, do as it pleasest thee. Or, Lord, come to our Mansoul, and do what thou wilt, so thou keepest us from sinning, and makest us serviceable to thy Majesty.

Then said the Prince to the Town of He consenteth Mansoul again, Go return to your Houses to dwell in in Peace, I will willingly in this comply promiseth to with your Desires. I will remove my Royal come in to Pavilion, I will draw up my Forces before morrow.

Eye-gate to Morrow, and so will march forwards into the Town of Mansoul. I will possess myself of your Castle of Mansoul, and will set my soldiers over you; yea, I will yet do things in Mansoul that cannot be parallel'd in any Nation, Country or Kingdom under Heaven.

Then did the Men of Mansoul give a shout, and returned unto their Houses in Peace; they also told to their Kindred and Friends the good that Emanuel had promised to Mansoul. And to Morrow, said they, he will march into our Town, and take up his dwelling, he and his Men in Mansoul.

Then went out the Inhabitants of the town of Mansoul with haste to the green Trees, and to the Meadows to gather Boughs and Flowers therewith to strew the Streets against their Prince the Son of Shaddai should come; they also made Garlands, and other fine Works, to betoken how joyful they were, and should be to receive their Emanuel into Mansoul? yea, they strewed the Street quite from Eye-gate to the Castle gate, the place where the Prince should be. They also prepared for his coming what Musick the Town of Mansoul would afford, that they might play before him to the Palace of his Habitation.

So at the time appointed, he makes his approach to Mansoul, and the Gates were let open for him; there also the Ancients and Elders of Mansoul met him to salute him with a thousand Welcomes. Then he arose and entred Mansoul, he and all his Servants. The Elders of Mansoul did also go dancing before him, till he came to the Castle-gates. And this was the manner of his going up thither. He was ^{He enters the} Town of Mansoul, clad in his golden Armour, he rode in soul, and how. his royal Chariot, the Trumpets sound-ed about him, the Colours were display'd; his ten thousands went up at his Feet, and the Elders of Mansoul danced before him. And now were the Walls of the famous Town of Mansoul filled with the Tramplings of the Inhabitants thereof, who went up thither to view the approach of the blessed Prince and his royal Army. Also the Casements, Windows, Balconies, and Tops of the Houses were all now fil-led with Persons of all sorts, to behold how their Town was to be filled with good.

Now when he was come so far into the Town as to the Recorder's House, he commanded that one should go to Captain Credence, to know whether the Castle of Mansoul was prepared to entertain his Royal Presence (for the Preparation of that was left to that Captain) and Word was brought that it was, Act 15. 9. Then was Captain Credence commanded also to come forth with his Power to meet the Prince, the which was as he had commanded done, and he conducted him into the Castle, Eph. 3. 17. This done, the Prince that Night did lodge in the Castle with his mighty Captains and Men of War, to the Joy of the Town of Mansoul.

Now the next care of the Townsfolk was how the Captains and Soldiers of the Prince's Army should be Quartered among them, and the care was not how they should shut their Hands of them, but how they should fill their Houses with them; for every Man in

The Townsmen covet who shall have most of the Soldiers that belong to the Prince.

Mansoul now had that esteem of Emanuel and his Men, that nothing grieved them more, than because they were not enlarged enough every one of them to receive the whole Army of the Prince; yea, they counted it their glory to be waiting upon them, and would in those Days run at their Bidding like Lackies. At last they came to this result:

How they were Quartered in the Town of Mansoul.

time of the Rebellion.

1. That Captain Innocency should quarter at Mr. Reasons.

2. That Captain Patience should quarter at Mr. Minds. This Mr. Mind was formerly the Lord Willbewills Clerk in time of the Rebellion.

3. It was order'd that Captain Charity should quarter at Mr. Affection's House.

4. That Captain Goodhope should quarter at my Lord Mayor's. Now for the House of the Recorder, himself desired, because his House was next to the Castle, and because from him it was ordered by the Prince, that if need be, the Alarm should be given to Mansoul: It was I say, desired by him that Captain Boanerges, and Captain Conviction should take up their Quarters with him, even they and all their Men.

5. As for Captain Judgment and Captain Execution, my Lord Willbewill took them and their Men to him, because he was to rule under the Prince for the good of the Town of Mansoul now, as he had before under the Tyrant Diabolus for the hurt and damage thereof, Rom. 6. 19. Eph. 3. 17.

6. And throughout the rest of the Town were quartered Emanuel's Forces; but Captain Credence with his Men abode still in the Castle. So the Prince, his Captains, and his Soldiers were lodged in the Town of Mansoul.

Now the Ancients and Elders of the Town of Mansoul thought that they never should have enough of the Prince Emanuel; his Person, his Actions, his Words and Behaviour, were so pleasing, so taking, so desirable to them. Wherefore they prayed him that though the Castle of Mansoul was his place of Residence (and they desired that he might dwell there for ever) yet that he would often visit the Streets, Houses, and People of Mansoul. For said they, Dread Sovereign, thy Presence, thy Looks, thy Smiles, thy Words, are the Life, and Strength, and Sinews of the Town of Mansoul.

Besides this, they craved that they might have without difficulty or interruption, continual access unto him; so for that very purpose he commanded that the Gates should stand open (that they might there see the manner of his Doings, the Fortifications of the Place, and the Royal Mansion-House of the Prince.)

When he spake, they all stopped their Mouths, and gave Audience; and when he Walked, it was their Delight to imitate him in his Goings.

Now upon a time Emanuel made a Feast for the Town of Mansoul and upon the Feasting-Day, the Townsfolk were come to the Castle to partake of his Banquet. And he Feasted them with all manner of Outlandish Food, Food that grew not in the Fields of Mansoul, nor in all the whole Kingdom of Universe. It was Food that came from his Father's Court, and so there was Dish after Dish set before them, and they were commanded freely to Eat. But still when a fresh Dish was set before them, they would whisperingly say to each other What is it? For they wist not what to call it, Exod. 16. 15. They drunk also of the Water that was made Wine; and were very Merry with him. There was Musick also all the while at the Table, and Man did eat Angels Food, and bid Honey given him out of the Rock; so Mansoul did eat the Food that was peculiar to the Court, yea they had now thereof to the full, Psa. 78. 24, 25.

I must not forget to tell you, that as at this Table there were Musicians; so they were not those of the Country, nor yet of the Town of Mansoul; but they were were the Masters of the Songs that were Sung at the Court of Shaddai.

Now after the Feast was over, Emanuel was for entertaining the Town of Mansoul with some curious Riddles. Riddles of Secrets drawn up by his Father's Secretary, by the Skill and Wisdom of Shaddai; the like to these there is not in any Kingdom.

These Riddles were made upon King Shaddai himself, and upon Emanuel his Son, and upon his Wars and Doings with Mansoul. The Holy Scriptures.

Emanuel also Expounded unto them some of those Riddles himself, but oh how they were lightned! they saw what they never saw, they could not have thought that such Rarities could have been couched in so few and such ordinary Words I told you before whom these Riddles did concern; and as they were opened, the People did evidently see'twas so. Yea they did gather that the things themselves were a kind of a Portraiture, and that of Emanuel himself; for when they read in the Scheme where the Riddles were writ, and looked in the Face of the Prince, things look'd so like the one to the other, that Mansoul could not forbear but say, This is the Lamb, this is the Sacrifice, this is the Rock, this is the Red Cow, this is the Door, and this is the Way; with a great many other things more.

And thus he dismissed the Town of Mansoul. But can you imagine how the People of the Corporation

The end of that Banquet. were taken with his Entertainment? Oh they were Transported with Joy, they were drown'd with wonderment, while they saw and understood, and considered what their Emanuel entertained them withal, and what Mysteries he opened to them; and when they were at home in their Houses, and in their most retired Places, they could not but Sing of him, and of his Actions. Yea, so taken were the Townsmen now with their Prince, that they would Sing of him in their Sleep.

Now it was in the Heart of the Prince Mansoul must be new modelled. Emanuel to new model the Town of Mansoul, and to put it into such a condition as might be most pleasing to him, and that might best stand with the profit and Security of the now flourishing Town of Mansoul. He provided also against insurrections at home, and invasions from abroad; such love had he for the famous Town of Mansoul.

Wherefore he first of all commanded that the great Slings that were brought from his Father's Court when he came to the War of Mansoul, should be mounted some upon the Battlements of the Castle, some upon the Towers for there were Towers in the Town of Mansoul, Towers new built by Emanuel since he came thither. There was also an Instrument invented by Emanuel, that was to throw Stones from the Castle of Mansoul, out at Mouth-gate; an Instrument that could not be resisted, nor that could miss of Execution; wherefore for the wonderful Exploits that it did when used, it went without a Name, and it was committed to the care of, and to be managed by the brave Captain, the Captain Credence, in case of War. This done, Emanuel called the Lord Will.

Will he will be will to him, and gave him in commandment to take care of the Gates, the Wall, and Towers in Mansoul: Also the Prince gave him the Militia into his Hand, and a special charge to withstand all Insurrections and Tumults that might be made in Mansoul against the Peace of our Lord the King and the Peace and Tranquility of the Town of Mansoul. He also gave him in Commission, that if he found any of the Diabolonians lurking in any Corner of the Famous Town of Mansoul, he should forthwith apprehend them, and stay them, or commit them to safe custody, that they may be proceeded against according to Law.

Then he called unto him the Lord Under- My Lord Standing, who was the old Lord Mayor, he that was put out of place when Diabolus took the Town, and put him into his former Office again, and it became his place for his Life-time. He bid him him also that he should build him a Palace near Eye-gate, and that he should build it in fashion like a Tower for a defence. He bid him also that he should read in the Revelations of Mysteries all the Days of his Life, that he might know how to perform his Office aright.

He also made Mr. Knowledge the Recorder, not of contempt to old Mr. Conscience who had been Recorder before; but for that it was in his Princely Mind to confer upon Mr. Conscience another Employ; of which he told the old Gentleman he should know more hereafter.

Then he commanded that the Image of Diabolus should be taken down from the place where it was set up; and that they should destroy it utterly, beating of it into Powder, and casting it into the Wind, without the Town-wall, and that the Image of Ishaddai his Father should be set up again, with his own upon the Castle Gates. And that it should be

The Image of the Prince and his Father set up again in Mansoul. more fairly drawn than ever; for as much as both his Father and himself were come to Mansoul in more Grace and Mercy than heretofore, Rev. 22. 4. He would also that his Name should be fairly engraven upon the front of the Town, and that it should be done on the best of Gold for the Honour of the Town of Mansoul.

After this was done, Emanuel gave out a Commandment that those three great Diabolonians should be apprehended, namely the Two late Lord Mayors, to wit,

Mr. Incredulity Mr. Lustings and Mr. Forget good, the Recorder. Besides these, there were some of them that Diabolus made Burghesses and Aldermen in Mansoul, that under the hand of Mr. True-man the Keeper were committed to Ward by the hand of the now Valiant, and now right Noble, the brave Lord Willbewill.

And these were their Names, Alderman Atheism, Alderman Hard-Heart, and Alderman False Peace. The Burghesses were Mr. No truth, Mr. Pitiless, Mr. Haughty, with the like. These were committed to chosen curody; and the Goaler's Name was Mr. True-man; this

True-

True-man was one of those that Emanuel brought with him from his Father's Court, when at first he made a War upon Diabolus in the Town of Mansoul.

After this, the Prince gave a charge that the three strong Holds that at the command of Diabolus the Diabolonians built in Mansoul, should be demolish'd, and utterly pulled down; of which Holds and their Names, with their Captains and Governors, you read a little before. But this was long in doing, because of the largeness of the Places, and because the Stones, the Timber, the Iron, and all rubbish was to be carried without the Town.

When this was done, the Prince gave order that the Ld. Mayor and Aldermen of Mansoul, should call a Court of Judicature for the Tryal and Execution of the Diabolonians in the Corporation now under the charge of Mr. True-man the Goaler.

Now when the time was come, and the Court set, Commandment was sent to Mr. True-man the Goaler to bring the Prisoners down to the Bar. Then were the Prisoners brought down, pinion'd and chain'd together, as the custom of the Town of Mansoul was. So when they were presented before the Lord Mayor, the Recorder, and the rest of the Honourable Bench. First, the Jury was impanell'd, and then the Witnesses sworn. The Names of the Jury impanelled, and Witnesses sworn. Jury were these, Mr. Belief, Mr. True-heart, Mr. Upright, Mr. Hate bad, Mr. Love-God, Mr. See Truth, Mr. Heavenly-mind, Mr. Moderate, Mr. Thankful, Mr. Good-work, Mr. Zeal for God, and Mr. Humble.

The Names of the Witnesses were Mr. Know-all, Mr. Tell true, Mr. Hate-lies, with my Lord Wilbewill, and his Man, if need were.

So the Prisoners were set to the Bar, then said Mr. Do right (for he was the Town-Clerk) set Atheism to the Bar, Goaler. So he was set to the Bar. Then said the Clerk, Atheism, bald bold up thy Hand. Thou art here Indicted by the Name of Atheism (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou hast perniciously and doubtlessly taught and maintained that there is no God, and so no need to be taken to Religion. This thou hast done against the Being, Honour, and Glory of the King, and against the Peace and Safety of the Town of Mansoul. What sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Atheism Not guilty.

Cryer, Call Mr. Know-all, Mr. Tell-true, and Mr. Hate-lies, into the Court.

So they were called, and they appeared.

Clerk. Then said the Clerk, You the Witnesses for the King, look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, do you know him?

Know. Then said Mr. Know-all, Yes my Lord, we know him, his Name is Atheism, he has been a very pestilent Fellow for many Years in the miserable Town of Mansoul.

Clerk. You are sure you know him.

Know. Know him! Yes my Lord, I have heretofore too often been in his Company, to be at this time ignorant of him. He is a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian, I knew his Grandfather and his Father.

Clerk. Well said: He standeth here indicted by the Name of Atheism, &c. And is charged that he hath maintained and taught that there is no God, and so no need to be taken to any Religion. What say you the King's Witnesses to this? Is he guilty or not?

Know. My Lord, I and he were once in Villains-Lane together, and he at that time did briskly talk of divers Opinions, and then and there I heard him say, That for his part he did believe that there was no God. But, said he, I can profess one, and be as religious too if the Company I am in, and the circumstances of other things, said he, shall put me upon it.

Clerk. You are sure you have heard him say thus.

Know. Upon mine Oath I heard him say thus.

Then said the Clerk, Mr. Tell-true, What say you to the the King's Judges, touching the Prisoner at the Bar?

Tell My Lord, I formerly was a great Companion of his (for the which I now repent me) and I have often heard him say, and that with very great Stomachfulness that he believed there was neither God, Angel, nor Spirit.

Cler. Where did you bear him say so?

Tell. In Blackmouib-lane, and in Blaspemers-row, and in many other places besides.

Cler. Have you much knowledge of him?

Tell. I know him to be a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian, and an horrible Man to deny a Deity; his Father's Name was Never-be good, and he had more Children than this Atheism. I have no more to say.

Cler. Mr. Hate lies look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, do you know him?

Hate. My Lord, this Atheism is one of the Vilest Wretches that ever I came near, or had to do with in my Life. I have heard him say that there is no God; I have heard him say that there is no World to come, no Sin, nor Punishment hereafter: And moreover, I have heard him say, that 'twas as good to go to a Whore-house, as to go to hear a Sermon.

Cler. Where did you bear him say these things?

Hate. In Drunkards row, just at Rascals-lane's end, at a House in which Mr. Impiety liv'd.

Cler. Set him by Goaler, and set Mr. Lustings to be Bar.

Mr. Lustings, thou art bere Indicted by the Name of Lustings (an Intruder upon Lustings set to the Bar. the Town of Mansoul) for that thou hast Devilishly and Traiterously taught by practice and Filthy Words, that it is lawfull and profitable to Man to give way to his Carnal desires, and that thou for thy part hast not, nor never wilt deny thy self of any sinful delight as long as thy Name is Lustings, How sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment or not?

Lust. Then said Mr. Lustings, My Lord, His Plea. I am a Man of high Birth, and have been used to Pleasures and pastimes, and greatness. I have not been wont wont to be snub'd for my doings, but have been left to follow my will as if it were Law. And it seems strange to me that I should this day be called into question for that, not only I, but almost all Men do either secretly or openly countenance, love and approve of it.

Cler. Sir we concern not our selves with your greatness (thought the higher the better you should have been) but we are concerned. and so are you now, about an Indictment preferred against you. How say you, are you guilty of it, or not ?

Lust. Not guilty.

Cler. Cryer, call upon the Witnesses to stand forth, and give Evidence.

Cryer, Gentlemen, you the Witnesses for the King, come and give in your Evidence for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar.

Cler. Come Mr. Know all, look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, do you know him ?

Know. Yes my Lord, I know him.

Cler. What's his Name ?

Know. His Name is Lustings, he was the Son of one Beastly, and his Mother bare him in Flesh street, she, was one Evil Concupiscence's Daughter. I knew all the Generation of them.

Cler. Well said. You have here beard his Indictment what say you to it, is he guilty of the things charged against him or not ?

Know. My Lord, he has, as he saith, been a great Man indeed ; and greater in Wickedness than by Pedigree, more than a Thousand-fold.

Cler. But what do you know of his particular Actions, and especially with reference to his Indictment.

Know. I know him to be a Swearer, a Lyar a Sabbath breaker ; I know him to be a Fornicator, and an unclean Person ; I know him to be guilty of abundance of Evils. He has been to my Knowledge a very Filthy Man.

Cler. But where did he use to commit his Wickedness, in some private Corners, or more open and shamelessly ?

Know. All the Town over, my Lord.

Cler.

Cler. Come Mr. Tell true, what have you to say for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Tell. My Lord, all that the first Witness has said, I know to be true, and a great deal more besides.

Cler. Mr. Lustings, do you hear what these Gentlemen say?

Lust. I was ever of Opinion, that the happiest life that a Man could live on Earth, was to keep himself back from nothing that he desired in the World; nor have I been false at any time to this Opinion of mine, but have lived in the love of my notions all my Days. Nor was I ever so Churlish, having found such sweetnes in them my self, as to keep the Commendations of them from others.

Court. Then said the Court, There hath proceeded enough from his own Mouth to lay him open to Condemnation, wherefore set him by, Gaoler, and set Mr. Incredulity to the Bar.

Incredulity set to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Incredulity, thou art here Indicted by the Name of Incredulity (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for thou hast feloniously and wickedly, and that when thou wert an Officer in the Town of Mansoul, made head against the Captains of the great Shaddai, when they came, and demanded possession of Mansoul; yea thou didst bid defiance to the Name, Forces, and cause of the King, and didst also, as did Diabolus thy Captain, stir up and encourage the Town of Mansoul to make head against, and resist the said force of the King. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty or not?

Then said Incredulity, I know not Shaddai. His Plea. I loved my old Prince, I thought it my Duty to be true to my trust, and to do what I could to possess the Minds of the Men of Mansoul, to do their utmost to resist Strangers and Foreigners, and with might to fight against them. Nor have I, nor shall I change mine Opinion for fear of Trouble, though you at present are possessed of Place and Power.

Court. Then said the Court, the Man as you see is Incorrigible, he is for maintaining his Villanies by stoutness of Words, and his Rebellion with Impudent Confidence. And therefore set him by, Gouernt, and set Mr. Forget good to the Bar.

Forget good set to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Forget-good, thou art here Indicted by the Name of Forget-good, an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul, for that thou when the whole Affairs of the Town of Mansoul were in thy Hand, didst utterly His Indict- forget to serve them in what was good, and meint. didst fall in with the Tyrant Diabolus against you Shaddai the King, against his Captains, and all his Host, to the dishonour of Shaddai, the breach of his Law, and the endangering of the destruction of the famous Town of Mansoul. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty or not guilty?

His P.ea. Then said Forget-good, Gentlemen, and at this time my Judges, as to the Indictment by which I stand by several Crimes accused before you pray attribute my forgetfulness to my age, and not to my wilfulness: to the craziness of my brain, and not to the carelessness of my mind, and then I hope may by your Charity be excused from great Punishment, though I be guilty.

Then said the Court, Forget good, Forget good, Thy forgetfulness of good was not simply of frailty, but of purpose, and for that thou didst soab to keep vertuous things in thy mind. What was bad thou couldst retain, but what was good thou couldst not abide to stay of, thy age therefore, and thy pretended craziness, thou wene makest use of to blind the Court withal, and as a Cloak to cover thy Knavery. But let us hear what the Witnesses have to say for the King against the Prisoner at the Bar, is he guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Hate. My Lord I have heard this Forget good know that he could never abide to think of Goodnes, for no not for a quater of an Hour.

Cler. Where did you hear him say so?

Hate. In All-base-lane, at a House next Door to the Sign of the Conscience seared with an hot Iron.

Cler.

Cler. Mr. Know-all, what can you say for our Lord the King against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Know. My Lord, I know this Man well, he is a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian, his Father's Name was Love-nought, and for him I have often heard him say, That he counted the very Thoughts of Goodness the most burdensome thing in the Word.

Cler. Where have you heard him say these Words?

Know. In Flesh lane, right opposite to the Church.

Then said the Clerk, Come. Mr. Tell-true, give in your Evidence concerning the Prisoner at the Bar, about that for which he stands here, as you see, Indicted before this honourable Court.

Tell. My Lord, I have heard him often say, He had rather think of the vilest thing, than of what is contained in the Holy Scriptures.

Cler. Where did you hear him say such grievous words?

Tell. Where? in a great many places; particularly in Nauseous street, in the House of one Shameless, and not in Filtb-lane, at the Sign of the Reprobate, next Door to the Descent into the Pit.

Court. Gentlemen, you have heard the Indictment, the Plea, and the testimony of the Witnesses.

Goaler, set Mr. Hard heart to the Bar.

He is set to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Hard heart, thou art bere indicted by the virtue of me of Hard heart, (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou wilst most desperately and wickedly to possess the Town of Mansoul with impenitency and obstinacy, thou wilst, and didst keep them from remorse and sorrow for a time of their evils, all the time of their apostasy from, and rebellion against the blessed King Shaddai. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty, or not guilty?

Hard. My Lord I never knew what remorse or sorrow meant in all my Life: I am impenetrable, I care not for no Man; nor can I be pierced with Mens griefs; their groans will not enter into my Heart; whomever I do mischief, whomever I wrong, to me it is Musick, when to others Mourning.

Court. You see the Man is a right Diabolonian, and has convicted himself. Set him by, Goaler, and see Mr. False peace to the Bar.

False peace set to the Bar.

Mr. False-peace, Thou art here indicted by the name of False peace (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou did most wickedly and satannically bring bold, and keep the Town of Mansoul, both in her apostasy, and in her hellish rebellion, in a false, groundless and dangerous peace, and damnable security, to the dishonour of the King, the transgression of his Law, and the great damage of the Town of Mansoul. What sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Then said Mr. False peace, Gentlemen, and you now appointed to be my Judges, I acknowledge that my name is Mr. Peace, but that my Name is False peace

I utterly deny. If your Honours should please to send for any that do intimately know me

He denies his Name. or for the Midwife that laid my Mother of me, or for the Gossips that were at my Christening they will any, or all of them prove that my name is not False-peace but Peace. Wherefore I cannot plead to this Indictment, for as much as my name is not inserted therein, and as is my true name, so also are my conditions. I was always a Man that loved to live a quiet, and what I loved my self, that I thought other might love also. Wherefore when I saw any of my neighbours to labour under a disquieted mind, I endeavour'd to help them what I could ; and instances of this good temper of mine, many I could give : As,

1. When at the beginning our Town of Mansoul did decline the ways of Shaddai, they some of them afterwards began to have disquieting reflections upon themselves for what they had done ; but I, as one troubled to see them disquieted, presently sought out means to get them quiet again.

2. When the ways of the old World, and of Sodom were in fashion ; if any thing happened to molest those that were for the customs of the present times, I laboured to make them quiet again, and to cause them to act without molestation.

3. To come nearer home, when the Wars fell out between Shaddai and Diabolus, if at any time I saw any of the Town of Mansoul afraid of destruction, often used by some way, device, invention or other, to labour to bring them to peace again. Wherefore since I have been always a Man of so vertuous a temper, as some say a peace-maker is, and if a Peace-maker be so deserving a Man as some have been bold to attest he is; then let me Gentlemen, be accounted by you, who have a great Name for Justice and Equity in Mansoul, for a Man that deserveth not this inhumane way of treatment, but liberty, and also a Licence to seek damage of those that have been my Accusers.

Then said the Clerk. Cryer, make Proclamation.

Cryer. O yes, "for as much as the Prisoners at the Bar hath denied his Name to be that which is mentioned in the Indictment, the Court requireth that if there be any in this place that can give information to the Court of the original and right name of the Prisoner, they wou'd come forth and give in their Evidence; for the Prisoner stands upon his own innocency.

Then came two into the Court, and desired that they might have leave to speak what they knew concerning the Prisoner at the Bar; the Name of the one was Search truth, and the Name of the other Vouch truth: so the Court demanded of these Men if they knew the Prisoner, and what they could say concerning him, for he stands, said they, upon his own Vindication?

Then said Mr. Search truth, My Lord. Court. Hold, give him his Oath, then they swore him. So he proceeded Search. My Lord, I know, and have known this man from a child and can attest that his name is False peace. I knew his Father, his name was Mr. Flatterer, and his mother before she was married was called by the name of Mrs. Sooth up; and these two when they came together, lived not long without this Son, and when he was born, they called his name False peace. I was his play-fellow, only I was somewhat older than he; and when his Mother did use to call him home from his play, she used to say, False peace, False peace, come home quick, or I'll fetch you. Yea, I knew him when he suck'd; and though I was then but little, yet I can remember that when his Mother did use to sit at the door with him, or did play with him in her arms, she would call him twenty time together, my little False peace, my pretty False-peace, and O my sweet Rogue False peace; and again, O my little bird False-peace; and how do I love my Child! The Gossips also know it is thus, though he has had the Face to deny it in openCourt.

Then Mr. Vouch trub was call'd up on to speak what he knew of him. So they sware him.

Then said Mr. Vouch trub. My Lord, all that the former Witness hath said, is true; his name is False-peace, the Son of Mr. Flatterer, and Mrs. Snob up his Mother. And I have in former times seen him angry with those that called him any thing else but False peace, for he would say that all such did mock and nick-name him, but this was in the time when Mr. False peace was a great Man, and when the Diabolonians were the brave Men in Mansoul.

Court. Gentlemen, you have heard what these two Men have sworn against the Prisoner at the Bar: And now Mr. False peace to you, you have denied your name to be False-peace, yet you see that these honest Men have sworn that this is your name. As to your Plea, in that you are quite besides the matter of your Indictment, you are not by it charged for evil-doing, because you are a Man of Peace or a Peace-maker among your Neighbours; but for that you did Wickedly and satanically bring, keep, and hold the Town of Mansoul, both under its apostacy from, and in its Rebellion against its King, in a false, lying, and damnable Peace, contrary to the Law of Shaddai, and to the hazard of the destruction of the then miserable Town of Manioul: All that you have pleaded for your self is, that you have denied your Name, &c. But here you see we have Witnesses to prove that you are the Man.

For the Peace that you so much boast of making among you Neighbours, know that Peace that is not a Companion of Truth and Holiness, but that which is without this Foundation, is grounded upon a Lye, and is both deceitful and damnable; as also the great Shaddai hath said: thy Plea therefore has not delivered thee from what by thy Indictment thou art charged with, but rather it doth fasten all upon thee.

But thou shalt have very fair play, let us call those Witnesses that are to testify, as to matter of fact, and see what they say to have to say for our Lord the King against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Cler. Mr. Know all, what say you for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Know. My Lord, this Man hath for a long time made it to my Knowledge, his business to keep the Town of Mansoul in a sinful quietness, in the midst of all her Leudness, Filthiness and Turmoils, and hath said, and that in my hearing, Come, come, let us fly from all trouble, on what ground soever it comes, and let us be for a quiet and peaceably Life, though it wanteth a good Foundation.

Cler. Come Mr. Hate lies, what have you to say?

Hate. My Lord, I have heard him say, that Peace, though in a way of Unrighteousness, is better than Trouble with Truth.

Cler. Where did you hear him say this?

Hate. I heard him say it in Folly yard, at the House of one Mr. Simple, next door to the Sign of the Self-deceiver. Yea he hath said this to my Knowledge Twenty times in that place.

Cler. We may spare farther Witness, this Evidence is plain and full. Set him by Goale, and set Mr. No truth to the Bar. Mr. No truth, thou art here Indicted by the Name of No truth, (an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul,) for that thou hast always, to the dis honour of Shaddai, and the endangering of the utter ruin of the famous Town of Mansoul set thy self to deface, and utterly to spoil all the remainders of the Law and Image of Shaddai that have been found in Mansoul, after her deep apostasy from her King, Diabolus, the envious Tyrant. What sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

No truth. Not guilty, my Lord.

Then the Witnesses were called, and Mr. Know-all did first give in his Evidence against him.

Know. My Lord, this Man was at the pulling down of the Image of Shaddai; yea, this is he that did it with his own Hands. I my self stood by and saw him do it, and he did it at the commandment of Diabolus. Yea, this Mr. No-truth did more than this. he did also set up the horned Image of the beast Diabolus, in the same place. This also is he that at the bidding of Diabolus did send and tear, and cause to be consumed all that he could of the remainers of the Law of the King, even what ever he could lay his hands on in Mansoul.

Cler. Who saw him do this besides your self?

Hate. I did my Lord, and so did many others besides; for this was not done by stealth, or in a corner but in the open view of all, yea, he chose himself to do it publickly for he delighted in the doing of it.

Cler. Mr. No-truth, how could you have the face to plead not guilty, when you where so manifestly the doer of all this Wickedness?

No-tr. Sir, I thought I must say something, and as my Name is, so I speak: I have been advantaged thereby before now, and did not know but by speaking No-truth, I might have reaped the same benefit now.

Cler. Set him by Goaler, and set Mr. Pityless to the Bar. Mr. Pityless, thou art here indicted by the Name of Pityless, (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou didst most traiterously and wickedly shut up all Bowels of Compassion, and would not suffer poor Mansoul to condole her own misery, when she had apostatized for her righteous King, but didst evade, and at all times turn her mind away from those thoughts that had in them a tendency to lead her to Repentance. What sayest thou to this Indictment? Guilty or not guilty?

Not guilty of Pitylessness, all I did was to Chear up, according to my Name, for my Name is not Pityless but Chear up; and I could not abide to see Mansoul incline to Melancholy,

Clerk. How! do you deny your Name, and say it is not Pi-

Pityless, but Cheap-up? Call for the Witnesses: What say you the Witnesses to this Plea?

Know. My Lord, his Name is Pityless; so he hath writ himself in all Papers of concern, wherein he has had to do. But these Diabolonians love to counterfeit their Names: Mr. Coveteousness covers himself with the Name of good Husbandry, or the like; Mr. Pride can when need is, call himself Mr. Neat, Mr. Handsome, or the like, and so of all the rest of them.

Cler. Mr. Tell true, what say you?

Tell. His Name is Pityless my Lord; I have known him from a Child, & he hath done all that Wickedness whereof he stands charged in the Indictment; but there is a Company of them that are not acquainted with the danger of Damning, therefore they call all those Melancholy that have serious Thoughts how that State should be shunned by them.

Cler. Set Mr. Haughty to the Bar, Goaler Mr. Haughty, Thou art here Indicted by the Name of Haughty, (an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou didst most Trayterously and Devilishly teach the Town of Mansoul, to carry it loftily and stoutly against the Summons that were given them by the Captains of the King Shaddai. Thou didst also teach the Town of Mansoul to speak contumuously and villifyingly of their great King Shaddai; and didst moreover encourage, both by Words and Examples, Mansoul to take up Arms both against the King, and his Son Emanuel. How sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Haugh. Gentlemen, I have always been a Man of Courage and Valour, and have not used when under the greatest Clouds to sneak or hang down the Head like a Bulrush; nor did it at all at any time please me to see Men veil their Bonnets to those that have opposed them. Yea, though their Adversaries seemed to have Ten times the advantage of them. I did not use to consider who was my Foe, nor what the cause was in which I was engaged. 'Twas enough to me if I carried it bravely. Fought like a Man, and came off a Victor.

Court. Mr. Haughty, you are not here Indicted for that you have been a Valiant Man; nor for your courage and stouness in times of Distress, but for that you have made use of this your pretended Valour to draw the Town of Mansoul into Acts of Rebellion, both against the great King and Emanuel his Son. - This is the Crime, and the thing wherewith thou art charged in and by the Indictment. But be made no answer to that.

Now when the Court had thus far proceeded against the Prisoners at the Bar, then they put them over to the Virdict of their Jury, to whom they did apply themselves after this manner.

Court, Gentlemen of the Jury, you have been here, and have seen these men; you have heard their Indictments, their Pleas, and what the Witnesses have testified against them: Now what remains, is, that you do forthwith withdraw your selves to some place, where without confusion you may consider of what Virdict in a way of truth and righteousness you ought to bring in for the King against them, and so bring it in accordingly.

Then the Jury, to wit, Mr. Belief, Mr. True heart, Mr. Upright, Mr. Hate bad, Mr. Love good, Mr. See-truth, Mr. Heavenly mind, Mr. Moderate, Mr. Thankful, Mr. Humble, Mr. Good work, and Mr. Zeal-for-God with drew themselves in order to their Work. Now when they were shut up by themselves, they fell to discourse among themselves in order to the drawing up of their Virdict.

And thus Mr. Belief (for he was the Foreman) began : Gentlemen; quoth he, for the Men, the Prisoners at the Bar, for my part I believe that they all deserve Death. Very right said Mr. True heart, I am wholly of your Opinion : O what a Mercy is it, said Mr. Hate bad, that such Villains as these are apprehended ! Ay, Ay, said Mr. Love good, this is one of the ~~best~~ ^{worst} Days that ever I saw in my Life. Then said Mr. See-truth, I know that if we judge them to Death, our Verdit shall stand before Shaddai himself. Nor do I at all question it, said Mr. Heavenly mind ; he said moreover, when all such beasts as these are cast out of Mansoul, what a goodly Town will it be then ! Then said said Mr. Moderate. It is not my manner to pass my Judgment with rashness, but for these their Crimes are so notorious, and the Witness so palpable, that that Man must be wilfully blind, who saith the Prisoners ought not to Die. Blessed be God, said Mr. Thankful, that these Traitors are in safe Custody. And I join with you in this, upon my bare Knees, said Mr. Humble, I am glad also said Mr. Good work. Then said the warm Man and true hearted Mr. Zeal-for-god, Cut them off, they have been the plague, and sought the Destruction of Mansoul.

Thus therefore being all agreed in their Verdict, they came instantly into the Court.

Clerk. Gentlemen of the Jury, answer all to your Names: Mr. Belief, One: Mr. True-heart, Two: Mr. Upright, Three: Mr. Hate bad, Four: Mr. Love-good, Five: Mr. See-truth, Six: Mr. Heavenly mind, Seven: Mr. Moderate, Eight: Mr. Thankful, Nine: Mr. Humble, Ten: Mr. Good work, Eleven: And Mr. Zeal for god, Twelve: Good Men and true, stand together in your Verdict; are you all agreed?

Jury. Yes, my Lord.

Clerk. Who shall speak for you?

Jury. Our Foreman.

Clerk. You the Gentlemen of the Jury being impanelled for our Lord the King, to serve here in a matter of Life and Death, have heard the Tryals of each of these Men the Prisoners at the Bar: What say you, are they guilty of that, and those Crimes for which they stand here Indicted, or are they not guilty?

Foreman. Guilty, my Lord.

Clerk. Look to your Prisoners, Goaler.

This was done in the Morning, and in the Afternoon they received Sentence of Death according to the Law.

The Goaler therefore having received such a charge, put them all in the inward Prison, to preserve them there till the day of Execution, which was to be the next Morning.

But now to see how it happened, one of the Prisoners, Incredulity by Name, in the interim betwixt the Sessions,

Incredulity breaks Prison.

Sentence and time of Execution, brake Prison, and made his escape, and gets him away quite out of the Town of Mansoul, and lay lurking in such places and holes as he might, until he should again have opportunity to do the Town of Mansoul a mischief, for their thus handling of him as they did.

Now when Mr. Trueman the Goaler perceived that he had lost his Prisoner, he was in a heavy taking, because he that Prisoner we speak of, was the very worst of all the Gang: Wherefore first he goes and acquaints my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, and my Lord Willbemill with the matter, and to get of them an Order to make Search for him throughout the Town of Mansoul. So an Order he got, and search was made, but no such Man could now be found in all the Town of Mansoul.

All that could be gathered was, that he had lurked a while about the out side of the Town, and that here and there one or other had a glimpse of him, as he did make his escape out of Mansoul; one or two also did affirm that they saw him without the Town, going apace quite over the Plain. Now when he was quite

He is gone to gone, it was affirmed by one Mr. Didsee Diabolus. that he ranged all over dry places, till he met with Diabolus his Friend; and where should they meet one another but upon Hell gate-bill.

But Oh! what a lamentable Story did the Old Gentleman tell to Diabolus, concerning what sad alteration Emanuel had made in Mansoul?

As first, how Mansoul had, after some delays received a general Pardon at the Hands of Emanuel, and that they had ingenMansoul. vited him into the Town, and that they had given him the Castle for his Possession.

He said moreover, that they had called his Soldiers into the Town, coveted who should Quarter the most of them; they also entertain him with the Timbrel, Song and Dance. But that, said Incredulity, that is the wrest vexation to me, that he hath pulled down, O Father, thy Image, and set up his own, pulled down thy thy Officers, and set up his own. Yea, and Willbewill, that Rebel, who, one would have thought, should never have turned from us, he is now in as great Favour with Emanuel as ever he was with Ibee. But besides, all this, this Willbewill has received a special Commission from his Master to search for, to apprehend, and to put to Death all, and all manner of Diabolonians; that he shall find in Mansoul: Yea, and this Willbewill has taken and committed to Prison already Eight of my Lords most truly Friends in Mansoul. Nay further, my Lord, with grief I speak it, they have been all arraigned, condemned, and I doubt before this, executed in Mansoul. I told my Lord of Eight, and myself was the Ninth, who should assuredly have drunk of the same Cup, but that through craft I have made mine Escape from them.

When Dialolus had heard this lamentable Story he yelled, and snuffed up the Diabolus yells Wind like a Dragon, and made the Sky to look dark with his Roaring: He also sware that he would try to be revenged on Mansoul for this. So they concluded to enter into great Consultation how they might get the Town of Mansoul again.

Now before this time the Day was come in which the Prisoners in Mansoul were to be executed: Rom. 8. 13, and 6. 12, 13, 14. So they were brought to the Cross, and that by Mansoul, in most solemn manner: for the Prince said that this should be done by the hand of the Town of Mansoul, that I may see, said he, the forwardness of my now redeemed Mansoul to keep my Word, and to do my Commandments; and that I may bless Mansoul in doing this Deed; Gal. 5, 24. Proof of sincerity pleases me well, let Mansoul therefore first lay their Hands upon these Diabolonians to destroy them.

So the Town of Mansoul slew them according to the Word of their Prince: But when the Prisoners were brought to the Cross to die, you can hardly believe what troublesome Work Mansoul had of it to put the *Diabolonian*s to Death (for the Men knowing that they must die, and all of them having implacable enmity in their their Heart to Mansoul) what did they but took courage at the Cross, and there resisted the Men of the Town of Mansoul. Wherefore the Men of Mansoul were forced to cry out for help to the Captains and Men of War. Now the great Shaddai had a Secretary in the Town, and he was a great Lover of the Men of Mansoul, and he was at the Place of Execution also; so he hearing the Men of Mansoul cry out against the strugglings and the unruliness of the Prisoners, rose up from his place, and came and put his Hands upon the Hands of the Men of Mansoul. So they Crucified the Diabolonians that had been a plague, a grief, and an offence to the Town of Mansoul, Rom. 8. 13.

Now when this good work was done, The Prince the Prince came down to see, to visit, and comes down to speak comfortable to the Men of Mansoul, and to congratulate them. And he said to them, that by this

A& of theirs he had proved them and found them to be Lovers of his Person, observers of his Laws, and such as had also respect to his Honour. He said more over, (to shew them that they by this should not be losers, nor the Town weakned by the loss of them) that he would make them an other Captain He promises to make them a and that of one of themselves. And that new Captain. this Captain should be the ruler of a Thousand for the good and benefit of the now Flourishing Town of Mansoul.

So he called one to him whose Name was Waiting, and bid him go quickly up to the Castle gate, and enquire there for one Mr. Experience, that must be the waiteh upon that noble Captain, the Cap. new Captain. tain Credence, and bid him come hither to me, so the Messenger that waited upon the good Prince Emanuel, went and said as he was commanded. Now the young Gentleman was waiting to see the Captain Train and Muster his Men in the Castle-yard. Then said Mr. Waiting to him, Sir, the Prince would that you should come down to his Highness furshwith. So he brought him down to Emanuel, and and he came and made obeisance before him. Now the Men of the Town knew Mr. Experience well, for he was born and bred in Mansoul; they also knew him to be a Man of Conduit, of Valour, and a Person prudent in matters; he was also a Comely Person, well spoken, and very successful in his Undertakings.

The qualifications of their new Captain.

Wherefore the Hearts of the Townsmen were transported with Joy when they say that the Prince himself was so taken with Mr. Experience, that he would needs make him a Captain.

So with one consent they bowed the Knee before Emanuel, and with a shout said Let Emanuel live for ever. Then said the Prince to the young Gentleman, whose Name was Mr. Experience, I have thought good to confer upon thee a place of Trust and Honour in this my Town of Mansoul, (then the young Man bowed his Head and Worshipped) It is, said Emanuel, that thou shouldest be a Captain, a Captain over a Thousand Men in my beloved Town of Mansoul. Then said the Captain, Let the King live. So the Prince gave out Orders forthwith to the King's Secretary, that he should draw up for Mr. Experience a Commission to make him a Captain over a Thousand Men, and let it be brought to me, said he, that I may set to my Seal. His Commission sent him. So it was done as commanded. The Commission was draw up, brought to Emanuel, and he set his Seal thereto. Then by the hand of Mr. Waiting, he sent it away to the Captain.

Now so soon as the Captain had received his Commission, he sounded his Trumpet for Volunteers, and Young Men came to him apace; yea the greatest and chiefeſt Men in the Town ſent their Sons to be Listed under his Command. Thus Captain Experience came under Command to Emanuel, for the good of the Town of Mansoul. He had for his Lieutenant one Mr. Skilful, and for his Cor- neſt one Mr. Memory. His under Officers I need not name, Sam. 37. 36, 37. His Colours were the White Colours, Colours, for the Town of Mansoul ; and his Scutcheon was the dead Lyon, and the dead Bear. So the Prince returned to his Royal Palace again.

Now when he was returned thither, the Elders of the Town of Mansoul, to wit, my Lord Mayor, the Recorder, and the Lord Willbewill, went to congratulate him, and in special way to thank him for his love, care, and the tender Compassion which he shewed to his ever obliged Town of Mansoul. So after a while, and some sweet Communion between them, the Townsmen having solemnly ended their Ceremony returned to their place again.

Emanuel also appointed them a Day He renews wherein he would renew their Charter, their Charter. yea wherein he would renew and enlarge it, mending several faults therein, that Mansoul's yoke might be yet more easie, Heb. 8. 13. Mat. 11. And this he did without any desire of theirs, even of his own frankness, and noble mind. So when he had sent for and seen their old one, he laid it by, and said, Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away. He said moreover, the Town of Mansoul shall have another, and a better. An Epitome wherof take as follows.

I Emanuel Prince of Peace, and a great lover of the Town of Mansoul do in the Name of my Father, and of mine own Clemency, give, grant, and bequeath to my beloved Town of Mansoul;

First, Free and full forgiveness of all wrongs, injuries, and offences done by them against my Father, me, their Neighbour, or themselves, Heb. 8. Joh. 17. 8. 14.

Secondly, I do give them the holy Law, and my Testament, with all their in contained, for their everlasting comfort and consolation; 2 Pet. 1. 4. 2 Cor. 7. 1. 1 John 1. 16.

Thirdly, I do also give them a portion of the self-same Grace and Goodness, that dwells in my Father's Heart and mine.

Fourthly, I do give, grant, and bestow upon them freely the World, and what is therein, for their good; 1 Cor.

1 Cor. 3. 21. 22. And they shall have that power over it, as shall stand with the Honour of my Father, my Glory, and their comfort, yea, I grant them the benefits of Life and Death, and of things present, and things to come. This Privilege, no other City, Town or Corporation shall have, but my Mansoul only.

Fifthly, I do give and grant them leave, and free access to me in my Palace at all Seasons, there to make known their wants to me, and I give them moreover a promise that I will bear and redress all their grievances, Heb. 10. 19, 20. Mat. 7. 7.

Sixthly, I do give, grant to, and invest the Town of Mansoul, with full Power and Authority to seek out, take, enslave, and destroy all, and all manner of Diabolonians that at any time from whence soever shall be found straggling in, or about the Town of Mansoul.

Seventhly, I do further grant to my beloved Town of Mansoul, that they shall have Authority nor to suffer any Foreigner or Stranger, or their seed, to be free in, and of the blessed Town of Mansoul, nor to share in the excellent Privileges thereof. But that all the Grants, Privileges and Immunities that I bestow upon the famous Town of Mansoul, shall be for those the old natives, and true Inhabitants thereof, to them I say, and to their right Seed after them, Eph. 4. 22. Col. 3. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

But all Diabolonians of what sort, Birth, Country, or Kingdom, soever, shall be debarred a share therein.

So when the Town of Mansoul had received their gracious Charter, (which in it self is infinitely more large) they carried it to Audience, that is to the Market-place, and there Mr. Recorder read it in the presence of all the People, 2 Cor. 3. 3. Jer. 31. 33. Heb. 8. 10. This being done, it was had back to the Castle-gates, and there fairly engraven upon the Doors thereof, and laid in Letters of Gold, to the end that the Town of Mansoul, with all the People thereof, might have it always in their view, or might go where they might see what a blessed freedom their Prince had bestowed upon them, that their Joy might be increased in in themselves, and their love renewed to their great and good Emanuel.

But what joy ! what comfort ! what consolation hind you, did now possess the Hearts of the Men of Mansoul; the Bells rung, the Minstrels played, the People danced, the Captains shouted, the Colours waved in the Wind, and the Silver Trumpets sounded, and all the Diabolonians now were glad to hide their Heads.

When this was over, the Prince sent for the Elders of Mansoul, and confund them about a Ministry he intended to establish among them; such a Ministry that might open unto them, and instruct them in the things that did concern their present and future State.

For, said he, You of your selves, without you have Teachers and Guides, will not be able to know, and if not to know, to be sure not to do the Will of my Father, Jer. 10. 23. 1 Cor. 2. 14.

At this news when the Elders of Mansoul brought it to the People, the whole Towne am running together) for it pleased them well, as what ever the Prince now did, pleased the People) and all with one consent implored his Majesty that he would forthwith establish such a Ministry among them as might teach them both Law and Judgment, Statute and Commandment; that they might be documented in all good and wholesome things. So he told them they would grant their request; and would establish two among them, one that was of his Father's Court, and one that was a Native of Marsoul.

He that is from the Court, said he, is a Person of no less quality and dignity than my Father and I, 1. 2. Pet. 1. 21. 1 Cor. 2. 10. Job. 1. 1. Job 5. 7. And he is the Lord Chief Secretary of my Father's House, for he is, and always has been the chief Dictator of all my Father's Laws, a Person well skill'd in all Mysteries, and knowledge of Mysteries as is my Father, or as my self is. Indeed he is one with us in Nature, and also as to loving of, and being faithful to, and in the eternal eternal concerns of the Town of Mansoul.

And this is he, said the Prince, that must be your chief Teacher : For 't's he, and he only that can teach you clearly in all high and supernatural things. He and he only it is that knows the ways and methods of my Father's Court, nor can any like him shew how the heart of my Father is at all times, in all things, upon all occasions towards Mansoul, (for as no Man knows the things of a Man, but that Spirit of a Man which is in him, Job. 14. 26. Ch. 16. 13. 1 Job. 2. 27. So the things of my Father knows no Man but this his high and mighty Secretary. Nor can any (as he) tell Mansoul how and what they shall do to keep themselves in the love of my Father.) He also it is that can bring lost things to your remembrance, and that can tell you things to come: This Teacher therefore must of necessity have the preeminence (both in our affections and judgment (before your other Teacher ; his personal dignity, the excellency of his teaching, also the great dexterity that he hath to help you to make and draw up Petitions to my Father for your help, and to his pleasing, must lay Obligations upon you to Love him, fear him, and to take heed that you grieve him not., 1 Thes. 1. 5. 6.

This Person can put life and Vigour into all he says; yea, and can also put it into your Heart, Ads 21. 10, 11. This Person can make Seers of you, and can make you tell what shall be hereafter, Jud. v. 20. Eph. 6. 18. Rom. 8. 16. Rev. 2. 7, 11, 17, 29. Eph. 4. 30. Isa. 63. 10. By this Person you must frame all your Petitions to my Father and me ; and without his Advice and Council first obtain'd, let nothing enter into the Town or Castle of Mansoul, for that may disgust and grieve this noble Person.

Take heed, I say, that you do not grieve this Minister, for if you do, he may fight against you ; and should he once be moved by you, to set himself against you, against you in Battal Array, that will distress you more than if twelve Legions should from my Father's Court be sent to make War upon you.

But

But (as I said) if you shall hearken unto him, and shall love him : if you shall devote your selves to his teaching, and shall seek to have converse, and to maintain Communion with him, you shall find him Ten times better than is the whole World to any : 1 Cor. 13. 14. Rom. 5. 5. Yea, he will shed abroad the love of my Father in your Hearts, and Mansoul will be the wiest, and most blessed of all People.

Conscience made a Minister. Then did the Prince call unto him the Old Gentleman, who afore had been the Recorder of Mansoul, Mr. Conscience by Name, and to'd him, that forasmuch as he was well skilled in the Law and Government of the Town of Mansoul, and was also well spoken, and could pertinently deliver to them his Master's Will in all terrene and domestick Matters, therefore he would also make him a Minister for, in, and to the goodly town of Mansoul, in all the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of the famous Town of Mansoul. And thou must (said the Prince) confine thy self to the teaching of Moral Virtues, to Civil and Natural Duties, but thou must not attempt to presume to be a Revealer of those high and supernatural Mysteries that are kept close in the bosom of Shaddai my Father, for those things know no Man, nor can any reveal them but my Father's Secretary only.

Thou art a Native of the Town of Mansoul, but the Lord Secretary is a Native with my Father ; wherefore as thou hast knowledge of the Laws and Customs of the Corporation, so he of the things and will of my Father.

Wherefore, Oh ! Mr. Conscience, although I have made the Minister and a Preacher to the Town of Mansoul, yet as to the things which the Lord Secretary knoweth, and shall teach to this People, there thou must be his Scholar, and a Learner, even as the rest of Mansoul are.

Thou must therefore in all high and supernatural things, go to him for Information ; for though there be a Spirit in Man, this Person's inspiration must give him understanding, Job 33. 8. Wherefore, Oh ! thou Mr. Recorder, be humble, and remember that the abolitionists, abolonians, that kept not their first charge, but left their own standing, are now made Prisoners in the Pit; be therefore content with thy Station.

I have made thee my Father's Vicegerent on Earth, in such things of which I have His Power made mention before: And take thou power in Mansoul, er to teach them to Mansoul, yea, and to impose them with Whips and Chastisements, if they shall not willingly hearken to do thy Commandments.

And Mr. Recorder, because thou art old and feeble, therefore I give thee leave and license to go when thou wilt to my Fountain, my Conduit, and there to drink freely of the Blood of my Grape, for my Conduit doth always run Wine, Heb. 9. 14. Thus doing, thou shalt drive from thy Heart and Stomach, all foul, gross, and hurtful Humours. It will also lighten thine Eyes, and strengthen thy memory for the reception and keeping of all that the King's most noble Secretary teacheth.

When the Prince had thus put Mr. Recorder (that once so was) into the place and office of a Minister of Mansoul; and the Man had thankfully accepted thereof, then did Emanuel Address himself to the Townsmen themselves.

'Behold (said the Prince to Mansoul) The Prince's
'my love and care towards you, I have Speech to Man-
'added to all that is past, this mercy; to soul.
'appoint you Preachers, the most noble Secretary to 'teach you in all sublime Mysteries; and this Gentle'man (pointing to Mr. Conscience) is to teach you in 'all things human and domestick, for therein lyeth his 'work. He is not by what I have said, debarred of 'telling to Mansoul any thing that he hath heard from 'the Lord high Secretary; only he shall not attempt to 'presume to pretend to be a revealer of those high My'steries himself; for the breaking of them up, and the 'discovery of them to Mansoul lieth only in the pow'er, authority, and skill of the Lord High Secretary
'himself. Talk of them he may, and so 'may the rest of the Town of Mansoul as A Licence to 'occasion gives them opportunity, press Mansoul.

' them upon each other for the benefit of the whole.
 ' these things I would have you observe and do, for it ' is for your Life, and the lengthning of your Days.'
 ' And one thing more to my beloved Town of Mansoul ; you must not dwell in, nor stay upon any thing
 ' of that which he bath in Commission to teach you
 ' as to your trust and expectation of the next World ;
 ' (of the next World (I say) for I propose to give ano' ther to Mansoul, when this with them is worn out)
 ' but for that you must wholly and solely have recourse
 ' to, and make stay upon his Doctrine, that is your ' Teacher after the first order. Yea, Mr. Recorder him' self must not look for Life from that which he him' self revealeth; his dependance for that must be found' ed in the Doctrine of the other Preachers. Let Mr.
 ' Recorder also take heed that he receive not any Do' ctrine or Point of Doctrine, that is not communica' ted to him by his superior Teacher, nor yet within
 ' the Precincts of his own formal knowledge.

Now after the Prince had thus settled things in the famous Town of Mansoul, he proceeded to give the Elders of the Corporation a necessary caution, to wit,

He gives them caution about the Captains. how they should carry it to the noble Captaines that he had, from his Father's Court sent or brought with him to the famous Town of Mansoul. These Captains, said he, do love the Town of Mansoul, and they are Men pickt out of abundance, as Men that best suit, and that will most faithfully serve in the Wars of Sbaddai against the Diabolonians for the Preservation of the Town of Mansoul. I charge you therefore, said he, O ye Inhabitants of the now flourishing Town of Mansoul, that you carry it not un-towadly to my Captains or their Men ; since they are pickt and choice Men, Men chosen out of many, for the good of the Town of Mansoul. I say, I charge you that you carry it not untowardly to them ; for tho' they have the hearts and faces of Lions, when at any time they shall be called forth to engage and fight with the King's Foes, and the Enemies of the ' Town of Mansoul ; yet a little discountenance cast upon them from the Town of Mansoul, will deject and cast down their faces, will weaken and take away their courage. Do not therefore carry it unkindly to my valiant Captains, and courageous Men of War, but love them, nourish them, succour them, and lay them in your Bosoms, and they will not only fight for you, but cause to fly from you all those Diabolonians that seek, and will if possible, be your utter destruction.

' If therefore any of them should at any time be sick or weak, and so not able to perform that office of love, which with all their Hearts they are willing to do (and will do also when well and in health) Heb. 12. 12. Isa. 35. 3. Slight them not, nor despise them, but rather strengthen them, and encourage them, tho' weak and ready to dye, for they are your fence, and your guard, your wall your gates, your locks, and your bars, Rev. 3. 2. 1 Ihes. 5. 14. And altho' when they are weak they can do but little, but rather need to be helped by you, (then that you should then expect great things from them) yet when well, you know what Exploits, what Feats of Warlike Achievements they are able to do, and will perform for you.

' Besides, if they be weak, they Town of Mansoul, cannot be strong ; if they be strong, then Mansoul cannot be weak : your safety therefore doth lie in their health, and in your countenancing of them. Remember also, that if they be sick, they catch that Disease of the Town of Mansoul it self.

' These things I have said unto you, because I love your welfare, and your honour : Observe therefore, Oh my Mansoul, to be punctual in all things that I have given in charge unto you, and that not only as a Town corporate, and so to your Officers and Guard and Guides in chief, but to you as you are a People whose well-being, as single Persons, depends on the observation of the Orders and Commandments of their Lord. Next, Oh my Mansoul, I warn you of that,

A Caution about the Diabolonians that yet remain in Mansoul. of which, notwithstanding that Reformation that at present is wrought among you, you have need to be warn'd about ; wherefore hearken diligently unto me. I am now sure, and you will know hereafter, that there are yet some Diabolonians remaining in the Town of Mansoul ; Diabolonians that are sturdy and implacable, and that do already while I am with you, and that will yet more when I am from you, study, plot, contrive, invent, and jointly attempt to bring you to Desolation, and so to a state far worse than that of Egyptian Bondage ; they are the avowed Friends of Diabolus, therefore look about you, Mat. 7. 21, 22. They used heretofore to lodge with their Prince in the Castle, when Incredulity was Lord-Mayor of this Town, but since my coming hither they lie more in the out-sides and Walls, and have made themselves Dens, and Caves, and Holes, and strong Holds therein, Rom. 7. 18. Wherefore, Oh Mansoul ! thy work as to this, will be so much the more difficult and hard ; that is, to take, mortifie, and put them to Death, according to the Will of my Father. Nor can you utterly rid yourselves of them, unless you should pull down the Walls of your Town, the which I am by no means willing you should. Do you ask me, What shall we then do ? Why, be you diligent, and quit you like Men ; observe their Holds, find out their Hants, assault them, and make no Peace with them : Where ever they haunt, lurk, or abide, and what terms of Peace soever they offer you, abhor ; and all shall be well betwixt you and me. And that you may the better know them from those that are the Natives of Mansoul, I will give you this brief Schedule of the Names of the chief of 'em ; and they are these that follow : The

The Names of some of the Diabolonians in Mansoul. Lord Fornication, the Lord Adultery, the Lord Murder, the Lord Anger, the Lord Lasciviousness, the Lord Deceit, the Lord Evil-eye, Mr. Drunkenness, Mr. Revelling, Mr. Idolatry, Mr. Whitschraft, Mr. Variance, Mr. Emulation, Mr. Wrath, Mr. Strife, Mr. Sedition, and Mr. Heresie. These are some of the chief, O Mansoul ! of those that will seek to overthrow thee for ever : These I say are the Skulkers in Mansoul, but look well into the Law of thy King, and thou shalt find their Physiogmone, and such other characteristical notes of them, by which they may be known.

' These, O my Mansoul, (and I would gladly that you should certainly know it (if they be suffered to run and range about the Town as they would, would quickly, like Vipers, eat out your Bowels, yea Poyson your Captains, cut the sinews of your Soldiers, break the Bars and Bolts of your Gates, and turn your now most flourishing Mansoul, into a barren and desolate Wilderness, and ruinous heap. Wherefore that you may take courage to your selves to apprehend these Villains wherever you find them, I give to you my Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder, with all the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul, full power and commission to seek out, to take, and to cause to be put to death by the Cross, all manner of Diabolonians, wherever you shall find them lurk within, or without the Walls of the Town of Mansoul. I told you before that I had placed a standing Ministry among you, not that you have but these with you, for my four first Captains who came against the Master and Lord of the Diabolonians that was in Mansoul, they can, and (if need be) if they be required, will not only privately inform, but publickly preach to the Corporation, both good and wholesome Doctrine, Yea, they will set up a weekly, yea, if need be, a daily Lecture in thee, Oh Mansoul ! and will instruct the in such profitable Lessons, that if heeded, will do the good at the end. And take good heed than you spare not the Men that you have a Commission to take and Crucifie.

' Now as I have set out before your Eyes the Vagrants and Runagates by Name, so

A Caution.

' I will tell you, that among your selves some of them
 ' shall creep in to beguile you, even such as would ' seem, and that in appearance are very rife and ho
 ' for Religion. And they, if you watch not, will do ' you a mischief, such an one as you do not think of.
 ' These will shew themselves to you in an other hu
 ' than those under the discription before. Wherefore
 ' watch and be sober, and suffer not thy self to be betrayed.

When the Prince had thus far new modelled the Town of Mansoul, and had instructed them in such matters as were profitable for them to know; then he appointed another Day, in which he intended, when the

Another Priviledge in Mansoul. Townsfolk came together, to bestow further Badge of Honour upon the Town of Mansoul. A Badge that should distinguish them from all the People, Kindredes and Tongues, that dwell in the Kingdom of the niverse. Now it was not long before the Day appoint ed was come, and the Prince and his People met the King's Place, where first Emanuel made a short Speech unto them, and then did for them as he had said, and unto them as he had promised.

His Speech to Mansoul. My Mansoul, said he, that which I am about to do, is to make you known the World to be mine, and to distinguish also in your own Eyes, from all false Traitors that creep in among you.

Then he commanded that those that waited upon him should go and bring forth out of his Treasury those white glistering Robes, that I, said he, had provided and laid up in store for my Mansoul. So the white Garments were fetched and laid forth to the Eyes of the People, Rev. 19. 8. Moreover, it was granted to them that they should take them and them on. So the People were put into white, fine Linnen, white and clean.

Then said the Prince unto them. This, O Mansoul is my Liverie, and the Badge by which mine are known from the Servants of others. Yea, it is that which grant to all that are mine, and without which no Man is permitted to see my Face. Wear them therefore for my sake who gave them unto you ; and also if you would be known by the World to be mine.

But now ! can you think how Mansoul shone ? It was fair as the Sun, clear as the Moon, and terrible as an Army with Banners.

The Prince added further, and said, No Prince, Potentate, or mighty one of Universe, giveth this Livery but my self : Behold therefore, as I said before, you shall be known by it to be mine.

And now, said he, I have given you my Livery, let me give you also in commandments concerning them :

And be sure that you take good heed to my Words.

Firſt, Wear them daily, Day by Day, lest you should at some times appear to others, as if you were none of mine, Eccl. 9. 8.

Secondly, Keep them always white, for if they be soiled, 'tis Dishonour to me, Rev. 3. 2.

Thirdly, Wherfore gird them up from the ground, and let them not be soiled with dust or dirt.

Fourthly, Take heed that you lose them not, lest you walk naked and they see your shame.

Fifthly, But if you should ſully them, if you should defile them (the which I am greatly unwilling you ſhould, and the Prince Diabolus will be glad if you would) Rev. 7. 15. 16. 17. Then ſpeed to do that which is written in my Law that yet you may stand, and not fall before me, and before my Throne, Luke 21. 36. Also this is the way to cause that I may not leave you nor forsake you while here, but dwell in this Town of Mansoul for ever.

And now was Mansoul, and the Inhabitants of it as the Signet upon Emanuel's right Hand ; were there now a Town, a City a Corporation that could compare with Mansoul ! A Town redeem'd from the Hand, and from the Power of Diabolus ! A Town that the King Shaddai loved, and that he ſent Emanuel to regain from the Prince of the Infernal Cave ; yea, a Town that Emanuel loved to dwell in, and that he chose for his

ous State of

Royal Habitation; a Town that he fortified for himself, and made strong by the force of his Army. What shall I say! Mansoul has now a most excellent Prince with Golden Captains and Men of War, Weapons proved, and Garments as white as Snow. Nor are these Benefits to be counted little, but great; can Mansoul esteem them so, and improve them to that end and purpose for which they are bestowed upon them?

When the Prince had thus compleated the modeling of the Town, to shew that he had great delight in the Work of his hands, and took pleasure in the goodness that he had wrought for the famous and flourishing Mansoul, he commanded, and they set his Standard upon the Battlements of the Castle. And then,

First, He gave them frequent Visits, not a Day nor night but the Elders of Mansoul must come to him (or he to them) into his Palace, 2 Cor. 6. 16, Now they must walk and talk together of all the great things that he had done, and yet further promised to do for the Town of Mansoul. Thus would he often do with the Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and the honest subordinant Preacher Mr. Conscience, and Mr. Recorder. But Oh how graciously! how lovingly! how courteously! and tenderly did this blessed Prince carry it towards the Town of Mansoul! in all the Streets, Gardens, Orchards, and other places where he came, to be sure the Poor should have his Blessing and Benediction: Yea he would kiss them, and if they were ill, he would lay hands on them, and make them well. The Captains also he would daily, yea sometimes hourly, encourage with his Presence and goodly Words: For you must know that a smile from him upon them would put more Vigour, Life and Stoutness into them than any thing else under Heaven.

The Prince would now also feast them, and be with them continually; hardly a Week would pass but Banquet must be had betwixt him and them, 1 Cor. 3. You may remember that some Pages before, I made mention of one Feast that they had together, but now to Feast them was a thing more common every Day.

With Mansoul was a Feast-day now. Nor did he when they returned to their places, send them empty away, either they must have a Ring, a Gold-chain, a Bracelet, a white Stone, or something; so dear was Mansoul to him now, so lovely was Mansoul in his Eyes.
Secondly, Whenthe Elders and Townsmen did not come to him, he would send much plenty of provision unto them; Meat that came from Court, Wine and Bread that were prepared for his Father's Table: Yea such Delicates would he send unto them, and therewith would so cover their Table, that whoever saw it, confessed that the like could not be seen in any Kingdom.

A Token of Marriage.

A Token of Honour.

A Token of Beauty.

A Token of Pardon.

Thirdly, If Mansoul did not frequently visit him as he desired they should, he would walk out to them, knock at their Doors and desire entrance, that Amity might be maintained betwixt them and him; if they did hear and open to him, as commonly they would if they were at home, then would he renew his former Love, and confirm it to, with some new tokens, and Signs of continued Favour, Rev. 3. 20. Cant. 5. 2.

And was it not now amazing to behold, that in that very place where sometimes Diabolus had his Abode, and entertained his Diabolians, to the almost utterdestruction of Mansoul, the Prince of Princes should sit eating and drinking with them, while all his mighty Captains, Men of War, Trumpeters, with the Singing-Men and Singing Women of his Father, Mansoul's Glory. stood round about to wait upon them! Now did Mansoul's Cup run over, now did her Conduits run sweet Wine, now did she eat the finest of the Wheat, and drink Milk and Honey out of the Rock! Now she said, how great is his goodness! For since I found Favour in his Eyes, how honourable have I been!

The blessed Prince did also ordain a new Officer in the Town, Col. 3. 15. And a goodly Person he was, his Name was Mr. God'speare; this Man was set over my Lord Willbewill, my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, the Subordinate Preacher, Mr. Mind, and over all the Natives of the Town of Mansoul. Himself was not a Native of it, but came with the Prince Emanuel from the Court. He was a great acquaintance of Captain Credence, and Captain Goodhope; some say they were kin, and I am of that Opinion too, Rom. 15. 13. This Man as I said, was made Governour of the Town in general specially over the Castle, and Captain Credence was to help him there. And I made great Observations of it that so long as all things went in Mansoul as this sweet natured Gentlemen would, the Town was in most happy condition. Now there were no Jars, no Chidings, no Interferings, no unfaithful doings in all the Town of Mansoul; every Man in Mansoul kept close to his own Employment. The Gentry, the Officers, the Soldiers

Holy Concep- and all in place observed their order. And tions Good as for the Women and Children of the Thoughts. Town they followed their Business joyfully,

Good they would work and sing from Morning till Night; so that quite through the Town of Mansoul now nothing was to be found but Harmony, Quietness, joy and health. And this lasted all that Sum-

The Story of mer. But there was a Man in the Town Mr. Carnal- of Mansoul, and his Name was Mr. Car- Security. nal-Security, this Man did, after all this Mercy bestowed on this Corporation bring the Town of Mansoul into great and grievous Slavery and Bondage. A brief Account of him, and of his doings, take as followeth.

When Diabolus at first took Possession of the Town of Mansoul, he brought thither with himself, a great number of Diabolonians, Men of his own Conditions.

Now among these there was one whole Mr. Self-conceit. Name was Mr. Self-conceit, and a notable brisk Man he was, as any that in those Days did possess the Town of Mansoul. Diabolus then perceiving this Man to be active and bold, sent him upon many desperate Designs, the which he managed better, and more to the pleasure of his Lord, than most that came with him from the Dens could do. Wherefore find him so fit for his purpose, he preferred him, and made him next to the great Lord Willbewill, of whom we have spoke so much before. Now the Lord Willbewill being in those Days very well pleased with him, and with his Achievements, gave him his Daughter, the Lady Fear-nothing to Wife. Carnal Securities Original. Now of my Lady Fear-nothing did this Mr. Self-conceit beget this Gentleman Mr. Carnal Security. Wherfore there being then in Mansoul those strange kind of mixtures, 'twas hard for them in some cases, to find out who were Natives, who not; for Mr. Carnal-Security sprang from my Lord Willbewill by Mother's side, though he had for his Father a Diabolonian by nature.

Well, this Carnal Security took much after his Father and Mother, he was Self-conceited, he feared nothing, he was also a very busie Man; nothing of News, nothing of Doctrine, nothing of Alteration or talk of Alteration could at any time be on Foot in Mansoul, but be sure Mr. Carnal-Security would be at the Head or Tail of it: but to be sure he would decline those that he deemed the weakest, and stood always with them (in his way of standing) that he supposed was the strongest side.

Now when Shaddai the mighty, and Emanuel his Son, made War upon Mansoul to take it, this Mr. Carnal-Security was then in the Town, and was a great Doer among the People, encouraging them in their Rebellion, putting of them upon hardning of themselves in their resisting of the King's Forces; but when he saw that the Town of Mansoul was taken, and converted to the use of the glorious Prince Emanuel; and when he also saw what was become of Diabolus, and how he was unrooted, and made to quit the Castle in the greatest contempt and scorn, and that the Town of Mansoul was well lined with Captains, Engines of War, and Men, and also Provision, what doth he, but wheel about also; and as he had served Diabolus against the good Prince, so he feigned that he would serve the Prince against his Foes.

And having got some little smattering of Emanuel's things by the end (being bold) he ventures himself into the Company of the Townmen, and attempes also to chat among them. Now he knew that the Power and Strength of the Town of Mansoul was great, and that it could not but be pleasing to the People, if he cryed up their Might and their Glory. Wherefore he beganne was impregnable. Now magnifying their Captains, and their Slings, and their Rams, then crying up their Fortifications, and strong Holds ; and lastly, the Assurances that they had from their Prince, that Mansoul shoud be happy for ever. But when he saw that some of the Men of the Town were tickled and takeo with his Discourse, he makes it his Busines, and walking from Street to Street, House to House, and Man to Man, he brought also Mansoul to dance after his Pipe, and to grow almost as carnally secure as himself ; so soft in talking they went to Feasting, and from Feasting to Sporting ; and so to some other matters ; (now Emanuel was yet in the Town of Mansoul, and he wisely observed their doings.) my Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder, were also taken with the Words of this tatling Diabolonian Gentleman ; forgetting that their Prince had given them warning before, to take heed that they were not beguiled with any Diabolonian sleight ; he had further told them, that the security of the now flourishing Town of Mansoul did not so much lye in her present Fortifications and Force, as in her so using of what she had, as might oblige her Emanuel to abide within her castle. For the right Doctrine of Emanuel was, That the Town of Mansoul should take heed that they forget not his Father's Love and his ; also that they should so deam themselves as to continue to keep themselves therein. Now this was not the way to do it, namely to fall in Love with one of the Diabolonians, and with such an one too as Mr. Carnal-Security was, and to be led up and down by the Nose by him : they should have heard their Prince Prince, fear'd their Prince, loved their Prince, and have ston'd this Naughty pack to Death, and took care to have walked in the ways of their Prince's prescribing, for then should their Peace have been as a River, when their Righteousness had been like the Waves of the Sea.

Now when Emanuel perceived that through the Policy of Mr. Carnal Security, the Hearts of the Men of Mansoul were chill'd and abated in their practical Love to him:

First, he bemoans them, and condoles their State with the Secretary, saying, O that Emanuel my People bad bearkned unto me, and that Mansoul bad walked in my Ways ! I would have fed them with the finest of the Wheat, and with Honey out of the Rock would I have sustained them. This done, he said in his Heart, I will return to the Courts, and go to my place, till Mansoul shall consider and acknowledge their Offence. And he did so, and the cause and manner of his going away from them was thus;

The Cause was for that,

First, Mansoul delined him, as is manifest in these Particulars.

1. They left off their former way of visiting of him; they came not to his Royal Palace as afore.

2. They did not regard, nor yet take notice that he came, or came not to visit them.

3. The Love-feasts that bad worn to be between their Prince and them, though be made them still, and called them to them, yet they neglected to come at them, or so be delighted with them.

4. They waited not for his Councils, but began to be head-strong and confident in themselves, concluding that now they were strong and invincible, and that Mansoul was secure, and beyond all reach of the Foe, and that her State must needs be unalterable for ever.

Now, as was said, Emanuel perceiving that by the craft of Mr. Carnal-Security the Town of Mansoul was taken off from their dependance upon him, and upon his Father by him, and set upon what by them was be-flowed.

stowed upon it : He first, as I said, bemoan'd their state; then he used means to make them understand that the way they went on in, was dangerous. For he sent my Lord High Secretary to them, to forbid them such ways; but twice when he came to them, he found them at Dinner in Mr. Carnal-Security's Parlour, and

They grieve preceiving also that they were not willing to reason about matters concerning the Holy Ghost and Christ. their good, he took grief and went his way. The which when he had told to the Prince Emanuel, he was grieved also, and return'd to his Father's Court.

Now the methods of his withdrawing, as I was saying before, were thus.

Christ withdraws not all at once. 1. Even while he was yet with them in Mansoul, he kept himself close, and more retired than formerly.

2. His Speech was not now, if he came in their Company, so pleasant and familiar as formerly.

3. Nor did he, as in times past, send to Mansoul from his Table, those Dainty Bits which he was wont to do

4. Nor when they came to visit him, as now and then they would, would he be so easily spoken with, as they found him in times past. They might now knock once, yea twice, but he would seem not at all to regard them; whereas formerly he would run, and meet them half way, and take them too, and lay them in his Bosom.

The working of their Affections. But thus Emanuel carried it now, and by this his carriage he sought to make them bethink themselves and return to him. But alas! they did not consider, they did not know his ways, they regarded not, they were not touched with these, nor with the true remembrance of former favours, Ezek. 11. 21. Hos. 5. 15. Lev. 26. 21, 22. 23, 24. Wherefore what does he but in private manner withdraw himself, first from his Palace, then to the Gate of the Town, and so away from Mansoul he goes, till they should acknowledge their Offence, and more earnestly seek his Face. Mr. God's peace also laid down his Commission, and would v^r the present act no longer.

Thus

Thus they walked contrary to him and he again by way of retaliation, walked contrary to them. - Jer. 2. 32. But alas! by this time they were so hardened in their way, and had so drunk in the Doctrine of Mr. Carnal-Security, that the departing of their Prince touched them not, nor was he remembred by them when gone; and so of consequence his absence was not condoled by them.

Now there was a day wherein this old Gentleman Mr. Carnal-Security did again make a Feast for the Town of Mansoul, and there was at that time in the Town one Mr. Godlyfear, one now but little set by, though formerly one of great request. This Man Old Carnal Security had a mind, if possible, to Gull and abuse as he did the rest, and therefore he now bids him to the Feast with his Neighbours. So the Day being come they prepare, and he goes and appears with the rest of the Guests; and being all set at the Table, they did eat and drink, and were merry, even all but this one Man: For Mr. Godlyfear sat like a Stranger, and did neither eat, nor was merry, which when Mr. Carnal Security preceived, he address'd himself, in a Speech thus to him.

Mr. Godlyfear, Are you not well? You seem to be of ill Body, or Mind, or both. I have a Cordial of Mr. Forget good's making, which, Sir, if you will take, I hope it may make you bonny and blith, and so make you more fit for we feasting Companions.

Unto whom the good old Gentleman discreetly replied: Sir, I thank you for all things courteous and civil, but for your Cordial I have no list thereto. But a word to the Natives of Mansoul: You the Elders and Chief of Mansoul, to me it is strange to see you so jocund and merry, when the Town of Mansoul is in such woful case.

Then said Mr. Carnal-Security, You want Sleep, good Sir, I doubt. If you please lie down and take a Nap, and we the mean while will be merry.

Their

A Trick put upon Mr. Godly fear, he goes to the Feast, and sits there like a Stranger.

Then said Mr. Godlyfear as follows : Sir, if you were not destitute of an honest Heart, you could not do as you have done, and do.

Then said Mr. Carnal Security, Why?

Godly. Nay pray interrupt me not. 'Tis true, the Town of Mansoul was strong, and (with a proviso) impregnable ; but you have weakned it, and it now lies obnoxious to its Foes ; nor is it a time to be silent ; 'tis you, Mr. Carnal Security, that have stripped Mansoul, and driven her Glory from her ; you have pulled down her Towers, you have broken down her Gates, you have spoiled her Locks and Bars.

And now to explain my self : From that time that my Lords of Mansoul, and you, Sir, grew so great, from that time the strength of Mansoul has been offended, and now he is risen and is gone. If any shall question the truth of my Words, I will answer him by this, and such like Questions : Where is the Prince Emanuel ? When did a Man or Woman in Mansoul see him ? When did you hear from him, or taste any of his dainty Bits ? You are now a feasting with this Diabolonian Monster, but he is not your Prince ; I say therefore, though Enemies from without, bad you taken heed, could not have made a prey of you, yet since you have sinned against your Prince, your Enemies within have been too hard for you.

Then said Mr. Carnal Security, Fie ! Fie ! Mr. Godlyfear, Fie ! Will you never shake off your timorousness ? Are you afraid of being Sparrow-blasted ? Who hath hurt you ? Behold I am on your side, only you are for doubting, and I am for being Confident. Besides, is this a time to be sad in ? A Feast is made for mirth ; why then do you now, to your shame, and our trouble, break out into such passionate melancholy Language, when you should eat and drink, and be merry ?

Then said Mr. Godlyfear again, I may well be sad, for Emanuel is gone from Mansoul : I say again he is gone, and you Sir, are the Man that has driv'n him away ; yet, he is gone without so much as acquainting the Nobles of Mansoul with his going and if that is not a sign of his Anger, I am not acquainted with the methods of Godliness.

And now my Lords and Gentlemen, for my Speech is still to you, you gradually declining from him, did provoke him to depart from you, the which he did gradually if perhaps you would have been made sensible thereby, and have been renewed by bumbling of your selves; but when he saw that none would regard, nor lay these fearful beginnings of his Anger and Judgment to Heart, he went away from this place, and this I saw with mine Eyes. Wherefore now while you boast, your strength is gone, you are like the Man that had lost his Locks that before did wave about his Shoulders. You may with this Lord of your Feast shake your selves, and conclude to do as at other times; but since without him you can do nothing, and he is departed from you, turn your feast into a sigh, and your mirth into lamentation.

Then the Subordinate Preacher, old Mr. Conscience by Name, he that of old was Conscience Recorder of Mansoul, being startled at what was said, began to second it thus:

Conf. Indeed, my Brethren, quoth he, I fear that Mr. Godlyfear tells us true: I for my part, have not seen my Prince a long season. I cannot remember the Day, for my part. Nor can I answer Mr. Godlyfear's Question. I am afraid that all is naught with Mansoul.

Godly. Nay, I know that you will not find him in Mansoul, for he is departed and gone, yea, and gone for the Faults of the Elders, and for that they rewarded his Grace with unsufferable Unkindnesses.

Then did the Subordinate Preacher look as if he would fall down dead at the Table, also all there present, except the Man of the House, began to look pale and wan. But having a little recovered themselves, and jointly agreeing to believe Mr. Godlyfear and his Sayings, they began to consult what was best to be done (now Mr. Carnal Security curity was gone into his withdrawing Room; for he liked not such dumpish doings) both to the Man of the House, for drawing them into evil, and also to recover Emanuel's Love.

And with that, the saying of their Prince came very hot into their Minds, which he had bidden them do to such as were false Prophets that should arise to delude the Town of Mansoul. So they took Mr. Carnal Security, (concluding that he must be he)

They consult and burn their Feast-maker. and burning his House upon him with fire, for he also was a Diabolonian by nature.

So when this was past and over, they bespeed themselves to look for Emanuel their Prince, Cant. 5. 6. And they sought him but they found him not ; then were they more confirmed in the truth of Mr. Godlyfear's Sayings, and began also severely to reflect upon themselves for their vile and ungodlydoings, for they concluded now that their Prince had left them.

Then they agreed and went to my Lord Secretary, (him whom before they refused to hear, him whom they had grieved with their doings) to know of him, for he was a Seer and could tell where Emanuel was, and how they might direct a Petition to him. But the Lord Secretary would not admit them to a Conference about this matter, nor would admit them to his Royal Palace, nor come out to them, Isa. 63. 10. Epb. 4. 30. 1 Thess. 5. 19.

They apply themselves to the Holy Ghost but he is grieved, &c.
And now was it a Day gloomy and dark, a Day of clouds and of thick darkness with Mansoul. Now they saw that they had been foolish, and began to perceive what the company and prattle of Mr. Carnal Security had done, and what desperate Damage his swaggering Words had brought poor Mansoul into. But what further it was like to cost them, that they were ignorant of. Now Mr. Godlyfear began again to be in repute with the Men of the Town ; yea, they were ready to look upon him as a Prophet.

A Thendring Sermon, Well, when the Sabbath-day was come, they went to hear their Subordinate Preacher, Preacher, but oh how did it thunder and lighted this Day ! His Text was that in the Prophet Jonah, They that observe lying vanities, forsake their own Mercies, Jonah 2. 8. But there was then such power and authority in that Sermon, and such a dejection seen in the Countenances of the People that day, that the like hath seldom been heard or seen. The People, when Sermon was done, were scarce able to go to their Homes, or to betake themselves to their Impleys the week after ; they were so Sermon-smitten, and also so Sermon sick, that they knew not what to do, Hos. 6. 13.

He did not only shew Mansoul their Sin, but did tremble before them, under the sense of his own, still crying out of himself as he preached to 'em, Unhappy Man that I am ! that I should do so wicked a thing ! That I ! a Preacher ! whom the Prince did set up to teach to

The Subordinate Preacher doth acknowledge his fault, and bewails his Compliance with Mr. Carnal Security.

Mansoul his Law, should my self live senseless and sottishly here, and be one of the first found in Transgression This Transgression also tell within my Precincts, I should have cried out against the Wickedness, but I let Mansoul lie wallowing in it, until it had driven Emanuel from its Borders. With these things he also charged all the Lords and Gentry of Mansoul, to the almost distracting of them, Psal. 88.

About this time also there was a great Sickness in the Town of Mansoul, and most A great Sickness in Mansoul. of the Inhabitants were greatly afflicted.

Yea, the Captains also, and Men of War, were brought thereby to a languishing condition, and that for a long time together ; so that in case of an Invasion, nothing could to purpose now have been done, either by the Townsmen or Field Officers, Heb. 12. 12, 13. Rev. 3. 2. Isa. 3. 24. Oh how many pale Faces, weak Hands, feeble Knees, and staggering Men were now seen to walk the Streets of Mansoul ! Here were Groans, there Pants, and yonder lay those that were ready to faint.

The Garments too, which Emanuel had given them, were were but in a sorry case ; some were rent, some were torn, and all in a nasty condition ; some also did hang so loosely upon them, that the next Bush they came at was ready to pluck them off.

After some time spent in this sad and desolate condition, the Subordinate Preacher called for a Day of Fasting, and to humble themselves for being so wicked against the great shaddai and his Son : And he desired that Captain Boanerges would Preach. So he consented to do it, and the Day was come, and his Text was this, Cut it down, why cumbereth it the Ground? And a very smart Sermon he made upon the Text. First, he shewed what was the occasion of the Words, to wit, because the Fig-tree was barren ; then he shewed what was contained in the Sentence, to wit, Repentance, or utter Desolation. He then shewed also by whose Authority this Sentence was pronounced, and that was by Shaddai himself. And lastly, he shewed the Reasons of the Point, and then concluded his Sermon. But he was very pertinent in the application, insomuch that he made poor Mansoul tremble : For this Sermon, as well as the former, wrought much upon the Hearts of the Men of Mansoul ; yea it greatly helped to keep awake those that were rouzed by the Preaching that went before. So that now throughout the whole Town there was little or nothing to be heard or seen, but Sorrow and Mourning, and Woe :

Now after Sermon they got together and consulted what was best to be done.

But said the Subordinate Preacher, I will do nothing of mine own Head, without advising with my Neighbour Mr. Godlyfear.

For if he had afore, and understood more of the mind of our Prince than we, I do not know but he also may have it now, even now we are turning again to Vertue. So they call'd and sent for Mr. Godlyfear, and he forthwith appeared ; then they desired that he would further shew his Opinion about what they had best to do. Then said the old Gentleman as followeth, It is my Opinion

Opinion that this Town of Mansoul should in this Day of her Distress, draw up and send an humble Petition to their offended Mr. Godlysear's Advice.

Prince Emanuel, that be in his Favour and Grace, will turn again unto you, and not keep his Anger for ever.

When the Townsmen had heard this Speech, they did with one consent agree to his advice; so they did presently draw up their request, and the next was, But who shall carry it? At last they did all agree to send it by my Lord Mayor. So he accepted of the Service, and addressed himself to his Journey; and went and came to the Court of Shaddai, whither Emanuel the Prince of Mansoul was gone, Lam. 3. 8, 44. But the Gate was shut, and a strict Watch kept thereat, so that the Petitioner was forced to stand without for a great while together. Then he desired that some would go in to the Prince, and tell him who stood at the Gate, and what his business was. So one went and told Shaddai and Emanuel his Son, that the Lord Mayor of the Town of Mansoul, stood without at the Gate of the King's Court, desiring to be admitted into the Presence of the Prince, the King's Son. He also told the Lord-Mayor's Errand, both to the King and his Son Emanuel. But the Prince would not come down, nor admit that the Gate should be opened, but sent an Answer to this effect, Jer. 2. 27, 28. They have turned the back unto me, and not their face, but now in the time of their trouble they say to me, Arise and save us. But can they not now go to Mr. Carnal Security, to whom they went when they turned from me, and make him their Leader, their Lord, and their Protection? Why now in their trouble do they visit me, since in their Prosperity they went astray?

This answer made my Lord-Mayor look black in the face; it troubled, it perplexed, it rent him sore, Lam. 4. 7, 8. And now he began again to see what it was to be familiar with Diabolonians, such as Mr. Carnal Security was. When he saw that at Court (as yet) there was little help to be expected, either for himself, or Friends

The Holy War,

The Lord-Mayer returns, and how. Friends in Mansoul; he smote upon his Breast, and returned weeping, and all the way bewailing the lamentable State of Mansoul.

Well, when he was come within sight of the Town, the Elders and chief of the People of Mansoul, went out at the Gate to meet him, and to salute him, and to know how he sped at Court. But he told them his tale in so doleful a manner, that they all cried out, and mourned, and wept. Wherefore they threw ashes and dust upon their heads, and put sackcloth upon their loins, and went crying out through the Town of Mansoul; which when the rest of the Townsfolk saw, they all mourned and wept. This therefore was a Day of rebuke and trouble, and of anguish to the Town of Mansoul, and also of great Distress.

After some time, when they had somewhat refrain'd themselves, they came together to consult again, what was yet to be done, and they asked advice, as they did before, of that Reverend Mr. Godlyfear, who told them, that there was no way better than to do as they had done, nor would he that they should be discouraged at all with that they had met with at Court; yea, tho' several of their Petitions should be answered with nought but silence or rebuke: For said he, it is the way of the wise Shaddai, to make Men wait, and to exercise patience, and it should be the way of them in want, to be willing to stay his leisure.

See now what's the Work of a backsliding Saint awakened.

Groaning desires.

Then they took courage, and sent again, and again, and again, and again; for there was not one Day, nor an Hour that went over Mansoul's Head, wherein a Man might not have met upon the Road one or other riding Post from Mansoul to the Court of King Shaddai; and all with Letters petitionary in behalf of (and for the Prince's return to) Mansoul.

The Road, I say, was now full of Messengers, going and returning, and meeting one another; some from the Court, and some from Mansoul, and this was the work of the miserable Town of Mansoul, all that, long, that sharp, that cold and tedious Winter.

Now if you have not forgot, you may yet remember that I told you before, that after A Memento Emanuel had taken Mansoul, yea, and after that he had new modelled the Town, there remained in several lurking Places of the Corporation, many of the old Diabolonians, that either came with the Tyrant, when he invaded and took the Town; or that had thereby reason of unlawful mixtures, their birth, and breeding, and bringing up. And their Holes, Dens and lurking Places were in, under, or about the Wall of the Town. Some of their Names are the Lord Fornication, the Lord A-dultery, the Lord Murder, the Lord Anger, the Lord Lasciviousness, the Lord Deceit, the Lord Evil eye, the Lord Blasphemy, and that horrible Villain the old and dangerous Lord Covetousness. These with many more, had yet their above in the Town of Mansoul, and that after Emanuel had driven Diabolus out of the Castle.

Against these the good Prince did grant a Commission to the Lord Willbewill and others, yea, to the whole Town of Mansoul to seek, take, secure and destroy any, or all that they could lay hands of; for that they were Diabolonians by Nature, Enemies to the Prince, and those that sought to ruin the blessed Town of Mansoul. But Mansoul did not pursue this Warrant, but neglected to apprehend, secure, and destroy these Diabolonians. Wherefore what do these Villains, but by degrees take courage to shew themselves to the Inhabitants of the Town. Yea, and as I wastold, some of the Men of Mansoul grew too familiar with some of 'em, to the sorrow of the Corporation, as you will hear more of in time and place.

Well, when the Diabolonian Lords perceived that Mansoul had through Sinning offended Emanuel their Prince, and that he had withdrawn himself and was gone, what do they but Plot the ruin of the Town of Mansoul. So they Mansoul heed-ed not the Prince's Cau-tion, nor put his Commission into Execution.

The Diabolonians Plot.

met together at the hold of one Mr. Mischief's, who also was a Diabolonian, and there consulted how they might deliver up Mansoul into the Hands of Diabolus again. Now some advised one way, and some another, every Man according to his own liking. At last my Lord Lasciviousness propounded some of those that were Diabolonians in Mansoul, to offer themselves for Servants to some of the Natives of the Town; for said he, if they do so, and Mansoul shall accept of them, they may for us, and for Diabolus our Lord, make the taking of the Town of Mansoul more easie than otherwise it would be. But then stood up the Lord Murder, and said, This may not be done at this time, for Mansoul is now in a kind of Rage, because by our Friend Mr. Carnal Security, she hath been once ensnared already, and made to offend against her Prince, and how shall she reconcile her self unto her Lord again, but by the Heads of these Men? Besides, we know that they have in Commission to take and slay us wherever they shall find us; let us therefore be wise as Foxes; when we are Dead, we can do them no hurt, but while we live we may. Thus when they had tossed the matter to and fro, they jointly agreed that a Letter should

They send to Hell for Advice. forthwith be sent away to Diabolus in their Name, by which the state of the Town of Mansoul should be shewed him, and how much it is under the frowns of their Prince; we may also, said some, let him know our intentions, and ask his Advice in the Case. So a Letter was presently framed, the contents of which was this,

To our great Lord, the Prince Diabolus, dwelling below in the Infernal Cave.

O Great Father, and mighty Prince Diabolus, we the true Diabolonians, yet remaining in the Rebellious Town of Mansoul, having received our Beings from thee, and our Nourishment at thy Hands, cannot with content and quiet endure to behold, as we do this Day, how thou art dispraised, disgraced, and reproached among the Inhabitants of this Town; nor is thy long absence sence at all delightful to us, because greatly to our detriment.

The reason of this our writing unto our Lord is that we are not altogether without hope that this Town may become thy Habitation again ; for it is greatly declined from its Prince Emanuel, and he is departed from them ; yes, and though they send, and send, and send after him, to return to them, yet can they not prevail, nor get good Words from him.

There has been also of late, and is yet remaining a very great sickness and faintings among them, and that not only upon the poorer sort of the Town, but upon the Lords, Captains, and chief Gentry of the Place (we only who are Diabolonians by nature remain well, lively and strong) so that through their great transgression on one hand, and their dangerous sickness on the other, we judge they lye open to thy Hand and Power. If therefore it shall stand with thy horrible cunning, and with the cunning with the rest of the Princes with thee, to come and make an attemp to take Mansoul again, send us word, and we shall to our utmost power be ready to deliver it into thy Hand. Or if what we have said, shall not be brought best, and meet to be most done, send us thy mind in a few Words, and we are all ready to follow thy counse, to the hazard of our lives, and what else we have.

Given under our Hands the Day and Date above written, after a close consultation of the House of Mr. Mischief, who yet is alive, and habbis place in our desirable Town of Mansoul.

When Mr. Profane (for he was the Carrier) was come with this Letter to Hellgate hill, he knocked at the Gate for entrance. Then did Cerberus the Porter, for he is the Keeper of that Gate, open to Mr. Profane, to whom he deliver'd his Letter which he had brought from the Diabolonians in Mansoul. So he carried it in, and presented it to Diabolus his Lord, and said Tidings my Lord, from Mansoul ; and from our trusty Friends in Mansoul.

Mr. Prophane is Carrier, he brings the Letter to Hellgatichill, and presentsit toCerberus the Porter.

Then came together Belzebub, Lucifer, Apollyon with the rest of the Rabble there, to hear what News from Mansoul. So the Letter was read, and Cerberus stood by. When the Letter was openly read, and the Contents thereof spread into all the Corners of the Den, command was given, that without let or stop, Dead-man's bell should be rung for joy. So the Bell was rung, and the Princes rejoiced it went.

Now the Clapper of the Bell went, The Town of Mansoul is coming to dwell with us, make room for Mansoul. This Bell therefore they did ring, because they did hope that they should have Mansoul again.

Now when they had performed this their horrible Ceremony, they got together again, to consult what answer to send to their Friends in Mansoul, and some advised one thing, and some another, but at length, because the busines required haste, they left the whole busines to Diabolus, judging him the most proper Lord of the place. So he drew up a Letter in answer to what Mr. Profane had brought, and sent it to the Diabolonians in Mansoul, by the same Hand that brought theirs to him: And this was the Contents thereof.

To our Offspring the high and mighty Diabolonians, that yet dwell in the Town of Mansoul, Diabolus the great Prince of Mansoul, wisheth a prosperous issue and conclusion of those many brave Enterprizes, Conspiracies and Designes, that you of your love and respect to our Honour, have in your Hearts to attempt to do against Mansoul.

Beloved Children and Disciples, my Lord Fornication, Adultery, and the rest, we have here in our desolate Den received to our bigbest Joy and Content, your welcome Letter by the Hand of our trusty Mr. Profane, and to shew how acceptable your Tidings were, we rang our our Bell for gladness; for we rejoiced as much as we could, when we perceived that yet we had Friends in in Mansoul, and such as sought our Honour and Revenge in the ruin of the Town of Mansoul. We also rejoiced to hear that they are in a degenerated condition, and that they have offended their Prince, and that he is gone. Their Sickness also pleaseith us, as does also your Health Might, and Strength. Glad also would we be, right horribly beloved, could we get this Town into our Clutches again. Nor will we be sparing of spending our Wit, our Cunning, our Craft, and Hellish Inventions to bring to a wished Conclusion, this your brave Beginning in order thereto.

And take this for your Comfort, (our Birth, and our offspring) that shall we again surprize it and take it, we will attempt to put all your Foes to the Sword, and will make you the great Lords and Captains of the Place. Nor need you fear (if ever we get it again) that we after that shall be cast out any more; for we will come with more strength, and so lay far more fast hold than at the first we did. Besides, it is the Law of that Prince that now they own, that if we get them a second time, they shall be ours for ever, Mat. 12. 43, 44, 45.

Do you therefore, our trusty Diabolonians, yet more pry into, and endeavour to spie out the Weakness of the Town of Mansoul. We also would that you your selves do attempt to weaken them more and more. Send us word also by what means we had best to attempt the regaining thereof, to wit, whether by Perswasion to a vain and loose Life; or, whether by tempting them to doubts and despair; or, whether by blowing up of the Town by the Gun powder of Pride and Self conceit. Do you also, O ye brave Diabolonians, and true Sons of the Pit, be always in a readiness to make a most hideous Assault within, when we shall be ready to storm it without. Now speed you in your project, and we in our desires, the utmost Power of our Gates, which is the Wish of your great Diabolus Mansoul's Enemy, and bid him that trembles when he thinks of Judgment to come; all the Blessings of the Pit be upon you, and so we close up our Letter.

Given at the Pits Mouth by the joint Consens of all the

The Princes of Darkness, to be sent (to the force and power that we have yet remaining in Mansoul) by the Hand of Mr. Profane.

By me Diabolus,

This Letter was sent to Mansoul to the Diabolonians that yet remained there, and that yet inhabited the Wall, from the dark Dungeon of Diabolus, by the hand of Mr. Profane, by whom they also in Mansoul sent theirs to the Pit. Now when this Mr. Profane had made his return, and was come to Mansoul again, he went and came as he was wont, to the House of Mr. Mischief, for there was the place where the Contrivers were met. Now when they saw that their Messenger was returned safe and sound, they were greatly gladded thereat. Then he presented 'em his Letter, which when they had read and considered, did much augment their gladness. They asked him after the welfare of their Friends, as how their Lord Diabolus, Lucifer, and Beelzebub did, with the rest of those of the Den. To which this Profane made answer, Well, well, my Lords, they are well, even as well as can be in their place. They also, said he, did ring for joy at reading of your Letter, as you will perceive by this when you read it.

Now, as was said, when they had read their Letter, and perceived that it encouraged them in their work, they fell to their way of contriving again, to wit, how they might compleat their design upon Mansoul. And the first thing that they agreed upon, was to keep all things from Mansoul as close as they could. Let it not be known, let not Mansoul be acquainted with what we design against it. The next thing was, how, or by what means they should try to bring to pass the ruin and overthrow of Mansoul, and one said after this manner, and another said after that. Then stood up Mr. Deceit, and said, My right Diabolonian Friends, our Lords, and the high ones of the deep Dungeon do propound unto us these three ways.

¶ Whether

1. Whether we had best to seek its ruin by making of Mansoul loose and vain.
2. Or whether by driving them to doubt and despair.
3. Or whether by endeavouring to blow them up by the Gun-power of Pride and Self-conceit.

Now I think if we shall tempt them to Pride that may do something ; and if we tempt them to Wantonness, that may help. But in my mind, if we could drive them into Desperation, that would knock the Nail on the Head ; for then we should have them in the first place, question the truth of the love of the heart of their Prince towards them, and that will disquiet him much. This if it works well, will make them leave off quickly their way of sending Petitions to him ; then farewell earnest solicitations for help and supply ; for then this conclusion lies naturally before them, As good do nothing, as to do to no purpose. So to Mr. Deceit they unanimously did consent.

Then the next question was, but how shall we do bring this our Project to pass ? And 'twas answered by the same Gentleman, that this might be the best way to do it ; even let quoth he, so many of our Friends as are willing to venture themselves for the promoting of their Prince's Cause disguise themselves with apparel, change their Names, and go into the Market like far Country Men, and proffer themselves or Servants to the famous Town of Mansoul, and let them pretend to do for their Masters as beneficially as may be ; for by so doing they may, if Mansoul shall like them, in little time so corrupt and defile the Corporation, that her now Prince shall be not only further offended with them, but in conclusion shall spew them out of his Mouth. And when this is done our Prince Diabolus shall prey upon them with ease : Yea, of themselves they shall fall into the mowib of the eater.

This project was no sooner propounded, but was as readily accepted, and forward were all Diabolonians now to engage in the Enterprise; but it was thought that all should do thus; wherefore they pitched upon two or three, namely, the Lord Covetousness, the Lord Lastiviousness, and the Lord Anger: The Lord Covetousness, called himself by the Name of Prudent-thrift; the Lord Lastiviousness called himself by the Name of Harmless-mirth; and the Lord Anger called himself by the Name of Good zeal.

So upon a Market-day they came into the Market-place, three lusty Fell'ws they were to look on, and they were cloathed in Sheeps ruffet, which was also now in a manner as white as were the white Robes of the Men of Mansoul. Now the Men could speak the Language of Mansoul well. So when they were come into the Market-place, and had offered themselves to the Townsmen, they were presently taken up, for they asked but little Wages, and promised to do their Masters great Service.

Mr. Mind hired Prudent-thrift, and Mr. Godlyfe hired Good zeal. True, this Fellow Harmless-mirth did hang a little in Hand and could not so soon get Master as the others did, because the Town of Mansoul was now in Lens, but after a while, because Lens was almost out, the Lord Willbewill hired Harmless-mirth to be both his waiting Man and his Lacquey and thus they got them Masters.

These Villians now being got into the Houses of the Men of Mansoul, quickly began to do great mischief therein; for being filthy, arch, and fly, they quickly corrupted the Families were they were; yea they tainted their Masters much, especially this Prudent-thrift, and him they called Harmless mirth. True, he that went under the Vizor of Good zeal was not so well liked of by his Master, for he quickly found that he was but a counterfeit Rascal; which when the Fellow perceived, with speed he made his escape from the House or I doubt not but his Master had Hanged him.

Well, when these Vagabonds had thus far carried on their design, and corrupted the Town as much as they could, in the next place they considered with themselves, at what time their Prince Diabolus, without any themselves within the Town, should make an attempt to seize upon Mansoul; and they all agreed upon this that a Market-day would be best for that work; for why? Then will the Townsfolk be busie in their ways: And always take this for a Rule, When People are most busie in the World, abey least fear a surprize. We also then, said they, shall be able with less suspicion to gather our selves together for the work of our Friends, and Lords; yea, and in such a Day if we shall attempt our Work, and miss it, we may when they shall give us the rout, the better hide our selves in the croud, and escape.

These things being thus far agreed upon by them, they wrote another Letter to Diabolus, and sent it by the hand of Mr. Prophane, the Contents of which was this.

The Lords of Loosness send to the great and high Diabolus from our Dens, Caves, Holes, and Strong Holds, in, and about the Wall of the Town of Mansoul, Greeting.

OUR great Lord, and the nourisher of our Lives, Diabolus; how glad we were when we heard of your Fatherhood's readiness to comply with us, and help forward our Design in our attempts to ruin Mansoul: none can tell but those, who as we do, set themselves against all appearance of good when and wheresoever we find it, Rom. 7. 21. Gal. 5. 17.

Touching the encouragement that your Greatness is pleased to give us to continue to devise, contrive, and study the utter desolation of Mansoul, that we are not solicitous about, for we know right well that it cannot but be pleasing and profitable to us, to see our Enemies, and them that seek our Lives, to die at our feet, or fly before us. We therefore are still contriving, and that is the best of our cunning, to make this Work most facile and easy to your Lordships, and to us.

First, we considered of that most bellishly, cunning compacted three-fold Project, that by you was propounded to us in our last; and have concluded that though to blow them up with the Gun-powder of Pride would do well, and so do it by tempting them to be loose and vain, will be p^t on, yet to contrive to bring them into the Gulf of Desperation, we think will do best of all. Now we who are at your Beck, have brought of two ways to do this: First, we for our parts will make them as vile as we can, and then you with us, at a time appointed, shall be ready to fall upon them with the utmost force. And of all the Nations that are at your Whistle, we think that an Army of Doubters may be the most likely to attack and overcome the Town of Mansoul. Thus shall we overcome these enemies, else the Pit shall open his Mouth upon them, and Desperation shall thrust them down into it. We have also, to effect this so much by a desired design, sent already three of our trusty Diabolians among them, they are disguised in Garb, they have changed their Names, and are now accepted of them, wit, Covetousness, Lasciviousness, and Anger. The Name of Covetousness is changed to Prudent-thirsty and him Mr. Mind has hired, and is almost become as bad as our Friend. Lasciviousness has changed his Name to Harmless-mirth, and he is got to be the Lord Willbewell's Lacquey, but he has made his Master very warrion. Anger changed his Name into Good zeal, and was entertained by Mr. Godlyfear, but the peevish Gentleman took Pepper in the Nose, and turned out Companion out of his House: Nay, he has informed since, that he ran away from him, or else his old Master had banged him for his labour.

Now these have much helped forward our Work and Design upon Mansoul; for notwithstanding the spite and quarrelsome Temper of the old Gentleman last mentioned, the other two ply their busines well, and are like to ripen the Work apace.

Our next project is, that it be concluded that you come upon the Town upon a Market-day, and that when they are upon the beat of their business; for then we are sure they will be most secure, and least think that an assault will be made upon them. They will also at such time be less able to defend themselves, and to offend you in the prosecution of our Design. And we your true (and we are sure your beloved) ones, shall when make your furious Assault without, be ready to second the busines within. So shall we in all like hood be able to put Manteoul to utter Confusion, and swallow them up before they can come to themselves. If your Serpent Heads, most subtle Dragons, and our bigg'y esteem'd Lords, can find out a better way than this, let us quick'y know your minds.

To the Monsters of the Infernal Cave, from the House of Mr. Mischief in Mansoul, by the hand of Mr. Profane.

Now all the while that the raging runnagates and hellish Diabolonians were thus contriving the ruin of the Town of Mansoul, they, to wit, the poor Town it self, was in a sad and woful case, partly because they had so grievously offended ^{The sad state} Sbaddai and his Son, and partly because that the Enemies thereby got strength within 'em afreh, and also because though they had by many Petitions made suit to the Prince Emanuel and to his Father Sbaddai by him, for their Pardon and Favour, yet hitherto obtained they not one smile; but contra-wise, through the craft and subtily of the domestic Diabolonians, their Cloud was made to grow blacker and blacker, and their Emanuel to stand at furthest dstance.

The Sicknesse also did still greatly rage in Mansoul, both among the Captainz, and the Inhabitants of the Town their Enemies, and their Enemies only were now vively and strong, and like to become the Head, whilst Mansoul was made the Tail.

By this time the Letter last mentioned, that was written by the Diabolonians that yet lurked in the Town of Mansoul, was conveyed to Diabolus in the black Den, by the hand of Mr. Prophane. He earned the Letter by Hellgate-bill as afore, and conveyed it by Cerberus to his Lord.

But when Cerberus and Mr. Prophane did meet, they were presently great as Beggars, and thus they fell into into Discourse about Mansoul, and about the Project against her.

Ah! Old Friend, quoth Cerberus, art thou come to Hell gate-hill again? by St Mary I am glad to see thee.

Prof. Yes my Lord, I am come again between him & Cerberus. Talk about the concerns of the Town of Mansoul.

Cerb. Prithee tell me, what condition is that Town of Mansoul in at present.

Prof. In a brave condition, my Lord, for us, and for my Lords, the Lords of this place I know; for they are greatly decayed as to Godliness, and that's as well as our Heart can wish; their Lord is greatly out with them, and that doth also please us well. We have already also a Foot in their Dibb, for our Diabolonian Friends are laid in their Bosoms, and what do we lack, but to be Masters of the place? Besides, our trusty Friends in Mansoul are daily Plotting to betray it to the Lords of this Town; also the Sickneses rages bitterly among them and that which makes up all, we hope at last to prevail.

Then said Cerberus, no time like this to assault them; I wish that the entripize be followed close, and that the Success desired may be soon affected: Yea, I wish it for the poor Diabolonians sakes that live in the continual fear of their Lives in that Trayterous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. The conivance is almost finished, the Lords in Mansoul that are Diabolonians are as it Day and Night, and the other are like silly Doves, they want heart to be concerned with their State, and to consider that ruin is in hand. Besides, you may, yea, mast think when you put all things together, that there are many reasons that prevail with Diabolus to make what haste he can.

Cer. Thou hast said as it is, I am glad things are at this pass, Go in, my brave Profane, to my Lords, they will give thee for thy welcome as good a Coranto as this Kingdom will afford. I have sent thy Letter in already.

Profane's Entertain-

Then Mr. Profane went into the Den and his Lord Diabolus met him, and saluted him with Welcome, my trusty Servant, I have have been made glad with thy Letter. Thereof the Lords of the Pit gave him also their Salutations. Then Prophane, after Obeisance made to them all, said, Let Mansoul be given to my Lord Diabolus, and let him be her King for ever. And with that the yawning Gorge of Hell gave so loud and hideous a Groan (for that is the Musick of that place) that it made the mountains about it totter, as if they would fall in pieces.

Now, after they had red and considered the Letter, they consulted what answer to return, and the first that did speak to it, was Lucifer.

Lucif. Then said he, The first Project They consult of the Diabolonians in Mansoul, is like to what Answer ny Years ago, Num. 31. 16. Rev. 2. 14. Let this therefore stand with us for a Maxim, and be to Diabolonians for a general Rule in all Ages, for nothing can make this to fail but Grace, in which I would hope that this Town has no share. But whether to fall upon them on a Market-day, because of their cumber in business, that I would should be under debate. And there is more reason why this Head should be debated, than why some other should ; because upon this will turn the whole of what we shall attempt. If we time not our business well our whole Project may fail. Our Friends the Diabolonians say, that a market day is best, for then will Mansoul be most busie, and have fewest Thoughts of a surprize. But what if they shall double their guards on those Days, (and methinks Nature and Reason should teach them to do it) and what if they should keep such a Watch on those Days as the necessity of their present case requires ? Yea, what if their Men should be always in Arms on those Days ? Then you may, my Lords, be disappointed in your Attempts, and may bring our Friends in the Town to utter Danger of unavoidable Ruin.

Bapl. Then said the great Beelzebub, There is sum-thing in what my Lord hath said, but his conjecture may, or may not fall out. Nor hath my Lord laid it down as that which must not be receeded from, for I know that he said it only to provoke to a warm debate thereabout. Therefore we must understand, if we can, whether the Town of Mansoul has such Sense and Knowledge of her decayed State and of the design that we have on Foot against her, as to set Watch and Ward at her Gates, and to double them on Market days. But if after enquire made, it shall be found that they are asleep, then any day will do, but a Market day is best; and this is my Judgment.

Diab. Then quoth Diabolus how should we know this? And 'twas answered, enquire about it at the Mouth of Mr Profane. So Profane was called in and asked the question, and he made his answer as follows.

Prof. My Lords so far as I can gather, Profane's Description is at present the condition of the Town ~~is in~~ of Mansoul; they are decayed in their faith and love. Emanuel their Prince has given them the back; they send often by Petition to fetch him again, but he makes no haste to answer their request, nor is there much Reformation among them.

Diab. I am glad that they are backward to a Reformation, but yet I am afraid of their Petitioning. However, there looseness of Life is a sign that there is not much heart in what they do, and without the heart, things are little worth. But go on, my Masters, I will divert you, my Lords no longer.

Beel. If the case be so with Mansoul, as Mr. Profane has described it to be, 'twill be no great matter what Day we assault it, nor their Prayers, nor their Power will do them much service.

Dreadful Ad- When Beelzebub had ended his Orativice against Mansoul. on, then Apollyon did begin. My Opinion, said he, concerning this matter, is that we go on fair and softly, not doing things in a hurry. Let our Friends in Mansoul go on still to pollute and defile it, by seeking to draw it yet more into sin, (for there is nothing like sin to devour Mansoul.)

Mansoul.) If this be done and it takes effect, Mansoul of it selfe will leave off to Watch, to Petition, or any thing else, that should tend to her security and safety; for she will forget her Emanuel, she will not desire his company and can she be gotten thus to live, her Prince will not come to her in haste. Our trusty Friend Mr. Carnal Security, with one of his Tricks, did drive him out of the Town, and why may not my Lord Covetousness, and my Lord Lasciviousness, by what they may do, keep him out of the Town? And this I will tell you (not because you know it not) that two or three abolitionists, if entertained and countenanced by the Town of Mansoul, will do more to the keeping of Emanuel from them, and towards making of the Town of Mansoul, our own, than an Army of a Legion that should be sent out from us to withstand him.

Let therefore this first Project that our Friends in Mansoul have set on foot, be strongly and diligently carried on with all cuuning and craft imaginable; and let them send continually under one guise or other, more and other of their Men to play with the People of Mansoul; and then perhaps we shall not need to be at the charge of making a War upon them; or if that must of necessity be done, yet the more sinful they are, the more unable they will be to resist us, and then the more easily we shall overcome them. And besides, suppose (and that is the worst that can be supposed) that Emanuel should come to them again, why may not the same means (or the like) drive him from them once more? Yea, why may he not by their lapse into that Sin again, be driven from them for ever, for the like of which he was at the first driven from them for a season? And if this should happen, then away go with him his Rams, his Slings, his Captains, his Soldiers, and he leaveth Mansoul naked and bare. Yea, will not this Town, when she sees herself utterly forsaken of her Prince, of her own accord open her Gates again unto you? But this must be done by time, a few Days will not effect so great a Work as this.

So soon as Apolley had made an end of speaking,

Lib. 11. cap. 11. v. 1.

Disbolus began to blow out his own Malice, and to plead his own cause, and he said, My Lords and Powers of the Cave, my true and trusty Friends, I have with much impatience, as becomes me, given ear to your long and tedious Orations. But my furious Gorge and empty Paunch, so lusteth after a re possession of my famous Town of Mansoul, that whatever comes on't, I can wait no longer to see the events of lingering projects. I must, and that without further delay, seek by all means I can to fill my unsatiable Gulf with the Soul and Body of the Town of Mansoul. Therefore lend me your Heads, your Hearts, and your Help, now I am going to recover my Town of Mansoul.

When the Lords and Princes of the Pit saw the flaming desire that was in Diabolus to devour the miserable Town of Mansoul, they left off to raise any more Objections, but consented to lend him what strength they could: Though had Apollyon's Advice been taken, they had far more fearfully distressed the Town of Mansoul. But I say, they were willing to lend him what strength they could, not knowing what need they might have of him, when they should engage for themselves as he. Wherefore they fell to advising about the next thing propounded, to wit, what Soldiers they were, and also how many, with whom Diabolus should go against the Town of Mansoul to take it; and after some debate, it was concluded, according as in the Letter the Diabolonians had suggested, that none was more fit for that Expedition, than an Army of terrible Doubters. They therefore concluded to send against Mansoul, an Army of sturdy Doubters. The number thought fit to be employ'd in that Service, was between twenty and thirty thousand. So then the result of that great Council of those high and mighty Lords was, That Diabolus should even now out of hand beat up his Drum for Men in the Land of Doubting, when Lard lyeth upon the confines of the place called Hell gate-bill, for Men that might be employ'd by him against the miserable Town of Mansoul. It was also concluded concluded, that these Lords themselves should help him in the War, and that they would to that end head and manage his Men. So they drew up a Letter, and sent it back to the Diabolonians that lurked in Mansoul, and that waited for the coming back of Mr. Profane, to signify to them into what method they had put their design. The Contents whereof follow.

From the dark and horrible Dungeon of Hell, Diabolus, with all the Society of the Princes of Darkness, sends to our trusty ones, in and about the Walls of the Town of Mansoul, now impatiently waiting for our most devilish Answer to their venomous and most poisonous Design against the Town of Mansoul.

OUR native ones, in whom from Day to Day we boast, and in whose Actions all the Year long we do greatly delight our selves: We received your Welcome, because biggely esteemed Letter, at the hand of our trusty and greatly beloved, the old Gentleman, Mr. Profane. And do give you to understand, that when we had broken it up, and had read the Contents thereof (to your amazing Memory be it spoken) our yawning hollow bellied place, where we are, made so hideous and yelling a noise for joy, that the Mountains that stand round about Hell-gate-hill, had like to have been shaken to pieces at the sound thereof.

We could also do no less than admire your Faithfulness to us, with the Greatness of that Subiety that now harboured it self to be in your Heads to serve us against the Town of Mansoul. For you have invented for us so excellent a method for our proceeding against that rebellious People, a more effectual cannot be thought of by all the Wits of Hell. The Proposa's therefore which now at last you have sent us, since we saw them, we have done little else but biggely approved and admired them.

Nay, we shall to encourage you in the profundity of your Craft, let you know, that at a full Assembly and

Cou-

Conclave of our Princes, and Principalities of this place, your Project was discoursed and tossed from one side of our Cave to the other by their Mightinesses, but a better, and as was by themselves judged, a more fit and proper way, by all their wits could not be invented, to surprize, take and make our own, the Rebellious Town of Mansoul.

Wherefore in fine, all that was said that varied from what you had in your Letter propounded, fell of it self to the ground, and yours only was stuck to by Diabolus the Prince; yea, his gaping Gorge, and yawning Panach was on fire, to put your invention into Execution.

We therefore give you to understand, that our stout, furious, and unmerciful Diabolus, is rising for your relief, and the ruin of the Rebellious Town of Mansoul, more than Twenty Thousand Doubters, to come against that People. They are all stout and sturdy Men, and Men that of old have been accustomed to War; I say, he is doing of this Work of his with all the speed he can, for with his heart and spirit is engaged in it. We desire therefore that as you have hitherto stuck to us, and given us both advice and encouragement, you still will prosecute our design, nor shall you lose, but be gainers thereby; yea, we intend to make you the Lords of Mansoul.

One thing may not by any means be omitted, that is, those with us do desire that every one of you that are in Mansoul would still use all your Power, Cunning and Skill, with delusive persuasions, yet so draw the Town of Mansoul into more Sin and Wickedness, even that Sin may be finished and bring forth Death.

For thus it is concluded with us, that the more vile sinful, and debauched the Town of Mansoul is, the more inward will their Emanuel be to come to their help, either by presence, or other relief; yea, the more sinful the more weak, and so the more unable will they be to make resistance when we shall make our assault upon them to swallow them up. Yea, that may cause that their mighty Shaddai himself may cast them out of his Averellion; yea, and send for his Captains and Soldiers home, with his Slings and Rams, and leave them naked and bare, and then the Town of Mansoul will of it self open to us, and fall as the Fig into the Mouth of the eater. Yea, so be sure that we then with a great deal of ease shall come upon her and overcome her.

As to the time of our coming upon Mansoul, we as yet have not fully resolved upon that, though at present some of us think as you, that a Market-day, or a Market-day at Night will certainly be the best. However, do you be ready, and when you shall hear our roaring Drum without, do you be as busie to make the most horrible confusion within, 1 Pet. 5. 8. So shall Mansoul certainly be distressed before and behind, and shall not know which way to betake herself for help. My Lord Lucifer, my Lord Beelzebub, my Lord Apollyon, my Lord Legion, with the rest salute you, as does also my Lord Diabolus, and we wish both you, wish all that you do or shall possess, the very self same fruit and success for their doing, as we our selves at present enjoy for ours.

From our dreadful Confines in the most fearful Pit, we salute you, and so do those many Legions here with us, wishing you may be as hellishly prosperous as we desire to be our selves. By the Letter Carrier, Mr. Profane.

Then Mr. Profane addressed himself for his return to Mansoul, with his Errand from the horrible Pit to the Diabolonians that dwelt in that Town. So he came up the Stairs from the Deep to the Mouth of the Cave where Cerberus was. Now when Cerberus saw him, he asked how matters did go below, about, and against the Town of Mansoul.

Prof. Things go as well as we can expect. The Letter that I carried thither was highly approved, and well liked by all my Lords, and I am returning so tell our Diabolonians so. I have an answer to it here in my Bosom, that I am sure will make our Masters that sent me, glad; for the Contents thereof is to encourage them to pursue their design to the utmost, and to be ready also to fall on within, when they shall see my Lord

Lord Diabolus beleaguering of the Town of Mansoul.

Cerb. But does he intend to go against them himself?

Prof. Does he? Ay, and he will take along with him more than twenty thousand all sturdy Doubters and Men of War, picked Men from the Land of Doubting, to serve him in the Expedition.

Cerb. Then was Cerberus glad, and said, And is there such brave Preparations a making to go against the miserable Town of Mansoul? And would I might be put at the Head of a thousand of them, that I might also shew my Valour against the famous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. Your wish may come to pass, you look like one that has mettle enough, and my Lord will have with him those that are valiant and stout. But my Business requires haste.

Cerb. Ay, so it does. Speed thee to the Town of Mansoul, with all the deepest mischiefs that this place can afford thee. And when thou shalt come to the House of Mr. Mischief, the place where the Diabolonians meet to Plot, tell them that Cerberus doth wish them his Service, and that if he may, he will with the Army come up against the famous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. That I will. And I know that my Lords that are there, will be glad to bear it, and to see you also.

So after a few more such kind of Complements, Mr. Profane took leave of his Friend Cerberus, and Cerberus again with a thousand of their Pit wishes, bid him haste with all speed to his Masters. The which when he had heard, he made Obeisance, and began to gather up his Heels to run.

Thus therefore he returned, and went and came to Mansoul, and going as afore to the House of Mr. Mischief, there he found the Diabolonians assembled, and waiting for his return. Now when he was come, and had presented himself, he delivered his Letter, and adjoined his Complement to them therewith: My Lords, from the Confines of the Pit, the high and mighty Principalities and Powers of the Demalute you here, the true Diabolonians of the Town of Mansoul: Wishing you always the most proper of their Benediction, for

for the great Service, high Attempts, and brave Achievements that you have put your selves upon, for the restoring to our Prince Diabolus the famous Town of Mansoul.

This was therefore the present state of the miserable Town of Mansoul: She had offended her Prince, and he was gone; she had encouraged the Powers of Hell by her foolishness, to come against her, to seek her utter Destruction.

True, the Town of Mansoul was somewhat made sensible of her Sin, but the Diabolonians were gotten into her Bowels; she cried, but Emanuel was gone, and her cries did not fetch him as yet again. Besides, she knew not whether her ever or never, he would return, and come to his Mansoul again; nor did they know the Power and Industry of the Enemy, nor how forward they were to put in Execution that Plot of Hell that they had devised against her.

They did indeed still send Petition after Petition to the Prince, but he answered all with silence. They did neglect Reformation, and that was as Diabolus would have it; for he knew, if they regarded Iniquity in their Heart, their King would not hear their Prayer; they therefore did still grow weaker and weaker, and were as a rowling thing before the Whirlwind. They cried to their King for help, and laid Diabolonians in their Bosoms, what therefore should a King do to 'em? Yea there seemed now to be a mixture in Mansoul, the Diaboloniays and Mansoulians would walk the Streets together. Yea, they began to seek their Peace, for they thought, that since the Sickness had been so mortal in Mansoul, 'twas in vain to go to handy gripes with 'em. Besides, the weakness of Mansoul, was the Strength of their Enemies; and the Sins of Mansoul, the advantage of the Diabolonians. The Foes of Mansoul did also now begin to promise themselves the Town for a Possession; there was no great difference now betwixt the Mansoulians and Diabolonians, both seemed to be Masters of Mansoul. Yea, the Diabolonians increased and grew, but the Town of Mansoul diminished greatly.

ly. There was more than eleven thousand of Men, women, and Children, that died by the Sicknes of Mansoul.

But now, as Sabdai would have it, there was one whose Name was Mr. Prywell, a great Lover of the People of Mansoul. And he, as his manner was, did go listening up and down in Mansoul, to see, and to hear if at any time he might, whether there was any design against it or no. For he was always a jealous

The Story of Mr. Prywell. Man, and fear'd some Mischief sometime would b:fall it, either from the Diabolonians within, or from some Power without.

Now upon a time it so happened, as Mr. Prywell went listening here and there, that he lighted upon a place, call'd Vile-bill in Mansoul, where Diabolonians used to meet; so hearing a muttering (you must know that it was in the Night) he softly drew near to

The Diabolonian Plot dis- covered, and by whom. hear; nor had he stood long under the House-end, (for there stood a House there) but he heard one confidently affirm, That it was not, or would not be long before Diabolus should possess himself again of Mansoul, and that then the Diabolonians did intend to put all Mansoulians to the Sword, and would kill and destroy the King's Captains, and drive all his Soldiers out of the Town.

He said moreover, That he knew there were above twenty thousand fighting Men prepared by Diabolus for the accomplishing of this Design, and that it would not be many Months before they all should see

Understanding Conscience. it. When Mr. Prywell had heard this Story, he did quickly believe it was true, wherefore he went forthwith to my Lord

Mayor's House, and acquainted him therewith; who sending for the Subordinate Preacher, brake the busi- ness to him, and he as soon gave the Alarm to the Town, for he was now the chief Preacher in Mansoul, because as yet my Lord Secretary was ill at ease. And this was the way that the Subordinate Preacher did take to Alarm the Town therewith: The same Hour he caused the Lecture-Bell to be rung. so the People came together ; he gave them then a short Exhortation to Watchfulness, and made Mr. Prywell's News the Argument thereof. For, said he, an horrible Plot is contrived against Mansoul, even to Massacre us all in a Day ; nor is this Story to be slighted, for Mr. Prywell is the Author thereof. Mr. Prywell was always a lover of Mansoul, a sober and judicious Man, a Man that is no tatler, nor raiser of false Reports, but one that loves to look into the very bottom of matters, and talks nothing of News but by very solid Arguments.

I will call him, and you shall hear him your own selves ; so he called him, and he came and told his Tale so punctually, and affirmed its truth with such ample grounds, that Mansoul fell presently under a conviction of the truth of what he said. The Preacher did also back him, saying, Sirs, it is not irrational for us to believe it, for we have provoked Shaddai to Anger, and have sinned Emanuel out of the Town ; we have had too much Correspondence with Diabolonians, and have forgotten our tender Mercies ; no marvel then if the Enemy both within and without should design and plot our Ruin ; and what time like this to do it ? The Sickness is now in the Town, and we have been made weak thereby. Many a good-meaning Man is dead, and the Diabolonians of late grown stronger and stronger.

Besides, quoth the Subordinate Preacher, I have received from this good Truth teller this one inkling further, that he understood by those that he overheard, that several Letters have lately passed between the Furies and the Diabolonians, in order to our destruction. When Mansoul heard all this, and not being able to gainsay it, they lift up their voice and wept. Mr. Prywell did also in the presence of the Townsmen, confirm all that their Subordinate Preacher had said. Wherefore they now set afresh to bewail their Folly, and to a doubling of Petitions to Shaddai, and his Son. They also break the business to.

They tell the thing to the Captains. to the Captains, high Commanders, and Men of War in the Town of Mansoul, entreating of them to use the means to be strong, and to take good courage, and that they would look after their Harness, and make themselves ready to give Diabolus Battle by Night or by Day, should he come, as they are inform'd he will, to beleaguer the Town of Mansoul.

When the Captains heard this, they being always true Lovers of the Town of Mansoul, what do they, but like so many Sampsons, they shake themselves, and come together to consult and contrive how to defeat those bold and hellish contrivances that were upon the Wheel, by the means of Diabolus and his Friends against the now sickly, weakly, and much impoverished Town of Mansoul; and they agreed upon these following Particulars:

Their A. greement. 1. That the Gates of Mansoul should be kept shut, and made fast with Bars and Locks, and that all Persons that went out or came in, should be very strictly examined by the Captains of the Guards, 1 Cor. 16. 13. To the end, said they, that those that are managers of the Plot amongst us, may either coming or going be taken; and that we may also find out who are the great contrivers (amongst us) of our Ruin, Lam. 3. 40.

2. The next thing was, that a strict search should be made for all kind of Diabolonians, throughout the whole Town of Mansoul; and that every Man's House from top to bottom, should be look'd into, and that too, House by House, that if possible a farther discovery might be made of all such among them as had a hand in these Designs, Heb. 12. 15, 16.

3. It was further concluded upon, that wheresoever or with whomsoever any of the Diabolonians were found, that even those of the Town of Mansoul that had given them House and Harbour, should to their shame, and the warning of others, do penance in the open place, Jer. 2. 34. Chap. 5. 26. Ezek. 16. 52.

4. It was moreover resolved by the famous Town of Mansoul,

, and Mansoul, that a publick Fast, and a Day of Humiliation should be kept throughout the whole Corporation to the justifying of their Prince, the abasing of themselves before him for their Transgressions against him, and against Shaddai his Father, Joel 1. 14. Chap. 2. 15, 16. It was further resolv'd, that all such in Mansoul did not on that Day endeavour to keep that Fast, and to humble themselves for their faults, but should mind their worldly Employments, or be found wandering up and down the Streets, should be taken for Diabolonians, and suffer as Diabolonians for such wicked doings.

5. It was further concluded then, that with what speed, and with what warmth of mind they could, they would renew their Humiliation for Sin, and their Petitions to Shaddai for help; they also resolved to send Tidings to the Court, of all that Mr. Prywell had told them, Feb. 37. 4.

6. It was also determined, that Thanks should be given by the Town of Mansoul to Mr. Prywell, for his diligent seeking of the welfare of their Town; and further, that forasmuch as he was so naturally inclined to seek their Good, and also to undermine their Foes, they gave him a Commission of Scout-master-general, for the good of the Town of Mansoul.

When the Corporation with their Captains had thus concluded, they did as they had said, they shut up their Gates, they made for Diabolonians strict search, they made those with whom any was found, to do Penance in the open place. They kept their Fast, and renewed their Petitions to their Prince, and Mr. Prywell managed his Charge, and the Trust that Mansoul had put into his Hands, with great Conscience, and good Fidelity; for he gave himself wholly up to his Employ, and that not ^{good} Scout-only within the Town, but he went out to py, to see, and to bear.

And not many days after, he provided for his Journey, and went towards Hellgate-bill, into the County where Doubters were, where he heard of all that had been been talked of in Mansoul, and he perceived also that Diabolus was almost ready for his March, &c. So he came back with speed, and calling the Captains and Elders of Mansoul together, he told them where he had been, what he had heard, and what he had seen.

He returns with great News.

Particularly he told them, that Diabolus was almost ready for his March, and that he had made old Mr. Incredulity, that once brake Prison in Mansoul, the General of his Army; that his Army consisted of all Doubters, and that their Number was above twenty Thousand. He told moreover that Diabolus did intend to bring with him the chief Princes of the Infernal Pit, and that he would make them chief Captains over his Doubters. He told them moreover, that it was certainly true, that several of the Black Den would with Diabolus ride Reformades to reduce the Town of Mansoul, to the Obedience of Diabolus their Prince.

He said moreover, that he understood by the Doubters, among whom he had been, that the reason why old Incredulity was made General of the whole Army, was, because none truer than he to the Tyrant; and because he had an implacable spight against the welfare of the Town of Mansoul. Besides, said he, he remembers the Affronts that Mansoul has given him, and he is resolved to be reveng'd of them.

But the Black Princes shall be made High Commanders; only Incredulity shall be over them all, because he can more easily and dextrously beleaguer the Town of Mansoul, than any of the Princes besides, Heb. 12. 1.

Now when the Captains of Mansoul, with the Elders of the Town, had heard the Tidings that Mr. Prywell did bring, they thought it expedient without further delay to put into Execution the Laws against the Diabolonians; their Prince had made and given them in Commandment to manage against them. Wherefore forthwith a diligent and impartial search was made in all Houses in Mansoul, for all and all manner of Diabolonians. Now in the House of Mr. Mind, and in the House of the great Lord Wilbewill, were two Diabolonians found. In Mr. Mind's House was one Lord Covetousness found, but he had changed his Name to Prudent-thrift. In my Lord Wilbewill's House, one Lasciviousness was found, but he had changed his Name to Harmless mirth. These two the Captains and Elders of the Town of Mansoul took and committed to Custody, under the hand of Mr. Trueman the Goaler; and this Man handled them so severely, and loaded them so well with Irons, that they both fell into a very deep Consumption, and died in the Prison; their Masters also, according to the Agreement of the Captains and Elders, were brought to do Penance in the open place, to their shame, and for a warning to the rest of the Town of Mansoul.

Now this was the manner of Penance in those days. The Persons offending being made sensible of the Evil of their doings, were enjoyned open Confession of their Faults, and a strict Amendment of their Lives.

After this the Captains and Elders of Mansoul sought yet to find out more Diabolonians, where ever they lurked, whether in Dens, Caves, Holes, Vaults, or where else they could, in, or about the Wall, or Town of Mansoul. But though they could plainly see their Footing, and so follow them by their Tract, and smell to their Holds, even to the Mouths of their Caves and Dens, yet take and do justice upon them they could not, their ways were so crooked, their Holds so strong, and they so quick to take Sanctuary there.

But Mansoul did now with so stiff an Hard rule over the Diabolonians that were left, that they were glad to shrink into Corners: Time was when they durst walk openly, and in the Day, but now they were forced to embrace privacy and the Night: Time was when a Mansoulian was their Companion, but now they counted them deadly Enemies. This change did Mr. Prywell's Intelligence make in the Town of Mansoul.

By this time Diabolus had finished his Army which he intended to bring with him for the Ruin of Mansoul souls and had set over them Captains, and other Field Officers, such as liked his furious Stomach best, himself was Lord Paramount. In crudelity was General his Army. Their highest Captains shall be named afterwards, but now for their Officers, Colours, and Scutcheons.

1. Their first Captain was Captain Rage, he was Captain over the Election doubters, his were the red Colours; his Standard-bearer was Mr. Destructive, and the great Red Dragon he had for his Scutcheon, Rev. 8. 2. 3. 4. 13. 15. 17.

2. The second Captain was Captain Fury, he was Captain over the Vocation doubters; his Standard-bearer was Mr. Darkness, his Colours were those that were pale, and he had for his Scutcheon the fiery Flying Serpent, Num. 21. 6.

3. The third Captain was Captain Damnation, he was Captain over the Grace doubters, his were the red Colours, Mr. No life bare them, and he had for his Scutcheon the Black den, Mat. 3. 22. 23. Rev. 9. 1.

4. The fourth Captain was Captain Insatiable. he was Captain over the Faith doubters, his were the red Colours, Mr. Devourer bare them, and he had for his Scutcheon the Tawning-jaws, Prov. 27. 20.

5. The fifth Captain was Captain Brimstone, he was Captain over the Perseverance doubters, his also were the red Colours, Mr. Burning bare them, and his Scutcheon was the blue and striking flame, Psa. 11. 6. Rev. 14. 11.

6. The sixth Captain was Captain Torment, he was Captain over the Resurrection doubters, his Colours were those that were pale, Mr. Gnaw was his Standard-bearer, and he had the Black-worm for his Scutcheon, Mark 9. 44, 46, 48.

7. The seventh Captain was Captain No-ease, he was Captain over the Salvation-doubters, his were the red Colours, Mr. Restless bare them, and his was the ghastly Picture of Death, Rev. 4. 11. Chap. 6. 8.

8. The eighth Captain was Captain Sepulchre, he was Captain over the Glory doubters, his was also the

the Pale Colours, Mr. Corruption was his Standard-bearer, and he had for his Scutcheon a Scull, and Dead Mens Bones, Jer. 5. 16. Ch. 2. 25.

9. The ninth Captain was Captain Past-hope, he was Captain of those that are called the Felicity Doubters, his Standard-bearer was Mr. Despair; his also were the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the hot Iron, and the hard Heart, 1 Tim. 2. 4. Rom. 2. 5.

These were his captains, and these were their forces, these were the Standards, these were their Colours, and these were their Scutcheons. Now over these did the great Diabolus make Superior Captains, and they were in Number seven: As namely, the Lord Beelzebub, the Lord Lucifer, the Lord Legion, the Lord Apollyon, the Lord Python, the Lord Cerberus, and the Lord Belial; these seven he set over the Captains, and Incredulity was Lord general, and Diabotus was King.

The Reformades also, such as were like themselves, were made some of them Captains of Hundreds, and some of them Captains of more: And thus was the Army of Incredulity compleated.

So they set out at Hellgate hill, (for there they had their Rendezvous) from whence they came with a straight course upon their March towards the Town of Mansoul. Now as was hinted before, the Town had, as Sabdai would have it, received from the Mouth of Mr. Prywell the Alarm of thier coming before. Wherefore they set a strong Watch at the Gates, and had also doubled their Guards; they also mounted their Slings in good Places, where they might conveniently cast out their great Stones to the annoyance of the Enemy.

Nor could those Diabolonians that were in the Town do that hurt as was designed they should; for Mansoul was now awake. But alas, poor People, they were sorely affrighted at first appearance of their Foes, and at their sitting down before the Town, especially when they heard the roaring of their Drums, 1. Pet. 5. 8. This to speak truth, was amazingly hideous to hear, it frightened all Men seven Miles round.

The

The streaming of their Colours were also terrible and dejecting to behold.

When Diabolus was come up against the Town, first he made his approach to Ear-gate, and gave it a furious Assault, supposing, as it seems, that his Friends in Mansoul had been ready to do the work within ; but care was taken of that before, by the vigilance of the Captains. Wherefore missing of the help that he expected from them, and finding of his Army warmly attended with the Stones that the Slingers did sling (for that I will say for the Captains, that considering the Weakness that yet was upon them, by reason of the long Sickness that had annoyed the Town of Mansoul, they did gallantly behave themselves) he was forced to make some retreat from Mansoul, and to intrench himself and his Men in the Field, without the reach of the Slings of the Town.

He makes an Assault upon Ear-gate, and is repelled.

He retreats and intrenches himself.

James 4. 7.

Now having intrenched himself, he did cast up four Mounts against the Town ; the first he called Mount Diabolus, putting his own Name thereon, the more to affright the Town of Mansoul; the other three he called thus, Mount Aleto, Mount Megare, and Mount Tiphone, for these are the names of the dreadful Furies of Hell. Thus he began to play his Game with Mansoul, and to serve it as the Lyon his Prey, even to make it fall before his Terror. But, as I said, the Captains and Soldiers resisted so stoutly, and did so much Execution, that they made him, though against stomach, to retreat : Wherefore Mansoul began to take courage.

Now upon Mount Diabolus, which was raised on the North side of the Town, there did the Tyrant set up his Standard; and a fearful thing it was to behold, for he had wrought in it by Devilish Art after the manner of his Scutcheon, a flaming flame, fearful to behold, and the Picture of Mansoul burding on it.

When Diabolus had thus done, he commanded that his Drummer shou'd every night approach the Walls of the Town of Mansoul, and beat a Parley; the Command was to do it a Nights, or in the Day time they annoyed him with their Slings; for the Tyrant said, that he had a mind to Parley with the now trembling Town of Mansoul, and he commanded that the Drummers, should beat every Night, that through weariness they might at last (if possibly, at the first they were unwilling yet) be forced to do it.

So the Drummer did as commanded, he arose and did beat his Drum. But when his Drum did go off if no one looked towards the Town of Mansoul, Behold there darkness and sorrow, and the light was darkned in the Heaven thereof, Isa. 5. 30. No noise was ever heard upon Earth more terrible, except the voice of Abaddon, when he speaketh. But how did Mansoul tremble! it now looked for nothing but forthwith to be swallowed up.

When this Drummer had beaten a Parley, he made this Speech to Mansoul, My Master has bid me tell you, That if you will willingly submit, you shall have all the good of the Earth, but if you shall be stubborn, he is resolved to take you by force. But by that the Fugitive had done beating of his Drum, the People of Mansoul had betaken themselves to the Captains that were in the Castle, so that there was none to regard, nor to give this Drummer an Answer; so he proceeded no further that Night but returned again to his Master to the Camp.

When Diabolus, saw that by Drumming he could not work out Mansoul to his Will, the next Night he sendeth his Drummer without his Drum, still to let the Townsmen know that he had a mind to Parley with them. But when all came to all, his Parley was turned into a Summons to the Town to deliver up themselves: But they gave him neither heed nor hearing for they remembred what at first it cost them to hear him a few Words.

The next night he sends again, and then when he should that old be his Messenger to Mansoul, but the terrible Walls obtain Sepulcher; so Captain Sepulcher came up to the Walls of Mansoul, and made this Oration to the they unsaid, ye Inhabitants of the rebellious Town of Mansoul ! I summon you in the name of the Prince Diamonds, that without any more ado, you set open the gates of your Town, and admit your Lord to come in. if you shall still Rebel, when we have taken the Town by force, we will swallow you up as the Grave; rose, before if you will barken to my Summons, say so, did go if not, then let me know.

hold here reason of this my Summons, quoth he, is, for that the Lord is your undoubted Prince and Lord, as you heard selves have formerly owned. Nor shall that As- bad- that was given to my Lord, when Emanuel dealt remishonourably by him, prevail with him to lose his w beit, and to forbear to attempt to recover his own.

sider then, O Mansoul, with thy self, wilt thou made thy self Peaceably, or not? If thou shalt quietly be tell up thy self, then our old Friendship shall be re- haveded; but if thou shalt yet refuse and rebel, then ex- n. nothing but Fire and Sword.

Fu- When the languishing Town of Mansoul had heard le of Summoner, and his Summons, they were yet that re put to their dumps, but made the Captain no gard, wera at all, so away he went as he came.

ceed- but after some Consultation among themselves, as his with some of their Captains, they applied them- es afresh to the Lord Secretary for Counsel and could vice from him; for this Lord Secretary was their light of Preacher (as also is mentioned some Pages be- ill to) only now he was ill at ease; and of him they Par- ged favou. in these two or three things.

Par. That he would look comfortably upon them, o de- not keep himself so much retiréd from them as heed nerly. Also that he would be prevailed with t coll give them a hearing while they should make on their miserable condition to him. But to wh he told them as before, That as yet he was but ould ill at ease, and therefore could not do as he had so merly done.

2. The second thing they desired, was, that he would be pleased to give them his Advice about the now so important Affairs, for that Diabolus was come and set before the Town with no less than Two Thousand Doubters. They said moreover, that he and his Captains were cruel Men, and that they were afraid of them. But to this he said. You may look to the Law of the Prince, and there see what is laid upon you to do.

3. Then they desired that his Highness would help them to frame a Petition to Sbaddai, and unto Emanuel his Son, and that he would set his own hand thereto, as a Token that he was one with them in Eor, said they, my Lord, many a one have we sent, we can get no answer of Peace, but now surely one in thy Hand unto it, may obtain good for Mansoul.

But all the answer he gave to this, was, That they had offended their Emanuel, and had also grieved himself, and that therefore they must as yet partake their own devices.

This Answer of the Lord Secretary fell like a Stone upon them; yea, it crushed them so, that they could not tell what to do, yet they durst not come with the Demands of Diabolus, nor with the Demands of his Captain, Lam. I. So then here were the straits that Mansoul, was betwixt, when

The sad straits of the Town of Mansoul, So then here were the straits that Enemy came upon her: Her Foes were ready to follow her up, and her Friends did forbear to help her.

Then stood up my Lord Mayor, whose Name my Lord Understanding, and he began to pick and choose, until he had pick'd comfort out of that seemingly bitter saying of the Lord Secretary; for he descanted upon it: First, said he, This unavoidably follows upon the saying of my Lord, That we must yet suffer for our sins. 2. But, quoth he, these words yet sound as if at last we should be saved from our Enemies, and that after a few more Sorrows, E bad f^rend will come and be our help. Now the Lord Mayor was the more Critical in his dealing with the Senates, because my Lord was more than a prophet, and because none of his Words were such, that at all times they were most exactly signifi-cative; and the Townsmen were allowed to pry into them, and to expound them to their best Advantage.

So they took their leaves of my Lord, and returned and went, and came to the Captains, to whom they did tell what my Lord High Secretary had said, who when they had heard it, were all of the same Opinion as was my Lord Mayor himself; the Captains therefore began to take some courage unto them, and to prepare to make some brave Attempt upon the camp of the Enemy, and to destroy all that were Di-abolians, with the roving Doubters that the Tyrant had brought with him to destroy the poor Town of Mansoul.

So all betook themselves forthwith to their Places, the Captains to theirs, the The Town of Lord Mayor to his, the Subordinate Mansoul in Teacher to his, and my Lord Willbewill, his. The Captains longed to be at some Work for their Prince for they delighted in Warlike Atchieve-ments. The Next day therefore they came together and consulted, and after Consultation had, they resolved to give an Answer to the Captain of Diabo- lus with Slings; and so they did at the rising of the sun on the Morrow; for Diabolus had adventured come nearer again, but the Sling-stones were to him and his, like Horsets. For as there is nothing so terrible as the roaring of Diabolus's Drum, so there is nothing to Diabolus so terrible as the well playing of Emanuel's Slings.
Therefore Diabolus was forced to make another retreat, yet further off from the Famous Town of Mansoul. Then did the Lord Mayor of Mansoul use the Bells to be rung, and that thanks should be sent the Lord High Secretary by the Mouth of the Subordinate

ordinate Preacher ; for that by his Words the Captains and Elders of Mansoul had been strengthened against Diabolus.

When Diabolus saw that his Captains and Soldiers, high Lords, and renowned, were frightened and beaten down by the Stones that came from the Gold Slings of the Prince of the Town of Mansoul, he thought himself, and said, I will try to catch them fawning, I will try to flatter them into my Net.

Wherefore after a while he came down again to the Wall, not now with his Drums changes his way. nor with Captain Sepulcher, but having all-to-besugard his Lips, he seemed be a very Sweet-mouthed, peaceable Prince, desirg nothing for Humours sake, nor to be revenged Mansoul for Injuries by them done to him, but the Welfare, and Good, and Advantage of the Town and People therein, was now, as he said, his only Design. Wherefore after he had called for Audience and desired that the Townfolk would give it to him he proceeded in his Oration : And said.

Oh ! the desire of my heart, the famous Town of Mansoul, how many Nights have I watched, and how many weary steps have I taken, if perhaps I might bee good, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Rev. 12. 10. Far be it, if be it from me to desire to make War upon you ; if you will but willingly and quietly deliver up your selves unto me. You know that you were mine of old, Mat. 4. 8. Luke 4. 6, 7. Remember also, that so long you enjoyed me for your Lord, and that I enjoyed you for my Subjects, you wanted for nothing of all the lights of the Earth, that I your Lord and Prince con get for you ; or that I could invent to make you both and better withal. Consider, you never had so much bard, dark, troublesome, and heart afflicting trouble while you were mine, as you have had since you revolted from me, nor shall you ever have Peace again until you and I become one as before. But be but prevailed to embrace me again, and I will grant, yea, enlarge your old Charter with abundance of Privileges, so that the C

yours License and Liberty shall be to take, hold, enjoy, and make your own all that is pleasant from the East to the West. Nor shall any of those Incivilities wherewith you have offended me, be ever charged upon you by me, so long as the Sun and Moon endureth. Nor shall any of those dear Friends of mine, that now for-the fear of you, lie lurking in Dens and Holes, and Caves in Mansoul, be hurtful to you any more; yea, they shall be your Servants and shall minister unto you of their Substance, and of whatever shall come to hand.
I need speak no more, you know them, and have sometime since been much delighted in their Company, why then shou'd we abide at such odds? Let us renew our old Acquaintance and Friendship again.

Bear with your Friend, I take the Liberty at this time to speak thus freely unto you. The love that I have to you presses me to do it as also does the zeal of my heart for my Friends with you; put me not therefore to further trouble, nor your selves to further frights. Have you I will, in a way of Peace or War; nor do you flatter your selves with the Power and force of your Captains, or that your Emanuel will shortly come into your keep; for such strength will do you no pleasure.

I am come against you with a stout and valiant Army, and all the chief Princes of the Den are even at the Heat of Besides, my Captains are swifter than Eagles, stronger than Lions, and more greedy of Prey than are the Evening Wolves. What is Og a, Bashan; what's Goliath of Gath! and what's an hundred more of it them to one of the least of my Captains! how then shall Mansoul think to escape my Hand and Foe?

Diabolus having thus ended his flattering, lawnging, deceitful, and lying Speech to the famous Town of Mansoul, the Lord Mayor replied upon him as follows.

O Diabolus. Prince of Darkness, and Master of all deceit; thy lying Flatteries of, and have tasted too deeply of that destruc-

five Cup already; should we therefore again hearken unto thee. And so break the Commandment of our great Shaddai, to join affinity with thee; wouldest not our Prince reject us, and cast us off for ever, and being cast off by him can the Place that he has prepared for thee, be a place of rest for us? Besides, O thou that art empty and void of all Truth, we are rather ready to die by thy hand than to fall in with thy flattering and lying Deceits.

When the Tyrant saw that there was little to be got in Parlyng with my Lord Mayor, he fell into an Hellish Rage, and resolved that again with his Army of Doubters, he would another time assault the Town of Mansoul.

So he called for his Drummer, who beat up for his Men (and while he did beat, Mansoul did shake) to be in a readiness to give Battel to the Corporation; then Diabolus drew near with his Army, and thus disposed of his Men. Captain Cruel, and Captain Torment, these he drew up, and placed against Fleece-gate, and commanded them to set down there for the War. And he also appointed, that if need were, Captain No-ease should come into their relief. At Nose-gate he placed Captain Primstone and Captain Sepulcher, and bid them look well to their Ward on that side of the Town of Mansoul. But at Eye-gate, he placed that Grim-faced one the Captain Past-hope, and there also now he did set up his terrible Standard.

Now Captain Infatiable was to look to the Carriages of Diabolus, and was also appointed to take into Custody, that or thole Persons and things that should at any time as Prey be taken from the Enemy.

Now Mouth-gate the Inhabitants of Mansoul kept for a Sally-port, wherefore that they kept strong, for that was it, by, and out at which the Townsfolk did send their Petitions to Emmanuel their Prince; that also was the Gate, from the top of which the Captains did play their Slings at the Enemies, for that Gate stood somewhat ascending, so that the placing of them here, and the letting of them fly from that place, did much Execution against the Tyrant's Army; wherefore for these causes with others, Diabolus sought, if possible, to stop up Mousib gate with Dirt.

Now, as Diabolus was busie and industrious in preparing to make his Assault upon the Town of Mansoul without, so the Captains and Soldiers in the Corporation, were as busie in preparing within; they mounted their Slings, they set up their Banners, they sounded their Trumpets, and put themselves in such Order as was judged most for the annoyance of the Enemy, and for the advantage of Mansoul, and gave their Soldiers Orders to be ready at the sound of the Trumpet for War. The Lord Willbewill also, he took the charge of watching The Lord Wilbewill plays the Man against the Rebels within, and to do what he could to take them while without, or to rifle them within their Caves, Dens, and Holes in the Town-wall of Mansoul. And to speak the truth of him, ever since he did Penance for his fault, he has shewed as much Honesty and Bravery of Spirit as may be in Mansoul, for he took one

Jolley and his Brother Griggifb, the two Sons of his Servant Harmless mirth, Jolly and

(for to that Day, though the Father was committed to Ward, the Sons had a dwelling in the House of my Lord.) I say, he took them and with his own Hands put them to the Cross. And this wasthe reason why he hanged them up, after their Father was put into the hands of Mr. Trueman the Goaler: they his Sons began to play their Pranks, and to be tickling and toying with the Daughters of their Lord; nay, it was jealousd that they are too familiar with them, the which was brought to his Lordship's Ear. Now his Lordship being unwilling unadvisedly to put any Man to Death, did not suddenly fall upon them; but set Watch and Spies to see if the thing was true; of the which he was soon informed, for his two Servants, whose Names were Find out and Tell-all, catch'd them together in an uncivil manner more than once or twice, and went and told their Lord. So when my Lord Willbewill had sufficient ground to believe the thing was true, he takes the two young Diabolonians, for such they were, (for their Father was a Diabolonian born) and has them to Eye-gate, where he raised a very high Cross just in the face of Diabolus, and of his Army, and there he hanged the young Villians, in defiance to Captain Past bope, and the horrible Standard of the Tyrant.

Now this Christian Act of the brave Lord Willbewill did greatly abash Captain Past bope, discouraged the Army of Diabolus put fear into the <sup>Mortification of Life.</sup> Diabolonian, runagates in Mansoul, and put strength and courage into the Captains that belonged to Emanuel the Prince ; for they without did gather, and that by this very Act of my Lord, that Mansoul was resolved to fight, and that the Diabolonians within the Town could not do such things as Diabolus had hopes they would. Nor was this the only Proof of the brave Lord Willbewill's Hovesty to the Town, nor of his Loyalty to his Prince, as will afterwards appear.

Now when the Children of Prudent Thrifly, who dwelt with Mr. Mind, for Thrifly left Children with Mr. Mind, when he was also committed to Prison, and their Names were Gripe, and Rake all, these

^{Mr. Mind} begat of Mr. Mind's Bastard daughter, ^{also} pays the Ma- whose Name was Mrs. Hold fast bad) them

I say when his Children preceived how the Lord Willbewill had served them that dwelt with him, what do they but (leist they should drink of the Time Cup) endeavour to make their escape : But Mr. Mind being wary of it, took them, and puttēm in hold in his House till Morning (for this was done over Night) and rememb'reing that by the Law of Mansoul all Diabolonians we're to Die, and to be sure they were at least by Father's side such, and some some say, by Mother's side too; what does he, but takes them, and puts them in Chains, and carries them to the self same place where my Lord hanged his two before, there he hanged them.

The Townsmen also took great Encouragement at this Act of Mr. Mind, and did what they could to have taken some more of these Diabolonian troublers of Mansoul; but at that time the rest lay so close, that they could not be apprehended; so they set against them a diligent Watch, and went every Man to his place.

I told you a little before, that Diabolus and his Army were somewhat abash'd and discouraged at the fight of what my Lord Willbewill did, when he hang'd up those two young Diabolonians; but his Discouragement quickly turned it self into furious Madness and Rage against the Town of Mansoul, and fight it he would. Also the Townsmen and Captains within, they had their Hopes, and their Expectation heightened, believing at last the day would be theirs, so they feared them the less. Their Subordinate Preacher too, made a Sermon about it, and he took that Theme for his Text, God, a Troop shall overcome him, but he shall overcome at the last. Whence he shewed, that though Mansoul should be sorely put to it at the first, yet the Victory should most certainly be Man-soul's at the last, Gen. 49. 19.

So Diabolus command'd that his Drummer should beat a Charge against the Town, and the Captains also that were in the Town sounded a Charge against them, but they had no Drum, they were Trumpets of Silver with which they sounded against them. Then they which were of the Camp of Diabolus came down to the Town to take it, and the Captains in the Castle, with the Slingers at Mouth gate played upon them amain. And now there was nothing; but this heard in the Camp of Diabolus but horrible Rage and Blasphemy; but in the Town good Words, Prayer, and singing of Psalms: The Enemy replied with horrible Objections, and the terribleness of their Drum.

Drum; but the Town made answer with the Slapping of their Slings, and the loud noise of their Trumpets. And thus the fight lasted for several days together, only now and then they had some small Intermission, in which the Townsmen refreshed themselves, and the Captains made ready for another Assault.

The Captains of Emanuel were clad in Silver Armour, and the Soldiers in that which was of Proof; the Soldiers of Diabolus were clad in Iron, which was made to give place to Emanuel's Engine shot. In the Town some were hurt, and some were greatly Wounded. Now the worst on't was, a Chirurgeon was scarce in Mansoul, for that Emanuel at present was absent, Rev. 22. 2. Psal. 38. 5. Howbeit, with the leaves of a Tree the wounded were kept from dying; yet their Wounds did greatly putrefie, and some did grievously stink. Of the Townsmen these were Wounded, to wit,

Who of Mansoul were Wounded. My Lord Reason, he was Wounded in the Head.

Another that was Wounded, was the brave Lord Mayor, he was Wounded in the Eye.

Another that was Wounded, was Mr. Mind, he received his Wound about the Stomach.

The honest Subordinate Preacher also, he received a shot not far off the Heart, but none of these were Mortal.

Hopeful Thoughts. Many also of the inferior sort, were not only Wounded, but Slain outright.

Who is in the Camp of Diabolus were Wounded and slain a considerable number. For instance, Captain Rage he was Wounded, and so was Captain Cruel.

Captain Damnation was made to retreat, and to intrech himself further off of Mansoul; the Standard also of Diabolus was beaten down, and his Stand

Standard-Bearer Captain Much-hurt, had his Brains beat out with a Sling stone, to the no little grief and Shame of his Prince Diabolus.

Many also of the Doubters were Slain out-right, though enough of them were left alive to make Mansoul shake and totter. Now The Victory did turn that day to Mansoul, did put great Valour into the soul, &c. Townsmen and Captains and did cover Diabolus's Camp with a Cloud, but with all it made them far more furious. So the next Day Mansoul rested and commanded that the Bells should be rung, the Trumpets also joyfully sounded, and the Captains shouted round the Town.

My Lord Willbewill also was not idle, but did notable Service within against the Domesticks, or the Diabolonians, that were in the Town, not only by keeping of them in awe, for he lighted on one at last, whose Name was Mr. Anything, a Fellow of whom mention was made before, for 'twas he if you remember, that brought the three Fellows to Diabolus, whom the Diabolonians took out of Captain Boanerges Companies, and that persuaded them to Lift themselves under the Tyrant, to fight against the Army of Sbad-dai; my Lord Willbewill did also take a notable Diabolonian, whose Name was Loosefoot; this Loosefoot was a Scout to the Vagabonds in Mansoul, and that did use to carry Tidings out of Mansoul to the Camp, and out of the Camp to those of the Enemies in Mansoul; both these my Lord sent away safe to Mr. Trueman the Goaler, with a Commandment to keep them in Irons; for he intended then to have them out to be Crucified, when it 'twould be for the best to the Corporation, and most for the discouragement of the Camp of the Enemies.

My Lord Willbewill taketh one Anything and one committeth them to ward.

My Lord Mayor also, thought he could not stir about so much as formerly, because of the Wounds that he lately received, yet gave he out orders to all that that were the Natives of Mansoul, to look to their Watch, and stand upon their Guard, and as occasion should offer, to prove themselves Men:

Mr. Conscience the Preacher, he also did his utmost to keep all his good Documents alive upon the hearts of the People of Mansoul.

The Captains stout ones of the Town of Mansoul agreed, and resolved upon a time to make a Sally out upon the Camp of Diabolus, and this must be done in the Night, and there was the folly of Mansoul (for the Night is always the best for the Enemy, but the worst for Mansoul to fight in) but yet they would do it, their Courage was so high ; their last Victory also still stuck in their memories.

So the Night appointed being come, They fight in the Night. the Prince's brave Captains cast Lots who should lead the van in this new and desperate Expedition against Diabolus, and against his Diabolonian Army, and the Lot fell to Captain Credence, to Captain Experience, and to Captain Good hope to lead the Forlorn hope. (This Captain Experience the Prince created such when himself did reside in the Town of Mansoul) so as I said, they made their How they fall. Sally out upon the Army that lay in on.

the Siege against them ; and their hap was to fall in with the main Body of their Enemies. Now Diabolus and his Men being expertly accustom-ed to Night work, took the Alarm presently, and were as ready to give them Battel, as if they had sent them word of their coming. Wherefore to it they went a main, and blows were hard on every side, the Hell Drum also was beat most furiously, while the Trumpets of the Prince most sweetly sounded. And thus the Battle was joined, and Captain Insatiable looked to the Enemies Carriages, and waited when he should receive some Prey.

The Prince's Captains fought it stoutly, beyond what indeed could be expected they should ; they wounded many, they made the whole Army of Diabolus to make a retreat. But I cannot tell how, but the brave Captain Credence, Captain Good hope, and Captain Experience, as they were upon the pursuit, cutting down, and following hard after the Enemy in the Rear, Captain Credence, stumbled and fell, by which fall he caught so great a hurt, that he could not rise, tell Captain Experience did help him up, at which their Men were put in disorder ; the Captain also was so full of Pain, that he could not forbear but aloud to cry out ; at this, the other two Captains fainted, supposing that Captain Credence had received his Mortal Wound ? Their Men also were more disordered, and had no mind to fight. Now Diabolus being very observing, thought at this time as yet he was put to the worst, perceiving that an Halt was made among the Men that were the pursuers, what does he, but taking it for granted, that the Captains were either wounded or dead ; he therefore at first makes a stand, then faces about, and so comes up upon the Prince's Army with as much of his fury as Hell could help him to, and his hap was to fall in just among the three Captains ; Captain Credence, Captain Goodhope, and Captain Experience, and did cut, wound, and pierce them so dreadfully, that what through Discouragement, what through Disorder, and what through the Wounds that now they had received, and also the loss of much Blood, they scarce were able, though they had for their Power the three belt Bands in Mansoul, to get safe into the Town again.

Now when the Body of the Prince's Army saw how these three Captains were put to the worst, they thought it their Wisdom to make as safe and good a Retreat

Retreat as they could, and so returned by the Sally-port again, and so there was an end of this present Action. But Diabolus was so flushed, with this Night's work, that he promised himself in a few Days, an easy and compleat Conquest over the Town of Mansoul; wherefore on the Day following he comes up to the sides thereof with great Boldness, and demands Entrance, and that forthwith they deliver themselves up to his Government. (The Diabolonians too that were within, they began to be somewhat brisk, as we shall shew afterward.)

The Mayor's answer. That what he got he must get by Force, for as long as Emanuel their Prince was alive (though he at present was not so with them as they wist) they should never consent to yield Mansoul up to another.

Brave Willbewill stood up, and said, Diabolus, Thou will's Speech.

Master of the Den, and Enemy to all that is good, we poor Inhabitans of the Town of Mansoul, are too well acquainted with thy Rule and Government; and with the end of those things, that for certain will follow submitting to thee, to do it. Wherefore though a while we were without Knowledge, we suffered thee to take us (as the Bird that saw not the Snare, fell into the Hands of the Fowler) yet since we have been turned from Darkness to Light, we have also been turned from the Power of Satan to God. And though through thy Subtilty, and also the Subtilty of the Diabolonians within, we have sustained much loss, and also plunged ourselves into much Perplexity, yet give up ourselves, lay down our Arms, and yield to so horrid a Tyrant, as thou, we will not; die upon the Place we abuse rather to do. Besides, we have hopes that in time Deliverance will come from Court unto us, and therefore we yet will maintain a War against thee.

This brave Speech of the Lord Willbewill, with that that also of the Lord-Mayor did somewhat abate the boldnes of Diabolus, The Captains encouraged.

though it kindled the Fury of his Rage.

It also encouraged the Townsmen and Captains; yea, it was as a Plaister to the brave Captain Credence his Wound; for you must know that a brave Speech now, when the Captains of the Town, with their Men of War, came home Routed, and when the Enemy took courage and boldness at the Succes that he had obtained, to draw up to the Walls, and demand Entrance, as he did, was in season, and also advantageous.

The Lord Willbemill also did play the Man within, for while the Captains and Soldiers were in the Field, he was in Arms in the Town, and wherever by him there was a Diabolonian found, they were forced to feel the weight of his heavy Hand, and also the edge of his penetrating Sword; many therefore of the Diabolonians he wounded, as the Lord Civil, the Lord Brisk, the Lord Pragmatick, the Lord Marmur; several also of the meaner sort he did sorely maim; though there cannot at this time an Account be given you of any that he slew outright. The caule, or rather the advantage that my Lord Willbemill had at this time to do thus, was, for that the Captains were gone out to fight the Enemy in the Field. For now, thought the Diabolonians within, is our time to stir and make an Uproar in the Town; what do they therefore but quickly get themselves into a body, and fall forthwith to Hurricning in

Mansoul, as if now nothing but Whirlwind and Tempest should be there;

wherefore, as I said, he takes this Opportunity to fall in among them with his Men, cutting and slashing with courage that was undaunted; at which the Diabolonians with all haft dispersed themselves to their Holes, an' my Lord to his Place as before.

This brave Act of my Lord did somewhat revenge the wrong done by Diabolus to the Captains, and also did let them know, that Mansoul was not to be parted

Willbemill's Gallantry.

Nothing like Faith to crush Diabolus, parted with, for the loss of a Victory or two; wherefore the Wing of the Tyrant was clipt again, as to boasting, I mean, in Comparison of what he would have done if the Diabolonians had put the Town to the same plight to which he had put the Captains.

Well, Diabolus yet resolves to have the other bout with Mansoul; for, thought he, since I beat them once, I may beat them twice: Wherefore he commanded his men to be ready at such an Hour of the Night to make a fresh Assault upon the Town, and he gave it out in special, that they should bend all their Force against Feeble gate, and attempt to break into the Town through that: The Word that then he did give to his Officers and Soldiers, was Hellfire. And, said he, if we break in upon them, as I wish we do, either with some, or with all our Force, let them that break in look to it, that they forget not the Word. And let nothing be heard in the Town of Mansoul, but Hellfire, Hellfire, Hellfire. The Drummer was also to beat without ceasing and the Standard bearers were to display their Colours; the Soldiers too were to put on what courage they could, and to see that they played Manfully their parts against the Town.

So the Night was come, and all things by the Tyrant made ready for the Work. he suddenly makes his Assault upon Feeble gate, and after he had a while struggled there, he throws the Gates wide open. For the Truth is, those Gates were but weak, and so most easily made to yield. When Diabolus had thus far made his Attempt, he placed his Captains, to wit, Torment and No Ease there; so he attempted to press forward, but the Prince's Captains came down upon him, and made his entrance more difficult than he desired. And to speak truth, they made what resistance they could; but the three of their best and most valiant Captains being Wounded, and by their Wounds made much uncapable of doing the Town that that Service they would, (and all the rest having more than their Hands full of the Doubters, and their Captains that did follow Diabo'us) they were over-powered with Force, nor could they keep them out of the Town. Wherefore the Prince's Men and their Captains betook themselves to the Castle, as to the strong hold of the Town: And this they did, partly for their own security, partly for the security of the Town, and partly, or rather chiefly, to preserve to Emanuel the Prerogative Royal of Mansoul, for so was the Castle of Mansoul.

The Captain therefore being fled into the Castle, the Enemy without much resistance, posseß themselves of the rest of the Town, and spreading themselves as they went, into every Corner, they cried out as they marched, according to the Command of the Tyrant, Hell fire, Hell fire, Hell fire; so that nothing for a while throughout the Town of Mansoul could be heard but the direful noise of Hell fire together with the roaring of Diabolus's Drum. And now did the Clouds hang black over Mansoul, nor, to Reason, did any thing but Ruin seem to attend it. Diabo'us also quartered his Soldiers in the Houses of the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul. Yea, the Subordinstre Preacher's House was as full of these Outlandish Doubters as ever it could hold; and so was my Lord Mayor's, and my Lord Willbewill's also. Yea, where was there a Corner, a Cottage, a Barn, or a Hogstie, that now was not full of these Vermin? Yea, they turned the Men of the Town out of their Houses, and would lie in their Beds, and sit at their Tables themselves. Ah, poor Mansoul! now thou feelest the Fruits of Sin, and what Venom was in the flattering Words of Mr. Carnal Security! They made great Havock of whatever they laid their hands on; yea, they fired the Town in several places; many young Children also were by them dashed in pieces, yea, those that were yet unborn they destroyed in their Mother's Wombs: For you must needs think that it could not now be otherwise; for what Conscience, Science, what Pity, what Bowels of Compassion can any expect at the Hands of Outlandish Doubters? Many in Mansoul that were Women, both young and old, they forced, Ravished, and Beast-like abused, so that they swooned, miscarried, and many of them died, and so lay at the top of every Street, and in all bye places of the Town.

And now did Mansoul seem to be nothing but a Den of Dragons, an Emblem of Hell, and a place of total Darkness. Now did Mansoul lie (almost) like the barren Wilderness; nothing but Nettles, Bryars, Thorns, Weeds, and stinking Things seem now to cover the face of Mansoul. I told you before, how that these Diabolonian Doubters turned the Men of Mansoul out of their Beds, and now I will add, they wounded them, they mauled them, yea, and almost brained many of them. Many, did I say, yea, most, if not all of them. Mr. Conscience they so wounded, yea, and his Wounds so fester'd, that he could have no ease Day nor Night, but lay as if continually upon a Rack (but that Shaddai Rules all, certainly they had Slain him outright.) My Lord Mayor they so abused, that they almost put out his Eyes; and had not my Lord Willbewill got into the Castle, they intended to have chopt him all to pieces, for they did look upon him (as his Heart now stood) to be one of the very worst that was in Mansoul against Diabolus and his Crew. And inneed he hath shewed himself a Man, and more of his Exploits you will hear of afterwards.

Now a Man might have walked for many days together in Mansoul, and scarce have seen one in the Town that look'd like a Religious Man. Oh the fearful state of Mansoul now! now every Corner

Thoughts and Blasphemies.

swarmed with Outlandish Doubters; Red-coats and Black coats walked the Town by clusters, and filled up all the Houses with hideous Noises, vain Songs, lying lying Stories, and Blasphemous Language against Shaddai and his Son. Now also those Diabolonians that lurked in the Walls, and Dens and Holes that were in the Town of Mansoul, came forth and shewed themselves ; yea, walked with open face in Company with the Doubters that were in Mansoul. Yea, they had more Boldness now to walk the Streets, to haunt the Houses, and to shew themselves abroad, than had any of the honest Inhabitants of the now woful Town of Mansoul.

But Diabolus and his Outlandish Men were not at Peace in Mansoul; for they were not there entertained as were the Captains and Forces of Emanuel; the Townsmen did brow beat them what they could : Nor did they partake or make Destruction of any of the Necessaries of Mansoul, but that which they seized on against the Townsmens Will; what they could they hid from them, and what they could not, they had wi han ill Will. They, poor Hearts, had rather have had their Room than their Company, but they were at present their Captives, and their Captives for the present they were forced to be, Rom. 7. But I say, they discountenanced them as much as they were able, and shewed them all the Dislike that they could.

The Captains also from the Castle did hold them in continual Play with their Slings, to the chafing and fretting of the Minds of the Enemies. True, Diabolus made a great many Attempts to have broken open the Gates of the Castle, but Mr. Godlyfear was made the Keeper of that; and he was a Man of Courage, Conduct, and Valour, that 'twas in vain to think to do that Work, though mostly desired ; wherefore all the Attempts that Diabolus made against him, were fruitless ; (I have wished sometimes that that Man had had the whole Rule of the Town of Mansoul.)

Mr. Godlyfear is made Keeper of the Castle gates.

Well

The Town of Mansoul the seat of War. Well, this was the condition of the Town of Mansoul, for about two Years and an half; the Body of the Town was the seat of War; the People of the Town were driven into Holes, and the Glory of Mansoul was laid in the Dust; what rest then could be to the Inhabitants, what Peace could Mansoul have, and what Sun could shine upon it?—Had the Enemy lain so long without in the Pain against the Town, it had been enough to have famished them; but now when they shall be within, when the Town shall be their Tent, their Trench, and Fort against the Castle that was in the Town, when the Town shall be against the Town, and shall serve to be a Defence to the Enemies of her strength and life: I say, when they shall make use of the Forts and Town-holds,

Heart. to secure themselves in, even till they shall take, spoil, and demolish the Castle, this was terrible; and yet this was now the state of the Town of Mansoul.

After the Town of Mansoul had been in this sad and lamentable condition for so long a time as I have told you, and no Petitions that they presented their Prince with (all this while) could prevail; the Inhabitants of the Town, to wit, the Elders and Chief of Mansoul, gathered together, and after some time spent in condoling their miserable state, and this miserable Judgment coming upon them, they agreed together to draw up yet another Petition, and to send it a way to Emanuel for Relief. But Mr. Godlyfear stood up, and answered, That he knew that his Lord the Prince never did, nor ever would receive a Petition for these matters from the Hand of any whoever, unless the Lord Secretary's Hand was to it, (and this, quoth he, is the reason you prevailed not all this while.) Then they said they would draw up one, and get the Lord Secretary's Hand unto it. But Mr. Godlyfear answered again, That he knew also that the Lord Secretary would not set his

and to any Petition that him self had not an hand in composing and drawing up ; and besides, said he, the Prince doth know my Lord Secretary's Hand from all the Hands in the World ; wherefore he cannot be derived by any pretence whatever ; wherefore my Advice is, that you go to my Lord, and implore him to aid you his aid. (Now he did yet abide in the Castle where all the Captains and Men at Arms were.)

So they heartily thanked Mr. Godlyfear, took his counsel, and did as he had bidden them ; so they went and came to my Lord, and made known the use of their coming to him : To wit, that since Mansoul, was in so deplorable a condition, his Highness would be pleased to undertake to draw up a Petition for them to Emanuel, the Son of the Mighty Addai, and to their King and his Father, by him.

Then said the Secretary to them,

What Petition is it that you would have me draw up for you ? But they said, Our Lord knows best the state and condition of the Town of Mansoul, and how we are backslidden and degenerated from the Prince ; thou also knowest who is come up to war against us, and how Mansoul is now the seat of war. My Lord knows moreover what barbarous usages our Men, Women, and Children have suffered at their Hands, and how our home bred Diabolians do walk now with more boldness than dare the Townsmen in the Streets of Mansoul. Let our Lord therefore according to the Wisdom of God that is in him draw up a Petition for his poor Servants to our Prince Emanuel. Well, said the Lord Secretary, I will draw up a Petition for you and will so set my hand thereto. Then said they, But when shall we call for it at the hand of our Lord ? But he answered, You selves must be present at the doing of Yea, you must put your desires to it. True, the Land and Pen shall be mine, but the Ink and Paper must be yours, else how can you say, it is your Petition ? for have I need to Petition for my self, because I have offended.

He

The Secretary employed to draw up a Petition for Mansoul.

He also added as followeth; No Petition goes from me in my Name to the Prince, and so to his Father before him, but when the People that are chiefly concerned therein, do joyn in Heart and Soul in the Matter, so that must be inserted therein.

So they did heartily agree with the Sentence of the Lord, and a Petition was forthwith drawn up for them. But now who shall carry it, that wast the next. But the Secretary advised that Captain Confidence should carry it, for he was a well spoken Man. They therefore called for him, and propounded to him the businels. Well, said the Captain, I gladly accept of the Motion; and though I am lame, I will do this businels for you, with as much speed, and as well as I can. The Contents of the Petition were to this purpose:

O our Lord, and Sovereign Prince Emanuel, the present, the long-suffering Prince: Grace is poured into thy Lips, and to thee belongs Mercy and Forgiveness, though we have rebelled against thee. We who are no more worthy to be called thy Mansoul, nor yet fit to partake of common Benefits, do beseech thee, and thy Father by thee, to do away our Transgressions. We confess that thou mightest cast us away for them, but do it not for thy Name's sake; let the Lord rather take an Opportunity at our miserable Condition, to let out his Bowels and Compassion to us; we are compassed on every side; Lord, our own backslidings reprove us out Diabolonians within our Town fright us, and the Army of the Angel of the Bottomless Pit distresses us. Thy Grace can be our Salvation, and whither to go but to thee we know not.

Furthermore, O Gracious Prince, we have weakened our Captains, and they are discouraged, sick, and of late some of them grievously worsted, and beaten out of the Field by the Power and Force of the Tyrant. ~~Ye~~ even those of our Captains, in whose Valour we did formerly use to put most of our Confidence, they are as wounded Men. Besides, Lord, our Enemies are lively, and they are strong; they vaunt and boast themselves, and do from us threaten to part us among themselves for a Booty. They are fallen also upon us, Lord, with many Thousand Doubters, such as with whom we cannot tell what to do; they are all Grim-looked, and unmerciful ones, and they bid defiance to us and thee.

Our Wisdom is gone, our Power is gone, because thou art departed from us, nor have we what we may call ours, but Sin, Shame, and Confusion of Face for Sin.
Take pity upon us, O Lord, take pity upon us thy miserable Town of Mansoul, and save us out of the Hands of our Enemies. Amen.

This Petition, as was touched afore, was handed by the Lord Secretary, and carried to the Court by the grave and most stout Captain Credence. Now he carried it out at Mouth gate, for that, as I said, was the gally-port of the Town; and he went and came to Emmanuel with it. Now how it came out, I do not know, but for certain it did, and that so far as to reach the Ears of Diabolus. Thus I conclude, because that the Tyrant had it presently by the end, and charged the Town of Mansoul with it, saying, Thou Rebellious and stubborn-hearted Mansoul, will make thee to leave off Petitioning. Satan cannot abide Prayer.

take thee to leave off: Yea, he also knew who the messenger was that carried the Petition to the Prince, and it made him both to fear and rage.
Wherefore he commanded that his Drum should be beat again, a thing that Mansoul could not abide to hear; but when Diabolus would have his Drum beat, Mansoul must abide the noise. Well, the Drum was beat, and the Diabolonians were gathered together.

Then said Diabolus, O ye stout Diabolonians, be it own unto you, that there is a Treachery hatched against in the Rebellious Town of Mansoul; for albeit the whereto In our Possession, as you see, yet these miserable Mansoulians have attempted to dare, and have been so bold as yet to send to the Court of Emanuel for help.
I give you to understand, that ye may yet know how carry it to the wretched Town of Mansoul. Wherefore

O my trusty Diabolonians, I command that yet more and more ye distress this Town of Mansoul, and vex it with your Wiles, ravish their Women, deflower their Virgins, slay their Children, brain their Ancients, fire their Town, and what other Mischief you can; and let this be the Reward of the Mansoulians from me, for their desperate Rebellions against me.

This you see was the Charge, but something slept in betwixt that and Execution, for as yet there was but little more done than to rage.

Moreover, when Diabolus had done thus, he went the next way up to the Castle-gates, and demanded that upon pain of Death, the Gates should be opened to him, and that entrance should be given him and his Men that followed after. To whom Mr. Godlyfear replied. (for he it was that had the charge of that Gate,) That the Gate shou'd not be opened unto him, nor to the Men that followed after him. He said moreover, That Mansoul, when she had suffered a while, shou'd be made perfect, strengthened, and scissed.

Satan cannot abide truth. Then said Diabolus. Deliver me then the Men that have petitioned against me, especially Captain Credence that carried it to your Prince, deliver that Varlet into my bands, and I will depart from the town.

Then up starts a Diabolonian, whose Name was Mr. Fooling, and said, My Lord offereth you fair, 'tis better for you than one Man perish, than that your whole Mansoul should be undone.

But Mr. Godlyfear made him this replication, How long will Mansoul be kept out of the Dungeon, when as the bait given up her faib to Diabolus? As good lose all the town as lose Captain Credence; for if one be gone, the other must follow. But to that Mr. Fooling said nothing.

Then did my Lord-Mayor reply, and said, O thou devouring Tyrant, be it known unto thee, we shall bearings, en to none of thy words, we are resolved to resist thee for all as long as a Captain, a Man, a Sling, and a Stone to were a shrub at thee, shall be found in the Town of Mansoul. upon

But Diabolus answered, Do you hope, do you wait, do you look for help and deliverance? You have sent to Emanuel, but your Wickedness sticks too close in your Skirts, to let innocent Prayers come out of your Lips. Think you, that you shall be Prevailers and prosper in this Design? You will fail in your wish, you will fail in your Attempts; for it is not only I, but your Emanuel is against you. Yes, it is he that hath sent me against you to subdue you; for what then do you hope, or by what means will you escape?

Then said the Lord Mayor, We have Sinned indeed, but that shall be no help to thee, for our Emanuel hath said it, and that in great faithfulness. And him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. Captain Credence. He hath also told us (O our Enemy) that all manner of Sin and Blasphemy shall be forgiven to the Sons of Men. Therefore we dare not despair, but will look for, and wait for Mercy.

The Lord Mayor's Speech just as the time of the return of Captain Credence.

And now by this time Captain Credence was returned and come from the Court from Emanuel to the Castle of Mansoul, and he returned to them with a Pacquet. So my Lord Mayor hearing that Captain Credence was come, withdrew himself from the noise of the roaring of the Tyrant, and left him to yell at the Wall of the Town, or against the Gates of the Castle. So he came up to the Captain's Lodgings, and saluting him, he asked him of his Welfare, and what was the best news at Court? But when he asked Captain Credence that, the water stood in his Eyes. Then said the Captain; cheer up, my Lord, for all will be well in time: And with that he first produced his Pacquet, and laid it by, but that the Lord Mayor and O ~~the rest~~ of the Captains took for a sign of good Tidings. (Now a season of Grace being come, he sent ~~the~~ all the Captains and Elders of the Town that were ~~none~~ here and there in their Lodgings, in the Castle, and ~~ansoul~~, upon their Guard, to let them know that Captain Credence was returned from the Court, and that he had something in general, and something in special to communicate to them.) So they all came up to him, and saluted him, and asked him concerning his Journey, and what was the best news at Court? And he answered them as he had done the Lord Mayor before, that all would be well at last. Now when the Captain had thus saluted them, he opened

The Pacquet his Pacquet, and thence did draw out of it several Notes for those that he had sent for. And the first Note was for my Lord Mayor, wherein was signified:

A Note for my The Prince Emanuel had taken it well, Lord Mayor. that my Lord Mayor had been so true and trusty in his Office, and the great concerns that lay upon him for the Town and People of Mansoul. Also he bid him to know that he took it well that he had been so bold for his Prince Emanuel, and had engaged so faithfully in his Cause against Diabolus. He also signified at the close of his Letter, that he should shortly receive his reward.

A Note for the The second Note that came out, was for the noble Lord Willbewill, wherein Lord Willbewill there was signified That his Prince Emanuel did well understand how Valiant and Courageous he had been, for the Honour of his Lord, now in his absence, and when his Name was under contempt by Diabolus. There was signified also that his Prince had taken it well that he had been so faithful to the Town of Mansoul, in his keeping of so strict a Hand and Eye over, and so strict a Reign upon the Necks of the Diabolonians that did still lie lurking in their several Holes in the famous Town of Mansoul.

He signified moreover, how that he understood that my Lord had with his own Hand done great Execution upon some of the chief of the Rebels there, to the great discouragement of the adverse Party, and to the good example of the whole Town of Mansoul, and that shortly his Lordship should have his reward.

The third Note came out for the Subordinat Preachers, wherein was signified, That his Prince took it well from him, that he had so honestly A Note for and so faithfully performed his Office, and the Subordiexecuted the trust committed to him by nate Preacher.

his Lord, while he exhorted, rebuked, and fore warned Mansoul according to the Lawe of the Town. He signified moreover that he took it well at his Hand that he called to Fasting, to Sackcloth and Ashes, when Mansoul was under her revolt. Also that he called for the aid of the Captain Boanerges to help in so weighty a Work, and that shortly he also should receive his reward.

The fourth Note came out for Mr. Godlyfear, wherein his Lord thus signified, That his Lordship observed that he fear-was the first of all the Men in Mansoul that detected Mr. Carnal Secutiry, as the only one that thro' his subtilty and cunning, had obtained for Diabolus a defection and decay of goodness in the blessed Town of Mansoul.
Moreover, his Lord gave him to understand, that he still remembered his Tears and Mourning for the state of Man-soul. It was also observed by the same Note, that his Lord took notice of his detecting of this Mr. Carnal Security at his Table among his Guests, in his own House, and that in the midst of his Folliness, even while he was seeking to perfect his Villanies against the Town of Man-soul Emmanuel also took notice that this reverend Person Mr. Godlyfear, stood stoutly to it at the Gates of the Castle against all the threats and attempts of the Tyrant, and that he had put the Townsmen a way to make their Petition to their Prince, so as that he might accept thereof, and as that they might obtain an answer of Peace; and that therefore shortly he should receive his reward.

After all this, there was yet produced A Note for a Note which was written to the whole ^{the Town of} Mansoul, whereby they perceived, That their Lord took notice of their so often repeating of Petitions to him, and that they should see more of the fruits of such their dinner in time to come. Their Prince did also therein tell a them, That he took it well, that their heart and mind now at last abode fixed upon him and his ways, though Diabolus had made such inroads upon them, and that neither flatteries on the one hand, nor hardships on the other; could make them yield to serve his cruel designs. There was also inserted at the bottom of this Note, That his Lordship had left the Town of Mansoul in the hands of the Lord Secretary, and under the Conduit of Captain Credence, saying, Beware that you yet yield your selves unto the governance, and in due time you shall receive your Reward.

So after the brave Captain Credence had delivered his Notes to those to whom they belonged, he retired himself to my Lord Secretary's Lodgings, and there spends time in conversing with him; for they two were very great one with another, and did indeed know more how things would go with Mansoul, than did all the Townsmen besides. The Lord Secretary also loved Captain Credence dearly, yea, many a good bit was sent him from my Lord's Table; also he might have a shew of countenance when the rest of Mansoul lay under the Clouds; so after some time for converse was spent, the Captain betook himself to his Chambers to rest. But it was not long after but my Lord did send for the Captain again; so the Captain came to him, and they greeted one another with usual Salutations. Then said the Captain to the Lord Secretary, What hath my Lord to say to his Servant? So the Lord Secretary took him, and bad him aside, and after a sign or two of more favour, he said, I have made thee the Lord Lieutenant over all the Forces in Mansoul; so that from this day forward all Men in Mansoul shall be at thy Word, and thou shalt be he that shall lead them, and that shalt lead out Mansoul. Thou shalt therefore manage according to thy place, the War for thy Prince, and for the Town of Mansoul, against the Force and Power of Diabolus, and as thy command shall the rest of the Captains be.

Now the Townsmen began to perceive what interest the Captain had, both with the Court, and also with with the Lord Secretary in Mansoul; for no Man before could speed when sent, nor bring such good News from Emanuel as he. Wherefore what do they, after some Lamentation that they made no more use of him in their Distresses, but send by their subordinate Preacher to the Lord Secretary, to desire him that all that ever they were and had, might be put under the Government, Care, Custody, and Conduct of Captain Credence.

So their Preacher went and did his Errand, and received this Answer from the Mouth of his Lord, that Captain Credence should be the great doer in all the King's Army against the King's Enemies, and also for the welfare of Mansoul. So he bowed to the ground, and thanked his Lordship, and returned and told his news to the Townsfolk. But all this was done with all imaginable Secrecy, because the Foes had yet great Strength in the Town. But,

To return to our Story again: When Diabolus saw himself thus boldly confronted by the Lord Mayor, and perceived the Stoutness of Mr. Godlyfear, he fell into a rage, and forthwith called a Council of War that he might be revenged on Mansoul. So all the Princes of the Pit came together, and old Incredulity in the head of them, with all the Captains of his Army. So they consult what to do. Now the effect and conclusion of the Council that Day, was how they might take the Castle because they could not conclude themselves Masters of the Town so long as it was in the Possession of their Enemies. So one advised this way, and another advised that; but when they could not agree in their Verdict, Apollyon the President of the Council stood up, and thus he began: My brotherhood, looth he, I have some things to propound unto you: and my first is this, let us withdraw ourselves from the town into the Plain again, for our presence here will do us no good, because the Castle is yet in our Enemies hands; it is no possible that we should take that so long as so many brave Captains are in it, and that this bold Fellow Godlyfear is made the Keeper of the Gates of it.

Now when we have withdrawn ourselves into the Plain, they of their own accord will be glad of some little ease; and it may be of their own accord they again may begin to be remiss and even their so doing will give them a bigger blow than we can possibly give them our selves. But if that should fail, our going forth of the Town may draw the Captains out after us, and you know what it cost them when we fought them in the Field before. Besides, can we but draw them out into the Field, we may lay an Ambush behind the Town, which shall, when they are come forth abroad, rush in and take possession of the Castle. But Beezebub stood up and replied, saying, 'Tis impossible to draw them all off from the Castle; some you may be sure will lie there to keep that; wherefore it will be but in vain thus to attempt, unless we were sure that they will all come out. He therefore concluded, that what was done must be done by some other means. And the most likely means that the greatest of their heads could invent, was that which Apollyon had advised to before, to wit, to get the Townsmen again to sin. For, said he, it is not our being in the Town not in the Field, nor our Fighting, nor our killing of their Men, that can make us the Masters of Mansoul; for so long as one in the Town is able to lift up his Finger against us, Emanuel will take their parts, and if he shall take their parts, we know what time a day it will be with us. Wherefore for my part, quoth he, there is in my Judgment no way to bring them into bondage to us, like inventing a way to make them sin, 2 Pet. 2. 18, 19, 20, 21. Had we, said he, left all our Doubters at home, we had done as well as we have done now, unless we could have made them the Masters and Governors of the Castle; for Doubters at a distance are but like Objections repell'd with arguments. Indeed, can we but get them into the Hold, and make them Possessors of that, the day will be our own. Let us therefore withdraw ourselves into the Plain (not expecting that the Captains in Mansoul should follow us) but it I say let let us do this, and before we so do, let us advise again with our trusty Diabolonians that are yet in the Holds of Mansoul, and set them to work to betray the Town to us; for they indeed must do it, or it will be left undone for ever. By these sayings of Beelzebub. (for I think 'twas he that gave this Counsel) the whole Conclave was forced to be of his Opinion, to wit, that the way to get the Castle, was to get the Town to Sin. Then they fell to inventing by what means they might do this thing.

Then Lucifer stood up and said, The Counsel of Beelzebub is pertinent; now the way to bring this to pass in mine Opinion is this: Let us withdraw our force from the Town of Mansoul, let us do this, and let us terrifie them no more, either with Summons or Threats, or with the noise of our Drum, or any other awaking means. Only let us lie in the Field at a Distance, and be as if we regarded them not (for Frigbris I see do but awaken them, and make them more stand to their Arms.) I have also another Stratagem in my Head. you know Mansoul is a Market Town, and a Town that delights in Commerce, what therefore if some of our Diabolonians shall feign themselves far country men, and shall go out and bring to the Market of Mansoul, some of our Wares to sell; and what matter at what rates they sell their Wares, though it be but for half the worl. Now let those that thus trade in their Market, be those that are witty and true to us, and I will lay my Crown to pawn, it will do. There are two that are come to my thoughts already, that I think will be arch at this work, and they are, Mr. Penny-wise pound-foolish, and Mr. Get ith' hundred and lose ith'-shire; nor is this Man with the long Name at all inferior to the other. What also if you join with them Mr. Sweet-world, and Mr. Present-good, they are Men that are civil and cunning, but our true Friends and Helpers, Rev. 3. 17. Let these, mind as many more engage in this Business for us, and let Mansoul be taken up in much Business, and let them grow fat and rich; and this is the way to get ground of them.

them; remember yet not that thus we prevailed upon Laodicea, and how many at present do we hold in this Snare? Now when they begin to grow full they will forget their Misery, and if we shall not affright them, may happen to fall asleep, and so be got to neglect their Town Watch, their Castle-Watch, as well as their Watch at the Gates.

Yea, may we not by this means so cumber Mansoul with abundance, that they shall be forced to make of their Castle a Warehouse, instead of a Garrison fortified against us, and a receptacle of Men of War? Thus if we get our Goods and Commodities thither, I reckon that the Castle is more than half ours. Besides, could we so order it, that they should be filled with such kind of Wares, that then if we made a sudden Assault upon them, it would be hard for the Captains to take a shelter there. Do you know that of the Parable, Luke 8.

14. The deceitfulness of Riches choak the word; and again, When the heart is over-charged with surfeiting and Drunkenness, and the cares of this life, all Mischief comes upon them unawares, Chap. 21. 34, 35, 36.

Furthermore, my Lords, quoth he, you very well know that it is not easie for a People to be filled with our things, and not to have some of our Diabolonians as retainers to their Houses and Services. Where is a Mansoulian that is full of this World that has not for his Servants and Waiting-Men, Mr. Profuse, or Mr. Prodigality, or some other of our Diabolonian Gang, as Mr. Voluptuous, Mr. Pragmatical, Mr. Ostentation, or the like? Now these can take the Castle of Mansoul, or blow it up, or make it unfit for a Garrison for Emmanuel, and any of these will do. Yea, these for ought I know, may do it for us sooner than an Army of twenty thousand Men. Wherefore to end as I began, my advice is, that we quietly withdraw our selves, nor offering any surer force, or forcible attempts upon the Castle, at least at this time, and let us set on foot our new project, and lets see if that will not make them destroy themselves.

This advice was highly applauded by them all, and was accounted the very Master-piece of Hell, to wit, to choak Mansoul with a fulness of this World, and to surfeit her heart with the good things thereof. But see how things meet together. Just as this Diabolonian Counsel was broken up, Captain Credence received a Letter from Emanuel, the Contents of which was this, That upon the third day he would meet him in the Field in the Plains about Mansoul. Meet me in the Field, quoth the Captain? What meaneth my Lord by this? I know not what he meaneth by meeting of me in the Field. So he took the Note in his Hand, and did carry it to my Lord Secretary to ask his Thoughts thereupon, (for my Lord was a Seer in all matters concerning the King, and also for the good and comfort of the Town of Mansoul.) So he shewed my Lord the Note, and desired his Opinion thereof: For my part, quoth Captain Credence, I know not the meaning thereof. So my Lord did take and read it, and after a little pause he said, The Diabolonians have had against Mansoul a great consultation to day; they have I say, this day been contriving the utter ruin of the Town; and the result of their counsel is, to set Mansoul into such away, which if taken, will surely make her destroy her self. And to this end they are making ready for their own departure out of the Town, intending to betake themselves to Field again, and there to lie till they shall see whether this their Project will take or no. But be thou ready with the Men of thy Lord (for on the third day they will be in the Plain) there to fall upon the Diabolonians; for the Prince will by that time be in the Field; yea, by that it is break of day, Sun-rising, or before, and that with a mighty force against them. So be thou before them, and thou shalt be behind them, and between you both, their Army shall be destroyed.

When Captain Credence heard this, away goes he to the rest of the Captains, and tells them what a Note he had a while since received from the Hand of Emanuel. And, said he, that which was dark there therein has my Lord Secretary expounded unto me. He told them moreover, what by himself and by them must be done to answer the mind of their Lord. Then were the Captains glad, and Captain Credence commanded, that all the King's Trumpeters should ascend to the Battlements of the Castle, and there in the audience of Diabolus, and of the whole Town of Mansoul, make the best Musick that heart could invent. The Trumpeters then did as they were commanded. They got themselves up to the top of the Castle, and thus they began to sound; then did Diabolus start, and said, What can be the meaning of this, they neither sound Boor and Saide, nor Horse and away, nor a Charge. What do these Mad-men mean, that yet they should be so merry and glad? Then answered him one of themselves and said, this is for Joy that their Prince Emanuel is coming to relieve the Town of Mansoul; that to this end he is at the head of an Army, and that this Relief is near.

The Men of Mansoul also were greatly concerned at this melodious charm of the Trumpets; they said, yea, they answered one another, saying, This can be no harm to us; surely this can be no harm to us.

Then said the Diabolonians, what had Diabolus with us from the Town, and It was best to quit the Town; and that, why.

said one, Yea may do in pursuance of your last Counsel, and by so doing also be better able to give the Enemy Battle, should an Army from without come upon us. So on the second day they withdrew themselves from Mansoul, and abode in the Plains without, but they incamped themselves before Eye gate, in what terrene and terrible manner they could. The reason why they could no abide in the Town (besides the reasons that were debated in their late Conclave) was for that they were not possessed of the strong Hold, and because, said they, we shall have more convenience to fight, and also to fly, if need be, when we are incamped in the open Plain. Besides, the Town would have been a pit for them, rather than a place of defence, had the Prince come up and enclosed them fast therein. Therefore they betook themselves to the Field, that they might also be out of the reach of the Slings, by which they were much annoyed all the while that they were in the Town.

Well the time that the Captains were to fall upon the Diabolonians, being come, they eagerly prepared themselves for action, for Captain Credence had told the Captains over night, that they should meet their Prince in the Field to Morrow, was like Oyl to a flaming Fire; for of a long time they had been at a distance: they therefore were for this the more earnest and desirous of the work. So as I said, the hour being come, Captain Credence with the rest of the Men of War, drew out their Forces before it was day by the Sally-port of the Town. And being ready, Captain Credence went up to the head of the Army, and gave to the rest of the Captains the Word, and so they to the Under-Officers and Soldiers, the Word was, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence; which is in the Mansoulian Tongue, The Word of God and Faith. Then the Captains fell on and began roundly to front, and flank, and rere Diabolus's Camp.

Now they left Captain Experience in the Town because he was ill of his Wounds which the Diabolonians had given him in the last fight. But when he perceived that the Captains were at it, what does he, but calling for his Crutches with hast, gets up, and away he goes to the Battel, saying, Shall I lie here when my Brethren are in the Fight, and when Emanuel the Prince will shew himself in the Field to his Servants? but when the Enemy saw the Man come with his Crutches, they were daunted yet the more, for thought they, what Spirit has possessed these Mansoulians, that they fight me upon their Crutches. Well, the Captains as I said fell on, and did did bravely handle their Weapons, still crying out, and shouting as they laid on blows, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence.

Now when Diabolus saw that the Captains were come out, and that so valiantly they surrounded his Men, he concluded (that for the present) nothing from them was to be looked for but blows, with the dints of their two-edged Sword.

Wherefore he also falls on upon the Prince's Army, with all his deadly force. So the Battel was joined. Now who was it that at first Diabolus met with in the fight, but Captain Credence, on the one hand, and the Lord Willbewill on the other; now Willbewill's blows were like the blows of a Giant, for that Man had a strong Arm, and he fell in upon the E'ection-Doubters, for they were the Life-guard of Diabolus, and he kept them in play a good while, cutting and battering shrewdly. Now when Captain Credence saw my Lord engaged, he did stoutly fall on, on the other hand upon the same Company also, so they put them to great disorder. Now Captain Good-hope had engaged, the Vocation Doubters, and they were sturdy Men; but the Captain was a Valiant Man: Captain Experience did also send him some Aid, So he made the Vocation Doubters to retreat. The rest of the Armies were hotly engaged, and that on every side, and the Diabolomians did fight stoutly. Then did my Lord Secretary command that the Slings from the Castle should be plaid, and his Men could throw Stones at an hairs breadth. But after a while those that were made to fly before the Captains of the Prince, did begin to rally again,

^{The Battel} and they came up stoutly upon the Rere of the Prince's Army; wherefore the Prince's Army began to faint; but rememb'ring that they should see the Face of their Prince by and by, they took courage, and a very fierce Battle was fought. Then shouted the Captain, saying, The sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence; and with that Diabolus gave back thinking that more aid had been come.

But no Emanuel as yet appeared. Moreover the Battle did hang in doubt; and they made a little retreat on both sides. Now in the time of respite Captain Credence bravely encouraged his Men to stand to it, and Diabolus did the like as well as he could. But Captain Credence made a brave Speech to his Soldiers, the Contents whereof here follow, Gentlemen Soldiers, and my Brethren in this design, it rejoiceth me much to see in the Field, for our Prince this day so stout and so valiant an Army, and such faithful Lovers of Mansoul. You have hitherto, as hath become you, shewn your selves Men of Truth and Courage against the Diabolonian Forces, so that for all their boast, they have not yet cause much to boast of their gettings. Now take to your selves your wounded Courage, and shew your selves Men even this once only; for in a few Minutes after the next Engagement this time, you shall see your Prince shew himself in the Field; for we must make this second Assault upon this Tyrant Diabolus, and then Emanuel comes.

No sooner had the Captain made this Speech to his Soldiers, but one Mr. Speedy came post to the Captain from the Prince, to tell him that Emanuel was at hand. This news when the Captain had received, he communicated to the other Field Officers, and they again to their Soldiers and Men of War. Wherefore like Men raised from the Dead, so the Captains and their Men arose, made up to the Enemy, and cried as before, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence.

The Diabolonians also bestirred themselves, and made resistance as well as they could, but in this last Engagement the Diabolonians lost their courage, and many of the Doubters fell down dead to the Ground. Now when they had been in heat of Battle about an Hour or more, Captain Credence lift up his Eyes and saw, and behold Emanuel came, and he came with Colours flying, Trumpets sounding, and the Feet of his Men scarce toucht the Ground, they hastened with that Celerity towards the Captains that were engaged. Then did Captain Credence wheel his Men to the Townward, and gave to Diabolus the Field. So Emanuel came upon him on the one side, and the Enemies place was betwixt them both; then agajn they fell to it afresh, and now it was but a little while m're but Emanuel and Captain Credence met, still trampling down the slain as they came.

But when the Captains saw that the Prince was come, and that he fell upon the Diabolonians on the other side, and that Captain Credence and his Highness had got them up betwixt them, they shouted, (they so shouted, that the Ground rent again) saying The Sword of Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence. Now when Diabolus saw that he and his Forces were so hard beset by the Prince and his Princely Army, what does he and the Lords of the Pit that were with him, but make their escape, and forsake their Army, and leave them to fall by the hand of Emanuel, and of his noble Captain Credence: So they fell all down slain before them, before his Prince, and before his Royal Army; there was not left so much as one Doubter alive; they lay spread upon the Ground like dead Men, as one would spread Dung upon the Land.

When the Battle was over, all things came in order in the Camp; then the Captains and Elders of Mansoul came together to salute Emanuel, while without the Corporation; so they saluted him, and welcom'd him, and that with a thousand Welcomes, for that he was come to the Borders of Mansoul again: So he smiled upon them, and said, Peace be unto you. Then they addressed themselves to go to the Town; they went then to go up to Mansoul, they, the Prince with all the new Forces that now he had brought with him to the War. Also all the Gates of the Town were

were set open for his Reception, so glad were they of his blessed return. And this was the manner and order of his going into Mansoul.

First, (as I said) all the Gates of the Town were set open, yea, the Gates of the Castle; the Elders two of the Town of Mansoul placed themselves at the Gates of the Town, to salute him at his entrance thither: And so they did, for as he drew near, and approached towards the Gates, they said, Lift your Heads, O ye Gates, and be ye lift up ye everlasting Doors, and the King of Glory shall come in. And they answered again, Who is the King of Glory? And they made return to themselves, The Lord strong and mighty the Lord is mighty in Battle. Lift up your Heads, O ye Gates, even lift them up ye everlasting Doors, &c.

Secondly. It was ordered also by those of Mansoul, that all the way from the Town-gates to those of the Castle, his blessed Majesty should be entertained with the Song, by them that had best skill in Musick in all the Town of Mansoul; then did the Elders, and the rest of the Men of Mansoul answer one another as Emanuel entered the Town, till he came at the Castle gates, with Songs and sound of Trumpets, saying, Ihey have seen thy goings O God, even the goings of my God, my King in the Sanctuary. So the Singers went before, the Players on Instruments followed after, and among them were the Damse's playing on Timbrels.

Thirdly. Then the Captains, (for I would speak a word of them) they in their order waited on the Prince as he entered into the Gates of Mansoul. Captain Credence went before, and Captain Goodbore with him; Captain Charity came behind, with other of his Companions, and Captain Patience followed after all, and the rest of the Captains, some on the right hand, and some on the left, accompanied Emanuel into Mansoul. And all the while the Colours were displayed, the Trumpets sounded, and continual shoutings were among the Soldiers. The Prince himself rode into the Town in his Armour, which was all of beaten Go'd, and in his Chariot, the pillars of it were of Silver, the bottom thereof of Gold, the covering of it were of Purple; the midft thereof being paved with Love for the Daughters of the Town of Mansoul.

Fourtly, when the Prince was come to the entrance of Mansoul, he found all the Streets strewed with Lillies and Flowers, curiously deck'd with Bougħs and Branches from the green Trees, that stood round about the Town. Every Door also was filled with Persons who had adorned every one their fore-part against their House with something of variety and singular excellency to entertain him withal as he passed in the Streets; they also themselves, as Emanuel passed by, did welcome him with shouts and acclamations of joy, saying, Blessed be she Prince that cometh in the name of his Father Shaddai.

Fifthly, at the Castle gates the Elders of Mansoul, to wit, my Lord Mayor, the Lord Willbewill, the Sub-dimate Preacher, Mr. Knowledge, and Mr. Mind with other of the Gentry of the place, saluted Emanuel again; they bowed before him, they kissed the dust of his Feet, they thanked, they blessed and praised his Highness for not taking advantage against them for their Sins, but rather had pity upon them in their Mſery, and returned to them with Mercies, and to build up their Mansoul for ever. Thus was he had up straightway to the Castle; for that was the Royal Palace, and the Place were his Honour was to dwell; the which was ready prepared for his Highness by the presence of the Lord Secretary, and the Work of Captain Credence. So he entred in.

Sixthly, Then the People and Commonalty of the Town of Mansoul came to him into the Castle to mourn and to weep, and to lament for their Wickedness, by which they had forced him out of the Town. So they when they were come, bowed themselves to the Ground seven times; they also wept, they wept aloud, and asked forgivencis of the Prince, and prayed Prayed that he would again, as of old, confirm his love to Mansoul.

To which the great Prince replied, Weep not, but go your way, eat the fat and drink the sweet, and send Portions to them for whom nought is prepared, for the joy of your Lord is your strength. I am returned to Mansoul with Mercies, and my Name shall be set up, exalted and magnified by it. He also took these Inhabitants and Kissed them, and laid them in his Bosom.

Moreover, he gave to the Elders of Mansoul, and to each Town Officer a Chain of Gold, and a Signet. He also sent to their Wives Ear-rings and Jewels, and Bracelets, and other things. He also bestowed upon the True-born Children of Mansoul, many precious things.

When Emanuel the Prince had done all these things for the famous Town of Mansoul, then he said unto them, first, Wash your Garments, then put on your Ornaments, and then come to me into the Castle of Mansoul, Ecc. 9. 8. So they went to the Fountain that was set open for Judah and Jerusalem to wash in; and there they washed, and there they made their Garments white, and came again to the Prince into Castle, and thus they stood before him, Zech. 13. 10; Rev. 7. 14, 15.

And now there was Musick and Dancing throughout the whole Town of Mansoul; and that because their Prince had again granted to them his presence, and light of his Countenance; the Bells also did ring, and the Sun shine comfortably upon them for a great while together.

The Town of Mansoul, did also now more thoroughly seek the destruction and ruin of all remaining Diabolonians that abode in the Walls, and the Dens (that they had in the Town of Mansoul); for there was of them that had to this day escaped with Life and Limb from the hand of their suppressors in the famous Town of Mansoul.

But my Lord Willbewill was a greater terror to them

them now than ever he had been before, forasmuch as his Heart was yet more fully bent to seek, contrive, and pursue them to the death ; he pursued them Night and Day, and did put them now to sore distress, as will afterwards appear.

After things were thus far put into order in the famous Town of Mansoul, care was taken, and order given by the blessed Prince Emanuel that the Towns-

Orders given out to bury the Dead. men should, without further delay, ap- point some to go forth into the Plain to bury the Dead that were there ; - the Dead that fell by the sword of Emanuel, and by the shield of Captain Credence, left the fumes and ill savours that would arise from them, might infect the Air, and so annoy the famous Town of Mansoul. This also was a reason of this Order, to wit, that as much as in Mansoul lay, they might cut off the name and being, and remembrance of those Enemies from the thought of the famous Town of Mansoul, and its Inhabitants.

So order was given out by the Lord Mayor, that wise and trusty Friend of the Town of Mansoul, that Persons should be employed about this necessary business ; and Mr. Godlyfear, and one Mr. Upright were to be Overseers about this matter ; so Persons were put under them to work in the Fields, and to bury the slain that lay dead in the Plains. And these were their places of employment, some were to make the Graves, some were to bury the Dead, and some were to go to and fro in the Plains, and also round about the borders of Mansoul, to see if a Skull or a Bone, or a piece of a Bone of a Doubter was yet to be found above ground any where near the Corporation ; and if any were found, it was ordered that the Searchers that searched should set up a mark thereby, and a sign, that those that were appointed to bury them might find it, and bury it out of sight, that the name and remembrance of a Diabolonian Doubter might be blotted out from under Heaven. And that the Children and they that were to be born in Mansoul soul might not know (if possible) what a Skull, what a Bone, or a piece of a Bone of a Doubter was. So the Buriers, and those that were appointed for that purpose, did as they were commanded; they buried the Doubters, and all Skulls and Bones, and pieces of Bones of Doubters, wherever they found them, and so they cleansed the Plains. Now also Mr. God's peace took up his Commission, and acted again as in former Days.

Thus they buried in the Plains about Mansoul, the Election-Doubters, the Vocation Doubters, the Grace-Doubters, the Perseverance Doubters, the Resurrection-Doubters, the Salvation-Doubters, and the Glory-Doubters, whose Captains were, Captain Rage, and Captain Cruel, Captain Damnation, Captain Infatiable, Captain Brimstone, Captain Torment, Captain No-ease, Captain Sepulchre, and Captain Past-hope: And Old Incredulity was under Diabolus their General; there were also the seven heads of their Army, and they were the Lord Beelzebub, the Lord Lucifer, the Lord Legion, the Lord Apollyon, the Lord Pylon, the Lord Cerberus, and the Lord Belial. But the Princes and the Captains, with Old Incredulity their General, did all of them make their escape; so their Men fell down slain by the power of the Prince's Forces, and by the Hands of the Men of the Town of Mansoul. They also were buried as is before related, to the exceeding great joy of the now famous Town of Mansoul. They that buried them, buried also with them their Arms, which were cruel Instruments of Death, (their Weapons were Arrows, Darts, Mauls, Firebrands, and the like) they buried also their Armour, their Colours, Banners, with the Standard of Diabolus, and what else soever they could find that did but smell of a Diabolonian Doubter.

Now when the Tyrant was arrived at Heilgate hill, with his old friend Incredulity, they immediately descended the Den, and having there with their followers for a while condoled their misfortune, and great loss that they sustain'd against the Town of Mansoul, they fell

fell at length into a passion, and revenged they would be for the loss that they sustained before the Town of Mansoul.

The Tyrant re-

Mansoul; wherefore they presently call to a Council to contrive yet further what was to be done against the famous Town of Mansoul, for their yawning

Paunches could not wait to see the result of their Lord Lucifer's and their Lord Apollyon's Counse l that they had given before, for their raging Gorge thought every Day even as long as a short-for-ever, until they were filled with the Body and Soul, with the Flesh and Bones, and with all the delicates of Mansoul. They therefore resolve to make another attempt upon the Town of Mansoul, and that by an Army mixed, and made up partly of Doubters, and partly of Blood men. A more particular Account now take of both.

The Doubters are such as have their Name from their Nature, as well as from the Lord and Kingdom where they are born; their Nature is to put a question upon every one of the truths of Emanuel, and their Country is called The Land of Doubting, and that Land lyeth off, and furthest remote to the North between the Land of Darkness, and that called the Valley of the shadow of Death. For though the Land of Darkness, and that called the Land of the shadow of Death, be sometimes called as if they were one, and the self same place; yet indeed they are two, lying but a little way asunder, and the Land of Doubting points in, and lyeth between them. This is the Land of Doubting, and those that came with Diabolus to ruin the Town of Mansoul, are the Natives of that Country.

The Blood men are a People that have their Name derived from the Malignity of their Nature, and from the fury that is in them to Execute it upon the Town of Mansoul; their Land lyeth under the Dog-star, and by that they are governed as to their Intellectuals. The name of their Country is the Province of Loath-good, the remote parts of it are far distant from the land of Doubting, yet they do both but and bound would upon the Hill called Hellgate hill. These People are own always in league with the Doubters, for they jointly y call to make question of the Faith and Fidelity of the what Men of the Town of Mansoul, and so are both alike mous qualified for the Service of their Prince.

Now of these two Countries did Diabolus by the repeating of his Drum raise another Army against the Hyon's Town of Mansoul, of five and twenty thousand aging strong. There were ten thousand Doubters, and for fifteen thousand Blood men, and they were put un-Soul, for several Captains for the War; and old Incredulity ates was again made General of the Army.

As for the Doubters, their Captains were five of the seven that were Heads of the last Diabolonian Ar-and my, and these are their Names, Captain Beelzebub, now Captain Lucifer, Captain Apollyon, Captain Legion, and Captain Cerberus, and the Captains that they had from before, were some of them made Lieutenants, and some Ensigns of the Army.

But Diabolus did not count that in this Expedition of his, these Doubters would prove his principal Men, for their Manhood had been tried before; also the Mansoulians had put them to the worst, only he did bring them to multiply a Number, and to help it need was, at a pinch, but his trust he put in his Blood-men, for that they were all rugged Villains, and he knew that they had done Feats heretofore.

As for the Blood men they also were under command, and the Names of The Captains of their Captains were Captain Cain, Captain Nimrod, Captain Ibbael, Captain Esa, Captain Saul, Captain Absalom, Captain Judas, and Captain Pope.

1. Captain Cain was over two Bands, to wit, the Zealous and the Angry Blood men; his Standard-bearer bare the red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Murdering-Club, Gen. 4. 8.

2. Captain Nimrod was Captain over two Bands, to wit, the Tyrannical and Incroaching Blood-men; his Standard-

Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Great Flood bound Gen. 10. 8, 9.

3. Captain Ishmael was Captain over two Bands, to wit, over the Mocking and Scorning Blood men; his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was one Mocking at Abraham's Isaac, Gen. 21. 9, 10.

4. Captain Esau was Captain over two Bands, to wit, the Blood men that grudged that another should have the blessing; also over the Blood men that are for ever executing their private revenge upon others; his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was one privately lurking to Murder Jacob, Gen. 27. 42, 43, 44, 45.

5. Captain Saul was Captain over two Bands, to wit, the Groundlessly jealous and the Devilishly furious Blood men; his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was three Bloody darts cast at harmless David, 1 Sam. 8. 10.

6. Captain Absalom was Captain over two Bands, to wit, over the Blood-men that will kill a Father or a Friend, for the glory of this World; also over those Blood-men that will hold one fair in hand with Words, till they shall have pierced him with their Swords; his Standard-bearer did bear the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Son pursuing the Father's Blood, Ch. 19. 10. Ch. 20. 23. 2 Sam. 15, 16, 17 Chap.

7. Captain Judas was over two Bands, to wit, the Blood man that will sell a Man's Life for Money, and those also that will betray their Friend with a Kiss; his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was Thirty pieces of Silver, and the Halter, Mat. 26. 14, 15, 16.

8. Captain Pope was Captain over one Band, for all these Spirits are joined in one under him, his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Stake, the Flame, and the good Man in it, Rev. 13. 7, 8. Dan. 11. 33.

Now the reason why Diabolus did so soon rally another Force after he had been beaten out of the field, were

Scu were for that he put mighty confidence in this Army of Bloodmen, for he put a great deal of more trust in them than he did before in his Army of Doubters, men who they had also often done great service for him and him the strengthening of him in his Kingdom. But Gen. these Bloodmen he had proved them often, and their sword did seldom return empty. Besides, he knew s, to that these like Maftiffs, would fasten upon any; up- would on Father, Mother, Brother, Sister, Prince, or Go- e governor, yea, upon the Prince of Princes. And that his which encouraged him the more was, for that they Scu once did force Emanuel out of the Kingdom of Uni- Gense, and why thought he, may they not also drive him from the Town of Mansoul?

So this Army of five and twenty thousand strong, vious as by their General, the great Lord Incredulity, led ours, against the Town of Mansoul. Now Mr. Prywell harm- the Scout-master-general, did himself go out to spie, and he did bring Mansoul Tidings of their coming: ands, wherefore they shut up their Gates, and put them- er or selves in a posture of defence against these new Di- those abolians that came up against the Town. ords, So Diabolus brought up his Army, and beleaguered ords; the Town of Mansoul; the Doubters were placed a- d his but Feeble gate, and the Bloodmen set down before blood, Legate and Ear gate.

Now when this Army had thus incamped them- ves, Incredulity did in the name of Diabolus, his and name, and the name of the Bloodmen, and the s, his t that were with him, send a Summons as hot as a Scu hot Iron to Mansoul, to yield to their demands, Mat. eatning that if they still stood it out against them, y would presently burn down Mansoul with Fire. for all you must know that as for the Bloodmen, they and- heon e not so much that Mansoul should be surrendered, in it, hat Mansoul should be destroyed, and cut off out ly a- the Land of living. True, they sent to them o field, were tender, but should they so do, that would not quench the thirsts of these Men; They must Blood, the Blood of Mansoul, else they die and,

and it is from hence that they have their name. Wherefore these Bloodmen he reserv'd while now, that they might, when all his Engines proved ineffectual, as his last and sure card he played against the Town of Mansoul, Psal. 29. 10. Isa. 59. 7. Isa. 22. 17.

Now when the Townsmen had received this red-hot Summons, it begat in 'em at present some changing and interchanging thoughts; but they jointly agreed in less than half an hour to carry the Summons to the Prince, the which they did when they had writ at the bottom of it, Lord save Mansoul from bloody Men, Psal. 59. 2.

So he took it, and looked upon it, and considered it, and took notice also of that short Petition that the Men of Mansoul had written at the bottom of it, and called to him the noble Captain Credence, and bid him go and take Captain Patience with him, and go and take care of that side of Mansoul that was beleaguer'd by the Bloodmen, Heb. 6. 12. Ver. 15. So they went upon and did as they were commanded; then Captain Credence went and took Captain Patience, and they both secured that side of Mansoul that was besieged by the Bloodmen.

Then he commanded that Captain Goodhope and Captain Charity, and my Lord Willbewill, should take charge of the other side of the Town; and I, said the Prince, will set my Standard upon the Battlements of your Castle, and do you three watch against the Doubters. This done, he again commanded that the brave Captain the Captain Experience should draw up his Men in the Market place, and that there he should exercise them day by day before the People of the Town of Mansoul. Now this Siege was long, and many a fierce attempt did the Enemy, especially those called Bloodmen, make upon the Town of Mansoul, and many a shrewd brush did some of the Townsmen meet with from them; especially Captain Self-denial, who, I should have told you before, was commanded to take the care of Ear-gate and Eye-gate now against the Bloodmen. This Captain Self-denial was young young Man, but stout, and a Townsman in Mansoul, as Captain Experience also was. And Emanuel at his second return to Mansoul, made him a Captain over a thousand of the Mansoulians, for the good of the Corporation. This Captain therefore being an hardy Man, and a Man of great Courage, and willing to venture himself for the good of the Town of Mansoul, would now and then sally out upon the Bloodmen, and give them many notable alarms, and entred several brisk Skirmishes with them, and also did some execution upon them, but you must think that this could not easily be done, but he must meet with brushes himself, for he carried several of their marks in his Face; yea, and some in some other parts of his Body.

So after some time spent for the Trial of the faith, and hope, and love of the Town of Mansoul; the Prince Emanuel went upon a day calls his Captains and Men of War together, and divides them into two Companies; this done, he commands them at a time appointed, and that in the Morning very early, to sally out upon the Enemy; saying, Let half of you fall upon the Doubters, and half of you fall upon the Bloodmen. Those of you that go out against the Doubters, kill and slay, and cause to perish so many of them as by any means you can lay hands on; but for you that go out against the Bloodmen, slay them not, but take them alive.

So at the time appointed, betimes in the Morning, the Captains went out as they were commanded against the Enemies: Captain Goodhope, Captain Charity, those that were joised with them, as Captain In- Mansoul, and Captain Experience, went out against the Doubters; and Captain Credence, and Captain Pati- denie, with Captain Self-denial, and the rest that were now join with them, went out against the Bloodmen. Now those that went out against the Doubters, drew up in a body before the Plain, and marched on to bid them Battle : But the Doubters rememb'reng their last Success, made a Retreat, not daring to stand the Shock, but fled from the Prince's Men; wherefore they pursued them, and in their Pursuit slew many, but they could not catch them all. Now those that escaped went some of them home, and the rest by fives, nines, and seventeens, like wanderers, went stragling up and down the Country, where they upon the barbarous People shewed and exercised many of their Diabolonian Actions; nor did these People rise up in Arms against them, but suffered themselves to be enslaved by them. They would also after this, shew themselves in Companies before the Town of Manjoul, but never to abide it ; for if Captain Credence, Captain Goodhope, or Captain Experience did but shew themselves, they fled.

Those that went out against the Bloodmen, did as all they were commanded, they forbore to slay any, but be sought to compass them about. But the Bloodmen asked when they saw that no Emanuel was in the Field, concluded also that no Emanuel was in Mansoul that wherefore they looking upon what the Captains did dispute to be, as they call'd it, a fruit of the extravagancy of their wild and foolish fancies, rather despised them than feared them, but the Captains minding their busyness, at last did compass them round, they also that ask had routed the Doubters came in a main to their aid into so in fine, after some little struggling, for the Bloodmen also would have run for it, only now it was to and glate, (for though they are mischievous and cruel where they can overcome, yet all Bloodmen are Chid King'den hearted Men, when they once come to see them) So selves matcht and equal'd) so the Captains took 'em and brought them to the Prince.

Now when they were taken, had before the Prince And examined, he found them to be of three severall Countries, though they all came out of one Land. But

1. One sort of them came out of Blindmansbie Land and they were such as did ignorantly what they did.

2. Acknowldg'd

2. Another sort of them came out of Blindzealshire, and they did superstitiously what they did,

3. The third sort of them came out of the Town of Malice in the County of Envoy, and they did what they did out of Spite and Implacableness.

For the first of these, to wit, they that came out of Blindmanshire when they saw where they were, and against whom they had fought, they trembled, and cried as they stood before him; and as many of these as asked him Mercy, he touched their Lips with his golden Scepter.

They that came out of Blindzealshire, they did not as their Fellows did, for they pleaded that they had right to do what they did, because Mansoul was a Town whose Laws and Customs were diverse from all that dwelt thereabouts, very few of these could be brought to see their Evil, but those that did, and asked Mercy, they also obtained favour.

Now they that came out of the Town of Malice, that is in the County of Envoy, they neither wept nor disputed, but stood gnawing of their Tongues before him for anguish and madness, because they could not have their will upon Mansoul. Now these last, with all thos: of the other two sorts that did unrightly to that ask Pardon for their faults: Those he made to enter into sufficient bond to answer for what they had done against Mansoul, and against her King, at the great and general Assizes to be holden for our Lord the King, where he himself should appoint for the County and Kingdom of Universe.

So they became bound each Man for himself to come in when called upon, to answer before our Lord the King for what they had done as before.

And thus much concerning this second Army that was sent by Diabolus to overthrow Mansoul.

But there were three of those that came from the Land of Doubting, who after they had wandred and changed the Country a while, and perceived that they had escaped, were so hardy as to thrust themselves, 2. knowing that yet there were in the Town of Diabo-

Three or four Ius, I say they were so hardy as to thrust of the Doubt- themselves into Mansoul among them.
 ers go into (Three did I say, I think there were Mansoul, are four.) Now to whole House should entertained, these Diabolonians Doubters go, but to and by whom. the house of an old Diabolonian in Mansoul.
 whose name was Evil questioning, a very great Enemy he was to Mansoul, and a great doer among the Diabolonians there. Well, to this Evil questioning's House, as was said, did these Diabolonians come, (you may be sure that they had Directions how to find the way thither) so he made them welcome, pitied their Misfortune, succoured them with the best that he had in his House. Now after a little Acquaintance, and it was not long before they had that, this old Evil questioning asked the Doubters if they were all of a Town, (he knew that they were all of one Kingdom;) and they answered, no, nor of one Shire neither, for I, said one, am an Election- Doubter; I, said another, am a Vocation Doubter; then said the third, I am a Salvation Doubter; and the fourth said he was a Grace Doubter. Well, quoth the old Gentleman, be of what Shire you will,
 I am perswaded that you are Town-boys, you have the very length of my foot, are one with my heart, and shall be welcome to me. So they thanked him, and were glad that they had found themselves an harbour in Mansoul. Then said Evil question-

Talk betwixt owing to them, How many of your Com-the Doubters pany might there be that came with and old Evil- you to the Siege of Mansoul? And they questioning. answered there were but ten thousand

Doubters in all, for the rest of the Army consisted of fifteen thousand Bloodmen: The Bloodmen, quoth they, border upon our Country, but poor Men, we hear, they were every one taken by Emmanuel's Forces. Ten thousand, quoth the old Gentleman, I'll promise you that's a round Company. But how came it to pass since you were so mighty a Number that you fainted, and durst not fight your Foes? Our General.

General, said they, was the first Man that did run for't. Pray, quoth their Lord, who was that your cowardly General? He was once the Lord-Mayor of Mansoul, said they. But pray call him not a cowardly General, for whether any from the East to the West has done more service for our Prince Dabolus, than has my Lord Incredulity, will be a hard question for you to answer. But had they catched him they would for certain have hanged him, and we promise you hanging is but a bad busines

Then said the old Gentleman, I would that all the ten thousand Doubters were now well armed in Mansoul, and myself in the head of them, I would see what I could do. Ah, said they, that would be well if we could see that: But wishes, alas! what are they? And these words were spoken aloud. Well, said old Evil questioning, take heed that ye talk not too loud, you must be quat and close, and must take care of your selves while you are here, or I'll assure you, you will be snapt.

Why? Quoth the Doubters.

Why! Quoth the old Gentleman? Why, because both the Prince, and Lord Secretary, and their Captains and Soldiers are all at present in Town? yea, the Town is as full of them as ever it can hold. And besides, there is one whose name is Willbewill, a most cruel enemy of ours; and him the Prince has made Keeper of the Gates, and has commanded him that with all the diligence he can, he should look for, search out, and destroy all, and all manner of Dabolitionists.

And if he lighted upon you, down you go though your head's made of Gold.

And now to see how it happened, one of the Lord Willbewill's faithful Soldiers, whose Name was Mr. Diligence, ^{They are over heard.} stood all this while listning under old Evil questioning's Eaves, and heard all the Talk that had been betwixt him and the Doubters that he entertained under his Roof.

The Soldier was a Man that my Lord had much confidence in, and that he loved dearly, and that both because he was a Man of Courage, and also a Man that was unwearied in seeking after Diabolomians to apprehend them.

Now this Man, as I told you, heard all the talk that was between old Evil-questioning and these Diabolomians; wherefore what does he, but goes to his Lord and tells him what he had heard. And sayst thou so, my trusty, quoth my Lord? Ay, quoth Diligence, that I do, and if your Lordship will be pleased to go with me, you shall find it as I have said. And are they there, quoth my Lord? I know Evil-questioning well, for he and I were great at the time of our Apostasie. But I know not now where he dwells. But I do, said his Man, and if your Lordship will go, I will lead you the way to his Den. Go! quoth my Lord, that I will. Come my Diligence, let's go find them out. So my Lord and his Man went together the direct way to his House. Now his Man went before to shew him the way, and they went till they came even under old Mr. Evil-questioning's wall: Then said Diligence, Hark! my Lord, do you know the old Gentleman's tongue when you hear it? Yes, said my Lord, I know it well, but I have not seen him many a day. This I know, he is cunning, I wish he doth not give us the slip. Let me alone for that, said his Servant Diligence. But how shall we find the door, quoth my Lord? Let me alone for that too, said his Man. So he had my Lord Willbewill about, and shewed him the way to the door. Then my Lord without more ado, broke open the door, rushed into the House, and caught them all five together, even as Diligence his Man had told him. So my Lord apprehended them, and led them away, and committed them to the hand of Mr. Trueman the Goaler, and he commanded, and he did put them into Prison, in Ward. This done, my Lord Mayor was acquainted in the Morning with what They are apprehended and committed to Prison, in Ward. This done, my Lord Mayor was acquainted in the Morning with what what my Lord Willbewill had done over night, and his Lordship rejoiced much at the news, not only because they were Doubters apprehended, but because that old Evil questioning was taken ; for he had been a very great trouble to Mansoul, and much affliction to my Lord Mayor himself. He had also been sought for often, but no hand could ever be laid upon him till now.

Well, the next thing was to make preparation to try these five that by my Lord had been apprehended, and that were in the hands of Mr. Trueman the Goaler. So the day was set, and the Court called and come together, and the Prisoners brought to the Bar. My ^{They are brought to} Lord Willbewill had power to have slain them when at first he took them, and that without any more ado, but he thought at this time more for the honour of the Prince, the comfort of Mansoul, and the discouragement of the enemy, to bring them forth to publick judgment.

But I say, Mr. Trueman brought them in Châins to the Bar, to the Town-hall, for that was the place of judgment. So to be short, the Jury was pannelled, the Witnesses sworn, and the Prisoners tried for their lives ; the Jury was the same that tried Mr. No trah, Pitiless, Haughty, and the rest of their companions.

And first, old Questioning himself was sent to the Bar ; for he was the Receiver, the entertainer and comforter of these Doubters, that by Nation were outlandish men ; then he was bid to hearken to his Charge, and was told that he had liberty to object, if he had ought to say for himself, So his Indictment was read, the manner and form here follows.

Mr. Questioning, Thou art bere Indicted by the name of Evil questioning, an Invader upon the Town of Mansoul, for that thou art a Diabolonian by Nature, and also a bater of the Prince Emanuel, and whereas hast studied the ruin of the Town of Mansoul. Thou art also bere Indicted for countenancing the King's Enemies, after wholesome Laws made to the contrary: For, 1. Thou hast questioned the truth of her Doctrine and State. 2.. In wishing that ten thousand Doubters were in her. In receiving, entertaining and encouraging of her Enemies, that came from their Army unto thee. What sayst thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty or not guilty?

My Lord, quoth he, I know not the meaning of this Indictment, forasmuch as I am not the Man concerned in it; the Man that standeth by this Charge accused before this Bench, is called by the name of Evil questioning, which name I deny to be mine, mine being Honest Enquiring. The one indeed sounds like the other, but I trow, your Lordships know that between these two there is a wide Difference; for I hope that a Man even in the worst of times, and that too amongst the worst of Men may make an honest Enquiry after things, without running the danger of Death.

Then spake my Lord Willbewill, for he was one of the Witnesses: My Lord, and you the honourable Bench and Magistrates of the Town of Mansoul, you all have heard with your Ears, that the Prisoner at the Bar has denied his Name, and so thinks to shift from the Charge of the Indictment. But I know him to be the Man concerned, and that his proper Name is Evil-questioning. I have known him (my Lord) above this thirty years, for he and I (a shame it is for me to speak it) were great Acquaintance, when Diabolus that Tyrant had the Government of Mansoul; and I testifie that he is a Diabolonian by Nature, an Enemy to our Prince, and an Hater of the blessed Town of Mansoul. He has in times of Rebellion been at, and lain in my House, my Lord, not so little as twenty Nights together, and we did use to talk then (for the substance of Talk) as he, and his Doubters have talked of late: True, I have not seen him many a Day, I suppose that the coming of Emanuel to Mansoul has made him to change his Lodgings, as this Indictment has driven him to change his Name; but this is the Man, my Lord.

Then said the Court unto him, Hast thou any more to say?

Yes, quoth the old Gentleman, that I have; for all that has yet been said against me, is but by the Mouth of one Witness, and it is not lawful for the famous Town of Mansoul, at the Mouth of one Witness to put any Man to Death.

Then stood forth Mr. Diligence, and said, My Lord, as I was upon my Watch such a Night at the Head of Badstreet, in this Town, I chanced to hear a muttering within the Gentleman's House; then thought I, what's to do here? So I went up close, but very softly, to the side of the House to listen, thinking, as indeed it fell out, that there I might light of some Diabolonian Conventicle. So, as I said, I drew nearer and nearer, and when I was got up close to the Wall, it was but a while before I perceived that there were Outlandish Men in the House (but I did understand their Speech, for I have been a Traveller my self) now bearing such Language in such a towering Courage as this old Gentleman dwelt in, I clapt mine Ear to a Hole in the Window, and there heard them talk as followeth. This old Mr. Questioning asked these Doubters what they were, whence they came, and what was their Business in these Parts? And they told him to all these Questions, yet he did entertain them. He also asked what Numbers there were of them, and they told him ten thousand Men. He then asked them why they made no more Manly Assault upon Mansoul? and they told him. So he called their General Coward, for marching off when he should have fought for his Prince. Further, this old Evil-questioning wist, and I heard him wist, would all the ten thousand Doubters were now in Mansoul, and himself in the lead of them. He bid them also to take heed of them. He bid them also to take heed and lie quiet, for if they were taken they must die, although they had beads of Gold.

Then said the Court, Mr. Evil-questioning, here is now another Witness against you, and his Testimony many is full: 1. He swears that you did receive these Men into your House, and that you did nourish them there, tho' you knew that they were Diabolonians, and the King's Enemies. 2. He swears that you did wish ten thousand of them in Mansoul. 3. He swears that you did give them advice to be quiet and close, lest they were taken by the King's Servants. All which manifesteth that thou art a Diabolonian; but hadst thou been a friend to the King, thou wouldest have apprehended them.

Then said Evil-questioning, To the first of these I answer, the Men that came into mine House were Strangers, and I took them in, and is it now become a crime in Mansoul for a Man to entertain Strangers? That I did also nourish them is true, and why should my charity be blamed. As for the reason why I wished ten thousand of them in Mansoul, I never told it to the Witnesses, nor to themselves. I might wish them to be taken, and so my wish might mean well to Mansoul, for ought that any yet knows. I did also bid them take heed that they fell not into the Captains hands, but that might be because I am unwilling that any Man should be slain, and not because I would have the King's Enemies, as such, escape.

My Lord Mayor then replied, That tho' it was a virtue to entertain Strangers, yet it was Treason to entertain the King's Enemies. And for what else thou hast said, thou dost by Words but labour to evade, and defer the Execution of Judgments. But could there be no more proved against thee but that thou art a Diabolonian, thou must for that die the death by the Law; but to be a receiver, a nourisher, a countenancer, and a barbourer of others of them, yea, of outlandish Diabolonians; yea, of them that came from far on purpose to cut off and destroy our Mansoul: this must not be born.

Then said Evil-questioning, I see how the game will go. I must die for my name, and for my charity. And so he held his Peace.

Then they called the outlandish Doubters to the Bar,

Bar, and the first of them that was arraigned, was the Election Doubter; so his Indictment was read, and because he was an Outlandish-man, the substance of it was told him by an Interpreter: to wit, That he was there charged with being an Enemy of Emanuel the Prince, a bater of the Town of Mansoul, and an opposer of her most wholesome Doctrine.

Then the Judge asked him if he would plead? But he said only this, That he confessed that he was an Election Doubter, and that that was the Religion that he had even been brought up in. And said moreover, If I must die for my Religion, I trow, I shall die a Martyr, and so I care the less.

Then the Judge replied, To question Election is to overthrow a great Doctrine of the Gospel; to wit, the Omniscience, and Power, and Will of God, to take away the liberty of God with his Creature, to stumble the Faith of the Town of Mansoul, and to make Salvation to depend upon Works, and not upon Grace. It also belied the Word, and disquieted the minds of the Men of Mansoul, therefore by the best of Laws he must die.

Then was the Vocation-Doubter called, and set to the Bar; and his Indictment for substance was the same with the other, only he was particularly charged with the denying the calling of Mansoul.

The Judge asked him also what he had to say for himself?

So he replied, That he never believed that there was any such thing as a distinct and powerful call of God to Mansoul, otherwise than by the general voice of the Word, nor by that neither otherwise than as is exhorted them to forbear evil, and to do that which is good, and in so doing a promise of happiness is annexed.

Then said the Judge, Thou art a Diabolonian, and hast denied a great part of one of the most experimental truths of the Prince of the Town of Mansoul; for he has called, and she has heard a most distinct and powerful call of her Emanuel, by which she has been quickned, awakned, and possessed with Heavenly venly Grace to desire to have Communion with her Prince, to servè him, and to do his Will, and to look for her happiness merely of his good pleasure. And for thine abhorrence of this good Doctrine thou must die the death.

Then the Grace-Doubter was called, and his Indictment was read, and he replied thereto, That though he was of the Land of Doubting, his Father was the offspring of a Pharisee, and lived in good fashion among his Neighbours, and that he taught him to believe, and believe I do, and will, that Mansoul shall never be saved freely by Grace.

Then said the Judge, Why, the Law of the Prince is plain : 1. Negatively, Not of Works : 2. Positively, By Grace you are saved, Rom. 3. Eph. 2. And thy Religion setteth in and upon the works of the Flesh : For the works of the Law are the works of the Flesh. Besides, in saying (thou hast done) thou hast robbed God of his Glory, and given it to a Sinful Man ; thou hast robbed Christ of the necessity of his undertaking, and the sufficiency thereof, and hast given both these to the works of the Flesh. Thou hast despised the work of the Holy Ghost, and hast magnified the will of the Flesh, and of the Legal Mind. Thou art a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian ; and for thy Diabolonian Principles thou must die.

The Court then having proceeded thus far with them, sent out the Jury, who forthwith brought them in guilty of Death. Then stood up the Recorder, and addressed himself to the Prisoners : You the Prisoners at the Bar, you have been here Indicted, and proved guilty of high Crimes against Emanuel our Prince, and against the Welfare of the famous Town of Mansoul : Crimes for which you must be put to death ; and die ye accordingly.

So they were sentenced to the death of the Cross : The Place assigned them for Execution was that where Diabolus drew up his last Army against Mansoul ; save only that old Evil-questioning was hanged at

at the top of Badstreet, just over-against his own Door.

When the Town of Mansoul had thus far rid themselves of their Enemies, and of the Troublers of their Peace in the next place a strict commandment was given out, that yet my Lord Willbewill should, with Diligence his Man, search for and do his best to apprehend what Town Diabolonians were yet left alive in Mansoul. The Names of several of them were Mr. Fooling, Mr. Letgoodslip, Mr. Slavish fear, Mr. Nolove, Mr. Mistrust, Mr. Elesh, and Mr. Sloth. It was also commanded that he should apprehend Mr. Evil questioning's Children that he left behind him; and that they should demolish his House there; Mr. Doubt, and he was his eldest Son; the next to him was Legal life, Unbelief, Wrong thoughts of Christ, Clip promise, Carnal sense, Live by feeling, Self-love. All these he had by one Wife, and her Name was No hope, she was the kinswoman of old Incredulity, for he was her Uncle, and when her Father old Dark was Dead, he took her and brought her up, and when she was marriageable, he gave her to this old Evil-questioning to wife.

Now the Lord Willbewill did put into execution his Commission with great Diligence his Man. He took Fooling in the Streets, and hanged him up in Want-wit-alley, over against his own House. This Fooling was he that would have had the Town of Mansoul deliver up Captain Credence into the hands of Diabolus, provided that then he would have withdrawn his Force out of the Town. He also took Mr. Letgoodslip one day as he was busie in the Market, and executed him according to Law; now there was an honest poor Man in Mansoul, and his Name was Mr. Meditation, one of no great account in the Days of Apostacie; but now of repute with the best of the Town. This Man therefore they were willing to prefer; now Mr. Letgoodslip had a great deal of Wealth heretofore in Mansoul, and at Emanuel's coming it was sequestred to the use of the Prince; this therefore therefore was now given to Mr. Meditation to improve for the common good, and after him to his Son Mr. Thinkwell; this Thinkwell he had by Mrs. Piety his Wife, and she was the Daughter of Mr. Recorder.

After this my Lord apprehended Clip promise; now because he was a notorious Villain, for by his doings much of the King's Coin was a bused, therefore he was made a publick Example. He was arraigned and judged to be first set in the Pillory, and then to be whipt by all the Children and Servants in Mansoul, and then to be hanged till he was dead. Some may wonder at the severity of this Man's Punishment, but those that are honest Traders in Mansoul, are sensible of the great abuse that one Clipper of Promises in little time may do to the Town of Mansoul. And truly my Judgment is that all those of his Name and life should be served even as he.

He also apprehended Carnal sense, and put him in Hold, but how it came about I cannot tell, but he broke Prison and made his escape. Yea, and the bold Villain will not yet quit the Town, but lurks in the Diabolonian Dens a days, and haunts like a Ghost honest Mens Houses a nights. Wherefore there was a Proclamation set up in the Market place in Mansoul, signifying that whosoever could discover Carnal-sense, and apprehend him and slay him, should be admitted daily to the Prince's Table, and should be made keeper of the Treasure of Mansoul. Many therefore did bend themselves to do this thing, but take him and slay him they could not, though often he was discovered.

But my Lord took Mr. Wrong thoughts of Christ, and put him in Prison, and he died of a lingering Consumption.

Self-love was also taken and committed to custody, but there were many that were allied to him in Mansoul, so his judgment was deferred, but at last Mr. Self-denial stood up and said, if such Villains as these may be winked at in Mansoul, I will lay down my Com-

Commission. He also took him from the Croud, and had him among his Soldiers, and there he was braised. But some in Mansoul muttered at it, though none durst speak plainly, because Emanuel was in Town. But this brave Act of Captain Self denial came to the Prince's Ears, so he sent for him, and made him a Lord in Mansoul. My Lord Willbewill also obtained great commendations of Emanuel for what he had done for the Town of Mansoul.

Then my Lord Self denial took courage, and set to the pursuing of the Diabolonians with my Lord Willbewill; and they took Live by feeling, and they took Legal life, and put them in hold till they died. But Mr. Unbelief was a nimble Jack, him they could never lay hold of, though they attempted to do it often. He therefore, and some few more of the subtlest of the Diabolonian Tribe did yet remain in Mansoul, to the time that Mansoul left off to dwell any longer in the Kindom of Universe. But they kept them to their Dens and Holes; if one of them did appear or happen to be seen in any of the Streets of the Town of Mansoul, the whole Town would up in Arms after them, yea, the very Children in Mansoul would cry out after them as after a Thief, and would wish that they might stane them to death with Stones. And now did Mansoul arrive to some good degree of peace and quiet, her Prince also did abide within her Borders, her Captains also, and her Soldiers did their duties and Mansoul minded her Trade that she had with the Country afar off; also she was busie her Manufacture, Isa. 33. 17. Phil. 3. 20. Prov. 31.

When the Town of Mansoul had thus far rid themselves of so many of their Enemies, and the troublers of their peace; the Prince sent to them, and appointed a day wherein he wold at the Market-place meet the whole People, and there give them in charge concerning some future matters, that if observed would tend to their farther safety and comfort, and to the condemnation and destruction of their home-bred Diabolonians. So the day appointed was come, and the Townsmen met together; Emahuel also came down in his Chariot and all his Captains in their state attending of him on the right hand, and on the left. Then was an Oyes made for silence, and after some mutual carriages of love, the Prince began, and thus proceeded.

Emanuel's Speech to Mansoul. ' You my Mansoul, and the beloved of mine heart, many and great are the priviledges that I have bestowed upon you; I have singled you out from others, and have chosen you to my self, not for your worthiness, but for mine own sake. I have also redeemed you, not only from the dread of my Fathers Law, but from the hand of Diabolus. This I have done because I loved you, and because I have set my heart upon you to do you good. I have also that all things that might hinder thy way to the pleasures of Paradise might be taken out of the way, laid down for thee, for thy Soul, a plenary satisfaction, and have bought thee for myself; a price not of corruptible things, as of silver and gold, but a price of Blood, mine own Blood, which I have freely spilt upon the ground to make thee mine. So I have reconciled thee, O my Mansoul, to my Father, and intrusted thee in the Mansion-houses that are with my Father in the Royal City, were things are, O my Mansoul, that eye hath not seen, nor hath entered into the heart of man to conceive.

' Besides, O my Mansoul, thou seest what I have done, and how I have taken thee out of the hands of thine Enemies; unto whom thou hast deeply revolted from my Father, and by whom thou wast content to be possessed, and also to be destroyed. I came to thee first by my Law, then by my Gospel to awaken thee and shew thee my glory. And thou knowest what thou wast, what thou saidst, what thou didst, and how many times thou rebelledst against my Father and me; yet I left thee not, as thou seest this day, but came to thee, have born thy manners, have have waited upon thee, and after all accepted of thee even of my meer grace and favour ; and would not suffer thee to be lost as thou most willingly wouldest have been. I also compassed thee about, afflicted thee on every side, that I might make the weary of thy ways, and bring down thy heart with molestation to a willingness to close with thy good and happiness. And when I had gotten a compleat conquest over thee, I turned it to thy advantage.

' Thou seest also what a company of my Fathers host I have lodged within thy borders, Captains and Rulers, Soldiers, Men of War, Engines and Excellent Devices to subdue and bring down thy foes ; thou knowest my meaning, O Mansoul. And they are my Servants, and thine too, Mansoul. Yea, my design of possessing of thee with them, and the natural tendency of each of them is to defend, purge, strengthen, and sweeten thee for myself. O Mansoul, and to make thee meet for my Father's presence, blessing and glory ; for thou my Mansoul, art created to be prepared unto these.

' Thou seest moreover, my Mansoul, how I have passed by thy back stidings, and have healed thee. Indeed I was angry with thee, but I have turned mine anger, and mine indignation is ceased in the destruction of thine Enemies, O Mansoul. Nor did thy goodness fetch me again unto thee, after that I for thy transgressions have hid my face, and withdrawn my presence from thee. The way of backsliding was thine, but the way and means of recovery was mine. I invented the means of thy return ; it is I that made an hedge and a wall, when thou wast beginning to turn to things in which I delighted not. ' Twas I that made thy sweet, bitter ; thy day, night ; thy smooth way, thorny ; and that also confounded all that sought thy destruction. ' Twas I that set Mr. Godlyfear to work in Mansoul. ' Twas I that stirred up thy Conscience and Understanding, thy Will and thy Affections, after thy great and woful decay. ' Twas I that put life into thee, O Mansoul, to seek me,

' me, that thou mightest find me, and in thy finding ' find thine own health, happiness and salvation.
 ' I was I that fetched the second time the Diabolonians
 ' out of Mansoul; 'twas I that overcame them,
 ' and that destroyed them before thy face.

' And now my Mansoul, I am returned to thee in ' peace, and thy transgressions against me are as if they ' had not been. Nor shall it be with thee as in for' mer days, but I will do better for thee than at thy ' beginning. For yet a little while, O my Mansoul,
 ' even after a few more times are gone over thy head,
 ' I will (but be not thou troubled at what I say) take ' down this famous Town of Mansoul, brick and stone,
 ' to the ground. And I will carry the stones thereof,
 ' and the timber thereof, and the walls thereof, and
 ' the dust thereof, and inhabitants thereof, into mine
 ' own Country, even into the Kingdom of my Fa' ther; and will there set it up in such strength and glo' ry, as it never did see in the Kingdon where now it ' is placed. I will even there set it up for my Fa' ther's habitation, for, for that purpose it was at first ' erected in the Kingdom of Univerſe; and there will
 ' I make it a spectacle of wonder, a monument of ' mercy. There shall the Natives of Mansoul see all ' that of all which they have seen nothing here; there ' shall they be equal to those unto whom they have ' been inferiour here. And there shalt thou, O my ' Mansoul, have such communion with me, with my ' Father, and with your Lord Secretary, as is not ' possible here to be enjoyned, nor ever could be,
 ' should thou live in Univerſe the space of a thou' sand Years.

' And there, O my Mansoul, thou shalt be afraid of ' murderers no more; of *Diabolonian*s no more. There ' shall be no more plots, nor contrivances, nor ' designs against thee, O my Mansoul. There thou ' shalt no more hear the evil tidings, or the noise of ' the Diabolonian Drum. There thou shalt not see the ' Diabolonian Standard-bearers, nor yet behold Di- abolus his Standard. No Diabolonian Mount should be cast up against thee there, nor shall there the Diabolonian Standard be set up to make thee afraid. There thou shalt meet with no sorrow, nor grief, nor shall it be possible that any Diabolonian should again (for ever) be able to creep into thy skirts, burrow in thy walls, or be seen within thy borders all the days of eternity. Life shall there last longer than here you are able to desire it should, and yet it shall always be sweet and new, nor shall any impediment attend it for ever.

There, O Mansoul, thou shalt meet with many of those that have been like thee, and that have been partakers of thy sorrows; even such as I have chosen, and redeemed and set apart as thou, for my Father's Court and City Royal. All they will be glad in thee, and thou when thou seest them, shalt be glad in thine heart.

There are things, O Mansoul, even things of thy Father's providing and mine, that never were seen since the beginning of the world, and they are laid up with my Father, and sealed up among his Treasures for thee, till thou shalt come thither to them. I told you before that I would remove my Mansoul and set it up elsewhere, and where I will set it, there are those that love thee, and those that rejoice in thee now, but much more when they see thee exalted to honour. My Father will then send them for you to fetch you; and their bosoms are chariots to put you in. And you, O my Mansoul, shall ride upon the wings of the wind, Psal. 68. 17. They will come to convey, conduct, and bring you to that, when your eyes see more, that will be your desired haven.

And thus, O my Mansoul, I have shewed unto thee what shall be done to thee hereafter, if thou canst understand; and now I will tell thee what at present must be thy duty and practice, until I shall come and fetch thee to my self, according as is related in the Scriptures of Truth.

* First,

‘First, I charge thee that thou doft hereafter keep ‘more white and clean the Liveries which I gave thee
 ‘before my last withdrawing from thee. Do it, I say
 ‘for this will be thy wisdom. They are in themſelvē ‘fine linnen, but thou muſt keep them white and clean.
 ‘This will be your wisdom, your honour, and will ‘be greatly for my glory. When your Garments are ‘white, the world will count you mine. Also when ‘your garments are white, then I am delighted in your ‘ways; for then your goings to and fro will be like a ‘flash of lightning, that thofe that are prefent muſt
 ‘take notice of, alfo their eyes will be made to dazzle ‘thereat. Deck thy ſelf therefore according to my ‘bidding, and make thy ſelf by my Law ſtraight ſteps
 ‘for thy feet, ſo ſhall thy King greatly deſire thy ‘beauty, for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him.

‘Now that thou mayſt keep them as I bid thee, I ‘have, as I before did tell thee, provided for thee an ‘open fountain to wash thy Garments in. Look ‘therefore that thou wash often in my fountain, and ‘go not in defiled Garments; for as it is to my dishon-
 ‘our, and my disgrace, ſo it will be to thy discom‘fort, when you ſhall walk in filthy Garments, Zach.
 ‘3. 1, 2. Let not therefore my Garments, your Gar‘ments; the Garments that I gave thee, be defiled
 ‘or ſpotted by the flesh, Jude v 23. Keep thy Gar-
 ‘ment.

‘My Mansoul, I have oft-times delivered thee from ‘the designs, plots, attempts, and conſpiracies of ‘Diabolus, and for all this I ask thee nothing, but ‘that thou render not to me evil for my good, but ‘that thou bear in mind my love, and the continua‘tion of my kindness to my beloved Mansoul, ſo as to ‘provoke thee to walk, in thy meaſure, according to ‘the benefit beſtowed on thee. Of old the Sacrifices
 ‘were bound with cords to the horns of the Golden ‘Altar. Consider what is ſaid to thee, O my bleſſed
 ‘Mansoul,

' O my Mansoul, I have lived, I have died, I live, and will die no more for thee. I live that thou mayest not die. Because I live thou shalt live also. I reconciled thee to my Father by the Blood of my Cross, and being reconciled thou shalt live through me. I will pray for thee, I will fight for thee, I will yet do thee good.

' Nothing can hurt thee but sin; nothing can grieve me but sin; nothing can make thee base before thy Foes, but Sin: Take heed of sin, my Mansoul.

' And dost thou know why I at first, and do still suffer Diabolonians to dwell in thy Walls, O Mansoul? It is to keep thee waking, to try thy Love, to make thee watchful, and to cause thee yet to prize my noble Captains, their Soldiers, and my Mercy.

' It is also that yet thou mayst be made to remember what a deplorable condition thou once wast in, I mean when, not some, but all did dwell, not in thy Walls, but in thy Castle, and in thy strong Hold, O Mansoul.

' O my Mansoul, should I stay all them within, many there be without that would bring thee into bondage; for were all those within cut off, those without would find thee sleeping, and then as in a Moment they would swallow up my Mansoul. I therefore left them in thee, not to do thee hurt (the which they yet will, if thou hearken to them, and serve them) but to do thee good, the which they must if thou watch and fight against them. Know therefore that whatever they shalt tempt thee to, my design is that they should drive thee not further off, but nearer to my Father, to learn thee War, to make Petitioning desirable to thee, and to make thee little in thine own Eyes. Hearken diligently to this my Mansoul.

' Shew me then thy love my Mansoul, and let not those that are within thy Walls, take thy affections off from him that hath redeemed thy Soul. Yea, let the sight of a Diabolonian heighten thy love to me.

' I came once and twice, and thrice to save thee from
 ' the poyson of those arrowes that would have wrought
 ' thy death ; stand for me, my friend, my Mansoul,
 ' against the Diabolonians, and I will stand for thee
 ' before my Father, and all his Court. Love me a' gainst temptation, and I will love thee notwithstanding
 ' standing thine infirmities.

' O my Mansoul, remember what my Captains, my ' Soldiers, and mine Engines have done for thee.
 ' They have fought for thee, they have born much
 ' at thy hands to do thee good, O Mansoul. Hadst
 ' thou not had them to help thee Diabolus had cer' tainly made a Hand of thee. Nourish them therefore ' my Mansoul. When thou dost well, they will be ' well, when thou dost ill, they will be ill, and sick,
 ' and weak. Make not my Captains sick, O Mansoul,
 ' for if they be sick, thou canst not be well ; if they
 ' be weak, thou canst not be strong ; if they be faint,
 ' thou canst not be stout and valiant for thy King,
 ' O Mansoul. Nor must thou think always to live by ' sense, thou must live upon my Word. Thou must ' believe, O my Mansoul, when I am for thee, that ' yet I love thee, and bear thee upon mine heart for ' ever.

' Remember therefore, O my Mansoul, that thou
 ' art beloved of me; as I have therefore taught thee
 ' to watch, to fight, to pray, and to make war against ' my foes, so now I command thee to believe that ' my love is constant to thee. O my Mansoul, how ' have I set my heart, my love upon thee, watch. Be-' bold, I lay none other burden upon thee, than what
 ' thou hast already, bold fast till I come.
